Other features which will be the same each night are a livestock parade, an act by a dog trained to handle livestock, the exhibition of a high school horse, a sheep shearing contest, and a milking contest in which college girls will attempt to persuade cows that experts are milking them.

Pulling contests between some of the best teams of horses in this section will be given each night, but the heavy teams are scheduled one night and the lightweight horses for the next.

Exhibitions by students in the athletic and military departments will vary each night. The speakers will change each night, and different vocal music will be provided for each program.

WINTER SPEARING OPENS THIS WEEK

Season Open During January and February This Year

The winter season for spearing through the ice on Michigan's inland lakes and non-trout streams opens at midnight, Thursday, December 31. The season will remain open through January and February.

Last year spearing was permitted only on the inland lakes during the period "when the lakes were frozen over." Through a change made by the 1931 legislature only two months of winter spearing is permitted.

It is unlawful to use an artificial light in spearing on either lakes or streams.

The following species may be taken with a spear during January and February: Carp, suckers, mullet, redhorse, sheepshead, lake trout, smelt, pike (great northern, grass pike or pickerel), muskellunge, whitefish, ciscoes, pikefish or menominee, whitefish, dogfish and garpike.

AT THE MOVIES

English Critic Says Hands of Arliss Are Secret of His Power

Many have been the attempted analyses of the art of George Arliss, who will be seen at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday next in his latest Warner Bros. starring vehicle "Alexander Hamilton."

The latest of them has been made by an English critic who finds that one of the essential secrets is the actor's use of his hands.

Mr. Arliss was asked about this, he smiled and declined to commit himself beyond an agreement that the use of the hands is of great importance in interpreting a character on stage or screen. But his considered judgment is that everything is important that enters into good acting — the voice, the pauses, the facial expressions, the bodily attitude. Among these elements the hands are certainly not least important.

In "Disraeli" and "The Green Goddess" similar characterization through ten ordinary human fingers, such as we all possess, was achieved. And in "The Millionaire," and "Alexander Hamilton" the same Arliss artistry is to be observed.

Even if the London critic is wrong in giving the hands first place — and George Arliss certainly feels that he is — there is no doubt that they play an important part in his dramatic interpretation of character; and no actor has afforded a more convincing demonstration of that than Mr. Arliss himself.

Supporting Mr. Arliss in "Alexander Hamilton" are Doris Kenyon, Dudley Digges, Alan Mawray, Rolfe Harolde, June Collyer, Charles Middleton, Montague Love, Lionel Belmore, Morgan Wallace, Gwendolyn Logan, John T. Murray, Charles Evans, John Larkin, Evelyn Hall, Russell Simpson, and James Durkin. John Adolf directed.

The Lord's Supper will be celebrated Sunday morning in both churches. Several names will be submitted for membership.

The success of the Church School program, given on Christmas Eve, cannot be overlooked. The program consisted of a miscellaneous group, for the first part, by the primary department under Mrs. Hiller and her helpers. The latter part was a Christmas pantomime of the quite familiar story, "Why the Chimes Rang." This part was under the direction of Mrs. Parker, ably supported by a large young people's chorus. The thing that appealed to many who saw the program was that it was different from many programs of this season of the year. Because of the much happiness that seems to surround the Christmas time we regretfully witness its passing.

The annual meeting of the Ironton Congregational church will be held Friday afternoon, January 1st. The event will be preceded by a church and community New Year's dinner at one o'clock, eastern standard time. The dinner is cooperative.

In Memoriam

In memory of Mrs. Lou Durance who passed away December 29, 1928:

Three long years have gone by Since our mother passed away;
But her hand has ever guided us,
As we plod along each day.

'Tis fond memories of our dear mother
That comes to us today;
She was kind and understanding,
So forgiving in her sweet way.

She cared for us so faithfully,
Thru the days and thru the years;
While we "five" grew up and left her,
Leaving memories so dear.

We know that she is happy,
Altho' so far away;
For she knows it is God's will
That we'll meet again some day.

WORK, NOT DOLE, IS PLAN NOW PROPOSED

ROAD AND POOR COMMISSIONS JOIN IN PROJECT

Will Match Dollars to Pay Able-bodied Men Given Work on County and Township Roads

Following plans formulated at a meeting in Boyne City last Tuesday evening, chairmen of the various districts served by the county welfare committee met Tuesday with the county road commission at their regular session to devise ways in which to provide work for county unemployed.

Attending the meeting were H. A. Cragg, county chairman; W. J. Pearson, Boyne Falls; Dr. Guy C. Conkle, Boyne City; Howard Porter, East Jordan; Arthur Bergeon, Charlevoix; and Poor Commissioners Jerome Cole of Boyne City, and L. E. Henton of Charlevoix.

The plan proposed was for the road commission to use unemployed men who are able to work and now being cared for by the county poor commission on county and township road projects such as repairs, roadside improvement, etc., as long as weather conditions permit, and then on snow removal operations when necessary. These projects are to be financed jointly by the road and poor commissions. It was estimated $4,000 would take care of apparent county needs, and to provide this sum, the poor commission proposed to match dollars with the road commission, each allotting $1,000 to each of the three districts of the county to make up the total of $3,000.

According to the proposed plan, the road commission will make payment to the poor commission at a maximum rate of $1.50 per day for services of workmen. The poor commission will in turn use the money earned by the men for supplies needed by them, and will reimburse one-half to the road commission in accordance with the plan of matching dollars.

By this method, able-bodied men who are now being aided by the county poor commission will be given an opportunity to work for their support. It is estimated about 50 families come under this classification.

Reporting conditions in his district, Poor Commissioner Cole of Boyne City, stated that the needy were being taken care of this winter with a smaller cash disbursement than the previous year. Families have profited from experiences of the past, and this winter are better prepared than heretofore. Welfare work had aided materially, as has also employment projects furnished in that district. The same conditions held true generally throughout the county, and without a doubt, all will come through the present winter in better shape than last.

CHARLES GRAVES VIC-TIM OF HEART ATTACK

Sudden Death Monday Morning Shock to Family and Many Friends

Stricken as he left the Rowe Gift Shop on Bridge street, Charles Graves, well known and highly respected local citizen, died from heart failure at about 10 o'clock Monday forenoon. His death was a severe shock to his family and many friends.

Mr. Graves, who was 72 years of age, was born March 15, 1859, at Albion, where he attended school and grew to manhood. He was married April 15, 1880, to Miss Emma Stoddard of Jonesville, and three years later moved to Charlevoix. He had since made his home here, a period of 51 years, following the trade of painter. He was an ardent sportsman, and was known widely as such to both local and summer residents.

Surviving besides the widow are a son, Ray, of this city; three brothers, H. K. Graves of Charlevoix, Will Graves of Jackson, and Lou Graves, Grand Rapids; also two sisters, Miss Grace Graves of Grand Rapids, and Mrs. Nettie Peabody of Albion.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the residence on Petoskey avenue, Rev. G. R. Parker of the Congregational church, officiating.

BOYNE CITY ROBBERIES CLEARED

CONFESSION OF WILBERT NATHAN IMPLICATED OTHERS

Loot Taken from Siefert Cottage and N. J. Rovick Store Recovered by Officers

Solution of several robberies in Charlevoix county during the late fall months was brought about Monday at the examination before Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis. Wilbert Nathan, Boyne City, who was arrested and jailed December 23rd on a warrant charging him with receiving and concealing stolen property.

After his arrest, Nathan demanded examination, which was held Monday and continued Tuesday. He made a complete confession, implicating several others in the robberies. Loot taken November 15th from a cottage owned by H. F. Siefert of Peoria, Ill., and from the N. J. Rovick store at Boyne City on December 9th, has been recovered by Sheriff Dave Vaughan and Deputy Henry Stelmek. Some was found at Nathan's home in Boyne City, some in an unused cistern at the Dwell farm in Bay township, and still more from other scattered points.

Nathan's daughter, Beatrice, age 18, and Alice Vincent, 17, Boyne City, are being held as material witnesses. Some of the stolen property, which consisted largely of wearing apparel, was worn by these girls. During the examination, identity of a party who stole chickens from the Robert White farm in Melrose township November 15th, was learned, and many other matters straightened out.

Nathan has been hounded over to the March term of court under $2,000 bond, and will be arraigned at that time. In the meantime, officers are expecting to round up others implicated by Nathan in the robberies.

POLAR BEARS WON MIDLAND CONTEST

SCORED 24 TO 18 VICTORY LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Out-Played Visitors During Close Game to Avenge Defeat On Local Court Last Year

Playing before a large holiday crowd at the school gymnasium last Thursday evening, Charlevoix Polar Bears defeated Midland independents 24 to 18. The victory avenged a 28 to 18 trouncing handed the Bears by the southern Michigan aggregation on the local court a year ago.

Displaying for the first time this season the form which has carried them to an enviable record in Northern Michigan basketball circles, the Polar Bears stepped into an early lead. They were on the long end of a 10 to 3 count at the close of the first period and led 14 to 11 at the half.

Midland tied the count early in the third period and the balance of this session was a nip-and-tuck affair with the advantage passing from one team to the other several times. Through clever team play, the Bears managed to end the session leading 20 to 17, and from then on never relinquished their advantage. During the final period they scored 4 points to Midland's single free toss.

Loading the Bear offense was Davenport with 10 points, Kipke scored 6 and Supernaw 4. Madill and Martin were high for the visiting team with 5 each.

"Pet" Hallett was referee and George Driggett acted as umpire.

HARBOR MERCHANTS MEET POLAR BEARS

Signed for Game at Local Gymnasium Thursday Evening

The Polar Bears, signed by Manager Todd to meet the strong Harbor Springs Merchants Thursday evening, will provide the week's basketball entertainment on the local court.

Harbor will furnish one of the strongest teams the Polar Bears have met so far this season. In addition to a good season's record, the Emmet county aggregation boasts the services of Jim Bradley, former Harbor high school star, together with other players who have brought that city several regional and one state title. If they click in the same style as in previous years, the team will be a hard one to beat.

The Polar Bears appeared in the best shape of the season so far in defeating Midland independents here last Thursday evening. They apparently have struck their former stride, and if so, it will take a mighty good team to beat them. With these facts in mind, fans may look forward to a good game Thursday evening.

The American Legion Auxiliary will hold a card party January 7, at Legion hall. Admission 25c. Men and women invited.—Adv. 5212.

BELoved PIONEER TAKEN BY DEATH

MRS. GEORGE ANDERSON DIED LAST WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Had Been Resident of This County Over Half Century — Funeral Service Saturday Afternoon

Death again took its toll of beloved and respected Charlevoix pioneers with the passing last Wednesday night of Mrs. George Anderson, who succumbed at the Bridge street home of her daughter, Mrs. Martin Block, following an illness of several years.

Sarah Elizabeth Shapton was born March 31, 1859, at Avonon, Ontario, the daughter of John and Sarah Shapton. She was raised to womanhood at the place of her birth and there was married on October 3, 1876, to George Anderson, who preceded her in death at Charlevoix on January 18, 1921.

Immediately following their marriage, 54 years ago, the couple came to this county, settling on a farm in the Harward district, where they resided until moving to this city in 1909. Mrs. Anderson had made her home with her daughter since the death of Mr. Anderson.

Surviving Mrs. Anderson are two daughters, Mrs. Martin Block of this city, and Mrs. George Oldham of Hibbing, Minn. A son, Louis Wm. Anderson, is deceased. Other surviving relatives are two grandchildren, Clare Oldham, Chicago, and Helen Oldham, Hibbing, Minn.; also four brothers, Richard and Will Shapton of Charlevoix, Thomas Shapton of Flint, and John Shapton, Aberdeen, Washington.

Mrs. Anderson, a staunch christian throughout her life, was a member of the Methodist church at the place of her birth, and later of the Charlevoix Methodist church, where funeral services were conducted at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon by Rev. W. W. Hurd, pastor. Interment was at Brookside cemetery.

The large attendance at the funeral services Saturday afternoon attested to the esteem in which Mrs. Anderson was held by all who knew her.

KIPMEN OPEN CLASS "C" SCHEDULE FRIDAY

Go to Boyne City for First Tip of Michigan Conference Game

Three times defeated in competition with Northern Michigan class B teams, Charlevoix's high school cagers step out in their own class Friday evening with the avowed intention of balancing the record.

They will open their schedule of games with Tip of Michigan class C conference schools at Boyne City, facing a team which has broken even in two encounters with Petoskey, an aggregation which has twice defeated Charlevoix by close margins.

So far this season the team Coach Kipke has shaped to defend Charlevoix's district and regional title has shown good offensive ability but not enough defense to protect their scoring. Although completely out-classed at Traverse City, they out-played Petoskey twice and lost.

Judging from early season performances, Charlevoix will have no easy picking in class C competition. Manelona, East Jordan, Boyne City and Gaylord all have strong teams, indicating the class C title race will be a merry one before the season is over.

STATE INCOME TAX VOTE WILL BE ASKED

Wayne County Interests Said To Be At Work on Newest Amendment

Because Wayne county interests are preparing to initiate a state income tax amendment at the presidential election next fall, the state grange will drop plans for a similar amendment.

George F. Roxburgh, of Reed City, state master of the grange, announced the change in plans at a meeting in Grand Rapids of Kent county grange officers. He said it was feared if more than one amendment was offered it would result in confusion and cause defeat of all tax relief measures.

Those attending the meeting criticized Governor Brucker, Lieutenant-Governor Lauren Dickinson, the senate, the House and the senate taxation committee in particular. Miles M. Callaghan, state representative from Reed City, laid the blame for defeat of the income tax bill to Dickinson, but Roxburgh placed the burden on Governor Brucker.

EARLY HATCH OF SPAWN EMINENT

WARM WATER CONDITIONS HURRY EGG MATURITY

State Conservation Department Reports Results of Spawn Gathering Great Lakes

Continued mild weather with consequent high water temperatures will probably mean early hatching of commercial species in the various fish hatcheries, the fish division of the department of conservation stated in reporting results of late fall spawn taking operations.

Last year trout eggs hatched in late January and early February and whitefish hatched early in March, at least a month earlier than during ordinary winters. With similar conditions this year a repetition of early hatching is expected. Lake trout and whitefish spawn in falling water temperatures and the eggs hatch in rising temperatures. This has caused late spawning and early hatching.

There are approximately 134,000,000 lake trout and whitefish eggs now hatching in the federal and state stations in Michigan. Of these 7,500 quarts or 48,500,000 eggs are lake trout and 2,140 quarts or 85,500,000 eggs are whitefish.

The eggs were taken late last fall by commercial fishermen who stripped the fish of their spawn under regulations of the conservation department. The take of spawn was much smaller than it was during the fall of 1932.

The results of spawn taking by lakes was as follows:

Lake	Superior	Whitefish
Trout	1,837 q'ts
Whitefish	4,654 q'ts	1500 q'ts
Lake Huron	1,103 q'ts	93 q'ts
Saginaw Bay	1,103 q'ts	549 q'ts

MASONS TAKE LEAD IN CRIBBAGE CONTEST

Best Odd Fellows by 174 Points at Initial Session Monday

The opening session of a series of winter cribbage contests between the Masonic and Odd Fellow fraternal orders opened Monday evening at the I. O. O. F. hall.

The Masons were victorious in the initial contest, taking a lead of 174 points over their opponents. Team standings were: Masons 16,186; Odd Fellows 16,012. Capt. Frank Partidge, with a score of 951 points, led the Masonic attack and turned in the highest count of the evening. Ben Nowland, with 935 points, led the Odd Fellows. Sixteen tables, or thirty-six players participated.

The next session of the series will be held at the Masonic temple next Monday evening. There will be play each Monday evening with exception of the third Monday of the month.

WISCONSIN PLACES A HEAVY TAX ON OLEO

A bill placing restrictions on oleomargarine sales was signed December 30th by Governor Phillip F. La Follette. It was enacted to strengthen the state's dairying industry.

The new law provides a tax of six cents a pound on oleomargarine, requires fees from $5 to $1,000 from commercial users, dealers and manufacturers, and orders that publicity be given to the names of dealers and the amounts they sell.

"FORWARD MARCH" WILL MAKE DEBUT

NEW TRI-POST LEGION BULLETIN SOON TO APPEAR

Next Legion Affair Will Probably Be a Treasure Hunt for Charlevoix Folks

The first issue of "Forward March," official publication of the American Legion's Charlevoix County Tri-Post Association, is due to appear within a short time. A very gratifying number of advertisements have been secured from the merchants in Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan and it is expected that a considerable additional number of business and professional men will want to be represented in this live little monthly which will periodically be placed in the hands of approximately four hundred Legionnaires and ex-service men in this county.

The subject of prime importance that will be treated in these first issues of "Forward March" is the securing of the 1933 State Legion Convention for Charlevoix. The 1932 convention will be held at Kalamazoo and at that time the delegates will decide upon the place of the 1933 gathering. The date will be, in all probability, the first Saturday, Sunday and Monday in September. At the mid-winter conference of post officers, held at Bay City on December 5th and 6th last, an invitation was extended by Commander Lee C. Allard of the local post to the officer-delegates present to hold the 1933 convention at Charlevoix and 200 copies of the illustrated Charlevoix booklet were distributed among them by the Charlevoix delegates. The proposal, which had previously received the promise of support from the delegates to the Lower 11th District meeting of the Legion at Rogers City on September 6th, met with a very favorable attitude on the part of the post officers from some 300 Legion posts assembled at the Bay City meeting, but it is necessary that the local post make a good showing at the Kalamazoo convention in 1932. It is desired to have the post bugle and drum corps properly uniformed by that time and so drilled and practiced that they will be a credit to the community they represent. Plans looking to these ends will be stressed in the first issues of "Forward March."

During the summer of 1932, copies of a special edition of "Forward March" will be sent to every American Legion post in the state of Michigan to show the delegates that are to attend the convention at Kalamazoo next fall that the Legionnaires and citizens of the county generally are all interested and ready to give them a royal welcome.

At a meeting of Leslie T. Shapton post, held Tuesday evening, it was decided to hold a treasure hunt in the near future, in which the adult public and young people of high school age may participate. Expert assistance has been secured for arranging the details of this hunt and conducting it and the affair promises to provide a lot of fun for the folks.

At the next meeting of the local post, Tuesday evening, January 12, which will be a social meeting, a plan to make regular attendance at Legion meetings profitable for both Legion members and non-member eligibles will be put into effect. It is not a new idea, but has been successfully adopted by other posts. Come and see how it works.

TAX PAYMENTS NEARLY EQUAL TO AVERAGE

Less Than Thousand Dollars Difference in Receipts to Date

City Treasurer Robert Rife reported Wednesday that payment of state, school and county taxes were coming in almost up to the average of the previous year.

Payments up to the time when books were balanced Tuesday evening showed that $44,781.71 had been paid in as compared to $45,620.31 for the same date the previous year. The total assessment for the city is $112,000.00 as compared to $120,000.00 a year ago.

Last year the records show that all but $20,000.00, or 20 per cent of the total tax, had been received up to January 9th, and with payments coming in at the present rate, Charlevoix will make as good a showing again this year.

CHARLEVOIX FOLKS AND THEIR BANKS

In any local review of the year just closing, one definite something stands out pre-eminently.

This unseen something is of far greater importance than all other 1931 community measures combined.

We refer to the calm, dignified, sensible and thoughtful attitude of practically all our people with reference to our two local banks.

Several Michigan cities of our size and larger are without banks today, due solely to the unfortunate lack of that mental stability which this far has distinguished and strengthened the fibre and morale of all our citizens.

We have only to look about us—even in our own county—to see the havoc that can be wrought upon innocent people when fear takes the place of judgment.

No city in Michigan has banking institutions more ably or conservatively managed and while the long and honorable records they have made in the past are outstanding, all this combined accomplishment has been matched by the thoughtful co-operation and wholesome confidence of the people of this community in the year of 1931.

Long years ago the founders of the Banks of Charlevoix established far-sighted policies of conservative safety—probably the most outstanding of these policies being the four per cent interest paid on savings deposits—a precaution of proven merit today.

Of the banks closed in Michigan during the past twelve months, with a single exception, each and every one has been solvent, showing conclusively that the people in closing a sound and useful institution do so at their own annoyance and expense, through receiverships, not to mention the wholesale demoralization of all industry because of such action.

Every individual suffers even when a solvent bank closes.

Our people are to be most heartily congratulated for their splendid poise and sound sense in the general economic upset. Their funds are protected by our banking laws, but further and fully as important at this time, the banks of Charlevoix have been given added psychological security through the calm confidence of our people.

Both of our banks are designated depositories for U. S. government, state, county and city funds.

As a community, as neighbors and friends, we have come safely through 1931 with flying colors.

The future is in our own hands. Let's keep up the record. It is best for all. As individuals let us resolve—each one of us—to do nothing by word or act, in 1932, that will tend to weaken our own financial structure.

The motto of the State of Kentucky is sound financial advice for the coming year:

"United We Stand, Divided We Fall."

FOOLISH FOREIGN LOANS

As Americans ponder on this mess of foreign reparations and debts, they begin to see how foolish they have been with their money since the war.

The money we spent directly to win the war was probably as inevitable as our entrance into the war. We were sucked in, and we had to fight it out. That fight required not only the financing of our own campaign, but to a large extent the financing of our exhausted allies. We may look on our governmental war loans as war material, which we had to provide to avoid defeat.

But with the war over, there was no necessity for our people furnishing all these billions in private loans to the belligerent countries for governmental and industrial purposes. Some of the money was used extravagantly, not constructively. Some of it was used, directly or indirectly, to finance new armament. Some went for public buildings which Germany and other borrowers could have done without.

What it amounts to is that Germany has been paying her reparations with American loans, and the Allies have been paying their debts to us with American loans. And now that we are no longer able to lend the money, payments stop.

If those billions had not been sent abroad, they would have come very useful when the depression came, and we would not have been driven to such frenzied expedients lately to loosen domestic credit.

Americans who have been urging their investors all along to keep their money at home and invest it in American industry seem justified now. There would not be this controversy about whether government loans or private loans have first call. There would be millions of American holders of foreign bonds worrying less about their investments.

A new X-ray method, demonstrated before the American Association for the Advancement of Science, is said to reveal whether a brand-new baby is going to be right or left handed. This news, though, will hardly shake the world. Everybody knows that the baby himself will soon provide the information, and in the meantime it doesn't make any difference in the

CHARLEVOIX CELEBRATED NEW YEAR'S

Churches, Homes and Amusement Places Joined in Observance

In churches, amusement places and homes, Charlevoix citizens celebrated the departure of 1931 and the start of the New Year, 1932.

At the stroke of midnight, the church bells rang; guns boomed in some quarters, and generally the New Year was given a noisy welcome. "Watch" parties were held at the Methodist and Baptist churches and in many homes. At Moonlight Gardens, this city's popular dancing place, a crowd estimated well over three hundred, celebrated noisily, but orderly.

All told, the city gave 1932 a regal welcome.

BOYNE CITY ANGLERS SEEK SMELT MARKET

Smelt are now being caught in such large numbers from the docks at Boyne City that local residents are seeking an outside market for them, according to Ed. Duell, conservation officer.

Until this year smelt could be taken by hook and line only in deer water and through the ice in Lake Charlevoix. Now they are crowding toward shallow water. Most of the hook and line fishing is being done at night. Many individuals have reported catches of from 300 to 400 of this species in a single night. The smelt are selling for one cent each in Boyne City.

AT THE MOVIES

Sylvia Sidney's Big Opportunity Lies in New Role

Sylvia Sidney, whose excellent work in "An American Tragedy" won favorable comment from the critics, now has the leading feminine part in "Ladies of the Big House," which is scheduled as the feature attraction at the Palace theatre for two days, Saturday and Sunday.

This picture is Paramount's screen version of the story by Ernest Booth, life-term convict author at Folsom prison. It is a gripping romantic drama of two persons who have run athwart the law and presents a cross-section of the real drama of life within the quarters of a great prison.

"Ladies of the Big House" follows Miss Sidney's stellar appearance in "Street Scene," a United Artists' production for which she was loaned by Paramount.

Miss Sidney gained prominence when Paramount selected her to take the place of Clara Bow in "City Streets," when the red-haired star became ill. She also had the leading roles in "An American Tragedy" and "Confessions of a Co-Ed."

"Ladies of the Big House" further Miss Sidney's career as successor to Miss Bow, since "Ladies of the Mob," Booth's first screen story, served as Clara's most dramatic role several years ago.

In "Ladies of the Big House" Miss Sidney has as her leading man, Gene Raymond, who gained screen prominence as Nancy Carroll's leading man in "Personal Maid," following his stage success in "Young Sinners."

The story of "Ladies of the Big House," a heart-stirring romance of love and regeneration, centers on the two leading characters, unjustly caught in the coils of the law.

It was directed by Marion Gering.

HEART OF THE NORTH

BY

Alan countered: "My story doesn't begin with this patrol. It begins last fall, when this gentleman here came down north. I want to tell it clean, from then till now."

"That's your right," Williamson asserted.

Alan hoped that his story, by the sheer blunt truth of it, would carry conviction. But when he finished, the old officer did not comment. The silence was forbidding. Almost in desperation, Alan took up a couple matters that lay very near his heart.

"There's two or three favors I want to ask of you, sir. Since they're not in my own behalf, you may agree to them. One is about Chink Woolley, the man we brought in. I want to put in a word for him. He deserves heavy punishment but he shouldn't be hanged. He gave as some pieceless information. We might never have saved Joyce MacMillan if he hadn't. If it's impossible for me to be present at his trial, I want to turn over to you an affidavit in his behalf. Then, about Featherof, my partner in this patrol. He stole some government property and broke some flying regulations. But he made the whole thing possible. He threw in with me without a thought of pay, he risked his life half a dozen times. We're in position to restore that property or else pay for it in full. Will you get Featherof out of this jam?"

"How about yourself, Baker?"

"Well, I don't want to be jailed, if I can help it. But I suppose your favors will stretch just so far. I was the instigator, and if anybody has to pay, I'm the one."

Williamson was thoughtful. Few times in his career had he ever allowed motive, however worthy, to be excuse for breaking the law. But as he glanced at Baker, wounded, maimed in one hand, still pale from loss of blood, he thought what a heartless travesty of justice it would be if Baker were imprisoned. Whatever the truth of his trouble with Haskell, the great fact remained that he had gone on a thoughtless and prodigious patrol and had run those criminals to earth.

"I'll do what I can for you both," he promised, with no reluctance. "When I go back outside I'll talk to the Edmonton officials and try to get those charges postponed. But you and Featherof see to restoring that property."

Alan promised: "We won't fail you on that. It's mighty fine and square of you." After a moment, he went on: "Considering all you've agreed to, I hate to ask still another favor. But I've got to. I've got to speak up for Hardsock and Pedemuit. They have charges against them, serious and true charges. But there's this to be said, sir. Neither man deserted. They both intended to return here the moment our patrol ended. They rendered a tremendous service to the Force. They were true to duty in the highest sense of the word. Are you going to look at the good they did, or at nothing but the bad?"

Williamson did not answer. He felt the human justice of Alan's appeal. It seemed to him that the matter went deeper than a question of insubordination. Those men had been under the whom he once had trusted and fought for.

But the rest of that story, his trouble with Haskell—Williamson did not accept that as true. From start to finish Baker's account was an utter conflict with Haskell's; and to the stern old officer, judging with impartial mind, Haskell's story seemed more credible. Quite plainly Baker incited a personal hostility which probably had warped and twisted his story out of all semblance to the truth.

One thing Williamson did know beyond any doubting: Baker's account clashed with Haskell's all along the line. One of these two men was an out-and-out liar.

In the tightening silence, waiting for Williamson to start probing, Haskell looked out along the terrace and saw a thing which struck him with chill premonition. The doorway of the mission hospital opened; Pedemuit and Bill Hardsock came out, bringing Larry Young with them. Bill on one side, Pedemuit on the other, half-leading, half-carrying their crippled partner, they were making straight for the cabin.

When they trod into the room and Williamson heard them, he turned, frowning and demanded:

"What do you men want?"

"Sir, we came here to put our paddle in," Bill stated bluntly. "We knew you were thrashing out this trouble between Alan and the inspector."

"Your counsel wasn't asked. This matter is between Baker and Inspector Haskell."

"Bill, don't try to run a back," Alan interposed, fearful that this unexpected move of his three men might kill any chance to trap Haskell. "If the superintendent doesn't want you here, obey him and go."

Bill stubbornly refused. He said to Williamson: "You've got a name, sir, for giving every luck cup and non-com in your division a square cut and seeing all sides of an argument. I don't think you'll kick us out without hearing what we've got to say. This is as much our fight as Alan's. We've had to pay, too, for the inspector's acts. Here's one of us crippled for life because the inspector bogged us on that patrol with some fool orders. After a thing like that, do we have to shut up and take it and not even be allowed to—?"

"Shut down!" Williamson bade them. "I'm going to get to the bottom of this. When your time comes I'll hear what you've got to say. Now Baker, I want you to answer some questions. What made you split your detail on that first patrol?"

"Haskell ordered me to, sir. He ordered me to follow both branches. When I objected, he threatened to bust me and keep me here in the post."

"That's a lie!" Haskell challenged. "I allowed him to do as he thought best. He purposely made a failure of that patrol. I don't ask you to take my word. Corporal Whipple was here in the cabin, and heard our talk. And Baker, over his signed statement, admitted to responsibility."

"What proof have you got, Baker?" Williamson demanded.

Alan kept silent, deliberately allowing his silence to damn him. Williamson's probe was leading in the right direction, leading toward that deadly trap.

To Alan's consternation Bill Hardsock burst out: "Proof? It's his blue blazes! Alan was half sick, all the way up the Alooska, because of them orders. He felt he was being forced to take us men into a terrible danger. We all knew it was crazy to split up—"

Williamson silenced him. "You're merely making an assertion, corporal. You have no proof. Baker, do you admit responsibility for that patrol?"

Alan shook his head. "No, I—I don't," he stammered.

Haskell smiled. He had Baker on the run.

Williamson reminded: "Baker, you signed a statement of responsibility. Whipple was a witness."

Alan pleaded. "Sir, that statement . . . When we came back—yes, I signed it. But I—I had to."

"You had to?"

"Yes, to get out of the Mounted. He wouldn't let me buy out unless I did sign."

"Why under heaven did you want to buy out all that fast and furious?"

"I wanted to be free," Alan led on, step by cautious step. "I wanted to go after those men."

"Baker, look here," Williamson said sternly. "You infer you wanted to go after those men so badly that you were willing to buy out, cut off your record and sign a lie. Why then wouldn't you co-operate with Haskell to get them?"

"Well, sir, he—he wouldn't co-operate."

"I can't believe that. He tried to help you even afterward—after you bought out and were on a private venture."

"Then was that?" Alan queried.

"At En Traverso lake."

"So he was trying to help us. I didn't—ah—have that impression at the time, sir."

"He even shot signals for you to wait."

Bill Hardsock swore luridly. "Of all the fork-tongued lies, that's the heat of 'em all!"

Alan allowed the lie to go unchallenged. If Haskell got by with that one, he would be bold and unwary.

"But sir," he led on, "when I came back from the Alooska patrol, he wouldn't co-operate with me then. He didn't seem much interested. I don't think, in getting those bandits."

"Not much interested?" Haskell echoed, with a great show of astonishment. "Sir, I wanted him to make a patrol to the Inconnu river. But he was in a temper. He wouldn't even listen to my suggestion."

A wild elation surged through Alan. One more step and Haskell was doomed! He fought down his elation and sidestepped unasily in his chair.

Williamson bore down on him hard. "Baker, answer that charge! Haskell suggested a patrol to the Inconnu. In my opinion that was a splendid suggestion. It was almost the only hope of capturing those criminals. You wouldn't listen to him. How, then, can you assert you were forced to buy out?"

"He didn't. . . . It wasn't him that made that suggestion," Alan stammered weakly. "I think—I believe I made that suggestion myself. But he wouldn't let me go."

"That's a lie!" Haskell pounced upon him. "I suggested it. I begged him to make that patrol."

Alan looked at Haskell. "You suggested that Inconnu patrol? It was your idea?"

Haskell nodded. "I did. Whipple can witness it." He was smiling openly in triumph.

All Alan's hesitation dropped away from him. There was no longer need to dissimulate. He turned to Williamson. "You heard him. You heard what he said. He told you he suggested that Inconnu trip. He just repeated it and he said Whipple was witness. Don't let him back out of it now."

"I don't have to back out of anything," Haskell snapped. He was staring in sudden naughtiness at Baker. "Yes, I heard him," Williamson answered. "What about it?"

Alan rose slowly to his feet, pulling himself up to his full lanky and powerful height. In that moment when he realized Haskell was caught in the deadly trap, his mind whirled back to Joyce's home on the Alooska, to Joyce's room where he had lain through weary hours of doubt and pain, and where he and she had carefully plotted this trap. He felt a wordless tender gratitude to Joyce; this stratagem was hers more than his; her quick brain had been the first to see its crushing possibilities.

"Inspector, you say you asked me to lead that Inconnu detail. You say you suggested it. You say it occurred to you that the bandits would escape by that river. I say you are a liar! I propose to prove you're a liar."

He paused a moment, then raised his right hand and pointed at the wall chart behind Haskell's desk.

"The Inconnu river is not shown on that map of yours, Inspector. You tried to find out from that Indian, Little Otter, where the river is. You didn't know. You don't know now. How could you suggest sending a patrol to a river when you haven't the slightest knowledge of its location? Step up there to that chart, you, and show us the Inconnu!"

Haskell sprang to his feet, snarling at Alan. "I don't take orders from you!" He was fighting like a trapped wolf. His pale, his livid face, betrayed him.

"Then consider it an order from me!" Williamson commanded. "Show me where the Inconnu is!"

Haskell did not stir. His impregnable defense had crumbled in one spot; the sea was rushing in upon him. . . .

He heard Williamson thundering: "I say, answer Baker's question! How could you suggest a patrol to a river that you knew nothing about?"

Haskell did not answer. Caught, trapped. . . . He had gone too far, he had overplayed. . . . He heard Larry Young's savage mocking laugh; heard Bill Hardsock chuckling. "Tried to steal Alan's thunder, and got struck by it!" . . . The room seemed to be swaying.

Williamson's angry erect figure became a blur. . . . Across the desk he saw Alan Baker's face in a sort of haze, not smiling at him, not mocking, but hard, pitiless. . . . The man had benched him, had taken away the girl he loved—this man whom he hated so fiercely that once he had tried to kill him.

Out of the haze he heard Baker's voice. "Liar! Smoother!" . . . Something snapped within, and his last vestige of self-control was swept away. A mad, mad anger shook him, blinded him. In a fury he suddenly drew back and swung and smashed a fist against that hated face, as though trying to blot it out.

The blow unsteady Baker for a moment. He stepped back. Williamson tried to interpose. Bill sprang up and leaped across the room to jump between them. But Haskell had swung again. Alan flung up his left arm to protect himself. A grimace of pain flitted across his face as the blow fell upon his wound. He did not step away that time. . . . For an instant his eyes measured distance. . . . His right arm went back, swung, and his hand flung caught Haskell under the jaw, a single smashing blow that dazed him and sent him reeling against the wall.

When Bill and Pedemuit helped Haskell to his chair and he sat down, groggy and white of face, Williamson bade the two:

ker's sway, and he knew what a powerful influence Baker had over his men.

Thinking deeply, he gazed through the window, down upon the dark river. In this tangled affair, it was a sore task to judge wisely, to do the right thing. Baker's lone patrol, his indomitable courage in going after these men, his relentless drive in hammering his daring plan, through to suppress the whole thing was a splendid feat. In his forty years the old officer had never seen a more magnificent piece of work. It was like Baker, like the brilliant sergeant

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD

Mrs. John Empey passed away at her home in Norwood Saturday, January 2, 1932, at the age of 77 years, 9 months and 10 days. Elsie Moore was born in Ellensburg, N. Y., March 22, 1854, and came with her parents to Norwood at the age of 18 years, and has lived in this vicinity practically all her life. October 10, 1878, she was united in marriage to Nelson J. Empey, and to this union were born eight children, five of whom preceded her in death, four in infancy, and Crispy, who died in the service of his country.

She was a member of the Methodist church for 60 years and a faithful worker until illness prevented.

Those left to mourn their loss are her husband, Nelson Empey, a daughter, Mrs. Richard Kirby of Norwood; two sons, Guy of Banks township and Percy of Central Lake, and one sister, Mrs. Henry Wagner of Norwood; and eight grandchildren.

She was a kind wife, a loving mother, with no sacrifice too great for their comfort and a true friend to all who knew her.

Funeral services were held Tuesday morning at 11 o'clock from the M. E. church in Norwood, Rev. Kendall in charge. Interment was at the Norwood cemetery in the family lot.

To Our Mother

A name engraven on our hearts,
Is traced upon a stone;
Not there the Sainted Spirit,
Dwells in Holy Light;
Within the pearl radiant portals,
With those who walk in white;
May all her children follow
The path she meekly trod;
And reach the home she rests in now,
And dwell, like her, with God.

The new year is gliding along with fair weather.

Norwood school opened Monday morning following Christmas vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. George Meggison of Marion, visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Pierce and son were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Holmes of Charlevoix.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Smith and small child, also Mrs. Smith's mother, Mrs. King of Houghton Lake, were New Year's day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith.

CENTRAL LAKE

Well, we have had one January thaw.

E. R. Jones and daughter of Norwood, were visitors here last week.

Enoch Ison and family are living in the Gates residence at Enstport this winter.

Guy Liskum and wife are visiting their nephew, E. V. Liskum, in East Jordan this week.

The Kendall Sisters' concert here last week netted them over $26. Their concert at Ellsworth was also profitable.

O. R. Morse and James Drake have purchased buzz wood timber of Mrs. William Somerville and are cutting the wood this winter.

Mrs. Louise Lashbrook was home from Howell, where she had been with her daughter, Mrs. Lashbrook is applying for a teacher's pension.

Central Lake schools began this week after a two weeks' vacation. Prof. Cross had quite a long journey to get home. He resides in Missouri.

Rev. J. C. Kendall attended services at Norwood last Friday evening. His regular appointments were made Sunday, although there was some snow.

A. J. Dunsmore, conservation officer, was home from Boyne City, where he is spending the winter with his son. Mrs. Lashbrook reports that Mrs. Dunsmore, who is in the sanitarium at Howell, is improving in health.

Highway Commissioner Frank Lakles has now taken charge of the road work on the Niles hill on the M-66 job north of Mancelona. The men are working in three-day shifts. This is helping out the unemployment problem around Mancelona.

Charles Briggs, whose death occurred last week, will be much missed by people in this city. Funeral service was conducted last week by Rev. Stanley Huyde of Springdale, formerly pastor of the Congregational church here. Mr. Briggs, as manager of the boat livery here was always good natured and cheerful, although he had much sickness and many misfortunes. He leaves a crippled son, Willard, and his wife.

Lloyd Morse and Miss Cleo Cornett of this place, were married last week and went to Florida on their honeymoon trip. Mr. Morse, for a number of years, has conducted the riding school for Mrs. Mattson at Crystal Lake, Manistee county. Mrs. Morse has successfully taught school in this county for a number of years. She is teaching in Kewadin at the present time. They will make their home in Central Lake.

Mrs. Vera Carpenter opened school at Bay View again after a ten day vacation. Her Christmas exercises were well attended. A pleasing effect was given to the tree decoration by the eight colored light bulbs put on the tree by Mr. Carpenter. Bay View is the only country school in the county having electric lights, and probably about the only one in Northern Michigan. They kept out of consolidation and consequently their tax rate is very low, being the best equipped district school in the state, according to Supt. Pierce.

PHELPS SCHOOL

Everyone had a pleasant vacation. Polar bears were made Tuesday for window decorations.

The sixth grade are having their final test in history Tuesday.

ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. Harmless, and tasteless, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts. Be sure to get the genuine.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior tooth-paste that safeguards against acid-mouth.

BELLAIRE YOUTHS REACH WEST COAST

Made Long Journey on Tandem Bicycle to Oakland, California

Carl and Royal Akins of Bellaire, ages 20 and 28 respectively, who were in this city en route to the coast by bicycle, this fall, achieved their goal at midnight, December 22.

The youths, who made the transcontinental trip on their ancient tandem bike, attracted considerable attention along the way. Upon their arrival in the west, the Oakland Tribune sent a reporter and photographer to their sister's home at 1609 88th avenue, for a story and feature articles concerning their trip appeared in several mid-western newspapers.

En route, the brothers, who traveled under the name of "The Boys of Yesterday," broadcast musical numbers over Milwaukee, Chicago, St. Louis and other radio stations and in various cities entertained luncheon clubs and church organizations. They are keeping a diary concerning their interesting experiences.

WEDDINGS AND BIRTHS BOTH ARE INCREASING

City and County Records Reveal This Interesting Information

Figures obtained from the city clerk's records show an increase in births and a decrease in deaths in the City of Charlevoix during the past year.

There were fifty births in 1931 as compared with 47 during the previous twelve months, and during the same period, deaths decreased from 51 to 44. While births were three less than deaths during 1930, the gain of six births over the number of deaths during 1931 more than offset the difference.

From the county clerk's records we discover that depression and hard times mean nothing to the matrimonially inclined. The number of marriages increased from 83 in 1929 to 102 in 1930, and the past twelve months saw still another increase to 105.

Divorces showed an increase of one in 1931 over the previous year, the total for 1930 being seventeen, and eighteen during 1931.

REDUCE CONSERVATION DEPT. COSTS

DIRECTOR HOGARTH RECOMMENDS CUT-IN WAGES

Cut in State Appropriation and Heavy Decrease in License Sales Make Action Imperative

A ten per cent reduction in salaries paid conservation department employees will be the recommendation of George R. Hogarth, director, to the conservation commission in January.

"After a careful review of the department's financial affairs at the close of the calendar year, and in keeping with the expressed wish of the Governor, made earlier in the year, that all state departments practice the most rigid economy, it is now evident," that measures more radical than those suggested to the commission in December will be necessary," Director Hogarth stated.

"Additional curtailment in services was then recommended. It now appears that the anticipated deficit of $100,000 was conservative. In view of the fact that departmental activities were reduced to a minimum earlier in the year, it would seem that further radical changes in this direction would be injurious to conservation affairs in this state. One other alternative is open, and it appears to be sound reasoning and good business judgment and is in keeping with the policies adopted by private industry throughout the country; I shall recommend to the conservation commission at its next meeting a salary reduction of 10 per cent affecting all employees of the department.

"Based upon anticipated expenditures this reduction will effect a saving of approximately $91,000 annually; $40,000 in the appropriations from the general fund of the state, and about $51,000 from the game protection fund. The cuts in salaries will range from $750 to $120. In addition to the salary reduction further readjustments will be necessary and will come before the commission at its next meeting."

For the first time in the history of the department, it was said, the receipts from game and fishing licenses had fallen far below the actual annual requirements of conservation work.

Subject, "Sacrament."

Wednesday evening at 7:45 first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"God" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 3.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rev. 1:8): "I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 275): "The starting-point of divine Science is that God, Spirit, is All-in-all, and that there is no other might nor Mind,—that God is Love, and therefore He is divine Principle. To grasp the reality and order of being in its Science, you must begin by reckoning God as the divine Principle of all that really is."

YOUNG MOTHER VIC-TIM OF PNEUMONIA

Mrs. Harold Miller Died Saturday Following Week's Illness

The deepest sympathy of Charlevoix citizens was aroused last Saturday by the untimely death of Mrs. Harold Miller, who succumbed early that morning at Charlevoix hospital following a week's illness with plural pneumonia.

Pernellia Elizabeth Dutton was born August 3, 1901, at Lorain, Ohio. She spent all of her life there until her marriage on June 30, 1924, to Harold Miller. Less than a year ago, the couple came to Charlevoix to make their permanent home.

Surviving besides the husband are two small daughters, Susan Elizabeth and Sarah Louise; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James W. Dutton, and two sisters, Martha and Esther Dutton, all of Lorain, Ohio.

Funeral services were held at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning from the residence on Clinton street, with Rev. G. R. Parker of the Congregational church, officiating, assisted by Rev. W. H. Rauch of the Baptist church. Interment was at Brookside.

Members of the American Legion and the Legion Auxiliary, of which Mr. and Mrs. Miller were members, respectively, attended the service in a body, and following the funeral, members of the latter organization served dinner to the immediate family and out-of-town relatives and friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Usher.

Mrs. Miller was a member of the Shakespeare Study Club and of the Literary and Sewing Club.

The annual meeting of the Charlevoix church will be held Tuesday, January 12th. A cooperative supper will precede the business session.

The pastor spoke before the Boyne City high school Tuesday afternoon. His subject was "How One Minister Uses His Spare Time." One thing that caused considerable interest was the explaining how gold leaf is made and used.

CITY EXTENDS TAX PAYMENT DEADLINE

PENALTY FOR COLLECTION OFF UNTIL FEBRUARY 29TH

Make Appropriation of $50 for Cash
Needs of Legion in Its Welfare Campaign

Old Man "Hard Times" was given a couple resounding thumps on the back by action of the city council at their regular meeting Monday night.

In view of present business conditions, which have made tax payment difficult in many instances, the council voted to extend the limit for payment without collection penalty from January 9th to February 29th.

When the city treasurer's books were closed Monday afternoon, Charlevoix taxpayers had turned in approximately $73,000 of a total assessment of $112,000, or about 65 per cent. At the same time a year ago, they had paid in $100,000 of a total assessment of $120,000, or about 83 per cent. Despite the drop in tax payment this year, the situation is not as bad as it may look. Several large taxpayers have not remitted at this time, thus making the total showing less than it would ordinarily be. On the other hand, small property owners have met the obligation prior to the time limit as usual.

Under the present arrangement, no penalty for collection will be charged until after February 29th. The tax roll remains in the hands of the city treasurer until March 1.

The council showed their recognition of the splendid welfare work being conducted by the American Legion by voting a $50 cash appropriation to aid the work. As far as supplies of vegetables, fruit, wood, etc., are concerned, the Legion has plenty, but they have been forced to stretch the purse to provide funds for aid in cases where cash is necessary.

While the action of the council in making the appropriation is a very commendable one, it should not be necessary. Charlevoix taxpayers, already meeting about 40 per cent of the total county tax from which poor funds are derived, are forced into a position of paying double. It would seem that the proper place for the Legion welfare committee to go when in need of cash to carry on welfare work would be to the county poor commissioner. If the cases are deserving, he should take care of them. It is his duty, and not one which should be shouldered over onto the Legion. The council had this thought in mind when making the appropriation, for the original request was for considerably more than the amount allowed. It would be well for our local supervisors to look into such a matter, and, in case they find the poor commissioner is not conducting his duties in a satisfactory manner, see that he does.

MASONS LOSERS, BUT KEEP CRIBBAGE LEAD

Odd Fellow Advantage Monday Night Short of Opponent's Lead

The Odd Fellows carried off honors for high score in the second of a series of cribbage contests with the Masons Monday evening at the Masonic hall, but the Masons still lead on points.

By virtue of scoring 18,453 points to the Masons 18,403 Monday evening, the Odd Fellows clipped fifty points off from their opponent's lead of 174, leaving the count still 124 in favor of the Masons. R. B. Stafford was high among the 42 players taking part with 955. Postmaster Geo. W. Weaver was high for the Masons with 950, just five points less.

There will be no play next Monday evening because of the regular meeting of the Masonic Blue lodge. The next session will be at the I. O. O. F. hall on Monday evening, January 29.

GOLD MEDAL CONTEST AT BAPTIST CHURCH

Program Announced for Event
Friday Evening of This Week

There will be a gold medal declaratory contest at 7:30 o'clock next Friday evening at the Baptist church.

Rev. I. T. Marks will give a short address and other local pastors will assist. There will be special music by the Baptist choir.

The public is invited. An offering will be taken to defray expenses.

Nature gives us flowers for the winter season. Bring them indoors.

CITY PROVIDES FOR REGULATED COASTING

Will Police Bridge Street Hill During Designated Hours

While present weather conditions do not speak well for the success of winter sports of any description, the city council has taken action which will provide regulated coasting hours during the balance of the winter.

At Monday night's session, it was voted that the highway department of the city furnish protection for coasting on South Bridge street hill from 4:00 p. m. to 10:00 p. m. each day except Saturday. It is planned to place guards at street intersections during the designated coasting hours, and the coasting period has been arranged to provide for school children too young to enjoy the evening hours. By this plan, all will be given an opportunity to enjoy the sport.

Because of lateness of the season and as a measure of economy, the board of education has voted not to build a skating rink at the school grounds this winter, so coasting will be the only sport available.

Middle age might be described as being somewhere between a night club and a golf club.

TREASURE HUNT PLANS MATURED

DATE OF LEGION AFFAIR SET AS JANUARY 27TH

More Buglers Needed for Bugle and Drum Corps—Beginners
Class Starts Soon

Wednesday, January 27, has been fixed as the date of the Legion's treasure hunt, which was mentioned in last week's issue of the Courier. It has also been decided to use fifty per cent of the proceeds of the sale of tickets for the treasure, itself. The rules of the "hunt" and the hour and place of meeting will be published in next week's paper.

Tuesday evening was the Legion's social meeting night and an interesting program was staged by Comrades Robert Bridge and Ralph Price, who performed very pleasingly upon the violin and mandolin respectively. Mr. Price's ballad, entitled "On the Dear Old Farm" met with an especially enthusiastic reception and the boys would be interested to hear the remainder of the thirty-seven verses at any time.

On the same evening, at Manistee, occurred a get-together meeting of the members of the Ninth District, American Legion of Michigan, with invited guests from the Lower Eleventh district, including Petoskey and Charlevoix. This was in celebration of Manistee post's successful membership drive. Lee C. Allard, commander of the local post, was a guest at this meeting and reports that it was a good one.

The bugle and drum corps of Leslie T. Shapton Post are practicing earnestly, once a week usually on Monday evenings, with John Ter Wee, band leader, as instructor, and Herbert Wakefield as drill master.

The corps needs buglers and will purchase instruments for the use of any who want to join this section of the corps and will agree to practice faithfully. As soon as the recruits are lined up, a beginner's class will be started under Mr. Ter Wee's instruction and the students worked into the corps practice as they become proficient. It is the desire of the members to have the bugle and drum corps ready to participate in the parade at Kalamazoo during the 1932 state convention of the Legion there on Labor day. This is especially important in view of the fact that we are hiding for the 1933 state convention at Charlevoix and want to make a good showing at Kalamazoo where the matter will be decided. The corps also needs uniforms and must raise money in some way to provide them.

More Work on North Highway
Workmen in the northern part of Emmet county are looking forward to employment on the project of grading about four and one-half miles on U. S. 31 north of Levering. Bids for relocating, grading and construction of drainage have been advertised.

RED AND WHITE DE- FEATED BY BOYNE

DROPPED CLOSE 14 TO 12 CON-TEST FRIDAY NIGHT

Junior High Scored 12 to 6 Victory,
But Reserves Lost on Triple Bill—Harbor Next

Charlevoix high school's basketball team were out-lucked at Boyne City last Friday evening and lost their fourth consecutive engagement. The margin, 14 to 12, marked the third time they have been beaten by two points or less.

As the score indicates, Friday night's battle, which opened the Tip of Michigan class C conference schedule of both schools, was anyone's up to the final whistle. The score book gives the count as 2-2 at the quarter, 5-5 at the half, and 8-8 at the close of the third period. The teams were very evenly matched, and as it turned out, the winner was more or less decided by the fact that Boyne was in the lead by two points when the final gun sounded. Three minutes before the gun Charlevoix led by a single point. In another minute the count was even and a goal just before the final signal was the deciding margin.

Charlevoix's man-to-man defense in this particular game caused their downfall, for it was by virtue of their chances from the foul line that Boyne won. Charlevoix outscored their five goals to four from the field, but Boyne added six gift shots to Charlevoix's two to more than even things up.

Davenport, guard, turned in the best scoring performance for Charlevoix with 5. McSaubey followed closely with four, Joe Smith 2, and Ance, closely guarded, contributed 1. White, Boyne center, was high for the evening, with 6. D. Fox and Bradley accounted for 3 each and Barden 2. The line-ups:

CHARLEVOIX	FG	FT	P

V. McSaubey, lf	2	0	2

D. Fox, lf	1	1	1
H. White, c	2	2	0
Bradley, lg	0	3	1

Charlevoix's junior high eagles triumphed over Boyne's junior high in the first preliminary by a decisive 12 to 6 count, but Boyne's reserves nosed out the Charlevoix second-stringers 21 to 17 in the semi-final. Charlevoix plays away from home again this week, taking on Harbor Springs in their second conference tilt. A week from Friday they will play Traverse City here in a return engagement.

PETOSKEY EXTENDS TAX LIMIT PERIOD

At a session of the Petoskey city council late last week, it was voted to extend the period for payment of taxes without penalty for collection until February 29th. The general tax roll remains in hands of the city treasurer until March 1, although a four per cent collection fee may be charged after January 9th.

Before investing in a "going concern" be sure you find out which way it is going.

POLAR BEARS WIN ANOTHER VICTORY

DEFEATED STRONG HARBOR MERCHANTS THURSDAY NITE

Determined Harbor Attack in Last Period Fell Short of Matching Early Charlevoix Lead

The Polar Bears added another victory to their season's record by defeating the crack Harbor Springs Merchants 23 to 21 in a close, hard-fought and interesting contest at the school gymnasium last Thursday evening.

The Bears, unable to penetrate an air-tight Harbor zone defense in the early periods, bombarded the hoop from outside the foul-line to establish an early lead. Three goals gave them a 6 to 3 margin at the quarter and four more a 14 to 8 advantage at the half. Davenport, who played flashy ball throughout the contest, accounted for 8 of his team's points during the first two periods.

The game tightened in the third session, with the visitors presenting a more determined attack. It was a Polar Bear period, however, with the home team out-scoring their opponents 5 points to 3 to bring the count 19 to 11.

Harbor broke away in a furious attack during the final period. They snared goals from all angles of the court for a total of 10 points, coming within a single goal of knotting the count. The Polar Bears were limited to a pair of goals during the session, but the advantage they had piled up during the early periods kept them out in front.

Davenport, Bear forward, and Quinn, Harbor high school coach, shared scoring honors with 8 points each. For Charlevoix, Kipke made 6, Brown 5 and Higman 4. McBride accounted for 6 points for the visitors.

"Pete" Hallett handled the fast contest in good shape.

The preliminary contest was won by a team travelling under the title of Petoskey Bears. They completely out-classed the Polar Cubs to win an 18 to 5 verdict. The contest was quite rough in spots.

The Polar Bears will furnish the only home game again this week. They take on the Cheboygan Merchants, who are generally conceded one of the strongest independent teams in Northern Michigan this winter. The Cheboygan aggregation has piled up a good record of victories. They buried Harbor Springs under a heavy count and the Polar Bears will have to play their best to win.

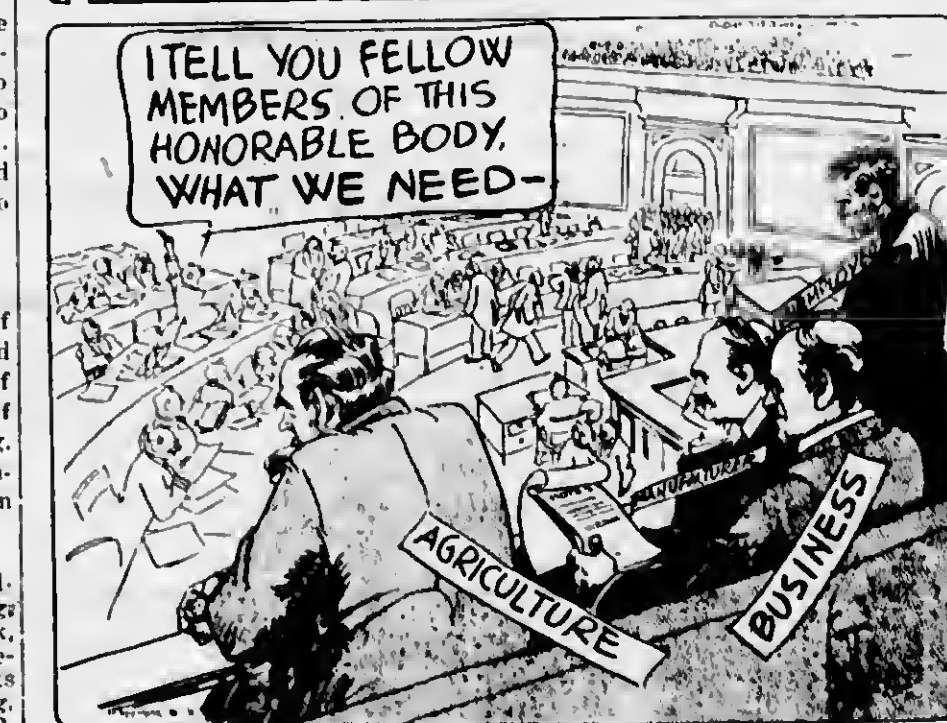

STRUCK BY AIRPLANE PROPELLER, LOST ARM

Capt. Joseph Valier, St. Ignace, Victim of Accident Sunday

Capt. Joseph Valier, St. Ignace, employed on the state car ferry "City of Mackinaw" at the Straits, lost his left arm Monday as the result of an accident at the local airport Sunday.

Returning with his son, William, from a visit at St. James, Capt. Valier stepped from the Charlevoix-Beaver Island mail plane operated by "Bud" Hammond and walked into the path of the revolving propeller. Although the motor had been "cut off," the blade was still revolving with sufficient force to nearly sever his arm near the shoulder. His arm was amputated at the Charlevoix hospital Monday.

PLAN WAYS TO CUT HORSE POWER COST

Methods to Cut Expense of Growing Colts to Be Tested at M. S. C.

Due to the steady increase in the demand for good farm horses and cheaper farm power, R. S. Hudson of the farm and horse department at Michigan State college is beginning an extensive project to determine the most economical method of developing draft colts.

Twenty-four average farm foals have been purchased for the experiment from Michigan farmers. They will be sheltered in cheap straw sheds and allowed to run outside the year around. The feed will consist of corn, oats and alfalfa, fed in liberal and limited amounts. All colts will have free access to oat straw.

Accurate records will be kept of feed and development by weights and measurements for three years, at the end of which time the colts will be broken and put to work. At this time it will be possible to make definite conclusions as to the efficiency of the various methods.

The colts are located at the south end of the College farm at which place visitors are always welcome.

OFFER COURSES OF STUDY FOR ADULTS

FUTURE OF PLANS NOW DE-PENDS UPON ENROLLMENT

Classes Will Start February First and Continue Monday and Tuesday Evenings for Two Weeks

The faculty of the local public schools are prepared to offer evening classes in the following subjects, beginning February 1st and continuing on Monday and Tuesday evenings for the first three weeks of February:

Household management and family budgeting; modern social problems; science (an exploration of the part played by science in modern life); problems in American government; community chorus; modern literature (drama, poetry, short story novel); art and interior decoration; wood working and wood finishing; problems of modern Europe and the Orient; child care and problems of the growing child; elementary psychology; music history and appreciation; elementary reading and writing.

Only subjects from the above list will be offered in which there is a minimum enrollment of twelve persons. The community chorus should, of course, enroll more than that number and a second exception to the enrollment minimum is in the subject of beginning reading and writing. This course will be given even though as more than two or three enroll. It is hoped that any resident of this locality who desires such instruction will sign up for the course assured of the most courteous and careful attention.

Enrollment forms are being sent to all parents of school children. Others who are interested and wish to enroll may secure blanks for that purpose either at the office of the superintendent of schools, from any teacher, or at the Fessenden drug store.

Obviously the success of this plan depends upon the interest shown by the public. If the public wants the courses, the courses will be given. If few or none enroll the project will be abandoned. Enrollment should be made immediately so that a schedule of classes may be drawn up for publication in next week's paper.

BEAVER ISLANDERS DIE IN CAR CRASH

TWO DEAD, TWO CRITICALLY INJURED SUNDAY NOON

Lanty McCafferty and Betty Jean Logerman Killed Near Douglas—Bodies Brought Here Tuesday

The tragic death in an automobile crash Sunday near Douglas of Lanty McCafferty, Chicago, and Betty Jean Logerman, St. James, has brought grief to residents of Beaver Island and Charlevoix. Both are natives of the island.

The following account of the tragedy is taken from Monday's issue of The Herald, Grand Rapids:

"Two persons were killed, two critically injured and two others suffered lesser hurts when an automobile skidded on the snow on U. S. 31, 14 miles south of Douglas and dropped into a 35-foot ravine at noon Sunday.

"The dead are Lanty McCafferty, 21, Chicago, son of Mrs. Nellie McCafferty, St. James, and his cousin, Betty Jean Logerman, 7. Those critically hurt were Edward Logerman, 29, Chicago, father of Betty Jean, and his son, Clifford, 2. Mrs. Martha Logerman, mother of the dead girl and another daughter, Norma, 4, suffered bruises and cuts, but are expected to recover.

"McCafferty, owner of the automobile, was driving the Logermans to Charlevoix, enroute to St. James, where the Logerman family expected to spend the winter with Mrs. Logerman's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Left.

"There were no witnesses to the accident, and Mrs. Logerman, the only one able to talk, was unable to give a clear account of what happened. The mishap, however, as reconstructed by Allegan county officers, occurred when the car skidded while going down a hill. McCafferty apparently lost control of the machine, which mowed down three guard rail posts, crashed into a tree and then dropped down the embankment.

"McCafferty and Betty Jean were pinned beneath the wreckage and are believed to have been instantly killed. Edward Logerman suffered a skull fracture while Clifford was severely injured internally. They, with Mrs. Logerman and Norma, were taken to Douglas Emergency hospital, where their recovery is doubtful. Neither had gained consciousness late Sunday night.

The bodies of McCafferty and Betty Jean were brought to Charlevoix Tuesday afternoon. They will be taken to St. James on Fred Sanderberg's tug Agnes S., which made a special trip to Charlevoix that day. Funeral arrangements are not completed at this time.

McCafferty and Betty Jean are a nephew and niece, respectively, of Mrs. Earl Miller, and the former a cousin of Mrs. Alton Smith of this city.

NEW YEAR HOPES

There are many New Year days. In a sense, every day begins a new year. A birthday anniversary marks a year's beginning for the individual. Different races have their special new year dates and observances. But the New Year for most of us is the one on our calendar.

It is around January 1st that families and businesses and individuals build their budgets and plan to strike out along new lines of activity, new lines of spiritual effort, new thinking, new hope.

There are so many things we desire of this particular New Year, in spite of gloomy outlook, the world hopes for some small gain in disarmament, looking toward peace, in international fair-dealing, looking toward both peace and prosperity; in economic wisdom, looking toward greater happiness and efficiency in human life.

All the trials of our present material life are man-made troubles. Therefore their correction lies within human power. This year we may make new progress in curing them. At least that is the hope we share in varying degrees and with varying interpretations on this New Year's day.

A NEWSPAPER'S ENEMIES

Arthur Brisbane once said that a newspaper without friends would be sorely handicapped, but a newspaper without enemies could never live. Most newspaper publishers will agree with Mr. Brisbane. Probably the most unpopular institution in any community is an aggressive newspaper; and yet, that same aggressive newspaper is undoubtedly at the same time the most popular institution in the community.

Disagreements merely are evidences of thought. The Herald expects some of its readers at times disagree with the opinion which it expresses. We accept these disagreements as a stimulating inspiration and as proof that democracy still functions.

So far as The Herald is concerned earnest effort always is made to look carefully into both sides of every question before an editorial position is taken. An editor who is not familiar with the opposite side from that which he espouses is likely to be in hot water.

It is this newspaper's aim to endorse and aid whatever cause is best for the most people. That basic policy is in keeping with the fundamental theories of our government. If in pursuit of that policy enemies are made, we shall not lack for friends. —Grand Rapids Herald.

* MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN *

The compiling division of the department of state, is making preparations for the handling of a far greater number of proposed constitutional amendments and referendums in 1932 than is usually found on the ballot in a presidential election.

By the filing of the requisite number of signatures, the oleomargarine tax bill, passed by the 1931 legislature, has been held in abeyance until the voters have an opportunity of expressing themselves next November.

Two petitions containing 5,000 and 15,000 signatures have already been filed with the department calling for changes in the state's prohibition laws, and it is understood that additional signatures will be filed within the near future. Voters will probably be given the opportunity to pass on various constitutional amendments regarding taxation at the next election.

To place a proposed constitutional amendment on the ballot in November, 1932, 85,089 signatures are needed. To initiate legislation at the next session of the legislature, the names of 68,071 voters must be signed to petitions while a referendum on an existing law requires 42,545 names.

Secretary of State Frank D. Fitzgerald was informed on December 30 that Michigan motorists may use 1931 license plates in several nearby states until March 1, 1932.

States that have agreed to honor Michigan 1931 plates until March 1 include Ohio, Illinois, New York, Wisconsin, Indiana and Pennsylvania as also the Province of Ontario, Canada.

TEMPERANCE UNION HEAR PROBATE JUDGE

Address on "Law Enforcement" Feature of January Meeting

The January meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union was held last Friday at the home of Mrs. T. W. Milner following a one o'clock cooperative luncheon.

The afternoon's program opened with a song service and devotionals, conducted by Mrs. W. H. Rauch. Then Judge E. A. Rueggesser of the probate court, gave an address on "Law Enforcement," which was of unusual interest owing to some personal experiences from the juvenile court.

Judge Rueggesser thinks there are too many "don't laws" on our statute books, in fact, so many that they are often broken unconsciously. Many people willfully disobey laws that do not please them.

The fact that their children see them intentionally breaking laws they do not like, together with the trend of recent years for parents to leave their children to their own devices while they have a good time themselves, are having a decidedly bad effect on the younger generation.

Laws difficult to enforce can easily be obeyed and law observance is the way out of many of our present difficulties.

There was a general discussion of the need of enlisting old and young in a determined effort to obey the law.

To repeal a law because it cannot be enforced is a confession of the defeat of our democratic form of government.

Charles Emrey and "Bill" Fessenden Captain of Opposing Teams

Plans are under way for the organization of an indoor baseball team for business and professional men of the city.

The plan had rather a unique start. Charles Emrey challenged "Bill" Fessenden to organize a team from material available on the west side of Bridge street to meet another team Mr. Emrey will organize on the east side of the street. While no date has been set for the battle, it will probably be staged some time the latter part of next week.

Stars revealed during the coming duel will be molded into a team to represent Charlevoix against out-of-town opponents such as Petoskey, Harbor Springs, East Jordan, etc.

The two captains are busy with the organization of their respective teams and practice sessions will start soon.

"Sacrament" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 10th.

Among the bible citations was this passage (1 Cor. 10:17): "For we being many are one bread, and one body; for we are all partakers of that one bread."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 33): "Are all who eat bread and drink wine in memory of Jesus willing to drink his cup, take his cross, and leave all for the Christ principle? Then why ascribe this inspiration to a dead rite, instead of showing, by casting out error and making the body 'holy, acceptable unto God,' that Truth has come to the understanding?"

FARMERS WEEK DRAWS FINE FARM PRODUCTS

Best Examples of Michigan Fields and Livestock Lots Exhibited Feb. 1-5

A livestock show, held for the first time, and a turkey show which replaces the usual egg show are the newest magnets used to attract fine farm and farmyard products for exhibit during Farmers Week at East Lansing, February 1-5.

The livestock shown will be the property of Michigan breeders who are cooperating with the College in livestock improvement programs. Colts, sheep, hogs and cattle will be exhibited to show what can be done to better the quality of farm animals.

New methods of raising turkeys have taken a great deal of the hazard out of this line of the poultry business and growers in this state are becoming more interested in the possibilities of deriving profits from supplying the Thanksgiving day meat course. The show at the College will bring in the better, more profitable types of turkeys.

The grain and potato shows will be held as usual. The quality of grains was good last harvest and some fine exhibits will confront the judges. The potato show will bring together some of the best samples shown at previous exhibitions in the state.

An electrical show set up by the College engineering department will contain some of the latest developments in electrical equipment and its uses. This show will be held in the engineering building.

"Take Constantine Young and get out. Baker, stay here; I want you here."

Vaguely Haskell realized that the superintendent was ordering the men away so that they might not witness the humiliation of an officer. He had lost. The nightmare had crashed down upon him. Baker had come triumphantly through this hour.

But in those moments of his crushing defeat, while Williamson was trying to get the men out of the cabin, Haskell felt the first small breath of a strange relief, like a cool wind across his face. He had become involved in this; had been sucked deeper and deeper into a maelstrom of falsehoods and perjury. He was free of all that now. In these last weeks there had been times when he looked upon Larry Young, when he thought of Baker's great-hearted adventure, when the news came of Dave MacMillan's suicide—that his conscience had revolted and he had leaped himself. He felt as though by making a clean breast of everything to Williamson, he would be coming out of a dark and noisome place into the sunshine again. Only the old aching madness toward Elizabeth Spaulding would not down, but, rose to torture him.

CHAPTER XIII

By the Lightning Flash

At Alan's cabin late that evening, Bill was sitting on the edge of the cot, head in hands, plunged into dejected thoughts. He was in such a blue funk that he neither heard nor cared what Alan and Buzzard were talking about.

An hour ago, by sheer accident, he had discovered that he himself was now officially in charge here at Endurance. Walking past Haskell's cabin in the twilight, he had caught a few angry sentences from Williamson.

"If I had the entire say-so, Haskell, you'd go out of the Mounted faster than you came in. You're suspended; Haskell will be given command here till I see what Baker is going to do. You don't deserve a chance to walk straight, but I'll give you one rather than kick up a row over you. There's a row detached down on the border that's about your fit. I'm going to transfer you there, and I'll try not to laugh when I see men saluting you."

To be in command of the detachment was small solace to Bill. It simply meant more work, more responsibility, without Alan's judgment and leadership to lean on.

In the shift of light streaming from the cabin door a girl's figure appeared. Bill straightened up suddenly, recognizing Elizabeth. Always a bit afraid of the supercilious girl, Bill had no more to linger and fled out her side. Nudging Buzzard, he whispered:

"wants to talk with Alan. We'd better get out."

As Elizabeth came across to the stony nook in the full candle glow, Alan saw she was angry, and instantly guessed the cause of it. She had heard . . . She was going to fling reproaches at him, perhaps throw an ultimatum into his face.

With no word about his long patrol or the wounds he had brought away from it, Elizabeth demanded:

"Is it true—what I've heard—about that reward money? You're not going to need any of it?"

Alan was shocked that in her first breath she should speak of money. He said rather tersely:

"That's not altogether true. I'm taking enough to buy the MacMillan trading post for Larry; and I have to pay for those things Buzzard and I stole in Edmonton. But I'm not keeping any of it otherwise."

"Are you cross to throw away you've been stationed here in this backwoods? Why did you go on that patrol and waste all these weeks?"

"Good Lord, have you been thinking I did it for the money? Is money the only thing in the world you ever think about?" He tried to curb his anger and speak quietly. "Elizabeth, your brother Curt went on a patrol, he gave his very life, because—because . . . You may not understand why, but God knows it wasn't for money."

"Then you intend to throw away ten thousand dollars?"

"If you want to put it like that, yes, I couldn't associate with myself if I'd accept one red cent of it."

In silence they looked at one another. Elizabeth angry and accusing, Alan firm, unyielding. After a moment, realizing she had run up against granite in Alan Baker on this question, she turned to another.

"There's something else I want an understanding about. Mrs. Drummond told me you intend to take care of Jim Montgomery's girl. What makes you feel you're responsible? Why on earth . . . Just because you were acquainted with that child's father?"

Alan sharply interrupted her. "Elizabeth, let me point out something to you. It may be cruel and ungenerous of me, but it's got to be said. When Curt was taken, I felt to me to look out for you. You were a grown woman; you had chances of employment; you had other advantages. But I assumed responsibility. Please, now, I'm not throwing it up to you; I did it freely and would've done more if I'd been able."

"Now Jimmy was killed. I wasn't just an acquaintance of his; I was the nearest person in the world to him. He came from England; he had no relatives. That little tot of his . . . Elizabeth, it's but four years old, it's helpless here in the North, it's dependent in a terrible sense."

With more harshness than he had ever shown her, he said sharply: "I'm going to look out for Jimmy's child. That's settled. If you don't like it, you don't have to go now."

His coldness frightened her. It destroyed all her former assurance that she dominated him. She sensed he wanted to end their engagement and would do it here and now if she gave him sufficient cause. A whisper warned her:

"You may be right about that reward money and Jimmy's little tot. I didn't see your viewpoint, when I first came in here. I won't try to persuade you to do something you feel is wrong."

Watching him intently, she saw he was surprised, and deeply disappointed, at her yielding to him. He wanted to break with her! He wanted her to release him!

A little fearfully she broached the main purpose of her coming here.

"I heard you're going back into the Mounted."

"Who told you that?"

"I just heard. Several people said so."

"They were a bit hasty."

"Then you're not going back?"

He answered her indirectly. "Williamson offered to stop my logging-out papers at division headquarters or else re-enlist me as a constable and promote me to sergeant again. He said he'd write himself to Colonel Steele and explain, and ask Steele to release me. If I'd agree to come back into service."

In her heart Elizabeth was flinching at him, continuously: "If you go back into that ninety-month rut, I'll never marry you! I'll never live here in this backwoods and be shouted from barracks to barracks!" But her lips said to him, with admirable self-control: "You haven't decided? You want time to think it over?"

"You want me to go down to Victoria?" he demanded sharply.

Elizabeth was entirely too wise to deny that. "Yes, I do, Alan. I would rather live there. But you want to stay here, and I don't feel it's my right to dictate your life work."

"You're willing to stay here, then?"

"I'm willing to let you decide. I'm willing to stay here, if you want to."

Even while she spoke, she was wondering . . . Why had Haskell come to her tonight with the news about Alan? Against his former "affairs" and his untrustworthy nature, she weighed his passionate infatuation. The scales hung in the balance, uncertain, precarious. He would promise marriage; but once she was out in Edmonton or the big eastern cities, once she had broken with Alan and put herself in Haskell's power, how could she be sure he would carry out his promise?

She temporized: "I'm sorry I was so—so sharp about those other things, Alan. I'm dreadfully tired and worn-out. This last week, not knowing where you were or if you were in danger—it was a nightmare, I think I'll go. If you'll excuse me. We can talk about this tomorrow, Alan, can't we?"

"I'll go. If you'll excuse me. We can talk about this tomorrow, Alan, can't we?"

"I'll go. If you'll excuse me. We can talk about this tomorrow, Alan, can't we?"

"I'll go. If you'll excuse me. We can talk about this tomorrow, Alan, can't we?"

"I'll go. If you'll excuse me. We can talk about this tomorrow, Alan, can't we?"

"I'll go. If you'll excuse me. We can talk about this tomorrow, Alan, can't we?"

at Endurance. He says it would be—well, punishment, because I told—I said what the inspector ordered me to say about that patrol. I'd like—I thought you might help me . . . If I could only get transferred to some other post . . .

"That's a wise ambition of yours," Alan commented. "I'd like to see the way you've been and spied on us men. And you thought I'd help you get a transfer! While I'm thinking about it—if I go back in service here, you'd better yank those two stripes out of a hurry. It takes a man to wear that uniform down here and a lot of a good man to wear those stripes on his arm. Now get out!" He turned away.

Goaded by the fearsome prospect of living here among these men, Whipple made a last frantic effort.

"You've got to know about this, Sergeant Baker. I think it's shameful the way she's deceiving you and the way he's meeting her—out there, at night. I mean Miss Spaulding. She's meeting him, she's down there at the edge of the woods; she sent him to tell him where he could find her, and he went to her. He's there with her now."

He hacked away from Alan hastily. The expression that came over Alan's face let him know he was fumbling with dynamite, and God pity him if he bungled it.

"If you mean," Alan demanded, "that she's down there at the woods with Haskell? She sent you to bring him out there to her?"

"Yes, sir," Whipple stammered. "I'm telling you the truth, sir. They're out there now. Sergeant Baker, he's trying to get her to—well, to throw you over and go with him, but she's afraid he mightn't marry her and then she'd be—well, stranded if she throws you over."

A horrible suspicion shot into Alan's mind. Here in his cabin a quarter-hour ago, why had Elizabeth come in so angry and imperious, and then done a sudden about-face and so strangely yielded to him? Had she been weighing her chances with Haskell, thinking of marrying Haskell, even while she had talked of "your" home?

A thought burned through Alan like living flame: "Good God, it was for her, in mercenary like her, that I broke away from Joyce! I let her lead me, use me. It was for her I kept that promise sacred!"

"Yes, tomorrow," he said dully. "We can talk about it then."

When she left the cabin and started down the terrace, a lightning flash revealed to her Constable Whipple still sitting forlorn and disheartened at the edge of Mrs. Drummond's flower garden. By the window of his tiny study Father Claverly sat alone. Joyce had gone. There was a light in Inspector Haskell's cabin; he must still be awake.

A few miles down river she heard the distant, long-drawn foot of the fur-trading steamer beating up to Endurance and on south to Resolution. The sound awoke a tumult of memories; it seemed like a voice of the outside, an echo of the civilization that all her being clamored for. She glanced again at Haskell's cabin. He was going south, south to the land of cities. It would be like a flight, an escape from this far North country, into the haven of that Ontario estate, his comfortable heritage, their winters in glittering Ottawa.

She thought of going over to his cabin on some pretext. But after her coldness of these last weeks, such an act would be too much an overture, even though she had talked with him this evening. Why couldn't she send Whipple with some hint, some message to him? Haskell would surely come out to her . . .

In dull unearthing mood, Alan had flung himself down on the bed for a few moments. Elizabeth had not hinted at releasing him; she had given him no honest cause to break the engagement himself, but had yielded to him on every point. He felt that tomorrow, after Joyce had gone away, he would not greatly care whether she released him or not.

A timid knock at the door roused him. With a longing hope that it might be Joyce, he got up hastily, stepped into the outer room and bade "Come in."

His visitor was Corporal Whipple. With a hasty glance at the door as though fearful of being overheard, the corporal said secretly:

"I came to tell you . . . There's something I think you ought to know, sir. It's my duty to tell you."

"What's your game, fellow? Come out plain."

"I—I . . . Well, the superintendent says he's going to make me stay here (TO BE CONTINUED.)"

Each Thursday from now on, Miss Atkinson will conduct a period of singing in the assembly from 8:30 until 8:45.

Wednesday afternoon Miss Atkinson will present a musical program to the assembly during the first hour in the afternoon.

The Kalamazoo College Glee Club will be with us again this year. Some time in the spring. There has been no definite date decided upon.

Bessie and Dick Straw have returned from Florida and are again in school with us.

Bertha Pierce is absent from school because of the illness of her mother who lives in Norwood. We hope she will soon be back with us.

The game at Boyne City last Friday night was very exciting and very close all the way through. Howard Davenport was high point man for Charlevoix. Most of the time the score was tie. First we would make a basket and then Boyne City would make one. When the last few minutes of the game came the score was tie, 12 and 12, but Boyne City made a basket, making the score 14 to 12 in favor of Boyne.

Miss Freda McMillan was a recent visitor in Miss Milner's eighth grade English class. Miss McMillan entertained the class by reading several very interesting stories.

Commercial Department Dorothy Griffin and Dan Genet won typewriting awards this month. The remaining students in the class are striving all the harder, hoping they might win one of these awards next month.

Junior High News The basketball team played its first game of the season by defeating Boyne City 12 to 6. At the end of the first half the score stood 10 to 0 in Charlevoix's favor. A desperate rally on the part of the Boyne City team in the last half limited the local junior high to but two points while running up six.

The superior team work and accuracy of Boh Pearl's scoring eye, made the game in favor of Charlevoix most of the time as Boh dropped in ten out of the scoring points. McGarry, Serno, Hansen and LaBlanc brought the ball into scoring territory many times.

Student Council The council's weekly meeting Tuesday was an interesting one because the discussion centered around the adoption of a cartoon poster as a means of promoting character education in the junior high.

A committee of three, Boh Emery, June Davey and Charles Scott, were appointed to investigate the proposition. He will make a report to the council. Through information from the superintendent, Mr. Bush, they learned that if this cartoon, which was $8.00, was bought at first by the school; next year at the price of $1.50 another set could be bought. After conversing with the three secretaries representing the three grades, the subject was dropped as far as buying the cartoon was concerned because of the lack of money throughout the grades.

Eighth Grade Party At 7 o'clock Saturday evening, members of the eighth grade assembled at the gymnasium for an evening of fun and refreshments.

Relying basketball races in which a variety of combinations played against each other often revealed that the girls were quite as accurate in shooting baskets as some of the boys.

A steward stood at the gangway of a big liner, and as he stood there he kept shouting for the benefit of the arriving passengers:

A young woman stepped daintily aboard with a babe in her arms. As she hesitated before the steward he bent over her and said in his chivalrous way:

"First or second?"

"Oh!" said the girl, her face as red as a rose, "Oh, dear, it's—it's not mine!"

GOVERNMENT BY INVESTIGATION

Detroit, Jan. 3, 1932.—We read in a special dispatch from Washington: "Government by investigation has started off at a brisk pace in the three weeks this Congress has been in session." The story further reports that 17 resolutions calling for inquiries were introduced by members of the Senate before the holiday recess began, six of them being the products of the brain of one member, and most of them being inspired "largely by political considerations."

It is unlikely that this recital brings much sense of shock to the average person. In the last dozen years or so, we have become so accustomed to the mania for inquiry endemic, that we have come to accept its presence as a matter of course, and almost to consider it one of the unavoidable features of "free government."

Occasionally a n. investigation serves a good end. Once in a while it really is conducted for the purpose of gaining information to be used as the basis of policy or legislation. But for the most part the modern inquiries are propagandist, political, persecutory, or even consciously obstructive. And we are afraid that frequently they are not honestly conceived, but are started for the purpose of developing "cases" rather than for the purpose of obtaining illuminating and guiding facts.

"Government by investigation" is probably the most evil of all forms of government, when it reaches full flower, because in essence it then becomes government by intimidation and persecution. —Editorial Detroit Free Press.

Talk about the New Year mounting to something, you just ought to have had a few minutes and the opportunity to "listen in" at the regular meeting of the county road commission Tuesday, why, it was nothing more like old 1931 than the most critic mind could imagine. Commissioner Wangeman behaved himself and let the rest go to work. They rolled up their sleeves and pitched right into the problems of the New Year with a "bang and a punch."

They waited on a full delegation of the unemployment committee of the county, that is the various chairmen, and agreed to lend every effort to aid the poor commission in carrying their load. They organized the board for the year with W. E. Byers as its chairman. Gasoline plants were purchased for each of the three garages in the county and will be promptly installed to take care of these needs at convenience and saving in this department. Commissioner Wangeman was delegated to locally supervise the East Jordan section of the county, Commissioner Rouse for the Boyne City section and Commissioner Byers for the Charlevoix section. Looks like the old three-horse team was all "hitched up" to pull a heavy load this year.

PURELY LOCAL Mayor Voigt of Boyne City is to arrange a program for the February meeting of The Progressive Club of that place, which will give him plenty of time to render his contribution to the club and not interfere with his campaign for Mayor at the early spring election. "Bill" is getting real serious minded about this business of being a public official, for at the regular council meeting Monday night, January 4th, he rejected an offer to sell a ton or two of coal to the city. Isn't it funny how things change? We take it from this, if an investigation should be started of Boyne City's affairs, the Mayor would not care to have it reviewed more than the year 1932.

Rumors have it, that there is a growing desire gnawing away in the Boyne Falls school district to "start something" pertaining to the activities of the school board at that point. Coach Herman Meyers served on the board for several years but failed to make the run for re-election a year or so ago. Some in the district were no doubt disappointed. Whether it is this that may be part of the contributing factor cannot be determined but it is apparent from the open discussions about the district that there is dissatisfaction and criticism hovering around.

Coach Herman Meyers and Postmaster John Porter of Boyne Falls, made a trip to Newberry recently. Wonder if it could be possible that they were concerned in the now pending appointment of a postmaster at Charlevoix?

A preliminary investigation of the welfare activities of the Boyne Falls committee was given the latter part of December. The report when completed, we are told, will contain some very interesting information.

The experts are telling the girls how to beautify themselves, but most of them are too beautiful now for the public safety.

AT THE MOVIES

Clive Brook Wayward Spouse? Only in Talkie Plots, Dearie!

The roles which favorites of film-land essay upon the screen are many times the direct opposite of the actual lives of those actors.

George Bancroft doesn't go about, following orders at all within the ken of his voice; Tallulah Bankhead, far from being the serious-minded, world-weary sophisticate which she portrays in her pictures is really one of the sharpest-tongued wise-crackers along the "double-crossroads" of Times Square; Charlie Chaplin is not eternally the clown—as numerous demonstrations of his business acumen show; and Clive Brook is certainly not a wayward husband—as three of his recent roles in the talkies have him.

Now comes Brook's most recent, and, preview critics aver, most important role as a husband who strays; the part of George Boyd in "Husband's Holiday." This is the central character upon which Ernest Pascal built his renowned novel, "The Marriage Bed," and his subsequent stage play of the same name.

The story is thoroughly modern, thoroughly real and thoroughly vital as a depiction of life as it is lived in America. As such it discloses joys and sorrows, elicits laughs and tears.

The 1932 state ballot will probably carry more proposed constitutional amendments and referendums than is usually submitted to voters in a presidential election, the secretary of state's office said Tuesday. One measure to be placed before the public will be the oleomargarine tax bill. Two groups of petitions, containing 5,000 and 15,000 signatures, have been filed with the secretary of state asking changes in the state's prohibition laws. Additional signatures are expected to be filed soon. Various constitutional amendments on the taxation question undoubtedly will be presented. In order that a constitutional amendment may be placed on the November, 1932, election, 85,089 signatures are required.

This commandment is as little understood, or as little regarded as any of the commandments. We will try and interpret the meaning of the commandment to the best of our ability.

The Ladies' Missionary society will have its next regular meeting Wednesday, January 20. The meeting will be held at the church. Mrs. W. H. Miller will lead in the devotionals and Mrs. F. J. Fessenden will present the subject, "Mahatma Gandhi." The Pilgrim Circle will act as hostess.

STATE ORGANIZATION SEEKS CO. MEMBERSHIP

Daughters of American Constitution
Have Michigan Unit

A Michigan unit of the Daughters of the American Constitution, a patriotic organization, as the name implies, was organized recently at Lansing.

The members pledge themselves to uphold the Constitution of the United States, support the president, uphold the courts, help suppress crime, secure five other pledged members if possible and register and vote in 1932.

The organization is supported by donations of patriotic citizens, so there is no registration fee or dues.

Mrs. Brayton Saltonstall of this city, has been appointed enrollment chairman for Charlevoix county.

HUNTERS KILL 15,000 DEER LAST SEASON

About 15,000 bucks were killed in Michigan during the past deer season, it is estimated by the department of conservation.

According to conservation officers posted during the deer season at the Straits of Mackinac, 5,168 deer were carried south from the upper peninsula between the opening of the deer season and December 2. Few were carried after that time. The department estimated that about an equal number were killed in the lower peninsula and another third were killed by upper peninsula residents or were shipped out of the peninsula at other points.

Despite the supposition that the deer kill in the upper peninsula was much smaller than last year, the department's figures show a drop of but 808 under last year. The department's officers registered 5,976 at the Straits during the 1930 season.

Knowing others is interesting, but success comes from knowing ourselves, our qualifications and limitations.

BASKETBALL TOURNAMENT PLAN REVISED

ELIMINATE CLASS B MEETS IN LOWER PENINSULA

Upper Peninsula Withdraws from State Tournament—Classes C and D Not Affected

Drastic modification of rules governing state high school basketball tournaments was announced Friday by Charles E. Forsythe, assistant director of interscholastic athletics.

The new rules, adopted by a representative council of the State Athletic association at its annual meeting in Ann Arbor last Monday and Tuesday call for the elimination of regional tournaments in class A competition; abandonment of class B district tournaments in the lower peninsula, and withdrawal of upper peninsula schools from the state tournament.

Class A schools, winners in their respective district conferences or leagues, will qualify direct for the final tournament to be held in Lansing, March 17, 18 and 19. Eight regionals in the lower peninsula, March 10, 11 and 12, will determine the class B teams to enter the finals at Lansing. Rules governing class C and D teams are the same as last year.

Regional tournaments for high schools in the upper peninsula will serve as finals.

Approximately fifty district tournaments are to be held for class C and D schools throughout the state on March 3, 4 and 5.

Engraved parchment awards will be presented to winning teams this year instead of cups, trophies or plaques as in past years, the move being promoted by desire to lessen emphasis on athletic events and to economize.

Selection of sites for regional and district tournaments will be made within two weeks, Forsythe said.

As part of a plan of injury insurance for state school athletes in all sports, A. W. Thompson, state director of interscholastic athletics, announced that a thorough survey covering one year will be made into the cause of injuries to prep students engaged in athletics.

Not only football, but all sports will be covered in the survey Thompson said.

The director said he personally was of the opinion that most injuries were caused when athletes were tired. For this reason he indicated he would favor discontinuance of any overtime periods in basketball.

Thompson said he had been informed by Emerson R. Boyles, deputy attorney general, that the state could not enter the insurance field. He believed, however, that statistics gathered in the survey might induce a private company or companies to issue blanket insurance policies.

Itapids. At Mancelona a quantity of tires, etc., were stolen. A raid on the Smith home at Boyne City resulted in recovery of some of the stolen loot. It was found stored away in upper rooms of the house.

BOYNE CITY MAN ADMITTED MANY CRIMES

John Smith Held at Petoskey for Disposition of Case

With the confession of Glenn William Smith, Boyne City, held at Petoskey in connection with a car theft job of two weeks ago, the attempted robbery of the Fife Lake bank some weeks ago, has been cleared up and numerous other robbery mysteries cleared for Northern Michigan peace officers. Smith's confession, witnessed by four men, is in the hands of the state police and Prosecuting Attorney Washburne and implicates his brother, John Smith, also of Boyne City.

The young man was captured near Cedar Springs where he and his brother were waiting a chance to steal chickens, the confession states. In addition to the theft of a car from the Peterson garage on Charlevoix avenue, Petoskey, Smith admits taking an Essex car at Mackinaw City and destroying about 75 ladies hats found in the car. He admits breaking into the Indian River Lumber company store house and stealing a truck. This was used, he says, in carting away a quantity of potatoes, flour and seed from the Hankey Milling company plant at Boyne Falls. Garages were broken in at other points, also.

The acetylene welding outfit used in the attempt to get into the vaults of the Fife Lake bank, were stolen at Vanderbilt, being taken from the Kurssakes garage. A DeSoto car also was stolen at Indian River but later deserted. At Alba, gas, etc., were taken and the Percy Drug store at Wolverine broken into and a radio stolen.

From an Elmira warehouse 100 bushels of potatoes were stolen, loaded onto trucks and sold in Grand

LOCAL TOSSERS DEFEATED HARBOR "5"

WON FIRST OF SEASON'S TILTS BY 11 TO 9 SCORE

Reserves and Junior High Victors On Triple Bill—Traverse City Here Friday Night

Charlevoix high school basketballers threw the Tip of Michigan class C conference title race into a jumble by their 11 to 9 victory over Harbor Springs on Harbor's court last Friday evening. It was the Kipmen's first win in five starts, and the victory of the regulars was the third on a triple bill in which Charlevoix took all honors.

The main contest was close and hard-fought throughout. Both teams played cautiously through the first quarter, which closed with the Kipmen leading 3 to 2. Harbor worked into the lead early in the second period, scoring 4 points to Charlevoix's 2 for a 6 to 5 advantage at the half.

The third session, marked by close defensive play of both teams, netted each a single point from the foul line. Charlevoix assumed the advantage early in the final session through Smith's defence and Davenport's free toss, but Juilleret evened the count with a goal. Auce's goal from beneath the hoop just before the final whistle decided the issue.

Joe Smith and Norman Auce shared two goals each for 4 points, but Smith's two free tosses gave him 6 points. McSaubey scored the extra mark from the foul line. Lyle Auce played in Chew's forward position, and Joe Arvilla, subbed for Davenport late in the game.

McIntosh, with two goals and two free tosses for 6 points, shared high scoring honors, while Juilleret made 4 points for Harbor.

Charlevoix's junior high team completely out-classed Harbor's juniors to win the curtain-opener 21 to 3, and in the second contest, Charlevoix reserves took over Harbor reserves by a 11 to 10 score, making a clean sweep of the evening's games.

Boyer City is now the only undefeated team in Tip of Michigan conference play. East Jordan surprised the league by taking the undefeated Mancelona quintet into camp last week, leaving Boyer with top honors. Doubtless the conference race will be a merry one from now on. The teams appear to be quite evenly matched, giving promise of close competition.

The Kipmen make their second home appearance Friday night, taking on the class B Traverse City team in a return game. Charlevoix lost their opening game of the season at Traverse and would like to even the count with the boys from "Cherry City." Harbor junior high meet the local juniors in the preliminary.

Webster H. Pearce, state superintendent of public instruction, will be the speaker of the evening. Those who have heard this prominent state official need no urge to attend, and those who have not had the opportunity should take advantage of this occasion.

Committee reports and other business will come before the meeting.

EAST JORDAN RAILROAD HEARING DATE IS SET

COMPLETE WORK ON UPPER WATER MAIN

INSTALLATION GIVES CHARLEVOIX COMPLETE CIRCUIT

Improvement, First Held Up By U. S. Regulations, Removes Menacing Fire Hazard

Work of installing a new water main under the upper channel between Round lake and Lake Charlevoix to connect the Belvedere and Chicago Club summer colonies was completed last Friday.

The main was that day subjected to air tests and, according to reports, has been found satisfactory.

This much needed improvement, which had been under consideration for some time, was started several weeks ago. Capt. John Mahon, Muskegon, was awarded contract for the work. Capt. Mahon sub-let the dredging contract to the Lyons Construction company of Grand Rapids. Earlier installation of the main had been held up for months while city officials bickered with the U. S. Engineering department over regulations governing depth to which the main was to be installed and type of material. It was finally necessary to follow original instructions and the pipe was put down to a depth of 24 feet below the water surface.

The new main gives the city a complete water circuit, supplying even pressure to all sections served by the city mains. Prior to its installation, the Chicago Club and The Inn properties and those out-lying on the north side, drew their supply from what was practically a dead end, with resultant low pressure. This condition presented a menacing fire hazard to those valuable resort properties. Now, in event of a break in one main or the other, a happening which has not been uncommon in past years, the north side district will be served without interruption and uncertain emergency equipment. Connecting mains from Chicago and Belvedere avenues were installed by the city some time ago.

PILGRIM CIRCLE ENTERTAINED ROYALLY

Mrs. N. A. Shores Hostess at Meeting Wednesday Afternoon

The Pilgrim Circle of the Congregational church met at the home of the president of the organization, Mrs. N. A. (Grandma) Shores, on Dixon avenue, last Wednesday afternoon.

Following the regular business session, including reports of various committees, a handmade rug, the gift of "Grandma Shores" and Mrs. C. E. Sterritt, was presented as a gift from the entire circle to Rev. and Mrs. Russell G. Parker, who were honorary guests of the circle.

The meeting closed with a 5 o'clock chicken supper served by the hostess.

BEARS TOOK TILT FROM CHEBOYGAN

SCORED THRILLING VICTORY HERE THURSDAY NIGHT

Staged Brilliant Rally in Second Half to Overcome Cheboygan's 14 to 4 Advantage and Win

Charlevoix fans got an eye full of basketball at the school gymnasium last Thursday evening. There they saw the powerful Polar Bears, decisively out-played and trailing 14 to 4 at the half, stage a great rally to overcome the hitherto undefeated Cheboygan Merchants by a 29 to 26 count. It was a great ball game.

Brown started the scoring with a long goal from outside the foul line, and then Cheboygan went to work. With a speedy and sure attack they piled up 11 points while holding Charlevoix scoreless following Brown's initial goal. The quarter ended with the visitors out in front 11 to 2. It was a hard period for the Bears. They had many chances, but their shots were usually hurried, thus many misses.

With Supernaw and Hileman replacing Ikens and Smith in the lineup, the Bears fought stubbornly in the second period. They were outscored 3 points to 2, however, and at the half trailed 14 to 4.

As the third session opened, Cheboygan increased their lead 19 to 4 before the Bears' attack began to function. With Supernaw leading the attack, Charlevoix cut the visitors' lead by 11 points before the period ended, and started the fourth stanza trailing 19 to 15.

That final period brought the fans to their feet with its intense excitement. Early in the session the Bears evened the count. A free throw put Cheboygan a single point in the lead. The Polar Bears soared a goal to take the advantage and in the next few minutes the lead changed hands no less than six times before the Bears pulled out in front. The work of both teams was pretty to watch, but once under way the Polar Bear attack was superior.

Supernaw, guard, was high scorer for the Bears with 10. Davenport was next with 8, Brown had 7 and Kipke and Hileman 2 each. For Cheboygan, McCarthy and Judd each made 7, Bracket 6, Doe 4 and Lawson 2.

Despite fastness of play, "Pete" Hallett handled the contest in good shape.

FARMERS INVITED TO ASSOCIATION MEETING

Top O'Michigan Potato Show Annual Session at Gaylord January 25

The annual meeting of the Top O'Michigan Potato Show association to be held at Gaylord court house on Monday, January 25, at 1:30 o'clock, eastern standard time, will be of interest to hundreds of Northern Michigan farmers.

CADILLAC JUDGE SENTENCED SIX

PRESIDED AT SPECIAL COURT TERM HERE WEDNESDAY

Boyer City Youths Given Terms at Ionia—Herbert Thompson Gets 7 1/2 to 10 Years at Jackson

Presiding Judge Parm C. Gilbert at a special session of circuit court here Wednesday morning, Judge Fred S. Lamb of Cadillac, passed sentence on several pending criminal cases.

Garnet Haines and Harry Holland, Boyer youths who had previously confessed to robberies at Boyer City and Walton Junction, pleaded guilty when arraigned. Both were sentenced to serve terms at the Ionia state reformatory, the former from 2 to 15 years and the latter from 3 to 15 years.

Wilbert Nathan, who was arrested for concealing contraband stolen by Haines and Holland, entered a plea of guilty. Sentence in his case was deferred to the March term of circuit court and he was released upon his own recognizance to appear at that time. Nathan's daughter, Bernice, 18, and Alice Vincent, 17, who admitted wearing clothing taken by Haines and Holland from the Rovick store, are also being held to circuit court.

Herbert Thompson, Traverse City, alias Bill Thomas and Herb Wilkop, whose record dates back to 1919 when he was sentenced from Grand Traverse county to the Detroit House of Correction to serve from 7 1/2 to 15 years for burglary, pleaded guilty to car theft. He was sentenced to serve from 7 1/2 to 10 years at Jackson prison with no recommendation.

Thompson was arrested in October at Cross Village by Emmet county officers on a warrant issued from this county charging car theft at East Jordan. Records show that he was sentenced in 1926 from Grand Traverse county to serve 3 to 5 years at Marquette prison for grand larceny, and in 1922 from Genesee county to the same prison for a similar term for larceny. At the present time he is wanted by both Grand Traverse and Emmet counties, also by the state for breaking parole.

BOYNE YOUTHS FACE CHARGES OF ROBBERY

Arrested at Kalamazoo, Admit Guilt in Several Crimes

Garnet Haines and Harry Holland, Boyne City youths apprehended late last week at Kalamazoo by Paw Paw state troopers for Charlevoix county officers, are in jail here facing charges of robbery.

They were implicated in several crimes recently by Wilbert Nathan, also of Boyne City, who is now awaiting arraignment, on a charge of concealing stolen goods. According to Prosecuting Attorney Hollie L. Lewis, Haines and Holland confessed Monday to robbing the N. J. Rovick store at Boyne City, also a garage at Walton Junction. In addition, Holland admitted pilfering the Siefert cottage on Lake Charlevoix and stealing chickens at the Robert White farm late last fall. He implicated Wilbert Nathan in the latter job.

The pair waived examination at a hearing before Justice Robert Withers Monday and were bound over to March circuit court under bond. A large portion of the loot taken has been recovered. The balance was sold.

Nathan's daughter, Bernice, 18, and Alice Vincent, 17, who admitted wearing clothing taken by Haines and Holland from the Rovick store, are also being held to circuit court.

ANNUAL BANQUET A GREAT SUCCESS

METHODIST CLUB WOMEN HELD AFFAIR THURSDAY

Program Entitled "The City News," Provided Great Entertainment for Members and Husbands

Members of the women's clubs of the Methodist church held their annual banquet in the church parlors last Thursday evening. The husbands of members were guests of the occasion.

Following an elaborate supper, a program of humorous character entitled "The City News" and portraying the various outstanding features of a newspaper, was given. Mrs. W. W. Hurd gave the "locals" heralding many ludicrous news items supposedly concerning the various members, also an original comic poem on the letter for each name.

Mrs. Arthur Edwards read the joke column. She had prepared some very clever jokes which "brought down the house." Mrs. F. F. McMillan read the "Dolly Dolores Correspondence column" and some of the letters sent in, by both men and women, were rich and racy. They were very much like the ordinary correspondence column and caused much amusement when the signatures were read. The daily poem carried in the columns of so many newspapers was read by Mrs. Pearl. It was a comic poem, supposedly by Guest, or "Family Life." Mrs. Harrison Trimble read a "Farm For Sale" advertisement which contained many jokes on present conditions.

At the close, Dr. F. F. McMillan, Frank P. Bird and Rev. W. W. Hurd were called upon to give their impression of the program. This gave the "mere man" his first opportunity of the evening and, according to reports, they took full advantage of the chance, thus closing a very successful and enjoyable evening.

IRONTON GRANGE RE-ORGANIZED JAN. 12TH

Old Members Reinstated and Several New Ones Initiated

A re-organization meeting of Ironton Grange was held last Tuesday evening at Ironton Grange hall.

Twelve former members were re-instated in the order and five new members were initiated. Thirty-nine members of Barnard Grange, which conducted the initiation, were present, also fourteen from Marion Center Grange. Barnard Grange members also furnished the program, which was entertaining and instructive.

Richard Paddock, worthy master of Charlevoix County P. O. M. O. Grange, gave a talk, stressing the purpose and aims of Pomona Grange, also its accomplishments.

Ironton Grange expresses its appreciation of the efforts of the neighboring orders to assist them in building up a Grange which brings an influence of betterment to that community.

CARS BARRED IN TREASURE HUNT

RULES MUST BE FOLLOWED TO QUALIFY AS WINNER

Tickets for Legion Affair Will Be On Sale at Central Drug Store Or By Members

As promised in last week's issue of the press, the rules governing the treasure hunt planned by the local post of the American Legion for Wednesday evening, January 27th, are herewith published for the information and guidance of prospective entrants.

The hunt will start from the American Legion home on East Garfield avenue, at 8 o'clock p. m., standard time.

No cars or conveyances of any kind may be used in the hunt, as this is to be a winter sport and must be done on foot.

All entrants must purchase a ticket, bearing a number, and on which his or her name will be written and which should be in the purchaser's possession on the night of the hunt, as there will be policemen stationed at various points in town who are likely to ask for your ticket at any time. Failure to produce the ticket will disqualify for further participation in the hunt.

Any person who has not purchased a ticket, or who is found hunting with another person who has no ticket, will be disqualified.

Anyone found disturbing or defacing a clue in any way will be disqualified.

Each clue in this hunt shall have a letter on it, which must be written down as you find it, because if your letter does not correspond with that held by the hunt committee, you do not win the treasure. Better carry a pad and pencil.

In order to win, the clues must be found in their proper rotation. No skipping or omission of clues will be permitted.

The treasure, itself, will not be at the last clue, but it will be posted as the treasure and will be lettered the same as the rest of the clues.

The first one to report at the American Legion home, with all the clue letters in their proper rotation, shall win the treasure.

Any person over twelve years of age may enter this treasure hunt.

Don't forget—the starting-point is the American Legion home at 8 o'clock, standard time, when the first clue will be given along with the rules and regulations.

MASONIC ASSOCIATION HELD ANNUAL MEETING

Directors Elected, Financial Report Given Tuesday Evening

Fifty Masons and their wives were present at the annual meeting of the Masonic Building Association, held Tuesday evening at the Masonic temple.

Oluf Nordrum was elected to succeed himself as president for the third term. Directors re-elected for 3 years were: Robert Bridge, Dr. Frank H. Wilkinson and L. E. Benton. M. A. Levinson was re-elected member of the finance committee for a 3-year term.

At their next meeting, the board of directors will choose officers for the ensuing year.

The report of H. R. Fowler, treasurer, showed the financial condition of the Association to be in excellent shape. With hut $1200 still due, it is almost a certainty the mortgage "will be burned" at the next annual meeting.

In behalf of her father, D. S. Payton, for many years an officer of the Association, Miss Minnie Payton presented a photograph of the board of directors elected 20 years ago when the Masonic building project was undertaken.

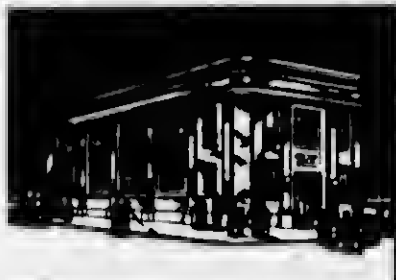

Following the business session, a committee served refreshments and a social evening of cards was enjoyed.

Rebekah Past Noble Grand Club are sponsoring a Carnival Dance at I. O. O. F. hall, Thursday evening, January 28th. Old-time dances. Come and have a good time. Bill, 50c per couple.—Adv. 311.

LOWER ELECTRIC RATES
Anything in the line of lowered expenses these times proves to be of interest. "How they do it"—we wonder! We have just learned that lower electric rates, in one matter at least, has been effected in Traverse City. There, by recent action, the churches are to have current for two and one-half cents a kilowatt. And this is given by a private corporation. This is a little on the principle that many cities follow, of furnishing free water to churches and parsonages, and along the lines of the fundamental principle that churches and parsonages are not taxed.—Contributed.

ASSETS FROZEN—WHOSE?
It should be brought to the attention of the public that banks generally were never so liquid as when the present depression struck. It is of record that some banks have paid out as much as 85 per cent of their deposits which is in itself a remarkable record. Then when forced to close some of the unthinking members of the community branded these splendid bankers as failures or sometimes worse and they glibly reported that the bank had closed because of frozen assets.

The "frozen assets" which caused such banks to close were in most cases the assets of loyalty, courage and community spirit which were lacking in the depositors. From reports which have recently come to our notice the public is generally beginning to realize that a local bank is only as good as the people who do business with it and that a community without banking facilities is soon without business of any kind, and property values of all types go on the toboggan never to recover.

This realization has resulted in a splendid spirit of cooperation of depositors when they are properly acquainted with the true situation.

FALL FOR LAND SHARKS
The state conservation department has traded 1800 acres of what is rightly considered the choicest deer hunting territory in Michigan for 2600 acres of land adjacent too and inside of state forest and game reserves. In this single act they have reduced the taxable property in the district by at least eight thousand acres, and they have also brought down a storm of protest on their heads that it won't be easy to explain to the fellows who have been in the habit of deer hunting in the vicinity of the Turtle lake game reserve, a private reserve in the vicinity of Alpena, Hillman and Atlanta, because the land that has been traded off to other hunting clubs and parties that hope to dispose of it for hunting club purposes will now be closed to public hunting and the deer hunters that come up into that country hereafter must go farther away. If this property had all been taken up by reliable and honest-to-God hunting parties then there might not be so much to find fault with, but some of the parties whose names are linked in the deal are nothing less than land sharks that have long played with state and tax lands to feather their own nests, and are acquiring these lands to unload for bigger money.—Cheboygan Observer.

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 167): "We apprehend life in divine Science only as we live above corporeal sense and correct it. Association Outlines Work in Current Issue of Publication

As a reminder of the undiminished need for anti-tuberculosis work in Michigan, a special issue of Michigan Out-of-Doors was last week sent to persons who have not yet paid for or returned tuberculosis Christmas seals received last Thanksgiving day.

The magazine, a bi-monthly publication of the Michigan Tuberculosis association, stresses the fact that "No home is safe from tuberculosis until all homes are safe." A series of pictures illustrate Christmas seal financed activities necessary to maintain increasingly thorough protection against tuberculosis.

The significant fact that 2,062 persons escaped death from tuberculosis in Michigan alone during 1930, as a result of tuberculosis work, is brought out in the magazine. Had the death rate in 1900, before the start of the organized campaign against tuberculosis, prevailed in 1930, at least 4,974 persons would have been killed by tuberculosis in Michigan. Due to the success of tuberculosis work the loss was reduced to 2,912.

and the card magician was hugely enjoyed. The tri-post association went on record as favoring action by the United States government on the soldiers' bonus, such action to be subordinate to any legislation now pending for the relief of widows and orphans of veterans or the disabled veterans themselves.

The assembly voted to fix the regular monthly date for the tri-post meetings as the third Tuesday in each month. This date may be changed in February to suit the convenience of State Department Commander Leslie Kefgen, who has been invited to attend the meeting at Charlevoix on his way south from an extended tour of the posts along the east coast and in the northern peninsula.

It was also voted to maintain a contribution box at the entrance of the hall on tri-post meeting nights to receive such contributions as the members may care to make to help defray the expense of putting on the banquet and entertainment to the post that is host. This plan will be no discrimination against those who do not feel able to contribute.

Whipple pleaded timidly, as Alan started past him for the door: "About my transfer, sir—you'll help me? You'll do what you can for me, sir?"

Alan's answer fairly dazed him. "I'll get you a transfer! Before William leaves! And still be in your debt!"

As he strode down the slope toward the woods ahead of him at the timber edge he made out the dim whiteness of Elizabeth's dress; and then by a lightning flash he saw her and Haskell sitting together under a low sweeping pine. He had an instant's glimpse of Haskell holding her hands, pleading with her. Of Elizabeth listening, uncertain of his passion, enviously drawing him on to a commitment.

When he loomed upon them out of the gusty darkness, they sprang in their feet, Elizabeth pale-stricken, Haskell with a snarl of anger.

"Put up the gun, Haskell!" Alan bade him, noticing the quick blurred movement. "I don't want to fight you. Not for her! I didn't come for that!"

A host of bitter and pitiless words had been surging through Alan's brain as he had come down the slope. He wanted to taunt her, not for having made herself dependent on him, but for taking his money while she harbored treachery in her heart. He swore to bring her sordidness into her face so that she would know he realized it now to its depths. He intended to remind her of that night in his cabin when she had offered herself to him out of motives akin to those of any paid woman.

But as he confronted the two of them, Alan checked the brutal words. Haskell had moved a little in front of Elizabeth. There was something of protection, of sheltering, in the act; something which came nearer making Alan respect the man than any act he had ever seen from Haskell.

He did not speak to Elizabeth at all, but ignored her.

"Don't think I came down here to interfere, Haskell," he said, in harsh cold voice. "You're welcome. And don't think you surprised me tonight. I haven't been blind. You sent me away on those crazy patrols so you could be alone with her. You went sneaking around to her while I was keeping her and she was engaged to me."

He paused a moment; he leaned a little nearer Haskell; he delivered his ultimatum in the tones of a grim warning.

"You've worked hard enough in getting her. You fought me with lies and did me all the damage a man could do. What happened between you two while I was gone I don't know. I don't care what. But I can guess—finding you two out here together, sneaked away from the post at night. Now, after that . . . You've told her you're going to do. You're not going to put it off; you won't spring something about taking her out to Edmonton or Ottawa; you won't be given any benefit of the doubt. You'll marry her here at Endurance! Before you leave! You'll either do that, or I'll come down there to your cabin and I'll settle with you the way you thought I was going to do tonight!"

He turned on his heel and left them. As he went out along the slope toward the post, he was realizing, with bitterness of heart, that his surdus eighteen months ago, the greatest sacrifice a man can be called upon to make, had been worse than futile. It had cost him dearly. It had brought pain to Joyce. It had brought them tonight to their hour of separation. And yet, through his bitter mood ran the knowledge that in his sacrifice he had set all personal desires aside and had kept faith with a partner dead and had held sacred his promise to Curt Spaulding, until Elizabeth herself had made that promise impossible of fulfillment.

Again he lived over that hour when he came upon a trapper's deserted, snow-drifted hut, and found Curt there, stricken with the disease, with both lungs frozen, deserted by his treacherous Indian helper, dying as valiantly as he had lived. He felt that no man on earth could understand the emotion that racked him as he knelt beside the bunk, whispering to a partner who was going down into the dark, leaving a sister penniless, alone in the savage North.

"Alan, she loves you," he could hear those broken whispers that presently were still. "If you'd marry her—my sister, Alan . . . I wouldn't mind—going—if I could think of you—partner and brother, too." And over and over again that dying whispered plea, and the ineffable peace that came when Alan made covenant, "I will, I will, Curt. I love her, too, because she's your sister."

And now, as he thought of that time

"I tried, Curt. You wouldn't have asked more of me than what I did. But it couldn't be, it couldn't be."

Joyce had helped Bill take her personal baggage down to the wharf, and had talked over with him final arrangements about forwarding the peltry in Edmonton and selling the trading store. Waiting for the steamer, she had quietly stepped out of Mrs. Drummond's house into the garden back of it, telling no one where she had gone.

She was aware that Alan intended to come down before she left, for half an hour with her. She had slipped out in the garden to make that impossible. If he came down to the wharf at the last moment, she felt she could say good-by calmly enough, with a brief handclasp, a voyageur's nod and hon chance; but a longer time with him would be unbearable.

As she stood there, half-hidden by an arbor of morning glories, she saw a dim figure come out along the slope from the direction of the woods edge, and as it passed her, scarcely a dozen feet away, she recognized Alan. He went on to the factor's house. She heard him knock, heard him ask for her, heard his puzzled "That's odd!" when Mrs. Drummond said she'd been gone for half an hour.

"I Was Keeping Her and She Was Engaged to Me."

By a lightning flash Joyce saw him as he started on past her. Something in his manner, in his dejected head, in his slow beaten gait, let her know he was aware she deliberately had gone away in these last minutes and, deliberately had shunned a parting talk with him.

As Alan went slowly past the garden, unconscious of the lightning flashes, thinking only that Joyce, who had turned his picture and his gift, was now refusing a last hour with him, he heard a voice in the windy blackness. It sounded like his name. In surprise he whirled toward the arbor of morning glories, and as he stood there, listening, he heard it again—his name—Joyce's voice, half-sobbing:

"Alan! Don't—don't go. . . . I'm—I'm here. . . ."

CHAPTER XIV

The North's Call

As she worked on a report that evening in the little library nook, Joyce would pause now and then and listen intently, with her dark eyes peering into the blackness outside the window.

It was time for Alan to be returning with Bill and Ted from a patrol down the Mackenzie. In the sharp vigorous gusts of October wind she kept thinking she heard the drone of the launch. Across the room from her, on a blanket-padded couch, little Marion Montgomery had fallen asleep over a picture book, her tiny moccasins off, one arm hanging over the couch. In the deep dreamless sleep of babyhood the little tot was oblivious of the threat and snarl of autumnal wind swirling around the cabin. If there was any sacrifice in having that tiny little companion in her home, Joyce had not yet become aware of it.

The report she was working on was a statement to her former bureau chief in Ottawa of the money expended in her work among the Indian women around Endurance.

During a lull in the wind she suddenly heard the unmistakable sound of the big police boat skimming up the wave-tossed Mackenzie. Putting aside her report, Joyce ceased being Deputy Indian Agent at Fort Endurance, N. W. T., and became the wife of Inspector Baker, officer commanding there. With a glance at the sleeping tot she hung a cape about her shoulders and went out the cabin and ran down the dark winding terrace toward the wharf.

When the yellow eye of the launch upon the prow half-deck and stand ready with the painter chain.

When he jumped out upon the planking, jerked the launch alongside and tapped the painter around a pier-head, he turned to her, hat in hand, reproaching her:

"Girl, girl, you shouldn't have come down here," in this raw wet wind. You've got to begin learning to be careful!"

Pednault snapped off the launch searchlight; and as the two men began gathering their packs together, in the mantling darkness Joyce silenced Alan's reproach, rising on tiptoe, oblivious of his wet slicker and the cold steel of his gun buckle.

After supper, when Alan had made himself regimental again after the six-days hard patrol, he stepped out into the living room where Joyce was finishing her report.

She beckoned him over to her, holding out several letters which had come for him on the Chipewyan mail. She had not opened them; but now when he brought a chair beside her, she read them with him.

Buzzard had dashed off a page from his apartment address in Winnipeg. He had "done" a couple dozen fairs and pumpkin shows in his new De-Havilland, but had found that line too tame. Right now he was flying the Winnipeg-Edmonton lap of the Air Mail. Next spring he was going to boss the "smoke hawk" division of the Manitoba Fire Prevention, with a circus of ten scouting planes under him.

"Some time this winter (he post-scripied), we might put skis on the crate and hop down north to visit you. But Alan, you find out first if Joyce holds anything against me for telling you she burned that rainbow scarf. I don't think she ever has forgiven me."

Joyce looked up, laughing, but with a catch in her voice as she remembered that burning day.

"Did you notice the 'we,' Alan? He puts her into a postscript! She's just a mere afterthought! Who is she?"

"Louise of Kamloops is all I know," Alan answered.

The next envelope was an enigma. It contained no message, no writing—nothing but two pictures. One was a panorama of a large country estate, with lawns, servant quarters, gardens, orchards. The other showed an imposing town residence, a stone building overhung by ivy, with a limousine waiting in the driveway.

Bewildered, Alan looked at the pictures twice, searched in the envelope for a possible note, glanced again at the address. And then, as he studied the crest of the envelope, he started a little. This was from Elizabeth! That insignia was the Lamoth-Haskell crest! Since Haskell married her and they left the North, they had written to no one at Endurance; but Alan had heard that Haskell, transferred to a small detachment in the Kootenay coal fields, had resigned and gone east.

Suddenly understanding the pictures, Alan looked up and met Joyce's eyes, and he saw that she too understood. In a kind of scorn she remarked:

"That's like Elizabeth, isn't it, Alan? She wants you to realize she's got a country estate and town house and uniformed chauffeur and all the things that—that—"

"Say it!" Alan bade. "—All the things I'd never been able to give her. She's trying to rub it in. Yes, it's like her, Joyce."

"Sometimes I pity her a little—with him, Alan."

"I wouldn't say that, Joyce. I know her better than you did. I'd say, God pity him—with her!"

With a gesture of finality he flipped the pictures contemptuously into the fireplace.

Later, when the lights of the post were out, when the fire logs had burned to red coals and Joyce had carried her sleepy little charge away to bed, they went outside the cabin.

In the night sky they heard the honking of Arctic geese, last of the migrants, winging swiftly south; and they had the feeling that in the illimitable woods all furry creatures were seeking out warm dens and storing food for the Frozen Moons. Up and down the wilderness rivers and fir-flung over the Strong-Woods, a whisper had gone abroad of a mighty change breeding—a whisper that drove less courageous things into headlong flight, yet was but a challenge to those more valiant of heart. The spirit of winter was in the air tonight; and Alan and Joyce were welcoming it. Here in the far North they had lived through other winters; they knew the savagery of those Moons and their white silent beauty, too. They had work to keep them busied during the long Dark, and a home against the blind swirling blizzards, and the vista of a life together here in this far land of their choosing.

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go, get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

CHILD need REGULATING?

CASTORIA WILL DO IT!

When your child needs regulating, remember this: the organs of babies and children are delicate. Little bowels must be gently urged—never forced. That's why Castoria is used by so many doctors and mothers. It is so many doctors for children's ailments; contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. You can safely give it to young infants for colic pains. Yet it is an equally effective regulator for older children. The next time your child has a little cold or fever, or a digestive upset, give him the help of Castoria, the children's own remedy. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

Wm. D. Fletcher

Mr. Lakies says the scrapers used are "horsekillers." They are wider than the old slush scraper and about half as long, have no wheels and just push the dirt ahead of them so that it makes it hard to pull. A good sum of money will probably be wasted resulting from their use. Work has progressed as far as the Cedar River school house, and clearing and tile drains have been put on the entire length of the road, 7½ miles, to Camp 9 road. The road near Camp 9 is terrible and autoists should give it a wide berth if they wish to keep their car intact.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedske of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight. I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it. To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health."

ADULT NIGHT CLASSES ARE PROVING POPULAR

Many Have Enrolled, But More Needed for Community Chorus

Judging from advance enrollment and enthusiasm being shown, the series of adult night classes being sponsored by the faculty of local public schools, are headed for success.

Supt. Gerald F. Bush announced Wednesday that enrollment up to that time had exceeded expectations, and added that it was not too late for others to join.

Specific mention was made of the community chorus class, for which insufficient enrollment has so far been made to warrant its being carried out. It is the plan to train the community chorus for participation in an Easter festival. The fee of 25c per person is to defray the cost of music, and is to be paid only upon entrance.

It is urged that all those desiring to enroll do so at once. A complete schedule of classes will be published in next week's issue of The Courier.

ENLIST BOY SCOUTS IN WELFARE EFFORT

Scouts to Make House-to-House Canvass for Clothing Saturday

Hampered in their welfare work by lack of clothing and articles of wearing apparel for distribution among needy families, Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion, has enlisted the aid of Charlevoix Boy Scouts in their campaign.

Those having donations to make are requested to have them ready at that time. Articles of children's apparel are greatly needed, Mr. Meggison stated.

It has been requested that clothing be clean and that donors see that buttons are sewed on so that the articles are ready to wear. The demand for clothing is wide-spread and local citizens may greatly aid the Legion's welfare campaign by donating generously.

Dropped Thrilling Game Tuesday Night by 16 to 15 Count

Judging from Tuesday night's contest, the return game here January 27th with the Iron Works should be another good exhibition.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Evening Classes
The enrollment for the evening classes offered by the Charlevoix school is rapidly growing. It is probable that these classes will meet every Monday and Tuesday nights during the first three weeks in February.

Specialist in Reading Visiting Grades

Miss Genevieve Rahja spent Monday of this week in the Charlevoix grade school. She is a specialist in reading who has been sent out by the Scott Foresman company. Miss Rahja gave demonstration lessons to the first, second, third and fourth grades and the normal. She also held a meeting with some of the grade teachers in the afternoon. The Scott Foresman company is the publishing house which puts out the New Elson reader used throughout the grades, also the Literature and Life series used in the junior and senior high schools.

Drama Club

Early in February the Drama club is planning to hold its second meeting, at which three one-act plays will be presented. An admission charge of only ten cents will be made, which it is hoped will complete the payment for books purchased the first of the year. Owing to the fact that the crowd was much too large at the first open meeting held in October, to be comfortably accommodated in the English room, these plays will probably be presented in the high school assembly room.

Junior High Athletics

In a rather one-sided basketball game, the junior high overcame the Harbor juniors by a score of 21-3. The superior all around play of the Charlevoix team brought the ball into scoring position innumerable times during the game. Sarno proved to be the spark in the offense, although the scoring was evenly divided among other members of the squad. Harbor comes to the local gym Friday, hoping to overcome the defeat.

Superintendent of Public Instruction to Speak Here Friday

It is expected that Webster H. Pearce, state superintendent of public instruction, will speak here Friday of this week.

Daisy Dutcher has been unable to resume her studies since the holidays.

Mr. Bush attended a meeting at Boyne City Saturday at which plans were made for the 5th District M.

E. A. next fall. The meetings will be held at Traverse City next Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Atkinson presented an especially enjoyable assembly program on musical appreciation.

The committee appointed by the senior class has been considering the question of a class memorial. It is rumored that this memorial may have some connection with the bi-centennial of Washington.

Classes

Class work is beginning to gain considerable prominence with semester finals in the offing. Now comes that time of the school year which proves whether one has managed to pursue his course of study with mental profit to himself or has merely been carried along by the force of circumstances.

An amendment to the constitution regarding the number of elections to be held each year is arousing quite a bit of discussion. The council is striving to present such a viewpoint that the better plan will prevail.

We have a new program for the first half of the year.

The beginners have learned the poem, "The Crooked Man."

For art we had our paints and made pictures of landscapes.

The eighth graders have tested different seeds for agriculture.

The beginners have learned to write their ABC's from memory.

Eldon Potter was absent several days last week on account of illness.

The people have a new bulletin board on which A and B papers are posted.

Friday was a busy day. We were very busy writing our monthly examinations.

We have received our back fair prize money and are planning to buy a new dictionary.

The seventh grade reading books have come. They will drop orthography and take up reading.

The eighth graders are studying the great political conflict between the north and the south, in history.

ROCK ELM

Norman Jensen went to Detroit last week for further treatment at the Harper hospital.

The Grange had an oyster supper in connection with their last regular meeting. The attendance was good.

One day last week, while sharpening a wedge, Elmer Jensen cut his hand quite badly, which laid him off the wood job.

Lawrence Jensen went to Mancelona Sunday for a brief visit with his sister, Mrs. John Hall.

The men who have been cutting wood for Mr. Porter finished work Saturday.

Mrs. Nelson called on Miss Jessie Metz Saturday evening.

Thursday night, while coming up the grade north of Porter's woods, the school bus became stuck in the mud. All the little boys got out and pushed, thereby reaching the top of the hill without mishap.

There were fifty-nine in the high school department of the Sunday school, the young men getting the banner, and an increase of three of those who observed the financial system of the church in the morning worship.

The long advertised "Calico Tea" will be served next week Wednesday at 6:30, in the dining room of the church, when the Missionary society will entertain their husbands and the other women of the church. The ladies will be in costume and the conditions of 1870 will be reproduced, the date when the Woman's Foreign Missionary society of the Methodist Episcopal church was organized, which is now the largest women's organization in the world.

EMMET COUNTY BANK

HOLDS STRONG PLACE

Indicative of the strong position of the Emmet County State bank were the figures carried in the bank statement published in The Harbor Springs Graphic last week showing at the beginning of the new year that there was a surplus of $100,000, undivided profits of $21,000 and cash reserve of more than $220,000. There were no bills payable and no discounts.

Y. M. C. A. WORKER COMING ON JAN. 25

Will Devote One Week Each Month to Job in This Region

News has come that the Michigan Y. M. C. A. association has assigned C. F. Angell, well known Y leader, to work in Northern Michigan one week each month, starting with this month. A letter from Ray Johns, assistant state secretary, to Watson Snyder, of the Northern Michigan District board, Petoskey, carried this information.

Mr. Angell will come into the district January 25th, for his first visit and will likely spend much of the time visiting the various Hi-Y clubs and other groups which have remained active in this line of work. He also will make a quick survey of the field to learn what work is desired of the field secretary during the remainder of the winter, spring and next summer.

He will be accompanied by Mr. Johns, who is familiar with the northern field.

Mr. Angell has been secretary for the Barry county Y. M. C. A. for the last eleven years and is considered one of the ablest men in this line of work in Michigan.

During one of his early visits it is expected he will be in conference with the Petoskey summer camp committee with a view of assisting in arranging the camp activities for the coming year. This camp has now grown into a Northern District Y. M. C. A.

RICHARDS GOT THE JOB BECAUSE HE HAD A TELEPHONE

When an application is made for work, employers are quite likely to ask for a telephone number. For they know that the easiest and quickest way to get into touch with additional help is by telephone.

Your home telephone is an important asset in business and social life. It places you within instant reach of business associates and friends. And, in emergencies, such as fire or sudden sickness, it will summon help immediately.

Of all the things you buy, probably none gives so much for so little as your telephone.

DISCLOSE WORK OF DIST. HEALTH UNIT

ANNUAL REPORT SHOWS ACTIVITIES DURING 1931.

Services Rendered in Charlevoix, Emmet, Otsego and Antrim Counties Included in Report.

During the year 1931 or the first year of the existence of the District Health Unit, a large amount of service was rendered to the community. This is the first time that a complete annual report of the services has been available. The report includes the total services of Dr. Carleton Dean, district health officer; Dr. Wm. C. Quinlan, dentist; Dr. Sara Schweinsberg, ophthalmologist; Dr. Hennessy, physician in charge of maternal classes; Ray Nobelung, sanitary inspector; Miss Condon, nurse in Charlevoix county; Miss McCoy, nurse in Antrim county; Miss Johnston, nurse in Otsego county, and Miss Binney, clerical assistant to Dr. Schweinsberg. The report also includes some of Miss Warner's work in Emmet county but not her total services for the year due to the fact that a different system of reporting was used for the first part of the year.

If one wishes to obtain the approximate amount of service rendered in any one particular county, if they will divide these figures by four they will get the approximate amount of work accomplished in any one of the counties.

We realize that this report is largely statistical but kindly ask those interested in the welfare of the public to read the report so that they may know the amount of work being accomplished in the territory.

POMONA GRANGE WILL MEET WITH BARNARD

Afternoon and Evening Program Planned for Coming Saturday

Charlevoix County Pomona Grange is planning a great meeting to be held Saturday afternoon and evening, January 30th, with Barnard Grange.

The afternoon session, to be called to order at 2:20, will be followed by a cooperative supper. The evening session opens at 8 o'clock.

Subject of the evening session will be "Taxation." Speakers will include Archie Murphy of East Jordan; Richard Paddock of Barnard; and Supervisor George Meggison of Marion township.

The "travelling gavel" is creating much enthusiasm among the various Granges. Already considerable new talent has been unearthed and the meetings are proving very interesting. South Arm Grange put on an interesting program at Wilson Grange last Saturday evening. In addition there were four members present from Bear Creek, 27 from Peninsula, 15 from Deer Lake, 36 from South Arm and 41 visitors.

Inasmuch as this is the first time conditions have permitted winter meetings, it is expected a large attendance will be present Saturday evening.

PETOSKEY WINTER CARNIVAL PLANNED

WILL BE STAGED AT WINTER PARK FEBRUARY 4, 5 AND 6

Splendid Program Arranged Covering Three Days—Favorable Weather Only Thing Needed

If promises of the weather man hold good, Petoskey will stage its Fifth Annual Mid-Winter Carnival, sponsored by the Petoskey Winter Sports Club, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, February 4, 5 and 6.

Festivities start Thursday noon when the reindeer dinner will be served at the Hotel Perry. The members of the Red Wing Ski Club of Rochester will be there and in the afternoon will give demonstrations of their ability to take the new ski jump at the winter park. A hockey game in the afternoon between the Canadian Soo and Petoskey will draw the crowds to the hockey rink. In the evening the night parade will be held with the starting point in the heart of the city. Marchers will go to the winter park where amid gorgeous surroundings, Miss Jeanne Edwards, will be crowned as queen. Elaborate fire works and clever figure skating by Detroit artists also will attract the attention of the crowds.

Friday's program will be filled with many things to see and do. The annual fox chase will be staged. This event, sponsored by the Northern Michigan Fox Hunter's association, will be run in the afternoon following a noon luncheon for the association members.

The climax of the day's entertainment will be the annual winter sports ball at the high school gymnasium at which Governor and Mrs. Wilbur M. Brucker will be the honored guests.

Saturday is regional championship day. Skating and skiing events will be run off, including the three-mile skating race by visiting speeders for the Governor's Trophy. Comedy skaters will entertain the crowds between racing contests. The Annual Masked Carnival will be held in the evening. Fireworks will again be displayed and the whole affair will resemble a colorful Mardi Gras on the ice. For those who like to witness hockey there will be a game at the hockey rink between Alpena and Petoskey.

LOCAL PYTHIANS ENTERTAINED VISITORS

Central Lake and East Jordan Lodges Came for Tri-Lodge Cribbage Meet

Seventy-five Pythians, including local members, were guests of Pine Lake lodge No. 122, Knights of Pythias, at the tri-lodge cribbage contest held at the K. of P. hall last Friday evening.

Following an excellent supper prepared and served by a committee of entertaining lodge members, tables were arranged for cards.

The high score for the evening went to the East Jordan delegation, second place to Central Lake and third to Charlevoix.

The next contest will be held during February at East Jordan.

KIPMEN WON FROM TRAVERSE TROJANS

SCORED BRILLIANT 28 TO 23 VICTORY FRIDAY NIGHT

Led Class B Rivals All the Way In Closely Played Contest—Juniors Win From Harbor Springs

Flashing the best form they have shown so far this season, Charlevoix high school cagers out-distanced the class B Traverse City Trojans to win a 28 to 23 verdict at the local gymnasium Friday evening.

The victory avenged Charlevoix's 26 to 10 defeat at Traverse earlier in the season, and gave the home team the advantage in games won over a three-year period.

On goals scored, the two teams were even with ten each, but Charlevoix's superiority from the foul line produced the 5-point margin by which they won. Records show the Kipmen netted eight out of thirteen free throws and Traverse only three out of nine.

Showing vastly improved attack, defense and scoring ability, the Kipmen led the struggle all the way. They had a lead at the quarter of 4 and 2, and at the half were out in front by a single point, 9 to 8.

Advancing their lead with a steady barrage of goals, Charlevoix scored 15 points to put the game on ice in the third session. Their advantage of 24 and 11 at the three-quarter mark was more than Traverse could overcome, despite the fact that the Trojans rang up six goals for 12 points to Charlevoix's goal and pair of free tosses in the final quarter.

Vic McSaubey's nine points were high for Charlevoix. Smith scored 7, Chew 7, and Norm Ace 5. Sloder led for Traverse with 8. Sebright had 7, Lighty 4 and Burns 2.

PETOSKEY VOTERS WILL DECIDE TIME QUESTION

Petoskey resident will be given an opportunity to decide whether or not they want Eastern Standard time, the legal state time, when the vote is taken at the annual spring election.

Petoskey, Charlevoix and Harbor Springs are now the only cities in Northern Michigan which have not already adopted legal time. In case Petoskey and Harbor Springs decide to make the change, it is probable Charlevoix will do likewise.

STORY OF BEAVER ISLANDERS GIVEN

HISTORIC SKETCH BY MILWAUKEE WRITER OF INTEREST

Predominance of Few Family Names Results in Many Interesting Irish Nick Names

Because of its great interest in relating the origin of the many Irish nick-names by which residents of Beaver Island are known, together with bits of historic disclosure, we are republishing for the benefit of our readers a feature story by J. Gordon Hecker recently carried in a Sunday edition of the Milwaukee Journal.

The story follows:
As the icy fingers of Old Man Winter reach out to encircle little Beaver Island, in the northernmost reaches of Lake Michigan, the 400 inhabitants of this once populous Irish colony gather about the fireplaces, or the old wood stove, and settle down to another few months of hibernating, receiving the casual stranger or the friend from down the road into the warm circle of the family group with that degree of hospitality and geniality that only their race can exhibit.

There aren't many visitors coming to the Beavers at this time of the year, for the 35,000-acre island lies nearly 35 miles off Charlevoix, Mich., and the only means of reaching it is by plane or over the ice—usually a treacherous journey.

The Marold II, skippered by that veteran mariner, L. L. Hill, who has known 76 winters and summers in the region, continues her regular trips to the harbor of St. James, at the northern end of Beaver Island, until early in December, so we go out with him on one of his last trips to visit at the Beavers, and get back to the mainland later as best we may. As first officer to Capt. Hill we meet young Andrew Gallagher, who is comparatively new at this seafaring business. Both receive us graciously in the pilot house and there tell us of the habits of Beaver islanders for many generations, of how the young men have always gone away to sea, and of how they have invariably given up this existence as they neared the twilight years of their lives and have then returned to the Beavers to farm, in a languorous, indifferent manner, a small plot of ground.

At the Beaver island dock we are greeted by that genial, rotund and smiling individual, Capt. Charles Connelly, who is a graduate of both the sailing and steam schools of maritime transportation and at whose home we are to stop for a few days.

We climb into the captain's decripit Ford and jolt and rumble our way through the village, past Nels LaFreniere's store, on beyond Joe Burke's house, which was a printing office in the old Mormon days and the headquarters whence issued the Northern Islander, the first publication in the north of Michigan, past the village hall and high school and out onto the King's highway. As we jostle along to the south, Capt. Connelly points off through the woods to the right and tells us that "the Brothers," a Catholic order, have their mission there.

We pass, also on the right, the home of "Sokidy," who is only that to the islanders but in reality is John Rickers, if you are to insist on de-

CLARENCE MEGGISON GIVEN APPOINTMENT

Will Succeed George W. Weaver As Charlevoix Postmaster

Official notification was received Friday by telephone and Saturday by letter from Cong. Frank P. Bohn at Washington, D. C., of the appointment of Clarence Meggison to the position of postmaster to succeed George W. Weaver, who has held the post for the past nine years.

Mr. Meggison's choice was made from a field of three receiving the highest standing in the examination conducted by the civil service commission after Cong. Bohn had failed to make an appointment in the conventional manner.

Mr. Meggison will be a popular postmaster. He has been manager of the Charlevoix Cooperative Association for the past nine years, and in that position has made a good record. He is a former service man, a member of Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion, one of its recognized leaders and formerly Post Commander. Mr. Meggison is at present head of the Legion's county welfare committee. In this position, his work in directing relief for needy families of the county during the present winter has been outstanding. We extend our congratulations to Mr. Meggison.

Miss Jane Edwards Wins Honor From Field of Five.

Miss Jane Edwards, member of the class of 1932 in Petoskey high school and a popular outdoor girl, has been elected winter queen to rule the winter carnival to be held in that city on February 4, 5 and 6. Miss Edwards was accorded the honor by victory in a close but friendly contest for votes of the winter club members. Three contestants were closely grouped throughout the contest.

COMMERCE GROUP HEARD FINE TALK

MANY PRESENT AT MEETING LAST THURSDAY NIGHT

Splendid Address by Webster H. Pearce, State Supt. Public Instruction, Highly Appreciated

A large attendance, including several visitors from Boyne City, Boyne Falls, East Jordan, were present at the January meeting of the Association of Commerce, held Thursday evening at the K. of P. hall.

Following an excellent banquet dinner served by the American Legion Auxiliary, the business session was opened with report of the secretary-treasurer. Several matters of new business were brought before the meeting, and Lee C. Allard, Legion commander, gave an encouraging report on progress being made towards bringing the 1933 state American Legion convention to this city.

Mayor W. P. Vought of Boyne City, and Herman C. Meyer of Boyne Falls, chairman of the county Republican committee, were called upon and responded with brief remarks.

The principal speaker of the meeting, Webster H. Pearce, state superintendent of public instruction, was introduced to the assembly by Supt. Gerald F. Bush of Charlevoix schools, formerly a member of Mr. Pearce's department at Lansing.

It is seldom that Charlevoix business men have the opportunity to hear a speaker of Mr. Pearce's qualifications and ability, and those present Thursday evening expressed complete satisfaction over the fact that they were fortunate enough to be present.

Mr. Pearce used at his topic, "Frozen Assets." In a talk tinged with occasional and timely humor, he drove straight from the shoulder in his explanation of causes for present business depression, and his ideas along the lines of correction. He paid a tribute to Michigan bankers for their courage in the present crisis. He lauded the state's efficient school system and urged its unfaltering continuance. He stressed the need for truer fellowship and adherence in the fundamentals of religion as a move toward betterment of physical and social conditions. He called attention to the present unbalanced taxation problems and gave his own opinions concerning how they should be changed.

On a whole, Mr. Pearce's talk carried a lot of food for thought and undoubtedly influenced his audience to no small extent.

The February meeting of the Association was announced for the 25th, with George R. Hogarth, director of the state department of conservation, as the speaker.

STRADDLING THE FENCE

After a year of dilly-dallying, political wire-pulling and "horse trading," Charlevoix is to have a new postmaster.

Through failure of Cong. Frank P. Bohn to make the appointment in the conventional manner, the "buck" was passed on to the civil service commission. Last week the appointment was made from a field of three having the highest standing in examination held to decide the issue.

While we have no condemnation of Cong. Bohn's final choice, we do not approve of his methods. His attitude on the matter has a parallel in his attitude on the wet and dry question — "Straddle the Fence." Fair-minded citizens who think for themselves have no time for such methods.

WOOD PILE FOR TRANSIENTS.

Gaylord has a city wood pile and all transients who visit the town looking for a place to eat or a place to "stop" are invited to go to the city wood pile and split wood for their keep. Editor McDonald of the Gaylord Herald Times became somewhat disgusted after he had advised one of those transients who struck him for some money to get something to eat, to go to the city wood pile where he would be well provided. The fellow was insulted and emphatically said he wouldn't do it, and that caused the editor to investigate how that wood splitting was coming along and he discovered that although the wood pile is several weeks old not a stick of wood has been split by those transient beggars. Still folks accept their sopping slush and dole out food for them.

PROTECTING OUR INTERESTS

When the State Association of Supervisors meets at Lansing for a three-day session beginning January 26, matters of utmost importance to all northern counties will be discussed.

One of the most weighty matters which will come up for discussion will be the Covert Road bonds. A half dozen counties in the state are anxious to have the state highway department take over the more than $40,000,000 in bonds now held against them. This would mean that counties such as Emmet, which have no Covert bonds, would be forced to help counties like Wayne, Oakland, Monroe and McConib pay for their county roads.

Supervisors of Northern Michigan, including Charlevoix county, must be at this meeting, if this part of the state is to protect its own interests. Supervisors from the southern counties, who are vitally interested in these matters, especially the Covert road bonds, will be at the meeting. Northern Michigan should be well represented at the conference.

ANNOUNCE SPEAKERS FOR FARMERS WEEK

List Includes Nearly 200 Prominent Men and Women

The list of speakers for the general and sectional meetings at Farmers Week to be held at Michigan State college, February 1-5, includes nearly 200 men and women prominent in all fields related to agriculture and home economics.

Governor Wilber M. Brucker; L. J. Taber, Columbus, Ohio, Master of the National Grange; Dr. C. E. Ladd, Ithaca, New York, director of extension work; C. S. Brown, Washington, D. C., representative of the Federal Farm Board; Duncan Marshall, Toronto, former Minister of Agriculture in Canada; H. Ullsberger, Benton Harbor, manager Great Lakes Fruit Growers, Inc.; and John L. Lovett, Detroit, secretary, Michigan Manufacturers Assn., will be speakers on the general programs held in the afternoons and evenings.

Complete sectional programs with several speakers for each day's sessions have been arranged by many of the college departments. These meetings are held from 9:00 a. m. to 2:00 p. m. and are adjourned to permit everyone to attend the general meetings. Many of the sectional programs bring successful men or women direct from their farm homes to tell their methods of meeting present day conditions of producing crops and livestock.

Thirty state-wide organizations which have been leaders in better farming and living practices hold annual meetings during the week and most of them elect officers for next year.

Two programs in which entertainments will divide time with able speakers are scheduled for Wednesday and Thursday nights.

Charlevoix — Morning worship, 10:45; church school, 12:00; junior church, 5:30; young people's forum, 7:00; mid-week service Thursday, 7:00.

Ironton — Morning worship, 10:30; church school, 11:30; young people's service, 4:30. Ironton services on eastern standard time.

The subject for discussion next Sunday morning is the Sixth Commandment, "Thou Shalt Not Kill."

"Many agree with Henry Sloan Coffin in feeling that there is an element of humor in speaking on this commandment to the average congregation. Few murders grace the pews of the average church. We are prone today to look upon murder as comparatively rare and regard it with horror. It would be a hard thing for the average murder to be accepted in any church upon confession of faith, but there are many churches today in Africa and elsewhere where the very pillars of the organization are reformed murderers.

"The commandment is still needed today. Violation of it seems to be on the increase. Its need is seen in that it forbids not only the act but the tendencies that lead to the act; tendencies that need restraint." John Alexander Hayes.

When one faces this commandment he cannot sidestep three great questions of today: reverence for human life, capital punishment and war. Have you opinions? Are they based upon facts or just feelings?

The junior church will be led by Robert Bergman and the lesson is "Stories That Jesus Told."

U. S. 31 RE-ROUTING BIDS OPENED TODAY

BOWMAN, REMUS, GOLDBERG, FLINT, LOW BIDDERS

Work on Project Now Awaits Qualifying Bidders and Likely Will Be Started Soon

Bids for the necessary work of re-routing U. S. 31 entering Charlevoix from the south were opened at the state highway department office in Cadillac Wednesday forenoon.

M. W. Bowman of Remus, and Louis Goldberg of Flint, were low bidders, with figures of $41,205.02 and $43,616.00, respectively.

The deposit checks of all of a dozen or more bidders were returned with the exception of the two above mentioned. A period of 15 days is now required for qualification of the low bidders. It was stated, however, that this formality would be completed in much less time than the required limit, and, in such case, the actual work will probably be started within a short time if weather conditions permit.

The bids covered grading and shaping the road, constructing the necessary drainage structures and surfacing to a width of twenty and forty feet with concrete pavement. The highway will be 20-foot concrete from what is known as the "Four Corners" to the intersection of Carpenter avenue. From that point to the foot of South Bridge street hill at the intersection of Belvedere avenue, the highway will be 40-foot concrete. A complete storm drainage system will be installed from Carpenter avenue to Antrim street.

In the state highway department's advertising for bids, the following paragraph quoted shows the attitude being shown on emergency projects under which this job is classified:

"One of the primary objects of placing this project under construction at this time is to assist in the relief of unemployment in the locality in which this project is located. Bidders must familiarize themselves with the requirements set forth in the proposal governing the employment of labor and must bid with the understanding that the full cooperation of the successful bidder will be expected."

From the above paragraph the opinion may be drawn that a certain portion of the labor used on the project must be local.

NEW FERRY SCHEDULE AT STRAITS OF MACKINAW

According to information from the state highway department, ferry service across the straits will be handled by the Mackinaw Transportation on the following schedule, until April 10. Regular crossings are to be made as follows: Leave Mackinaw City 7 a. m., 12 noon and 5 p. m. Leave St. Ignace 9 a. m., 2 p. m., and 7 p. m. The following additional trips will be made on irregular schedule, depending on the volume of freight traffic: Leave Mackinaw City 9:30 p. m. and 2 a. m.; Leave St. Ignace 11 p. m. and 3 a. m. It is stressed that these later trips are irregular and unscheduled. All trips are further subject to unusual ice conditions. — Traverse City Record-Eagle.

* METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH *

January 31—"The One Sin Not Under the Atonement."

At Mission — "Reserved Seat in Hell."

February 7—"Can We Have Our Diseases Healed, Or, Where Will Heaven Be?"

Note dates carefully. Town folks invited to the Mission. In the Mission contest in the League, group No. 2 made the highest number of points, 51, last Sunday, and is now ahead on the totals. There were 55 in the high school department of the Sunday school and 34 used the new financial system in the church worship. The Sunday school secretary reported the largest regular attendance since March 30, 1927. There were more boys than girls in the intermediate and adult departments, which seems unusual.

The Club meets this week Thursday with Mrs. Nola Shapton, and next week Monday, February 1st, at 7:30, will be a very important official meeting. The official board of the church, and the Sunday school board, with annual election of officers. Prompt!

The older young men of the church have invited the pastor to teach a class for them. This is being taken into consideration.

We still want to know who has church envelope number 31. Please report to pastor or Mrs. Simmons.

The CHARLEVOIX COURIER

tails. It does seem that all on the island must have nicknames, so Sockidy's brother isn't simply William, the blacksmith, or Bill, but is "Willie-So-Quick," simply because when asked to perform some task he has always said, "Yes, I will do it just so quick." But they have another brother, George, who never acquired any other name.

Farther down the King's highway we cross the Trill road and also the Darky Town road, on which are the neatest and best kept farms on the island. As we reach the Slop Town road we turn off to the right and presently stop before the home that is Capt. Connelly's and where he lives with Mrs. Connelly and three of their five children, the others preferring the faster tempo of Milwaukee life to the leisurely existence of the Beavers.

When we express surprise at the names of some of the roads Capt. Connelly tells us that there is also the Nomad road, the old Railroad line, the Illack Hills road and the Shabby Town road, to mention a few of the more important. For some reason or other, it occurs to us to ask if all of the islanders are good swimmers, and our host replies that only three of the 35 living on the Slop Town road can swim a stroke, despite the fact all of the men folks have put in time at sea.

We learn that Beaver Island was first visited by a white man in 1668 when Father Marquette, great explorer and missionary among the Indian tribes, landed at the harbor and called it St. James. It was in 1848 that King Straag, more properly designated as Atty. James J. Straag, Mormon leader, made his effort at colonization. Within a few years, despite the hardships of the first settlers, King Straag had a flock of 400 with him and he had them build houses through the length and breadth of the island so that the colonizing endeavor might be thorough. Many of these first settlers, sturdy built of hand hewn timbers, still stand and some are now suffering as residences or barns.

Straag, who ruled by virtue of might and the affection of the bulk of his followers, sought to set up a separate kingdom and termed himself king of his stronghold. He served in the Michigan legislature as a representative of some of the northern counties, but as his "kingdom" grew so did his importance, in his own estimation, and his dealings with his fellow settlers became those of an autocrat with serfs.

Colonists who allowed cattle to roam on the public highways were fined so much a head for each of the wandering herds. Similar infractions of the multitude of laws the king arbitrarily laid down for his subjects were punished by fines, until the whipping post came into being. That supplemented, rather than replaced, the system of fines.

As the rule of the king became more obnoxious to his Mormon followers, so did it to the Scotch and Irish fishermen who worked that region of the lake from the Michigan shores. Charges that false beacons were erected by the Mormons so fishermen came to grief on rocks and in shoal water where their vessels were plundered attained wide circulation and fomented the hatred that the other settlers of the region were commencing to show for the Mormons.

It was on June 20, 1856, that the Irish and Scotch fishermen made a concerted raid on the Beavers, coming across the 20-mile stretch of open water in their smacks, and routed the Mormons in a pitched battle. "King" Straag, who must have realized his dreams of an absolute monarchy were shattered, was shot down by one of his own subjects, Thomas Bedford, at a point between La Freniere's store and Capt. Ronald McCann's dock, where the Marold II now docks. Bedford, with his recollections of miserable sessions at the whipping post, had concealed his hatred for the Mormon leader and had abided his time for just such an opportunity. Straag, badly wounded, died a day or two later at Mackinac, Mich., and is buried at Volree, Wis.

With the routing of the religious colonists, many of whom went into Illinois, some to Salt Lake, Utah, while others were permitted to remain on the island, the character of the majority of the inhabitants altered, for the Irish looked upon the broad, rolling green expanses of the island as a miniature model of their own native land and elected to settle there themselves.

"The Emerald Isle of Lake Michigan" is the way the picturesque spot came to be known. Lumbering and fishing were the leading industries and from 1900 to 1905, in the heyday of the lumbering trade, the island had a population of 2,000 and a railroad line running from the harbor to the head, off to the southwest, to haul logs in to the mills. As the forests became more and more nearly denuded year after year, this industry died out, the railroad was abandoned, the tracks were ripped up and a roadway took its place, until now the only lumbering is carried on near the southwest section of the island at Iron Ore bay, a half mile north of the lighthouse where Dominic and "Pidgie" Gallagher, parents of Andrew, or "Clink," of the Marold II, keep house.

Dominic, who has always been known as "The Long One," to differentiate him from his brothers, Owen—"The Black Fellow," who is now captain of the ferry Grand Rapids—and Peter—"The White Fellow," living in Ludington now—has been keeper of the 82-year-old light for 30 years. He is 64. His wife is known to the islanders universally as "Pidgie," a name she acquired as a child when, chased by a pigeon, she ran to her mother's outstretched arms crying "pidgie, pidgie." Dominic, receiving us most cordially as we call on him at about lunch time, shows us through the light station and, with a wholly pardonable degree of pride, points out the shining, highly polished light that was brought over from France many, many years ago, and cost $15,000 then.

The lighthouse occupies a beautiful promontory, giving a splendid view of all vessels heading up or down the lakes. Dominic and Pidgie insist that you remain for lunch, and Pidgie sets out that sort of meal that makes you well satisfied that you accepted. During the meal Dominic reluctantly tells you of his trip to Chicago, an account Capt. Charles H. Hubbard, chief of the twelfth lighthouse district and Dominic's boss, had told you to be sure and get him to recount. There was too much noise and hustle, too, so Dominic counted each click of the train's wheels while he hurried him north toward the Beavers, ever vowing that he wouldn't set foot off the island another time. And he hasn't.

We hurried along here so fast to tell about Dominic and Pidgie that we quite forgot to mention anything about the trip to the head of the island, so we better point out that it was along a narrow road, as it might be imagined a deserted railroad line would be, with branches of the trees almost meeting overhead.

As we bump along north on the railroad line, in that faithful little Ford, we stop in to see Pat Bonaars, who lives near the intersection of the Slop Town road. It's getting pretty late and Pat has all of his chores done, so he consents to play a few sprightly numbers on his fiddle. Some have to do with Ireland, while others are of the sea, and Pat offers, too, the words that go with them. Hearing him, we think he might have stood a fine chance in the oldtime fiddlers' contest sponsored by Henry Ford a few years ago, and all of the islanders claim it would have been a walkaway for Pat. From Pat we learn that his substantial house is made of logs hewn by the Mormons and that one of the doors of his living room was the front door of old King Straag's home.

While we are so close Capt. Connelly insists that we trudge 50 yards through a field to the tomb of Fedora Protnar, who was a Russian count, a doctor and one of the best friends the good folk of the island ever had. He had been the editor of a newspaper in Rock Island, Ill., but came to the Beavers in 1892 to minister, for the remainder of his life, to the Irish he loved so much.

Never accepting remuneration for his services, he also was never too busy to answer any call. When former Governor Osborn, of Michigan, called on him one day, the Bonaars and Capt. Connelly tell us, he kept that estimable gentleman waiting for nearly an hour while he worked in his garden—and then dropped that task to treat an injured neighbor. He accepted only enough in fees to pay for his medicines, of which he got a large new shipment each year.

Diplomacy may be all right, but somehow or other I have never been able to draw a line between it and Decelt.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Semester Examinations
The time is drawing near when either the reward for last semester's labors will be reaped or the penalty for last semester's follies be pronounced. In other words, on Thursday and Friday of this week we will write our mid-year examinations.

The schedule will be as follows:
Thursday, January 28: 8:45 to 10:15 English 1, 2, 3 and 4; 10:15 to 11:45 French 1 and 2, Latin 1 and 2; 1:00 to 2:30 Algebra and Geometry; 2:30 to 4:00 Modern History, Ancient History, United States History, Civics and Economics.
Friday, January 29: 8:45 to 10:15 Bookkeeping, Home Economics and Shop; 10:15 to 11:45 Physics, Chemistry, General Science and Biology; 1:00 to 2:00 Shorthand.

Tournament
The district basketball tournament will be held in Charlevoix this year on the 3rd, 4th and 5th of March.

The towns taking part in the tournament will probably be Boyce City, Harbor Springs, East Jordan, Mancelona and Charlevoix in class C, and in class D Pellston, Boyne Falls, Alton, Central Lake, Bellaire, Mackinac City and Ellsworth.

There will be no consolation tournament this year.

Drama Club
The one-act plays which will be presented in the high school assembly room about the middle of February are well under way. Also plans are being perfected for a big surprise announcement soon. The executive committee for the big production of the year have let this much be known: that it is something no one can afford to miss, that the settings will be most quaint and unique, that the play itself is a mixture of my whimsicality and charming drama, that prices will be only 25 and 35 cents.

Save five cents a week for seven weeks and your ticket will be assured. Begin immediately!

Enjoyable Speech
On Friday morning the high school and junior high had the pleasure of hearing Webster H. Pearce, Supt. of Public Instruction.

Mr. Pearce used as his theme for his address, the sayings of four of our great presidents, Roosevelt, Washington, Lincoln, and Wilson. One thing that he quoted from Roosevelt would make an excellent motto for us all to adopt and that was: "Don't fail, play fair and hit the line hard." He also left us with a piece of excellent advice: "Remember that your heads are for other uses than a knot to keep you from unraveling."

Junior High—7th Grade

The seventh grade sewing class is getting along nicely with aprons, headbands and holders which will later be worn in cooking class.

The geography class has been taking an interesting study of the Balkan countries. They find these countries unusually interesting with their famous ruins, cathedrals and art galleries.

8th Grade

The girls in Miss Button's cooking class have recently completed their first breakfast menu and are starting to prepare the next.

9th Grade

The ninth grade spent an evening of pleasure in the gym Saturday evening. Games directed by Miss Dasef brought unusual talent into play. Refreshments of fruit punch and sandwiches served in the junior high building topped off a fine evening in a very desirable manner. The presence to the sponsors, Miss Dasef and Miss Atkinson, Mr. Rider and Mr. Bingham, was much appreciated by members of the grade acting as host for the occasion.

Athletics—Boys

The local junior high team now has three victories to its credit, having won again from Harbor Springs, 12 to 6.

Assembly

In the first of a series of assembly programs commemorating the birth of George Washington, a number of junior high students worked together to produce an interesting group of talks based on the life of the "Father of His Country."

Vivian Fike, Jean Graves, Robert Emrey, and Billy Smith contributed to the first part of the program. During the last ten minutes Lila McMillan of the senior high presented an account based on her trip to Washington, D. C.

Athletics—Girls

Last Friday night the 8th A volleyball team, captained by Dorothy Smith, played Esther Lou Fochtman's 7th A team and lost, 4 to 5. Captain Fochtman said: "They could have done better though they did not win."

This Friday Marie Novak's 9th B team played Ernestine Chew's 8th B. The score was 55 to 15 in favor of the freshmen, who will next play the 7th B team to determine the junior high championship.

Music

The seventh, eighth and ninth grades are preparing with much interest the cantata, "The Childhood of Hiawatha." The words are by Henry W. Longfellow and the music by Ira B. Wilson.

Honor Roll for January

B or Better—7th grade: Jean Campbell, Esther L. Fochtman, Anna Higman, Robert Wood. Eighth grade: Adaline Bellinger, Gloria Dickie, Ernestine Nickerson. Ninth grade: Robert Emery, Esther O'Neil, Jack Withers.

MANY WOMEN ENTER HOME STUDY GROUPS

Army of Housewives Enroll in Campaign for Better Methods

Annual reports of the Michigan State College home economics extension division for 1930-31 show an increase over 1929-30 of 31,768 in the number of women reached through project work, according to Miss Edna V. Smith, state leader of home demonstration agents. The total in the first period was 28,250, while during the past year it mounted to 60,018.

In 1929-30, 866 groups began, as compared with 1018 in 1930-31, an increase of 152. Only 863 groups completed projects in 1929-30, but 1002 groups finished the extension courses give in 1930-31. There have been 224 more leaders of groups in the past year than in 1929-30.

The number of new members two years ago was 11,616, with 10,138 of that number completing; while, according to the recent report, the number of members enrolled in projects for the first time was 14,904, with 12,527 completing, an increase of over 2,000.

An increase of 28,254 in the number helped, in addition to the women in the organized groups, has been recorded; the number for 1929-30 was 14,921 and for 1930-31 it was 43,175.

I had finished reading the evening paper, throw it aside, and deep in thought was looking down at my feet, when my wife asked, "Are your feet bothering you again?" I answered, "No, I was just wondering how in the world they ever brought me back from where they have taken me."

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go, prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acid.

COUNTY NORMAL

Isn't it almost time for another normal party?

The normal class boasts of an enviable attendance record the first month of the second quarter.

Through the generosity of Mr. Coulter there is a good wall map of Michigan in the room.

Under Miss Manley's guidance the class is observing Michigan day. The history class is working out extensive projects on Michigan history, which, it is hoped, may later serve as a text, or at least a guide, in the study of our state. Many interesting incidents are included, from the first settlement in the state, to a bird's-eye view of the present automobile industry.

Much interest has been aroused in the various term projects which, judging from rumors, range all the way from "The Evolution of Man" to "Scenic Michigan."

This week promises to be a very interesting one in the psychology class. Miss DeMaio will tell you how to dress appropriately—whether red haired, pug-nosed or excessively corpulent. Mr. Moran will sketch briefly the general structure of foreign music, racial and national.

Anyone contemplating taking a trip around the world may profitably interview some of the normal geographers who span oceans more speedily than did Lindbergh, take you through tunnels of whose existence you never knew, and construct bridges while you wait. Interviews may be arranged through the normal faculty.

The class is looking forward to clear, starlight nights, so they may enjoy a lesson or two in astronomy.

Training Room News

The fourth grade spelling class had an all 100 member last week, Gene Mitchell.

The sixth grade has lost one of its members for a while. Neil Fike is in the hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

Billy Miles is back again none the worse for his cold.

AT THE MOVIES

Most Powerful of All Editorials Presented by Talking Pictures

"Five Star Final." The First National melodrama of newspaper malpractice, starring Edward G. Robinson, and coming to the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday next, is an example of the truth of a statement made recently by a prominent California justice in an address before the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences.

"The strongest editorials in the country are not in the newspapers," said the speaker "but in talking pictures." He pointed out that the fierce political warfare of a generation ago, when the author of a scurrilous editorial was apt to be horsewhipped or tarred and feathered, has given way to an attitude in which the fire and brimstone on the editorial page, is not given nearly the attention that is accorded to the sporting section.

"Five Star Final" is probably the most convincing of all pictures which present man's inhumanity to man, in a way to touch man's humanity.

It deals with a type of newspaper which stops at nothing to boost circulation.

Those who support Mr. Robinson are Marian Marsh, H. B. Warner, Anthony Bushell, George E. Stone, Frances Starr, Ona Munson, Boris Karloff, Robert Elliott, Alvin MacMahon, Purnell Pratt, David Torrence, Oscar Apfel, Gladys Lloyd, Evelyn Hall and Harold Walbridge.

Lonis Weitzkorn is the author. Mervyn LeRoy directed.

How One Woman
Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luadeke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight. I lost 10 pounds in one week and can't say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unwanted fat and one bottle lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen. Satisfactions are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

BROTHERS ADMIT CRIME IN NORTH

Two Taken at Eastport Confess to Breaking and Entering Jobs.

Theft of merchandise totalling more than $2,000 has been cleared up with confessions by Walter Teboe, 25, and Herbert Teboe, 22, brothers, of a long list of breaking and entering cases. They were arrested at Eastport first of last week by Troopers Robert Cook and Mervyn Mitchell.

Among the crimes the Teboe brothers admitted was the looting of the summer home of Mrs. Iva E. Miller of Detroit, six miles from Mancelona, where they took rugs, all the furniture, pictures, bedding, table linen and jewelry. When they left the house was virtually emptied. This was on December 15.

Earlier in December they had broken into the store of Frank Zarnba at Elmira, where they stole 600 lbs. of sugar, 10 sacks of pancake flour, a box of hand soap, case of catsup, 130 pounds of lard, 50 pounds of onions and several pairs of overalls.

At Big Fish Inn in Ellsworth they stole the lock in two and stole three outdoor motors. Near East Jordan they stole a Ford truck and a barrel of oil. From Joe Kemp, near Ironton, they stole a cow and sold it.

In an abandoned shack near Elmira the troopers found all of the furniture and many of the groceries. They recovered also the truck and oil. The two men are now in jail at Gaylord.

GAS TAX CHECKS GO TO COUNTIES

Charlevoix County's Share of Distribution is $6,928.

Checks totalling $1,992,417, representing a portion of the sum the state still owes the counties as their share of 1931 weight and gasoline tax collections were placed in the mail last Thursday by Martin DeGlopper, business manager of the state highway department.

These vouchers bring the total which the state has turned over to the counties for 1931 to $7,128,417 and leaves about $3,000,000 still owing. Of this about two million dollars will be mailed between February 1 and 15 and the remainder by March 1.

Charlevoix county received $6,928.

MASONS STRENGTHEN CRIBBAGE ADVANTAGE

Added 126 Points for Total Lead of 250 Monday Night

Masons and Odd Fellows met at the I. O. O. F. hall Monday evening for the third of their winter series of cribbage contests.

Honors of the evening went to the Masons, with play marked with the same closeness that has characterized each meeting of the series so far. Led by Amos Webster, who scored 956 points, the Masons accumulated a total of 19,700 points to the Odd Fellows' 19,574 for an advantage of 126. This figure, added to their previous lead, puts the Masons out in front by a margin of 250 points. Allison Bugbee was high for the Odd Fellows with 950, five points behind the leader.

The next session will be held Monday evening, February 1, at the Masonic temple.

TEMPERANCE UNION'S MEDAL CONTESTS SET

Five Are Scheduled to be Held During Month of February

The medal contest director of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union has announced a series of silver medal contests for the month of February.

The first will be held February 7, with three contests at as many local churches. The program for that date brings the contests at the Congregational Sunday school at noon; the Baptist church at 6:30 p. m.; and the Church of God at the same hour.

On February 10th, a silver medal contest will be held at the P. T. A. meeting at 8 p. m., and on February 14th, the Methodist Sunday school at noon.

KIPMEN PLAY MANCE-LONA HERE THIS WEEK

Friday Night Contest Important One on Conference Schedule

Charlevoix high school losers will appear at the local gym Friday night in their third home game. With Mancelona, one of the leaders in the Tip of Michigan class C conference, as their opponent, the contest takes on added significance.

Charlevoix's performance in defeating Traverse City here last Friday evening, has raised the morale of the team to no small extent, while at the same time justifying the expectation of local fans that the team would strike its stride as the season lengthened. The Kipmen were in the best form they have shown this year in defeating Traverse and, playing equally good ball in future games, appears a strong contender for class C honors.

Mancelona has suffered one defeat in conference competition, dropping a close overtime decision to East Jordan, the same team which spoiled Boyne City's unblemished conference record Friday night.

We are asked to call attention to action of some few younger fans at the Traverse game, Hiasing, a breach of good sportsmanship, which has not been apparent here for many years, was quite prevalent. It will not be tolerated by school athletic officials. Also, razzing the referee is taboo. The captain of the team has the privilege of making whatever protest he may deem necessary.

FISH VILLAGE ON RAFT VERY UNCOMMON SIGHT

Local Anglers Find Way to Overcome Absence of Ice.

The ingenuity of a large number of local sportsmen has overcome the adversities caused by most unusual winter weather conditions.

Faced with a total absence of ice in Round Lake, a most uncommon condition for this time of year, only the more hardy anglers cared to brave the chill winds to fish from an open boat. Within the past week the problem was solved by Harry Gregory and Paul Heise. These two men placed their fishing huts upon a raft anchored out in the lake. They travel back and forth from shore in a row boat and fish in comfort.

Others soon adopted the plan, and now one sees the most unusual sight of a winter fishing village on rafts instead of ice.

SCHEDULE NIGHT STUDY ARRANGED

Subject: Wood Working and Wood Finishing; instructor, Walter Weisenburger; class room, manual arts room, grade building.

While not everyone will be able to secure both his first and second choices, everyone will, however, be able to secure two of the subjects in which they indicated an interest. The schedule is so arranged as to permit many of those who attend, to enter a class from 7:30 to 8:30, and another class in which they are interested from 8:30 to 9:30.

People may, of course, attend classes for which they have not enrolled, or they may substitute some other subject that is being offered for one in which they enrolled. The purpose is to interest as many people as possible in the subjects being given in the night classes.

STATE FAVORS PLAN TO HOLD DISTRICT FAIRS

At a meeting of the Michigan County Fair Secretaries' Association in Detroit last week, A. C. Carton, secretary of the state agricultural department, suggested that all county fairs be eliminated and that from 15 to 20 district fairs be held in their place. A plan to join Emmet, Charlevoix, Otsego, Cheboygan, and perhaps Antrim, Presque Isle and Montmorency counties with Emmet or Grand Traverse counties has been suggested.

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 26): "Divine Truth, Lift, and Love gave Jesus authority over sin, sickness, and death. His mission was to reveal the Science of celestial being, and prove what God is and what He does for man."

CHARLEVOIX MEETS BOYNE HERE FRIDAY

Contest Vital One for Both Teams—Three Games on Program

Charlevoix and Boyne City high school basketball teams meet at the local gymnasium Friday night in the most severe test of the season for both squads.

As the result of games last Friday night, the two schools are tied for second position in the Tip of Michigan class C conference standing with two victories and one defeat each. Despite Boyne's unexpected defeat by East Jordan on Jordan's court two weeks ago, the Brotherton-coached aggregation is considered the strongest for Charlevoix has to meet in their remaining conference games. They showed their strength last Friday night by smothering Harbor Springs under a top-sided score, and local fans may be assured it will be a real contest when they clash with Charlevoix.

The program for Friday night calls for three games. The first contest, between Charlevoix and Boyne City junior high teams, will be at 6 o'clock. Boyne and Charlevoix reserves meet in the semi-final.

Stewart Coleman, athletic manager, wishes us to announce that holders of season tickets may use the west entrance to the gymnasium to avoid congestion. A large crowd is expected, and those desiring seats should come early.

TOWNSHIP OFFICERS ADMIT FUND MISUSE

Wilson Justice and Highway Commissioner Confess Irregularities

Charles Schrader and Frank Schultz, the former justice of the peace, and the latter highway commissioner of Wilson township, were brought before Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis, Tuesday afternoon, for an investigation into their handling of township highway funds.

Both confessed before the prosecutor and also before Supervisor Charles Reidel and Treasurer Leroy Hardy of Wilson township, to having drawn orders to John Martin, forged Martin's name and cashed the orders themselves, also to giving an order to a workman for an amount in excess of what he was entitled to.

The amount now involved is small, probably about $30, and no charges have been made pending an audit of the township books. Both men were requested to resign from office at once. Schultz has been township highway commissioner four years.

ILLEGAL NETTERS ARE APPREHENDED

CAUGHT FRIDAY MORNING LIFTING NET IN ROUND LAKE

Two of Trio Plead Not Guilty and Demand Trial, Set for Friday—Third Arraigned Today

Consternation of local sportsmen has been aroused by the discovery last Thursday afternoon of a small mesh chub net set in Round lake harbor.

Sam Halverson hooked the net while fishing perch with a hand line. He told of his find to several on the street, and this information in turn was given to the Charlevoix Sportsmen's Club, whose members, cooperating with Game Warden Henry Fike, patrolled the lake that night in anticipation of the violators lifting the net.

Their efforts were rewarded at about 4 o'clock Friday morning when lifting operations were started from a fish tug launched quietly from a dock on the south shore of the lake, where previous investigation had revealed the lead line of the net was tied.

The operation was rudely interrupted when a search light was thrown upon the boat from the gas station on Hamilton's dock. Taken by complete surprise, the violators started the motor of their boat and rushed into Lake Michigan. They did not escape, however, before the three occupants of the craft were recognized as Archie Cross, Jake White and Connell Gatliff by guards stationed near the channel outlet in a rowboat and others stationed on the Lake Michigan pier.

White and Gatliff were arrested upon their return to this city Tuesday. According to their story, the trio went to Manitou island after leaving here Friday morning. They weathered out the week end storm in the lee of the island and then went to Ludington. Cross was arrested there Tuesday for local officers, but was allowed to lift nets set in Lake Michigan before making his appearance here Wednesday. His hearing will be held this afternoon.

White and Gatliff entered pleas of not guilty at a hearing before Justice Robert Withers, Tuesday afternoon. They demanded trial, which has been set for Friday. Bond set at $500, has not been furnished.

Nearly four hundred pounds of fish were taken from the net, including perch, a few herring, small pike, etc., more than many hand line fishermen would take all winter.

EDITORIAL

THE CANDIDATES—THEIR OBLIGATIONS

In another column in this issue we have given our readers the line-up of aspirants for city office as revealed by the filing of petitions with the city clerk.

Without any doubt, the most important decision before voters at the primary election on Monday, March 7th, is that of choosing a mayor to guide the policies of Charlevoix for the ensuing year.

Naturally there will be a number of issues before the people, advocated by one side or the other. Manifestly it is the duty of a newspaper to give its readers the facts and possibly furnish information as to these issues. These facts can only be learned by listening to what we hear from discussions here and there about the town. It is the policy of this newspaper to give the true facts, avoiding or discarding mere rumors or unfounded claims. The voters can then decide for themselves without comment from us, except as we exercise our right to speak and vote as any other citizen.

One issue we hear frequently discussed among business men and voters generally is the system of city government now in vogue. It seems that about six years ago the council then in office decided to try out a modified city manager plan, whereby the mayor was given additional powers. By resolution doubtless intended for one year only, they voted the mayor a salary of $750 a year.

Now comes the question whether this plan is good or bad. We heard one group of men claim with considerable positiveness that it resulted in giving the mayor too much power and making the council nothing more than a figure head or rubber stamp. In other words a one-man government, subject to the mayor's personal whims, personal favoritisms and personal dislikes.

Another group apparently supporting the present mayor, assert that this is a good thing. We heard still another group complain that if any citizen has a matter to present to the city, he was compelled to see the mayor first, or he was "out of luck."

It is asserted that many matters have been handled by the mayor to the exclusion of the council; that he has gone ahead with many projects, obligated the city and the council without formal action by the council. In those cases there was nothing left for the council to do but confirm his action. It is also claimed that the provisions of the city charter, requiring sealed bids, approval of plans and surveys and appropriations made in advance and other formal proceedings have been ignored. Several business men say that this has caused the taxpayers unnecessary expense.

One business man taxpayer put the matter this way. He said all this was a natural result of the system. That unlimited powers in one man, continued over a period of several years, would develop into sort of a dictatorship and a subversive council. He pointed out the water main project in the upper channel, the appointment of certain officers, the making of certain local improvements, fixing of electric light and water rates, as examples.

Doubtless there will be other issues before election time which should be thoroughly examined by the voters. An uninformed voter is a dangerous proposition.

We state again, just as emphatically as we know how, that this newspaper is not advancing its own personal opinion. The candidate in office is in duty bound to use suitable means of informing the voters, and if his policies are attacked, to frankly make his defense. It is likewise the duty of the man who challenges the policies of the incumbent and becomes a candidate for the office, to come out in a straightforward manner and state his position. This gives us platforms, something that will eliminate the personal side of a campaign. One means available are the columns of the newspaper. The columns of the Courier are open to both candidates, and to all other persons interested. Anything offered to us which is purely news and does not take the character of political advertising, will be published without cost.

The thing which the people are most interested in is the welfare of this community and the best interests of its citizens and taxpayers. This newspaper, just the same as any other institution, wants to see the city go ahead; improve, and be what it ought to be—the best city in Northern Michigan.

CARNIVAL DANCING PARTY WAS ENJOYED

A very unusual evening of dancing with carnival features was enjoyed at the I. O. O. F. hall last Thursday evening. The affair was sponsored by the Rebekah Past Noble Grand Club, which is sponsoring another similar party for Thursday evening of this week. The public is invited to attend.

MISSIONARY ANNI-VERSARY OBSERVED

Party Given by Methodist Society Was Enjoyable Affair

A fine social event was the recent Calico Tea, at the Methodist church, given by the missionary society in commemoration of the 60th anniversary of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, started at that time by eight women in Boston, and now the largest woman's organization in the world.

Mrs. William Poole was honorary hostess, and the tea was poured by Mesdames Edwards, Arnold, Meggison and Beeman. Miss French sang two beautiful solos. There also was music by Miss Belding and a poem by Miss Bedfish. A clever play, "A Rebuilt Missionary Woman," was acted by Mrs. Arthur Edwards, as surgeon, Mrs. Hansen, as a nurse, and Mrs. James Simmons as patient. After sawing and hacking, an amazing amount of very irreligious matter was removed from the patient, all very funny and clever.—Contributed.

LOCAL TOSSERS STOP MANCERLONA

BURIED VISITING TEAM UNDER 38 TO 6 COUNT FRIDAY

Smooth Offense, Air-Tight Guarding and Good Basket Work Gave Kipmen Advantage—Reserves Win

Winning their third successive victory, Charlevoix high school cagers smothered Mancelona under a lopsided count at the local gymnasium Friday evening.

A smooth working offense, deadly accuracy from the field and foul line, and an air-tight defense combined to bury the Antrim county tossers under a 38 to 6 score. It was Mancelona's second defeat in ten starts.

Led by Chew, who netted three goals, the Kipmen piled up a lead of 8 to 0 in the first period. The entire squad found the meshes in the second quarter and at the half they had increased their advantage 19 to 0. The third session was a repetition of the first two, with the Kipmen adding 17 more points while holding Mancelona scoreless. In the final period, more largely through Charlevoix's let-up on defense than the visitors' aggressiveness and ability, Mancelona counted with two goals and as many free tosses for their only scores during the contest.

Despite its one-sidedness the game was more interesting than the score might indicate. Mancelona put a strong, fast team on the floor—one that had tasted defeat but once previously. However, their defense could not cope with Charlevoix's speedy attack, while on the other hand, the Kipmen stopped them dead on every advance.

For Charlevoix, Chew turned in the best scoring performance with 14 points. Anee counted 8, Smith and McSauby each 6, Potter and Davenport 2 each. Beam and Brown played well for Mancelona. Unger of Traverse, refereed.

Charlevoix reserves copped the preliminary from Mancelona reserves in a spirited contest. Mancelona led 3 and 2 at the quarter and Charlevoix 4 and 3 at the half. The locals increased their advantage to 8 and 5 in the third session, and Potter snared several goals to put the contest on ice in the final period.

OFFICERS ARREST TWO DURING LIQUOR FORAY

William Lake, Melrose, and Joe Konopcki, Boyne Falls, Taken

William Lake, Melrose township, a former aggressor, and Joe Konopcki, Boyne Falls farmer, were arrested by Charlevoix county officers last Friday afternoon on information the pair were liquor law violators.

A quantity of mash was found at Lake's place, and at Konopcki's a quantity of moonshine and home brew. Officers had evidence of sales by both men.

At a hearing before Justice Robert Withers, Tuesday morning, Lake, who is now on probation from conviction on a similar charge last summer, demanded examination, which was set for next Monday. He is being held in jail. Bond was set at $1,000.

Konopcki waived examination and was bound over to the March term of circuit court. He furnished $1,000 bond for his release.

POLAR BEARS WIN TWO MORE GAMES

TRIMMED MANISTEE WEDNESDAY AND PELLSTON THURSDAY

Gave Manistee Decisive Trimming in Close Return Contest—Pellston Victory Sixth of Season

The Polar Bears rang the bell twice on successive nights last week and increased their string of victories to six for the present season.

Before a good sized house at the local gym Wednesday evening, the Bears revenge their previous 16 to 15 defeat at Manistee by handing the Iron Workers a decisive 22 to 16 trouncing in the return tilt. The following night they travelled up to Pellston and found little difficulty in winning from the Emmet county aggregation by a 24 to 16 margin.

The tilt with Manistee was close all the way. The Bears moved out in front 6 to 0 in the early part of the first quarter, but before the session ended Manistee had tied the count at 6-all. In the second session, the Bears found the meshes for a trio of goals while holding Manistee scoreless and at the half led 12 to 6.

Both teams scored twice in the third period and at the intermission the score was again dead-locked 11-all. Charlevoix out-scored Manistee 8 points to 2 in the final period.

Davenport was high with 10 points. Brown and Kipke made four each and Higman 2. For Manistee, Chambers was high with 6. Ludvigson had 4, Zientek, Anderson and Zimmerman two each.

At Pellston, the Bears led all the way. They were out in front 4 and 2 at the quarter, 11 and 3 at the half, 17 and 11 at the end of the third session.

Supernaw located the meshes from all angles of the court for a total of 12 points. Davenport scored three, Ikens, Higman, Cooper and Kipke each two and Brown one. Burch was high for Pellston with 8 points scored in the second half. Emerson was next with 4, Givens two and Boda one.

Two preliminaries came before the Polar Bear-Manistee tilt, and both went to Petoskey victors.

In the curtain-opener, the Petoskey Bears repeated a previous performance by winning 14 to 11 from the Polm Cubs. In the other contest, the Petoskey high school alumni girls smothered a similar team of local girls by a 12 to 2 score. The local girls were unable to cope with the unusual speed and teamwork displayed by the Petoskey forwards, Campbell and Barney. These two girls dropped in goals with clock-like precision.

SERVETUS A. CORRELL DEAD AT NORFOLK, VA.

Word of Passing Wednesday Morning Received by Local Friends

Word was received by telegram Wednesday morning by Mr. and Mrs. Brayton Saltonstall of the death at Norfolk, Va., of Servetus A. Correll, former local resident.

The telegram stated that Mr. Correll, who was for many years probate judge of Charlevoix county, passed away that morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Harry Belding, with whom he had made his home since his resignation from office here a year or more ago. He was 82 years of age.

While the telegram contained no details concerning funeral arrangements, it is assumed the body will be brought to Petoskey, where Mrs. Correll is buried.

PETOSKEY READY FOR BIG WINTER CARNIVAL

Ideal Conditions Now Prevail for Elaborate Program Outlined

The weather man has smiled upon Petoskey, furnishing ideal conditions for their big winter sports carnival which opens Thursday night with a parade to their winter park.

Low temperature has provided ice for their skating and hockey rinks, snow for their ski and toboggan slides and the atmosphere so necessary for such a winter event. Nothing but optimism and hurried preparation for the event now prevails in our neighboring city.

The program as outlined in last week's issue of the Courier will be carried out in detail, and Petoskey invites all residents of Northern Michigan to join them.

MUST U. S. TAXPAYERS PAY FOR EUROPE'S WAR?

Every American citizen is entitled to his own opinion on the subject of suspending, reducing, or canceling the debts owed the United States government by European countries, but it is equally the privilege of every American citizen to know what it is all about before forming a hasty conclusion on the subject. One thing is now pretty generally understood that was not apparent at the time the suspensions of payments were first suggested last summer and lauded as a means of ending the depression. The belated discovery is that international bankers loaned large sums of money to foreign countries following the World War, and that payments of principal and interest are delayed, and under present conditions endanger us. Now if the American government excuses payments, reduces the debts, or cancels them entirely, it will be easier and surer for the international bankers to make their collections. Hence when cancellation is advised it is well to remember that the financiers are proposing no cancellation of the debts due our government.

It is well to remember, too, that there can be no such thing as cancellation of these debts. They are obligations of the people of foreign countries contracted by their governments. They are due our government, and if they are not paid by the foreign debtors they must be paid with interest by the taxpayers of America.

We yet owe $17,000,000,000 of our expense of the war. We are paying for it every hour of our lives. We have already reduced the amounts we loaned the other countries during the war. When we have paid what we yet owe and then tax ourselves again to pay our government to enable it to cancel the foreign debts, we will come pretty near paying for the World War.

The Chronicle removes its hat to the Rev. Joseph A. Vance of the First Presbyterian church in Detroit. Lately he informed his congregation that it was the duty of the church to mix in politics, but to build up character. Says the doctor: "When a church gets more concerned with state legislatures, city councils and even the United States congress it does with character building, we have a nation that is woefully lacking in that type of citizenship which respects law and gives moral solidity to the nation."

Fewer clergymen of the type of Bishop Cannon and more of the type of Dr. Vance would do the country a lot of good. Every large city in the country, including Grand Rapids, has its share of clergymen who spend less time trying to help the men and women in their charge than they devote to activities directed toward keeping themselves in the public eye. Some of them seem to be far more familiar with the path to page one than with the just as difficult but far less spectacular pathway to paradise.

Fortunately, in the nation, as in Grand Rapids, this type is in the minority. A majority of the sincere and hard working men who fill the pulpits of the land will echo approvingly Dr. Vance's pronouncement, and will continue to find ample scope for their efforts in the field that is entirely their own.—Grand Rapids Chronicle.

GRADE CROSSING FOLLY

Every year sees numerous dangerous grade crossings eliminated. Every year sees more modern warnings and safety devices, adapted to the motor age, put up on highways to remind drivers of the peril they approach. There are flickering signs visible half a mile away from the tracks; there are warning bells, signs posted beside the road and signs painted on the highway itself, not to mention stronger gates.

With all these precautions there are also more grade crossing accidents and fatalities, which seems to indicate continued carelessness on the part of motorists. With faster and better automobiles, it still remains true that none of them can compete successfully with freight trains and passenger trains at crossings. The trains have the right of way, and they have the weight of speed and power that win every time an auto disputes it with them.

Grade crossing elimination must go on, as must the use of better and, if possible, fool-proof safety devices. But more important still is the cultivation of good sense and reasonable caution in drivers.

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY LOCAL YOUNG WOMAN

Mrs. Zona Neyman Died Monday After Illness of Several Weeks

Funeral services were conducted at 10 o'clock Wednesday morning at St. Mary church for Mrs. Zona Neyman, who died at 9:45 Monday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Adams, South Bridge street.

Mrs. Neyman had been seriously ill for several weeks.

Zona Adams was born September 30, 1892, at Vanderbilt. She came with her parents to this city about 35 years ago, was educated in the local schools and had spent nearly her entire life here.

Surviving besides her parents are a daughter, June Neyman; two sisters, Mary and Nellie Adams, and a brother, Prescott Adams of this city.

Both men are also on the board of directors. Dates for the show this year will be October 26th to 28th, inclusive.

Mr. Nichols has long been identified as one of the leading potato growers in Emmet county. He specializes in raising certified seed. He has served two years as vice-president of the Gaylord show. B. C. Mellencamp, Charlevoix county agricultural agent, is retiring business manager.

BANKS TWP. MAY BOND TO HOLD ITS CANNERY

Issue to Be Decided at Special Election on Friday, February 5th

Banks township will vote upon the proposition of bonding for $15,000 to erect larger buildings for the canning factory, on Friday, February 4th, according to announcement made the first of last week. If the proposition carries, construction work will be started at once. The buildings are to be completed in time for the coming canning season. Reid & Murdoch who own the canning factory at Ellsworth, are to lease the new buildings, it is stated, for a period of five years with the right to take them over at the expiration of the lease.

The voters of Banks township should put over this proposition as it will be a great asset to the community.—Central Lake Torch.

LEGION TREASURE HUNT GREAT EVENT

MANY OUT FOR FUN LAST THURSDAY EVENING

Numerous Other Activities Keep Legionnaires Busy—Plan to Alter Hall Interior

The American Legion treasure hunt, held last Thursday evening, was voted a great success by all who participated in it and many requests have been made of Charles Hamlin, chairman of the committee in charge, to repeat the affair at an early date. As the nature of the hunt was perhaps not as well known to the public as it might have been, not so large a number turned out as had been expected. However, thirty-nine tickets were sold and the treasure, split two ways, went to Harold Withers and C. H. Sternberg, who were the first to return to the Legion home with all the clues found in their proper order. There were ten clues in all, very cleverly gotten up by Arthur Ranger, who had direct charge of the hunt, and his assistants.

Tuesday evening, thirty-four members were present at the regular weekly meeting of Leslie T. Shapton post. Considerable business was transacted and names of the members were drawn from the box. The lucky tenth number drawn fell to E. J. Kibbe who received the two dollar "pot" accumulated from the previous two meetings. Mr. Kibbe promptly turned his prize over to apply on the expense of the lunch that followed the meeting. Comrade Sam King was appointed child welfare officer of the Legion by the commander, at this meeting.

The post has received permission from the school board to remodel the Legion home to some extent. High archways will be cut on either side of the chimney that is centered in the partition between the two main rooms of the building, thus throwing the two into one room, which will be very advantageous for the holding of banquets, dances and other affairs where a large number of people are to be accommodated. The present kitchen will also be remodeled. A used electric stove in good condition will be installed. This was the gift of E. E. Cross and the post wishes to acknowledge it most gratefully.

It was announced at Tuesday night's meeting that the coming annual fireman's ball will be held under the joint auspices of the firemen and the Legion bugle and drum corps. A part of the proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of uniforms for the corps, who must make a good showing at Kalamazoo next Labor day. Four new bugles will be purchased, shortly, for the use of the beginners' class recently formed by John Ter Wee, instructor. If more want to join the bugle section of the corps, they will be very welcome.

The post, through its executive committee, took a unique step recently, in petitioning the department commander of the Legion at Detroit to urge upon the members of every Michigan post and auxiliary that they write individually and as organizations to their respective senators and congressmen petitioning their efforts to keep the United States out of the present fracas in the Far East and to take steps to spread the movement generally throughout the United States, among the citizens generally as well as Legionnaires.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

Probably the oldest licensed automobile driver in the United States lives in Michigan.

The department of state recently issued a driver's license to Thomas Gordon of Grand Rapids, 102 years old. When the application giving Mr. Gordon's age was received, at first it was thought a mistake had been made. Then because of his advanced age, he was asked to demonstrate to state police that he could control an automobile. They reported that he was as adept a driver as the "average man of 60."

Because of the difference in the cost between copper and steel, the department does not feel justified in using copper for the 1933 license plates, therefore making it necessary to continue with the 24 gauge steel material. Plates for 1931 and 1932 cost the department 15c per set, but the department is in hopes of reducing this cost for 1933 plates to 10c per set.

Estimates from various copper companies show that copper plates would cost from 17c to 19c per set. The additional cost of copper for the 1,350,000 sets which will be needed for 1933 is too great to be disregarded even though the department desires to aid Michigan copper mines.

While the department has shown a decided preference for a 1933 plate with a white background and black numerals, final decision is not to be made until after ranking police officials in several Michigan cities have been consulted. The order for the 1933 plates will be placed in about 30 days.

TWO SMALL BLAZES SUNDAY AND MONDAY

Only Slight Damage at Christainsen and Hull Residences

The city fire department was called out by two small blazes over the week end. A defective chimney was the cause of a small fire at the Fred Christainsen home on May street at 9:30 Sunday forenoon. The damage was slight.

A blaze at the Upright avenue home of Emerson Hull, at about 11:30 Monday forenoon, caught while Mr. Hull was thawing frozen water pipes beneath the house. Flames of the blow torch ignited excelsior used for packing around the pipes. A sizeable blaze was soon in progress and Mr. Hull narrowly escaped dangerous burns. His hair was scorched and he received several bruises in his hurried exit from beneath the building. The fire department extinguished the fire before it caused serious damage.

COUNTY CLUB BOY WINS STATE AWARD

Robert Tainter, Boyne City, Second in Farm Accounting Project

Word has been recently received that Robert Tainter, Boyne City, has been awarded second place in the entire state in the 1931 farm record keeping project.

This contest was sponsored by the Parker Pen company, Janesville, Wisconsin. The state winner received a $15.00 Parker duofold pen and pencil gift, and Robert won a $5.00 Parker duofold fountain pen.

In competing for these prizes it was necessary to keep a complete account of the business of the farm in a regular farm account book for a period of not less than eight months. Robert has been keeping farm records for three years in the regular farm account project and is a real veteran.

STORY OF BEAVER ISLANDERS GIVEN

HISTORIC SKETCH BY MILWAU-KEE WRITER OF INTEREST

Predominance of Few Family Names
Results in Many Interesting
Irish Nick Names

A long evening beside the crackling wood stove in the dining room is a marvelous time to learn something of these Irish nicknames, so Capt. Connelly obligingly draws up a couple of chairs, we get out some scraps of paper and proceed to learn about this intricate system of nomenclature.

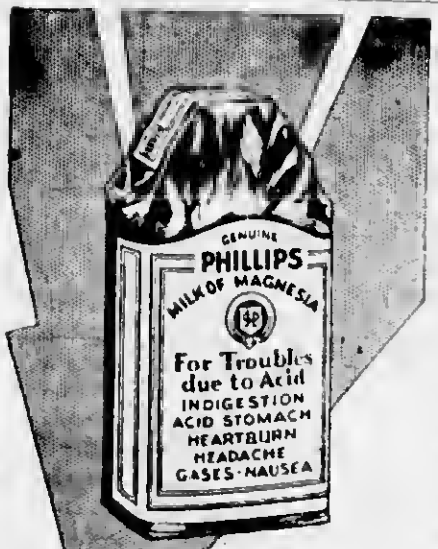

"On this island," commences the captain, "Gallaghers, O'Donnells, McCauleys and Boyles greatly predominate and in the affixing of nicknames to the various families having like surnames the ingenuity of the Irish is clearly evidenced. Among the O'Donnells we find the 'Johnny Aug,' 'the Bay,' the 'Don Fathers' and the 'Danny Barneys,' of whom there are two, Ben and Frank. For the purposes of the island, they are Ben and Frank 'Danny Barney,' the O'Donnell being quite overlooked. 'Aug,' in Irish, means young.

"There are the 'Ropa Docha,' which is Irish for 'burnt rope,' and the 'Patty Heela' Boyles. The 'Heela' came from the fact that that was Patty's wife's name, so the son is now Danny 'Patty Heela.' Among the McCauleys, there are the 'Patty Johns,' the 'Patty Owens,' the 'Peter Owens' and the 'Patty Bochas.' 'Peter Owen' McCauley, if you insist on the superfluous surname, is the barber at the harbor.

"William Boyle, the postmaster, has a hopeless task on his hands when an occasional letter for some of these families comes through without that almost essential identifying nickname, particularly in the case of the Gallagher tribe, who make up nearly a fifth of the population. The names are drawn from chance remarks made by the original members of a particular branch of the family, from the wife's maiden name, from the nature of work done by the head of the clan, or from other such circumstances.

"In this manner, among the Gallaghers, we find Andy and Patty 'Mary Ellen,' Edith, Margaret, Earl, James, Leo, Victor and Norbert 'Bowery,' whose father, William, once said he wished he were back on the Bowery; the 'Bull Calf,' the 'Dunmores,' who originally came from that county in Ireland; the 'Salty,' whose sire was a salt water sailor; the 'Brine,' the original of whom was a brother of 'Dunmore' Gallagher, and the 'Pipers,' who got that name from the remark of a young man, not then able to force the time he would have children of his own, that he was going to be a piper when he grew up." Capt. Connelly explained. "The 'Pipers' are headed by Dan, a son of Dan 'Dunmore.'"

Bridget, or "Biddie," Mooney, 93, is one of the outstanding characters of the island. She lives with her brother, John, and has never been off the island—nor does she desire to be. Although some may think she is along in years, judging from her age, she still gets about handily in taking care of her housework.

She is, however, a mere girl to Francis "Sam" Donlevy, who is 96 and the last of the old settlers. He came to the Beavers in 1859, shortly after things quieted down following the unfortunate King Strang's reign. "Sam," the oldest man on the Beavers, is the great-uncle of our host, Capt. Connelly.

Another of the island's best known characters is James Gillespie, 68, known as "Priest," that being a nickname he acquired as a child when he amused himself christening all of the dolls he could get his hands on. "Priest" keeps house all by himself, setting aside one day for washing, one for ironing and one for baking, as any good housekeeper should, and tends considerable acreage single handed through the summer season. Many claim his bread is the finest to be had anywhere, but we have no opportunity of sampling it.

A dance in the village, as there will be within an evening or two, is the best opportunity of observing the social life of these Beaver Island Irish. It is here that we meet Capt. Bruce McDonough, that glamorous young 28-year-old who sets all of the feminine hearts a-flutter as he dances with them, or even if he only smiles in passing—for then they think that they may have the honor of the next dance and they are thrilled in that expectation. Capt. McDonough is skipper of the Rambler, a freighter, and has the reputation of being an able pilot and navigator. The men all respect his physical prowess and the girls admire his smile, his physique, his charming manner and his assurance in any situation.

The old fashioned square dance is the most popular at these affairs. Almost everyone who can get away for the evening, and there are few homes to prevent them, for they trot the youngsters right along, will be there and we are sure to meet many of those of whom Capt. Connelly has told us. There are the "Tight" Gallaghers, for instance, at whose home, in the kitchen, there is St. James' original postoffice equipment, a section of 15 or 18 cubby holes that now hangs over the kitchen table and hold bills and other memoranda.

Here we meet Dick Martin, one of the island's leading young fishermen, and we get him into a corner to tell us something of that trade, which used to flourish but of recent years has been falling more and more into the doldrums.

"Nearly 100 men, or most of the male working population, are engaged in the fishing business," Dick tells us. "There are eight tugs operated out of St. James during the season, which extends from April to December. When the fishing's real good the tugs bring in about 15 tons a day, but this last summer it averaged only about 400 to 500 pounds a day to a lift, or three tons a day, for all of the crews. We put out gangs of 200 to 6,000 feet of net, sinking it so that it rests on the bottom, generally out along the steamboat channel, and we never know if we'll pick up only a few pounds or if we'll come back with the Silver Moon full of fish."

Dick, who also is mighty popular with the girls at the dance, tells us that his father, Ralph, better known as Briney, has been in the fishing business for 50 years and his brother, Herbert, 7, still too young to have acquired a nickname, has been at it about three years. Herbert's greatest pleasure, on the return trips, is to take handfuls of the "innards" of the fish and toss them high into the air where they are caught by the gulls that always follow fishing craft. If the offal falls to the water a swarm of gulls fight for them. Dick says, and if one bird gets a good hold another is liable to start a tug of war by grabbing the other end before it is gulped into the bottomless stomachs that those gulls have.

Despite the density of a fog, Briney always travels unerringly to the spar that marks the end of a gang of nets, this son of his says. With the price of Irish linen, of which the nets are woven, at $5 a pound, and constantly rising, the future of the fish trade on the Beavers is somewhat dubious, according to Dick. Nowadays much fishing is done through the ice, although there are scant financial returns from this sort of endeavor.

A few years ago Dick had the contract for bringing mail to the island through the winter and traveled by sleigh across the ice. Since then the contract has been let to an airplane line and mail comes through the winter on those days when the weather is favorable. There was a period of 17 days last winter that the plane couldn't get through, and it began to look as though Uncle Sam and the islanders might have been better off if Dick had kept the contract.

As we climb into the Ford and shimmy on down the King's highway, Capt. Connelly points off to the left where, in the moonlight, it is easy to see the 85-foot fabricated steel weather tower, and the captain tells us that just south of that is where the plane lands.

"Some time, particularly if you're here in the summer, for it would be much too cold now, you ought to climb to the top of that tower," the captain suggests. "You can see almost all of the island from there on a good clear day, including Font lake and Lake Genesaret, which are both quite sizeable. The weather tower is on the same road as the cemetery, in which stand dozens of gravestones under which there are no bodies. They were put up in memory of sons, husbands and fathers who were lost at sea. And at the end of that road you would come to Mike Boyle's beach, as fine an expanse of sand as you'll find anywhere."

We talk with Capt. Connelly, and with many others we have met during our pleasurable sojourn, as to just what is to become of this island. Some think that all it needs is a little promotion, with a high class hotel, golf grounds and a press agent, to become a prosperous resort, while others incline to the view that the Irish families will finally die out or move away, for even now the young desert the community, so that the once colorful hit of old Erin will just die a natural death, becoming only a wilderness of deserted houses, desolate farms, weeded covered roads and dilapidated docks and shanties.

LAKE FISH RULINGS REMAIN UNCHANGED

Action Taken by Conservation Department at January Meeting

Regulations governing open and closed inland lakes and streams as determined by the conservation commission, will remain unchanged for two years.

This action was taken by the commission on recommendation of the fish division as a public convenience and a measure of economy in eliminating the issuance of a new digest of fishing laws for the 1933 season.

Changes in the list of streams open to trout fishing during season, pike lakes, trout lakes and other matters were acted on at the January meeting of the commission.

Few important changes were made by the commission in lake and stream designations.

After some discussion, the commission voted to change the status of Lake Mitchell, Wexford county, from a pike lake to a bass lake and to continue the adjacent Lake Cadillac as a pike lake.

The 1932 Digest of Fishing Laws, incorporating these changes as well as changes in the laws by the last legislature is now being prepared and will probably be available for distribution about March 1st.

AT THE MOVIES

"Stepping Sisters" Called "Thousand Laughs" Picture

Described as the picture with a thousand laughs, "Stepping Sisters," the Fox comedy based on Howard Warren Comstock's stage farce of the same name, comes to the Palace theatre next Saturday and Sunday. The principal roles are enacted by Louise Dresser, Minna Gombell and Jobyna Howland, a trio of comedienne whose talents are said to make a peerless combination.

Miss Dresser will be recalled for her talking roles in "Lightnin'," "Caught" and other recent productions. Miss Gombell scored successes in "Bad Girl" and "Soh Sister" before she was assigned to her role in "Stepping Sisters," and Miss Howland is famed for her role of "Mabel" in "The Gold Diggers" on the stage and for her performances in such pictures as "Hook, Line and Sinker," "The Cuckoos" and "The Virtuous Sin."

William Collier, Sr., who portrays an important role, is one of the outstanding comedians of the stage and has been successful in many screen productions including "The Brat," "Annabelle's Affairs" and "Up the River."

The plot concerns the accidental meeting of three former members of the chorus of a burlesque show. This takes place at the alvish Long Island home of one of the trio who has become a prominent member of society.

A "red" is not one who is "blue" because things look "black" but is a fellow that is "yellow" from becoming "green" with jealousy of those who are "white" and therefore successful.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Subject, "Spirit."

Wednesday evening at 7:45 first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Love" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, January 31st.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Luke 7:47): "Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sins, which are many, are forgiven; for she loved much; but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 365): "If the Scientist has enough Christly affection to win his own pardon, and such commendation as the Magdalen gained from Jesus, then he is Christian enough to practise scientifically and deal with his patients compassionately; and the result will correspond with the spiritual intent."

WHY GET UP NIGHTS?

Physic the Bladder With Juniper Oil

Drive out the impurities and excess acids that cause irritation, burning and frequent desire. BU-KETS, the bladder physic containing juniper oil, buchu leaves, etc., works on the bladder similar to castor oil on the bowels. Get a 26c test box from any drug store. After four days if not relieved of "getting up nights" go back and get your money. If you are bothered with backache or leg pains caused from bladder disorders you are bound to feel better after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. F. J. Fessenden, druggist.

COMFORT

... THROUGH CASTORIA'S GENTLE REGULATION

The best way to prevent colic, doctors say, is to avoid gas in stomach and bowels by keeping the entire intestinal tract open, free from waste. But remember this: a tipy-baby's tender little organs cannot stand harsh treatment. They must be gently urged. This is just the time Castoria can help most. Castoria, you know, is made specially for babies and children. It is a pure vegetable preparation, perfectly harmless. It contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. For years it has helped mothers through trying times with colicky babies and children suffering with digestive upsets, colds and fever. Keep genuine Castoria on hand, with the name:

When the company was organized by Arthur Williams and J. W. Morse 29 years ago, it was distinctly understood that this dishonest method of voting could not be used. Whether it was incorporated in the constitution and by-laws is not known by the writer as no copy seems to be available.

Rev. J. C. Kendall and Rev. Carol attended the Ministerial Convention of Antrim county at Mancelona last week Monday. About 75 people were present. The subject of mid-week meetings was quite thoroughly discussed by Rev. Kendall, Rev. Matthews of Elk Rapids, and Mathewson of Mancelona. Rev. Kendall described his method of holding social hour meetings in different points of his parish. Mr. Matthews of Albion thought that to get out, get acquainted with his Sunday school pupils, and take part in their sports, was a good way to get them interested. At the W. C. T. U. meeting at Bellaire the following day, ways and means of law enforcement was brought out by Rev. Kendall and Rev. Alex Alexander of Bellaire. Rev. Alexander is a live wire and Antrim county will be expected to give a good account of itself in the way of dry officers next fall.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it." To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

The "Seventh Commandment" will be the subject for discussion next Sunday morning. We realize the difficulty of presenting such a question before a mixed congregation. But there is no subject demanding more honest and fearless handling. Realizing this difficulty we wish to state that no one need remain away because of what might seem to be an embarrassing situation. The subject will be dealt with in a manner that will be honest, at the same time with no embarrassing moments. We challenge our community to hear this sermon, especially young people, because it is about a fact that underlies the happiness of every home.

Last Sunday we declared the sacredness of human life and follow next Sunday with that which safeguards the highest earthly relationship, and conditions in strength and purity, the holy and sacred office of the procreation of life. God's first circle of society is that of the family and the origin of the family in His purpose lies within the sacred unity of man and woman.

BAPTISTS ENJOYED ANNIVERSARY FETE

D. E. Ingalls and Other Younger Members Also Feted—Banquet and Appropriate Program

Sponsored by the young men of the church, a supper, followed by appropriate observances, was given in honor of James O'Brien and D. E. Ingalls, members of long standing, also for Donald Carey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Carey, and Sidney Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark, whose birthdays all occurred January 28th. Insofar as Mr. O'Brien was concerned, the affair was a complete and pleasant surprise.

Following supper, during which the assemblage sang songs under the leadership of Harker Kirby, the history of the church was given by Ernest Penslee. The records revealed that Mr. O'Brien, now 83 years of age, was the first person baptised in the church, and the only living charter member of the institution, founded 53 years ago. Charles Carey related that the church was under construction when he first came to this city. Mr. Ingalls' membership dates back to 1916. He is 63 years of age.

Rev. W. H. Rauch acted as toastmaster. He called upon Mr. O'Brien, who responded with brief remarks. A communication from the oldest member, Mrs. Nelson of Eveline township, now 95 years old, was read. She was unable to attend because of ill health. The response was given by Little Helen Lewis, youngest member of the society.

A gathering of 135, members and relatives and friends of the honored guests, were present at the delightful affair. Mr. O'Brien and Mr. Ingalls were presented with bedroom slippers as a token of regard in which they are held by their fellow church members.

Group of Leaders Visited All Centers
During Past Week

After being out of the field for nearly a year, due mainly to present day business conditions and lack of finances, the Michigan Y. M. C. A. is coming back into the northern Michigan region. Ray John, one of the secretaries, and C. F. Angell of Hastings, spent last week in northern counties picking up the threads of the former organization and getting them in shape to resume operations.

The officials were guests in Petoskey and met a group of Petoskey men at luncheon at The Perry, where they discussed the entire work and the Petoskey activities particularly. The Petoskey men agreed they would be willing to entertain in the 1932 Northern Michigan Older Boys' conference next April, and that they would send representatives to a district conference of men leaders at

Michigan Tourist & Resort Outdoor

An unusually interesting entertainment, sponsored by the Charlevoix Association of Commerce, has been scheduled for Tuesday evening, February 9th, at the school gymnasium.

At this time, through special arrangements, moving picture reels taken by the Michigan Tourist and Resort Association, will be shown. The pictures cover outdoor events sponsored by western Michigan resort cities during the summer season, and should prove very entertaining.

The program will be directed by Edward Drier, field man for the Tourist and Resort Association.

There will be no admission charge and the public is invited and urged to attend.

The monthly meeting of the Little Traverse Bay Ministerial Association was held at the Russell House in East Jordan last Monday.

A very representative group was present and a splendid program that developed much discussion was offered. One of the direct outcomes of the discussion was the planning for a retreat of the ministers of the association to be held Ash Wednesday in Petoskey.

An invitation to meet at the Petoskey Episcopal church was accepted.

"Try-Out" Meeting Planned With Outside and Local Speakers

For over five years during the mid-winter season, a group of the men of the city have met in one of the public dining rooms of the city, had a big feed, a fine social hour, and some speech making. Clive, and other "problems" were not taken up, there was no competition with the Association of Commerce, but a purely social—and gastronomic—hour, when "man met wit' man," with "not a woman in sight!"

At the suggestion of Mr. North, a number of the former officers met recently at the home of Frank Bird, and arranged for a "try-out" meeting. This would give opportunity for the men to express themselves as to desire to continue, and also arrange for the Father and Son banquet, on Washington's birthday. All seemed to think that this year, of all years, the Washington character should be held up to you, and the banquet not omitted. For the banquet an attempt was made to secure Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, but, finding this impossible, by immediate phoning, Dr. Pellow was secured, from Petoskey. He is a very strong speaker from the younger set.

The regular Club meeting will be held in dining room of the Methodist church, Monday evening, Feb. 8—next Monday—with supper at 6:30. The pastor of the church will give the opening speech, and Rev. G. H. Parker has been secured to speak from the topic, "Pounding the Gold." Both of these gentlemen are practically new to the Club. There are fifty members, let all the men take notice, and turn out. The meeting will not be held late.—Contributed.

Approximately 50,000 signatures have been obtained to a petition seeking to initiate a constitutional amendment limiting the tax on real estate to 1 1/2 per cent of its value annually. C. H. Bramble of the Michigan-State Grange announced that slightly more than 90,000 signatures are necessary to put the question to a vote.

Notice is hereby given that in conformity with the Michigan Election Law, the undersigned City Clerk will, upon any day except Sunday and a legal holiday, the day of the primary election, receive for registration the name of any legal voter in said city not already registered, who may apply to me personally for such registration. Provided, however, that I can receive no name for registration during the time intervening between the second Saturday before the day of election, or the day of the primary election.

You are further notified, that I will be in my office February 15th, 1932, from 8 o'clock a. m. until 8 o'clock p. m. Eastern Standard Time, that day for the purpose of registering such of the qualified electors in said city as shall properly apply therefor.

City Clerk.

DICKENS CLUB ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED MONDAY

Annual Luncheon Enjoyed at Home of Mrs. Manie Fessenden

The home of Mrs. Manie Fessenden on Mason street was the scene of a delightful occasion Monday afternoon when the Charles Dickens club gathered for their annual anniversary luncheon in recognition of Dickens' birthday.

The executive committee, Mesdames Manie Fessenden, Isabelle Sloan, Nellie Richardson and Miss Minnie Payton served a delightful three course luncheon including in the last course a birthday cake beautifully decorated with lighted candles in significance of the occasion. Cleverly designed, hand painted place cards which were the work of Mrs. Manie Fessenden, heli likenesses of Whackford Squeers, a character from one of Dickens' writings which the club is studying this winter. The place cards were in the form of book marks, making it possible for the guests to retain them as useful mementos of the occasion. Table decorations also included beautiful pink carnations.

Following the luncheon the remainder of the afternoon was given to oral reading of "Nicholas Nickleby," by Dickens. Upon adjourning club members unanimously expressed their appreciation for an exceedingly pleasant afternoon.

Only New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio exceeded Michigan in the resident hunting licenses sold for the year and only New York and Pennsylvania topped Michigan in the income received from the sale of resident and non-resident hunting licenses.

In New York 717,106 resident licenses were sold during 1929-30. Pennsylvania hunters bought 505,103 licenses and Ohio hunters bought 446,329 hunting licenses. Michigan followed with 404,129 licenses.

TRAGEDY SHOCKS IRONTON REGION

ROBT. WILSON TOOK OWN LIFE
WEDNESDAY AFTERNOON

Killed Self With Shotgun During Fit of Despondency Caused by Ill Health in Family

Robert Wilson, 27, a life-long resident of the Eveline township district near Ironton, ended his life by suicide late last Wednesday afternoon.

He was well known throughout the Northern Michigan region, and his rash act was a great shock to the entire community.

Mr. Wilson left the home of his parents shortly after noon, saying he was going hunting. He took a 16-gauge shotgun and his dog and started out. Suspicion that all was not well was aroused when it was noticed that the dog had returned. Following Robert's tracks in the snow, leading to a barn across the road, his brother, James, discovered the tragedy. Robert had evidently seated himself on the barn floor, placed the butt of the gun against the wheel of a farm machine, the barrel to his head and pulled the trigger.

Sheriff Dave Vaughan, Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis and Coroner F. F. McMillan were called from Charlevoix and Coroner S. B. Stueckus from Boyne City. A verdict of suicide was returned. Investigation revealed that due to ill health, the death of his wife two years ago and sickness of his sister had left the man despondent and that at times he had previously threatened to kill himself.

Mr. Wilson is survived by a son, Lyle, age 4, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Wilson, a brother, James, and a sister, Anna Wilson.

PACKED HOUSE VIEW TOURIST ASSN. REELS

Charlevoix Citizens See Michigan As Out-State Vacationists See It

Charlevoix citizens had an opportunity Tuesday evening to see a small part of the wonderful resort promotion work being accomplished for the benefit of Michigan interests by the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association.

A packed house was present at the gymnasium for the showing of moving pictures by the association's publicity department. They were given a glimpse of Michigan summer and winter activities, its many scenic spots, boat regattas, views of wild life, etc.—views which the association has shown to thousands of prospective Michigan vacationists in the mid-west sections of the United States.

In other words, Charlevoix citizens were given an opportunity to see Michigan as out-staters see it during their vacation wanderings. Placing themselves in the vacation-seekers' position, they could see why Michigan attracts millions each summer.

And it is through the West Michigan Tourist and Resort association that those out-staters may see Michigan attractions. It is unquestionably meritorious work—work which West Michigan communities should back with their dollars to the very limit of their resources.

Baxter W. R. C. will serve a 15c tea at the home of Mrs. Fred Christensen on May street, on Thursday, February 18th, at 5:30 p. m. The public is invited.—Adv. 6th.

TRIO OF FISH LAW VIOLATORS GUILTY

JUSTICE COURT JURY RENDERED VERDICT FRIDAY

Jail Sentences and Payment of Fines and Costs Imposed by Judge Robert Withers

Connell Gatliff, Archie Cross and Jake White, local commercial fishermen, were found guilty on two counts of violating the fishing laws by a justice court jury of six men, Friday.

The counts upon which the verdict was rendered after an hour and a half of deliberation, were fishing with nets in inland waters and attempting to take perch from an inland lake within a half mile of a public dock or pier.

The case, tried before Justice Robert Withers, occupied most of the day and drew a packed court room.

Arrest of the trio resulted from their apprehension a week ago Friday while lifting a chub net from Round lake harbor early in the morning. The net had been previously located and members of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club, cooperating with conservation officers, patrolled the lake. Caught in the act, the men ran their boat to Manitowish island, weathered out a storm there and then went to Frankfort, where Cross was arrested. Gatliff and White were arrested when they returned to this city. They demanded trial at a justice court hearing.

Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis, handling the prosecution, called around nine witnesses, all members of the group which patrolled Round lake harbor and brought about the violators' arrest. The defense called three witnesses in addition to the defendants.

Sentence on the men was passed by Justice Robert Withers, Saturday. Gatliff drew twenty days in the county jail and a fine and costs of $40.85; Cross was sentenced to thirty days in jail and fine and costs of $80, and White thirty days and fine and costs totaling $70. In case the fines and costs are not paid within the period of their respective jail sentences the men must serve ninety days in jail.

Appeal bond was set at $500 each. In view of the result of this case, it is probable that netting in Round lake, an illegal practice which has been going on for years, will not be so frequent.

ODD FELLOWS RETAIN SMALL CRIBBAGE LEAD

Bested Masons by Narrow Margin of Fifteen Points Monday Night

With a closeness which has characterized play throughout the series, the Odd Fellows managed to best the Masons by the narrow margin of 15 points Monday night to maintain their cribbage lead. They emerged 20 points ahead last Monday night and the added 15 gives them a total advantage of 35 points after the fifth meeting of the series.

Team scores Monday night were: Odd Fellows, 20,578; Masons, 20,563. Floyd Ikens led his Odd Fellow team-mates with a score of 962, and Lige Geer was high for the Masons with 958. No perfect scores have been made so far.

The next contest will be held at the Masonic hall the evening of Tuesday, February 23rd, being set ahead one night on account of the annual fireman's dance.

COUNTY ROAD WORK EMPLOYS MANY MEN

TWO THOUSAND RELEASED FOR IMPROVEMENT PROJECTS

Sum Divided Between East Jordan and Boyne Districts—Work in This District Employs Many

Following action taken at their last meeting, resulting in release of two thousand dollars of highway funds for road work, the county road commission has launched several projects which are furnishing work for a large number of men.

The two thousand dollars is being divided between the East Jordan and Boyne City districts. In the former, one project undertaken will result in elimination of what is known as the "Ox Bow Bend" on the East Jordan-Ellsworth road two miles west of East Jordan. Twelve men and four teams are being used on the job and this force is being alternated weekly in order to spread the work among a greater number of men. In addition, a considerable amount of maintenance work is being done in the East Jordan district.

The thousand dollars allotted to Boyne City district is being divided among several small projects, largely cutting curves and betterment work on the East Jordan-Boyne City and Wildwood Harbor roads. Thirteen men and two trucks are being alternated on 3-day shifts, in addition to maintenance work in that district.

Workmen employed on the several projects are being taken from a list furnished by the Charlevoix county unemployment committee, which has been working closely with the road commission throughout the winter in their efforts to furnish work for the unemployed.

In the Charlevoix district, $800 is being spent on roadside development on U. S. 31. It is also expected that the re-location of U. S. 31 will furnish work for a great many in this district. The contract has been awarded by the state administrative board to the Remus Construction company. It is quite probable that work will soon be started. In fact, an engineer is here this week directing the removal of poles along the route. We are not in a position, however, to state exactly when work will be started on re-routing.

R. T. Davis, county road superintendent, who furnished the information used in this article, stated that around fifty men were being employed on county road projects at the present time. He pointed out that by using the "stagger" system of employment, one hundred men were given work during a period of two weeks, and double that amount for each corresponding period. He also stated that the projects now under way were necessary ones and had been undertaken this winter to furnish employment rather than holding them over until next summer.

OTSEGO COUNTY PIONEER DIES OF HEART ATTACK

Thomas Yuill, one of the best known men of Otsego county, and a member of a family all widely known, respected and well to do, was found dead in his car some little distance away from his home last Tuesday. Death was caused by a heart attack which overtook him when trying to drive his car up a slippery grade in the road. It is thought he became nervous and felt the attack in time to stop his car but died immediately thereafter.—Cheboygan Observer.

FORMER COUNTY OFFICIAL BURIED SATURDAY

County Officers Pall Bearers at Funeral of S. A. Correll

Many Charlevoix citizens attended funeral services for Servetus A. Correll at Petoskey Saturday afternoon, paying their last respects to a former local resident held in high esteem by all who knew him.

Officials of the Charlevoix court house, with whom Mr. Correll was associated for so many years, attended in a body and six of their number, viz: Frank F. Bird, Dave Vaughan, Rollie L. Lewis, Ernest Peaslee, Fenton R. Bulow and J. W. Flanders, acted as pall bearers. The body was laid to rest in the family lot at Greenwood cemetery following brief services.

Mr. Correll is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Harry Belding of Norfolk, Va., at whose home he died, and Mrs. Herman Burns of Oxford, also a son, Lee Correll of Lawrence, R. I.

POLAR BEARS MEET ALPENA THURSDAY

RETURN GAME AT LOCAL GYM WILL BE FAST ONE

Polar Bears Out to Revenge 23 to 16
Defeat Handed Them at Alpena
Last Wednesday Night

The Polar Bear management has arranged another basketball treat for local fans, Thursday night they bring the Alpena independents, one of Northern Michigan's strongest professional teams, for a game at the local gym.

The Polar Bears have two purposes in view when they meet Alpena here. The first, and most important, will be to wipe out a 23 to 16 defeat suffered at Alpena last Wednesday night. The second will be to keep their home record unblemished.

Unquestionably the Bears know what kind of opposition they are to stack up against when they meet Alpena. They had a sample of it last Wednesday evening, but still feel that they can take the easterners into camp on their own hardwood.

In their previous encounter, Alpena gave the Bears a decisive trimming. A strong first quarter spurt gave them a 14 to 3 margin, which they increased 17 to 7 at the half. Both teams scored four points in the third period and as the final session opened Alpena led 21 to 11. In a last quarter rally, the Bears outscored the easterners five points in two, but were unable to overcome Alpena's advantage.

Davenport and Smith scored four points each to lead for Charlevoix.

Manager Gordon Todd of the Polar Bears tells us local fans will see some great basketball players in action when Alpena takes the floor here. Their team is made up of a group of many veterans of several years' play. They have made things pretty tough for any opposition on the eastern side of the state and have generally had the best of games played with teams from this region.

The usual program of preliminary attractions have been arranged for Thursday evening. The main contest starts at 8:15.

SPECIAL LENTEN VESPER SERVICE SUNDAY

Mrs. Ray O'Brien of this city, will preside at the organ during the program.

The public is invited to the service.

BOYNE AGAIN VICTOR OVER KIPMEN

WON TILT HERE FRIDAY BY 23
TO 16 SCORE

Boyne Junior High Take Opening Preliminary, But Local Reserves Copped Second by Close Score

A decisive 23 to 16 defeat, administered on the local court by Boyne City's formidable basketball quintet Friday evening, practically eliminated Charlevoix's chances to win the Tip of Michigan class C conference title.

The victory, the second Boyne has won from Charlevoix this season, and defeat of the conference leading East Jordan five at Harbor Springs, put the Brotherton clan at the head of the conference standing with three victories and one defeat.

Boyne's victory was well earned. Charlevoix, through McSauby's three goals and free toss and a deuce by Anee, led 9 to 7 at the quarter. They scored four points before Boyne knew what it was all about, and it looked like just another half game for Charlevoix. However, McSauby's performance was matched by that of White and Sandel, Boyne sharpshooters, who between them managed three goals and a free toss before the period ended.

Charlevoix was held scoreless in the second quarter, while Boyne tallied four goals to lead 15 and 9 at the half. Boyne effectively stopped McSauby, hub of Charlevoix's offense, and this, coupled with the Kipmen's inability to locate the hoop on several opportunities, gave the visitors their margin.

Charlevoix turned the tables on Boyne in the third period, scoring on two deuces by Anee and a goal by Chew, while holding the visitors to no count. They were trailing 13 to 15 as the final period opened.

Instead of closing in on the visitors, Charlevoix's attack went dead. Chew's gift shot was their only score, while White, Deddman and Bradley combined their efforts to produce four goals. Charlevoix's desperate attempts at long shots failed completely, but Boyne tallied from almost every angle. Charlevoix went down to defeat fighting to the last minute.

John Ferenz of Traverse City, handled the game well.

Suomary: Free throws—Boyne, one out of six; Charlevoix, two out of six.

Boyne City junior high defeated Charlevoix juniors 10 to 5 in the first preliminary game, thus evening the season's count between the two teams. In the second prelim, Charlevoix reserves defeated Boyne reserves 8 to 7 in a close game.

KIPMEN PLAY FRIDAY ON EAST JORDAN COURT

Desperate Battle to Maintain Conference Standing Anticipated

Charlevoix high school basketball renew their conference warfare Friday night away from home, playing the first game of a home-and-home series with East Jordan.

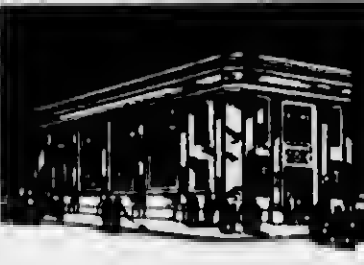

The contest is an important one for both teams. Up until last Friday evening when the Cohen-coached quintet suffered a severe setback at Harbor Springs, they were leading the conference standing. Victories over Manistota and Boyne City made them appear the strongest combination in the conference. Likewise, Charlevoix, with victories over Harbor Springs, Traverse City and Manistota, loomed as a serious threat until bowled over by Boyne City last Friday night on their own court. Now it is a scramble between the two squads to keep in the conference running.

Local fans are hopeful that the Kipmen will profit from their setback Friday night and coast through the balance of the season with a clean record. Preliminary games between Charlevoix and East Jordan junior high and reserves have been scheduled.

HOARDED DOLLARS

A dollar put away in a safety deposit vault or hidden at home is not only dead, but it prevents other dollars from being born.

But now, frightened by depression, people are hoarding at least a billion and a half dollars.

Those dollars, back in the banks, would provide the means to create fifteen billions of dollars in credit. We do business not with currency but with bank checks. The hoarded dollars would give enough bank money to start business going, to make employment general and to increase every income in the country.

The hoarded dollars are traitor dollars. They are serving only the enemy—depression.

And, like all traitors, they will lose. A dollar that is hoarded instead of being put into a bank or into goods will be worth less when it skulks out of hiding than it is now. For it will come out only when prices rise and then the bargains will be gone.

LIBELLING GEORGE

Editors throughout the country are being very generously supplied with material by the George Washington Bicentennial commission, which seeks to make the celebration, in 1932, of the two hundredth anniversary of Washington's birth, a success in the grand manner. Enough stuff has been sent out in the past six months to completely fill a good sized newspaper, and, of course, the material ranges from the authentic and little known but highly interesting to the ridiculous. A little while ago it was necessary for a learned professor to refute a statement to the effect that Washington invented ice cream. The facts seem to be that ice cream was known, although not universally, several centuries before Washington first went into the lumber business by cutting down his dad's cherry tree. Mr. Marco Polo, for example, is reported to have brought back from Cathay recipes for this now popular delicacy. To get on with the story, however, the centennial commission lately makes the statement that Washington was perhaps the first man in America to raise the domestic carrot. The commission says it has discovered in his personal papers accounts of experiments made by Washington in improving the strain of carrots grown in his kitchen garden. This is too much for even our patriotism. We refuse to believe that George Washington was the first American to discover creamed carrots. One might as well say that he also kept an acre of spinach and complete the slander.—Grand Rapids Chronicle.

COUZENS HAS CORRECT IDEA

Worthy of commendation is Senator James Couzens' proposal that any salary slashing in the government should be started with 25 per cent cuts in the pay of Congressmen. "This business of cutting salaries is starting at the wrong point," Senator Couzens said. "Let us make a 25 per cent cut in the salaries of members of Congress and Cabinet members."

"When we have first evinced our willingness to make sacrifices, then it will be time to discuss reductions for others. I favor this especially since members of Congress have six to nine months a year in which to engage in other remunerative enterprises."

* MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN *

Even during the present industrial depression, building and loan associations of Michigan can point with satisfaction to the fact that they are enabling many persons to acquire homes and also are making a substantial return upon their investments, according to Coleman C. Vaughan, supervisor of the building and loan division of the department.

The statement was made after Mr. Vaughan had studied the last monthly reports from the various companies.

"New problems have been presented to all financial institutions and the building and loan associations, under the supervision of the department, are coping with unusual conditions in splendid fashion," he said.

At the present time there are 66 building and loan associations in Michigan with assets over $160,000,000.

The last month for which reports are available is December, 1931. During that month, according to Mr. Vaughan's compilation, 14 associations showed a decrease of $58,683 in bank indebtedness, 3 showed a slight increase, 15 showed no change while 24 associations had no bank indebtedness on their books.

Only about three weeks are left in which to secure 1932 motor vehicle plates. Motorists will find themselves inconvenienced and delayed unless they purchase plates soon. Those who wait until the last two or three days of the month undoubtedly will be compelled to stand in line for long periods while 1932 plates may be secured now without any delay.

What Advertising Does for the Purchaser

SUPPOSE for a moment that advertising didn't exist—that there were no trade-marked goods—that everything you bought had to be judged by its look, or feel or taste.

IMAGINE yourself setting out to do the morning's shopping under such conditions. You'd drive down the street, looking in windows for the articles you needed—the blouses for Johnny, the half-dozen bath towels, the toilet soap, the groceries for tomorrow's meals. You'd stop, ask questions, examine the towels, smell the soap, wonder if here was your money's worth, or if you might find something better farther on. And though you followed this procedure steps after weary steps, you could never be sure.

COMPUTED simply in terms of gasoline and tires, and shoe-leather, advertising saves you a startling sum every year. And if you add the value of your time, the amount is vastly increased.

WHEN you buy a product that is advertised you know in advance what you will get, how much it costs and where you can obtain it. That is why, in millions of modern homes, the newspaper advertising columns are a guide to purchases.

READ the newspaper advertisements, decide what you need, then buy with assurance.

SCHOOL NOTES

The school halls were filled with the noisy scattering of students; some stopped at this class room and some at the next; everywhere was the bustle of busy activity. Then quiet; at least, comparative quiet. Class room doors were closed and, after the sound had died away, the halls regained their normalcy.

Just another school teacher at the desk in front; students facing him in well-marked seats. But wait, there is a difference; there is a certain grownupness about the students that makes them look as old—even older—than their teachers. Why yes, of course, it is our parents. I see my mother and father, my aunt and uncle. I should be home doing the housework. There is another difference, too. Mother leans over and speaks to her near neighbor and the teacher, seeing her, smiles. Maybe he feels like making her stay two hours after school but he controls this ignoble ambition and simply nods and smiles. There! One of father's business associates is coming in late, tiptoeing in on shoes that squeak in spite of his care. Ah! He'll have to present a good excuse for his tardiness! But no! The teacher goes to meet him, nods cordially and indicates a vacant seat well toward the back of the room that has been overlooked. What is this? Mrs. Blank fidgets; she's thirsty. She looks all about and sees no fountain. Mrs. Smith, beside her, tells her that there is a fountain in the hall. Mrs. Blank picks up her coat, leaves her seat and walks noisily, unconcernedly, into the hall. She drops her purse and it makes the teacher jump. He hurries to her side, picks it up, and with a smile, holds open the door for her to pass out.

Well, well! What kind of a school is this? We ask. Night school, they say.

We're glad for our parents, and we add that we would as soon postpone our education until we became parents.

There were several Charlevoix entries in the Petoskey races held last Saturday in that city. The racers acquitted themselves very well. David Livingston took first place in his own class and second place in the class above him. His brother took second place in his class.

Music

Unusual sounds are issuing from

Miss Atkinson's music room this week, for the 5th and 6th graders have started a harmonica band. The fever for playing a harmonica seems to be catching and not only are old mouth-organs coming out of their hiding places, but many new ones have shown themselves as well.

Rodney Belding and Albert Gill are the most professional players in the group and with great patience they are teaching the new members how to play. With a few more lessons the group promises to be an organization of which we should be proud.

A few weeks ago about six of our local band players went to Traverse City to listen to the Traverse high school band give a concert. Again last week they went to East Jordan where the East Jordan high school band gave a concert. They heard how the other bands play, their mistakes, etc., and thus are able to correct their own mistakes and are able to tell how they rate with the other bands in the district.

Valentine's day is coming. Everyone made valentines for art work on Thursday.

The beginners and first grade language classes are writing "America" for sent work.

The sixth grade geography class is making free hand maps of the United States showing the products and railways on it.

The seventh grade geography class made weather maps of the United States. They are also planning to make a barometer if they can get the material to work with.

The "Reds" and "Blues" were busy last week. The contest closed with both sides having 27, making a total of 54 visitors. We wish to extend our thanks to the parents and also invite them to visit school again. Both sides have to help put on the Valentine day program.

There was an error in last week's news. The article which stated that the girls' coat room showed lack of work, should have read as follows: "The boys are behind in keeping their coat room clean. The girls have put up new pictures, while the boys haven't made much showing." Error corrected by Charles Dhasleer.

EDITORIALS

A STUDY OF HEALTH

Claims that the United States is becoming overly "health conscious," especially as regards personal health, are vigorously denied by Dr. John Sundwall, director of the division of hygiene and public health in the University of Michigan in a recent issue of the American Journal of Physical Education. We still have many health problems to settle before we can claim a perfectly healthy nation, and in the last analysis all community bad health must be attacked and cured by keeping the individual well from birth to old age, states Dr. Sundwall.

"During 1928 there were 1,378,675 deaths reported by the census, one-sixth of which occurred before the age of five years, largely from faulty care at birth, diseases caused by wrong nutrition, or controllable infections such as measles, diphtheria, smallpox and other infectious diseases, the after effects of which are three-fourths of all deafness, and speech defects, one-third of all our cripples and a large share of the blind," says Dr. Sundwall.

Medical science has already raised the expectation of life to 65 years, but of the deaths in 1928 64 per cent occurred before this age, Dr. Sundwall states. The chief killers of adults were in order of importance, the degenerative disease of the heart, arteries and kidneys, the respiratory diseases, pneumonia, tuberculosis and influenza, externally caused deaths, accidents and injuries, and last the cancer and malignant tumor group, which alone slew 109,770.

On the economic side of illness and early death, it is estimated that wage earners lose close to two billion a year through illness, and manufacturers unknown sums due to inefficiency of men ill but still at work. Our annual medical treatment bill is two and a half billion, and the economic value of lives lost which might have been saved is calculated at six billion dollars. All this is exclusive of the tremendous and growing burden of the care of insane, of whom there are 300,000 institutionalized, and the criminal members of society who are physical or mental defectives, Dr. Sundwall points out.

"In spite of the progress of medical science we are just now approaching the dawn of a real era of health consciousness for the individual citizen, not the emotional attitude which imagines all sorts of symptoms, and resorts to all sorts of quack cures, but a reasoned interest in the functioning of the body and mind as the tools we have to meet life with, and which deserve at least as much thought as an automobile," says Dr. Sundwall.

GREAT AIRWAY PROGRESS

During the coming year 30 new radio-range beacons for the guidance of aircraft in flight and ten new airway communication stations for broadcasting weather and other information to pilots will be installed along the federal air routes. In addition, 15 uncompleted radio-beacon stations already under construction will be in operation by next July.

This information comes from the aeronautics branch of the department of commerce. It suggests how swiftly equipment for commercial air lines is being extended, making for greater safety to all persons using air transportation.

America, lagging far behind European aviation development in the years just after the World War, is now said to be 16 years ahead of the rest of the world. Though we were a little slow getting started, we seem to be going.

CHILDREN IN INDUSTRY

Although progress has been made in recent years in removing boys and girls from industrial competition with their elders, there remains a big opportunity for social improvement in this field.

The annual report of the National Child Labor Committee states that 27 years of effort have taken at least a million children out of industry, and that those below the age of 14 are now pretty well protected against exploitation in certain unsuitable trades and occupations.

There are, however, still too many youngsters doing work unsuited to their years and strength, but their average age is about two years above that of the working children of a generation ago.

The committee estimates that there are still a million or more boys and girls below the age of 18 who are doing the work of men and women. These young workers represent a serious factor in the problem of unemployment. There may be many more who are looking for work and, thereby depressing the wage levels and increasing competition for employment, for the report says that according to the 1930 census there are 3,326,152 children in this country between the ages of seven and 18, who are not attending school.

The ideal remedy would be to raise the average age of useful education. There are many cases, of course, in which economic necessity compels the boys and girls of a hard-pressed family to find work early as they can. But where there is no such need, parents will serve the best interests of their children and help to solve the problem of unemployment by keeping their youngsters busy in school until they have reached their full strength and acquired as good equipment as possible for the life work before them.

'GET GOING' NOW

No matter how bright the prospects, a new business has to go through a certain amount of grief before it turns the corners and produces profits.

Contacts have to be made, product or service has to be perfected, confidence has to be established.

Profits in any business come from the natural flow of orders to the concern. It always costs more to get orders from new customers than to fill the orders which come without specific effort because the customer has bought before and naturally returns for goods which satisfy him.

A business established when new orders are hard to get will be based on sound economies which will produce steady profits as general buying increases.

If you can figure out a way to make ends meet at this time, you will ride on the tide of prosperity during flush times and will be prepared to meet future recessions when they come.

Get out a pencil. Can the idea you have carry the load now? If it can, don't wait. Now is the time to start.

If you have enough capital to carry the burden of starting for six months and you feel you can handle the three essentials of business—production, sales, finance—go it alone. If your capital is not sufficient, get a partner, but be sure he brings something at the business besides money. If you are a producer, get a salesman or sound financial man. If you have sales ability, the chances are you need help in the other directions. Hunt for these qualities. Take them in with you on a fair division, and get going.

NO COUNTY AID FOR AUTOIST

Persons who own automobiles and are receiving help from the county poor commission must surrender their cars immediately or all aid will be cut off. These instructions were given by the board of supervisors yesterday at a joint meeting held with the poor commission at the county infirmary. An editorial appearing in the Pioneer Tribune last week citing an instance in which a man was arrested for drunken driving and was also getting aid from the county brought considerable criticism and resulted in the meeting held Wednesday. It was uncovered at the meeting that quite a number of others were getting aid from the county and also driving cars. It is planned to store the cars in the sheds of the county road commission. — Manitowish Pioneer Tribune.

Dairymen Use Steamed Bone Meal to Balance Ration

Everyone who attended Farmers' Week and who were interested in dairying heard with considerable interest of the latest experiments on the use of phosphorus.

In this experiment quite a large number of animals were used and divided up into several different groups, each group being fed a different ration. One group was fed a ration that was considered a low phosphorus ration, while another group was fed a normal phosphorus ration, and by transferring the animals from one ration to the other the following facts were brought out.

First, the higher quality roughage fed such as alfalfa and sweet clover hay the more necessary it is to incorporate steamed bone meal in the ration to offset the low phosphorus that these two roughages contain. And, secondly, apparently there is something about phosphorus that is closely tied up with efficient milk production. This is explained by the fact that if one feeds high protein roughages such as alfalfa and sweet clover one usually does not feed a very high protein grain ration. Then, it is noted that the phosphorus content is too low to maintain the proper milk production, as the common grains raised on the farm and fed in large quantities such as corn, oats, and barley are relatively low in phosphorus, and this plus the low content in the roughage fed brings the above result. If fed an average roughage such as mixed hays, bean straw, corn stalks, etc., it is found that they are much higher in phosphorus content. Then, feeding a low protein roughage like the above mentioned, one normally feeds larger quantities of high protein feeds in the grain rations, thus unconsciously having a higher phosphorus content.

A recommended feeding is at least two pounds of steamed bone meal per hundred pounds of grain if feeding normal amounts of grain, and three pounds per hundred pounds of grain if feeding a very light grain ration. Steamed bone meal is the best source of obtaining phosphorus and calcium. You will be able to obtain higher production and the cows will be in the best physical condition if this suggestion is followed.

In conclusion, merely remember that the use of steamed bone meal is more necessary when you are using high quality alfalfa and sweet clover hay as a roughage than if you are using the lower protein hays.

Club Leaders to Meet at Charlevoix

All club leaders, rural school teachers, and club officers are cordially invited and urged to attend a leaders' training meeting to be held in Charlevoix Friday night, February 12th. It will be in the form of a banquet to be served at 6 o'clock, eastern standard time, at Mont's cafe.

This is the first opportunity that the club folks have had to become acquainted and to receive suggestions and advice on problems pertaining to the carrying out of a highly successful club program. A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, and Miss Sylvia Wixson, assistant state club leader, will be present to discuss in detail the many features of club work and how to most efficiently carry out the program.

When one considers that at the present time there are some 29 different clubs in the county, having approximately 200 boys and girls enrolled, then one begins to realize the wonderful merits of this program and the many advantages that it affords those who join the movement. These clubs consist of clothing projects for the girls, and handicraft projects for the boys, with a hot lunch project thrown in which is made up of both boys and girls.

It is hoped a large attendance will greet Mr. Kettunen and Miss Wixson and enjoy the banquet and other features connected with it. Remember the banquet will be served at 6 o'clock, eastern standard time.

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

STATE SEEKS TO PLANT SHINER IN INLAND LAKES

Experiments will be carried on within the coming year by several of the state's fish hatcheries to determine whether the lake shiner will propagate in the inland waters of Michigan.

The fish division of the department of conservation believes that if this miniature species will live and breed in the inland lakes, it will form a valuable food for game fish.

Like perch, unnumbered millions of shiners annually run up many streams bordering along the Great Lakes. If it is found they thrive in inland lakes, many will be transplanted.

MANY HUNTERS FAVOR ONE-BUCK DEER LAW

Report Shows 58% of Two Thousand Want Present Regulation

If the reports received from over 2,000 deer hunters is a fair sample, the majority of Michigan deer hunters favor a continuation of the one-buck law.

Of 2,000 hunters returning reports to the game division of the department of conservation following the close of the 1931 deer season, 58 per cent favored a continuation of the one-buck law. The rest were divided in their opinions as to what change might be more satisfactory. About 23 per cent wanted a one-deer law, nearly seven per cent desired a closed season, and less than three per cent favored a shorter open season.

More than half of the 2,000 hunters reported getting their buck and a slightly higher percentage of those hunting in the upper peninsula got deer than did those in the lower peninsula. Of 1,574 hunters reporting who went north of the Straits, 56 per cent reported killing a deer, while 54 per cent of those who hunted south of the Straits filled their licenses.

These 2,000 hunters reported killing nineteen bears and seeing 169 bears in the upper peninsula and 33 in the lower peninsula.

Over half of the hunters reported that deer were about the same or increasing in number where they hunted. The average number of deer seen per hunter during the season was 21 and the average number of bucks seen per hunter ran between two and three.

New Chevrolets Now Displayed Aid Employment Throughout U. S.

Right: Head-on View

Chevrolet's new car for 1932, embodying silent, Synchro-Mesh transmission in combination with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost, and a fully equipped automobile of recent years, is now displayed in dealer showrooms throughout the country.

While remaining in the price class in which it won world leadership this year, the new 1932 models offer features heretofore considered exclusive to the high price field, as well as a new front end mounting never before shown on any car.

Called "The Great American Value for 1932," the line offers in support of this slogan a twenty per cent increase in power, faster acceleration, top speeds of 65 to 70 miles an hour, new body styles with a modern streamlined styling, downward car body, counterbalanced crankshaft, finger-tight front seat adjustment, and many other refinements over the 1931 models, which, from these points of view, were the most successful in the history of the company.

Twenty standard and deluxe models are in the new line, of which the Special Sedan, in four above, is the aristocrat. The latter view shows the new front end and the massive, powerful, tapering hood enclosing the improved engine.

In addition to interest centering on the car themselves, the announcement at this time has national significance in that activity brought on by production of the new cars is expected to add materially to the earnings of 200,000 people throughout the country just before the holiday season and before the severe winter season sets in.

The company's 21 domestic plants all are busy producing cars as fast as they can, and it is expected that more than 200,000 of the new cars already have been built for dealers' showrooms to display, and more than that quantity are expected to roll off the assembly lines during the present month.

The new car is the first in the low price field to offer the combination of silent Synchro-Mesh transmission with selective free wheeling as standard equipment at no extra cost. A control button on the instrument panel enables the driver to use the free wheeling device only when he desires, and he is thus able to utilize the full braking power of the engine when desired.

The front end offers a radically changed appearance, with a new type radiator, a radiator grille built integral with the hood, a double-deck arching gracefully between the fenders, in which are mounted, bullet-shaped headlights and a trumpet-type horn just beneath the left headlamp. All models have adjustable hood ports chrome plated on all the sport and deluxe models, and all have cow ventilators controlled from the driver's seat.

With the new streamlined bodies, the external sun visor has been eliminated, and its purpose is now served by an internal visor adjustable to any position in front of the driver. The left front window also has an equalizer built in so that the driver may adjust the window with little effort. On the top rail of the instrument panel is a new cable actuator for the convenience of front seat passengers.

Robes, silk, velvet, cord, window shades, arm rests and ash trays on both sides of the rear seat, dome light, foot rest, large door pockets and many other big car refinements are standard with various models in the new line.

By unanimous vote, the Club confirmed the action recently taken by the committee in regard to a Father and Son banquet, on Washington's birthday. Dr. Fallow of Petoskey, will give the address at the banquet.

MANY ATTEND MEETING OF MENS' CLUB

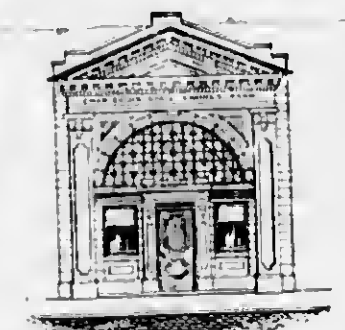

Old Officers Re-elected and Future Plans Made Monday Night

A good attendance and a manifestation of keen interest were apparent at the initial winter meeting of the Community Men's Club held in the dining room of the Methodist church Monday evening.

In fact, the interest was so good that, contrary to expectations of some, it was unanimously voted to continue the meetings for a time at least. Those present did justice to an ample meal prepared by the supper committee.

The officers of last year were re-elected as follows: president, Dr. F. McMillan; vice-president, O. P. North; secretary, Fay Bradley; treasurer, Clarence Meggison. Supper and entertainment committees were appointed and the latter instructed to arrange the program for next Monday evening. Some interesting features are planned for that session.

COUNTY NORMAL

There are faint rumors of another party not far distant.

Anyone wishing to take a trip around the world may interview some of the normal geographers, who can tell them all about the world, for they can travel from pole to pole and the entire distance around the earth, stopping at all places of interest, in a few hours. They travel from London to Paris across the English channel by land, but we can't see how they do it.

Last week the geography class gave reports ranging from "Isle Royale" in Michigan, to the "Zambezi river" in Africa. They were very interesting.

It has been rumored that this week we will learn how to plan a correct diet. Anyone interested may ask the president for an interview with the dietician.

In accordance with the plans for the Bicentennial, the normal class, individually or in groups, are working out original poems, plays and orations. The month's work will culminate in a patriotic program arranged by Mr. Moran and Mr. Coulter.

Training Room News

Last week the children enjoyed making Washington booklets for their art lesson. This week they are making valentines under the direction of Miss Manley.

Patty Hyers has brought in a bouquet of pussy willows. We are enjoying them very much, Patty.

The sixth graders have commenced history under the guidance of Miss Case and Miss Kreamer.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Subject, "Soul."

Wednesday evening at 7:45 first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Spirit" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 7th.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Isa. 33:22): "For the Lord is our judge, the Lord is our Law-giver, the Lord is our King; he will save us."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 264): "When we realize that Life is Spirit, never in nor of matter, this understanding will expand into self-completeness, finding all in God, good, and needing no other consciousness."

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

Feb. 14 — "The Desire of the Greatest American."

Feb. 21 — "The Skeptical Lawyer and the Law, or, Who Owns Bill Jones' Mule?" Note dates.

"Reserved Seat in Hell," the topic not given at the Mission two weeks ago on account of the storm, has been asked for and is re-announced for next Sunday afternoon.

The Club meets this week Thursday with Mrs. Partridge on Park avenue. The Aid society luncheon next Tuesday will be in the church, with addresses by Rev. Gratton and Rev. Reusch of Traverse City, Rev. Bondagh of Boyne City, and Rev. Letch of East Jordan, with some laymen from the churches. In the League, group No. 2 made the highest number of points, with No. 3 only two points behind. The collection in Sunday school last Sunday was the largest in some years, according to the records, and the new class of young men, led by the pastor, had an increased attendance. The silver medal contest will occur during the Sunday school hour next Sunday. The Men's club meets again next Monday night, and the Father and Son banquet is set for Washington's birthday. Thirty-six used the new financial system last Sunday. The receipt chart, to each member, with all totals paid by each, will be coming out in March.

AT THE MOVIES

Richard Bennett Won High Favor As Stage Artist

Richard Bennett, stage star for many years and father of Constance, Joan and Barbara, film actresses, plays one of the leading parts in "This Reckless Age," Paramount's filmization of Lewis Beach's sentimental stage classic, "The Goose Hangs High," which is the Palace theatre's feature for Saturday and Sunday.

He joined a cast comprising Chas. "Buddy" Rogers and Peggy Shannon in the juvenile leads under the direction of Frank Tuttle, who also directed "Sweetie," "It Pays to Advertise," and other screen hits.

One of the stage's leading figures for a generation, Bennett made his acting debut in 1891 and has been on the stage ever since.

Several years ago, Bennett created a sensation in the silent film version of "Damaged Goods." He also appeared in one of the early all-talking productions, "The Home Towners," and recently appeared with his daughter, Constance, in "Bought."

In "This Reckless Age" Bennett and Frances Starr play father and mother roles in a comedy-drama, in which they portray indulgent parents who sacrifice themselves to selfish modern youth. Charles "Buddy" Rogers, Peggy Shannon, Frances Dee and Charlie Ruggles carry the principal action of the youthful roles.

I had rather talk to a man who is hard of hearing than to one who is hard-headed and hard-boiled.

MEN ARE TO REPORT FOR ROAD PROJECTS

U. S. 31 RE-LOCATION EXPECTED TO START SOON

Lists of Unemployed to Be Made by Various District Chairmen for Use by Contractor

Encouraging information regarding the re-location of U. S. 31 south of Charlevoix is contained in a letter received by Chairman Harry A. Craig of the Charlevoix County Unemployment Committee from James Sinko, executive officer of the Michigan State Unemployment Commission at Lansing.

Requests that the local committee prepare their list of unemployed for work on the project is contained in the communication, and the local committee is starting at once to oil up the machinery and get the task under way.

For public information, the communication received by Mr. Craig is being published in part as follows:

"Bids have been opened for the construction of 1,698 miles of concrete pavement on U. S. 31, Charlevoix and southwest. Contractors will be requesting men for this job from the County Unemployment Committee in a week or ten days. The state highway department estimates that for full time employment the job will require approximately 20 men, 10 teams and one truck. For half-time employment this number should be doubled.

"Terms of the contract specify half-time employment and a minimum wage for common labor of 35c per hour. We presume each county will desire to furnish a number of men, etc., for that portion of the work lying within their county. If for any reason it is desirable to do otherwise, the county chairman can arrange by mutual agreement.

"Please be ready with a list when the contractor calls for men. Would suggest that list include about double the men he will require, so he can make his own selection. These lists to be arranged as you prefer, but would suggest most needy men be selected, which is in keeping with the 1932 program for this winter's work to relieve distress."

Chairman Craig announces that unemployed will be asked to report to the various district chairmen so that they may be included in the list. Through this arrangement, in Charlevoix they will report to Arthur Bergeon; at Boyne City to Dr. Guy C. Conkle; at Boyne Falls to William J. Pearson, and at East Jordan to Howard Porter.

Unemployed are requested to do this at once, so that there will be no delay when the contractor asks for men. From the letter quoted, it may be gathered that work will be started within the next week or so, inasmuch as special road projects are under way in the eastern part of the county, a good share of men for the local project will be taken from the district around Charlevoix.

REPEAT LENTEN SERVICE PROGRAM SUNDAY

Combined Choir to Appear at Christ Episcopal Church at 4 o'clock

The beautiful Lenten vesper service given in Emmanuel Episcopal church at Petoskey last Sunday is to be repeated at Christ Episcopal church next Sunday afternoon, February 21st, at 4 o'clock.

The service was such a decided success from every standpoint that it was thought a fine idea to present it to the Charlevoix public so they might enjoy it also.

The choir, which numbers thirty voices, from Petoskey and Charlevoix, will sing. Mrs. Leo Brown and Claude Greenway will play a violin solo. The opening number for four violins and organ is exquisite. This will be played by Mrs. Wingate, Miss Louise Snyder and Miss Lucille Germond of Petoskey, and Mrs. Ruth Soule of Charlevoix, with Mrs. Ray O'Brien at the organ.

Divine worship will be conducted by Rev. Edward S. Donn of Petoskey. Mrs. Ray O'Brien of this city, is organist and choir director.

The ladies of the Church of God will give a 25c Washington bi-centennial supper at the home of Mrs. Reuben Pearl, Friday, February 19, beginning at 5 o'clock p. m. Program and bazaar will follow supper. Public invited.—Adv. 711.

PILGRIM CIRCLE AFFAIR WAS ENJOYABLE

Leap Year Valentine Party With Program Given Friday Night

The Pilgrim Circle of the Congregational church celebrated Lincoln's birthday with a Leap Year Valentine party Friday evening, February 12. Dinner was served at 6 o'clock with approximately 70 people in attendance. The dining room was appropriately decorated for a Valentine occasion.

After dinner the following program was enjoyed. Miss Esther Mary Atkinson, head of the school music department, had charge of the music. Representatives of the Pilgrim Circle sang their motto song, followed by a German song by Mrs. N. A. Shores. The Willis sisters played a duet and little Allan Sterritt gave a recitation. A character play of George Washington, "The Truth Always," was presented by Dorothy and Celia McCartney, Lewis Greenman, George Kelderhouse and Robert Livingston. Following this Mr. Parker gave a very interesting talk about the famous men born in February. A paper on the life of Lincoln was read by Mrs. Parker and two readings were given by Mrs. Gerald Rush.

PLANS BEING MADE FOR CAGE TOURNEY

DISTRICT MEET IN LOCAL GYM MARCH 3, 4 AND 5

Five Class C and Eight Class D Schools Will Compete—Ferez and Reinke Chosen Officials

Charlevoix high school athletic officials are busy making plans for the 1932 district basketball tournament for class C and D schools of this region, which will be held in the local gymnasium on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 3, 4 and 5.

The tournament will this year be conducted under new rules recently adopted by the Michigan Interscholastic Athletic association. There will be no consolation series as in former years, thus cutting the number of games from sixteen or more down to nine or ten. In case of tie score, there will be no overtime play. In this event, the winning team will be decided upon by the number of field goals, free shots and personal fouls during the contest. Five points are awarded for the greatest number of field goals, four points to the team with the greatest percentage of free throws and three points to the team with the lesser number of personal fouls. If there is still a tie, members of each team will throw one free throw and the game will go to the team making the greatest number.

Thirteen teams will probably take part in the tournament here, five class C and eight class D. In the first division there will be Manistota, East Jordan, Boyne City, Harbor Springs and Charlevoix. In class D there will be Ellsworth, Bellaire, Central Lake, Boyne Falls, Alanson, Pellston, Mackinaw City and Alba. Charlevoix is the class C defending champion, and Central Lake the class D.

John H. Ferez of Traverse City, who has handled a good share of games on the local court this season, will be head tournament official. Assisting him will be F. Reinke of Rogers City, a very capable official. Final entries will probably be made by the latter part of this week and the draw for positions the week following.

CHILD HEALTH COMMITTEE MEETING THURSDAY

Miss Alice Edna Lockwood R. N., who recently took over the duties of county nurse, is desirous of having a large attendance at the meeting so that she may get better acquainted with the workers of the county with whom her efforts will be closely linked in the future. Miss Edna L. Hamilton, R. N., of Detroit, who is supervisor of nurses for the Children's Fund of Michigan, will be present at the meeting Thursday afternoon.

BEARS LOSERS ON "FLUKE" TO ALPENA

"BOOING" OF FANS GAVE VISITORS WINNING FREE SHOTS

Final Score of 28 to 26 Came After Four Regular and Two Sessions of Overtime Play

Unfortunate circumstances robbed Charlevoix's Polar Bear basketball team of a well-earned victory over the strong Alpena independent quintet on the local court Wednesday night.

After battling through four regular periods and two overtime sessions in their attempt to avenge a 23 to 16 defeat on Alpena's floor a week previous, the Polar Bears were forced to bow to a 2-point margin. The final count was 28 to 26.

As had been expected, local fans were treated to a thrilling duel between two evenly matched teams. The Bears opened the scoring on Davenport's two goals and after a desperate period emerged in the lead 6 to 5. The second session was equally close, ending with Charlevoix out in front by the slender margin of 12 and 10. The third session was a repetition of the two previous ones. First the Bears would lead by one goal, then Alpena would even the score. The session closed with the Bears still holding a two-point margin with the count 16 and 14.

The fourth period saw the Bears first out in front by a single goal, then Alpena would even the count. With but a few seconds yet to play, Alpena found the meshes for the deuce which evened the score at 22-22 just as the final whistle ended the regular playing period.

Starting the first overtime session, the Bears scored four points on Kipke's goal and free toss and a gift shot by Davenport while holding Alpena to no count. There was only 30 seconds to play and victory seemed certain. However, in a mix-up near the side-lines, Davenport slugged LaLonde, Alpena forward. He was removed from the game and LaLonde given a foul shot. LaLonde missed amid the "boos" of a certain element of local fans, and as a warning, Referee Hallett gave LaLonde another shot. The fans persisted in their unsportsmanlike demonstration and the Alpena man was given two more before the excitement subsided.

LaLonde sank three of the gift shots to bring his team within a point of the score. Manager Todd of the Polar Bears took the floor and apologized to the Alpena team for the unfortunate happening. As play once more resumed, Kipke, who went in for Davenport, fouled LaLonde, and he sank the shot to tie the score at 26-26. In the second overtime session Alpena found the meshes for the deuce which meant victory.

For Charlevoix, Davenport led with 9 points. Brown scored 6, Smith and Higman 4, and Kipke 2. LaLonde was high for Alpena with 7. LaPine scored 6, Kraft 6, Peterson 5 and Thomas 2.

It was a tough break for the Polar Bears, but a good lesson in sportsmanship to many local fans. Manager Todd and his team are to be congratulated for their fair attitude and Referee Hallett will receive the plaudits of all genuine sportsmen for the manner in which he handled the game.

The Polar Bear management has announced that Alpena will return here for another game next Tuesday, February 23rd.

BRUCKER TO CALL LEGISLATURE BACK

EXTRA SESSION FOR TAX RELIEF IS A CERTAINTY

Move Is Result of Road Tax Conference Held Monday at Lansing—Expect Call in Two Weeks

Members of the Michigan legislature are awaiting the formal call of Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker summoning them to Lansing to provide property owners relief from their tax burdens. Concluding a day's session of his state-wide highway tax relief conference Monday, the governor announced that he will call the state solons into extra session.

The announcement was brief. After listening to the bickering and oratory of representatives of many of the state's counties for six hours, he said:

"I realize that any rash action at the present time might do a grave injustice to all of our people. I am not convinced that it is necessary to increase any tax, including the gasoline tax, at the present time.

"However, I am convinced that the matters which have come before you should be presented to the constitutional body provided for that purpose.

"I shall call a special session of the legislature."

Later the governor said that the formal call will be issued within the next two weeks and that it will limit the solons to tax relief matters.

"I shall not open the door for a general legislative assembly," he said.

There is a possibility, however, that the executive may include several other important matters in his message in addition to a request for a tax relief plan.

One of these will be amendment of the banking laws as the result of failures which have accompanied the depressed economic conditions. De-mand has also been made that the new re-registration section included in the election code of the 1931 legislature be repealed because of the financial burden it is said to place on cities.

Strictly interpreted, Brucker's announcement limits himself to a re-adjustment of existing taxes and bans a proposal that the gasoline tax be increased. One of the four plans submitted to the conference Monday sought to raise this levy, returning the additional revenues to the counties for the purpose of eliminating local road taxes.

Two of the other plans propose that all of the weight tax be returned to the counties to accomplish this purpose. Only one-half is returned now. The fourth plan proposes establishment of a $2,000,000 fund from which counties might borrow to refinance their Covert road bond obligations. The governor indicated no preference.

Of the four plans, that sponsored by the Michigan Real Estate association found most favor among the delegates, although the governor permitted no vote on any of them. This program calls for return of the entire weight tax to the counties in addition to the sum given them under the McNitt bill through which the counties absorb the township road systems in a five year period.

It contains also a proposal for a gasoline tax increase, but its proponents insist that this is not a vital provision of the plan. — Petoskey Evening News.

METHODIST COUNTY MEET HELD TUESDAY

Visiting Pastors On Interesting Program at Local Church

The Charlevoix county convention of Methodist churches, held in the local church this week Tuesday, was well attended and the program was highly interesting.

Rev. Hurd, as chairman for the county, had invited both preachers and laymen to speak, and the Aid society to furnish luncheon at noon.

Rev. Paul Boodagh of Boyne City, spoke on "Aids to Personal Religious Life;" Rev. James Leitch of East Jordan on "Religion and Social Service;" Rev. O. P. Gratton of Central City, Traverse City, as guest speaker, spoke on "Forms and Spirit of Worship;" Mrs. W. W. Hurd on "Does and Don'ts in Young People's Work;" and Mrs. Adah Beeman on "The Principle of Tithing."

There was much interesting discussion and the district superintendent expressed himself as highly pleased with the success of the affair, although the county churches are fewer in number than most of the counties in the district.—Contributed by Rev. W. W. Hurd.

CHARLEVOIX WINS OVER EAST JORDAN

TOOK EASY 20 TO 10 VERDICT THERE, FRIDAY NIGHT

Local Junior High Defeated 16 to 9 in Close Game—Harbor Springs Comes Here Friday

Charlevoix high school basketballers climb to the second rung of the Tip of Michigan conference ladder by handing the aspiring East Jordan quintet a neat trimming on their own hardwood last Friday night. The defeat sent the Jordanites into third position.

The Kipmen were clearly masters of the situation at East Jordan. While their basket-shooting was slightly off form in the first session, causing many misses, they were in possession of the ball most of the time. Chew's goal and Davenport's free toss gave them three points at the quarter, while Jordan was held to a single gift shot.

In the second session, goals by Ance and Davenport, and a deuce and free toss by Chew, gave Charlevoix 10 points. Jordan was held scoreless throughout the period. The Kipmen increased their lead 20 to 3 in the third stanza. McNulty counted twice from the field and Chew added two goals and a pair of gift shots.

The Jordanites made a desperate rally in the final session, netting 3 goals and one free toss for a total of seven points. Charlevoix's only counter was on Smith's gift shot, but the heavy margin they had piled up in the earlier periods was more than sufficient to offset East Jordan efforts.

Chew was the main point-gatherer for Charlevoix with 11. McNulty followed with 4, Davenport 3, Ance 2 and Smith 1. Higgins was best for East Jordan.

In a close and hard-fought preliminary, East Jordan junior high defeated Charlevoix juniors 16 to 9. The contest was close up to the final period, when East Jordan pulled out in front with several goals for a safe margin.

Charlevoix plays on their own floor this week, meeting Coach Quinn's Harbor Springs aggregation for the second time. Charlevoix already has one victory over the Harbor Springs team and are hoped to repeat on their home court.

RAILROAD ANNOUNCE INN WILL NOT OPEN

Business Decline Blamed for Action—Private Operators May Lease

A definite announcement was made here Tuesday morning by John Dunphy, general passenger agent of the Pere Marquette Railway Company, that The Inn hotel would not open under railroad management for the 1932 season.

Mr. Dunphy states that a gradual decline in business over a period of years had caused an appreciable loss to the railroad in keeping the hotel open, and for that reason this final decision had been definitely made.

Mr. Dunphy stated, however, that efforts would be made to lease the hotel to responsible parties, and if these efforts were successful, there is still a chance that the hotel might open.

FOURTH TRI-POST MEETING ENJOYED

COUNTY LEGIONNAIRES WATCH SNAPPY BOXING BOUTS

Thirty-four Local Members Turn Out, Swelling Total Present to Over One Hundred

The fourth tri-post meeting of the American Legion of Charlevoix county was held at the Legion home on East Garfield avenue, Tuesday evening, with an excellent attendance from the three posts of the county and from Petoskey, Judge Joseph Murphy, Commander Leo Holmberg of Carl O. Weaver Post No. 194, and Comrades Bellaire and Pat Morrison. A very satisfying supper was served at 7 o'clock p. m., the newly remodeled kitchen proving its efficiency to the complete satisfaction of the men's detail.

The meeting opened in charge of Commander Ole Olsen of Rebec-Sweet Post No. 227, East Jordan, and the full ceremony was used, including the singing of "America" and the impressive thirty second silence in memory of departed comrades during which taps were played on a bugle. Judge Murphy spoke on various matters, notably that of adjusted compensation and gave the assembly the benefit of his experience in forming and conducting a huge and drum corps. Comrade Henry, editor of "Forward March," the tri-post publication, reported finances of the publication in good shape and promised a fine issue for the next number. Comrade Benker of East Jordan outlined a very heartily conceived and ambitious project of his own for bringing to the public in graphic fashion the part played by the veterans of America's three last wars culminating in the formation of the American Legion in the form of a four-act play in which members of all three posts should participate. A committee of one from each post, including Dr. Benker, were appointed by their respective commanders to consider the project at length.

Following the meeting, three snappy exhibition boxing bouts were put on by Kenneth Heise vs. Clinton Howe, Kenneth Heise vs. Don Cross, and Carleton Ager vs. Archie Swart-out. The bout between Heise and Howe was a blindfold affair and provoked much hilarity.

Comrade Bulow, Clerk of Charlevoix county, urges all Legionnaires and ex-service men who have not already registered their discharges at his office to do so at once before the next term of court starts and election work begins, so that he will have time to take care of the recording. This recording of discharges is especially important, since the Legion department headquarters is calling for verification of each veteran's right to membership in the Legion, especially with reference to his eligibility to hold office therein.

Commander Lee Allard wishes all members to be present at the post's next regular meeting on Tuesday evening, February 23, 1932, as he has a matter of great importance to bring up at that time.

LOCAL DEALER STARTS BELATED ICE HARVEST

Cut for Booth Fisheries Co. Started Wednesday at Susan Lake

The Charlevoix Coal & Ice Company, local wholesale ice dealers, started preparations Wednesday morning on a somewhat delayed harvest.

Equipment has been moved to Susan lake, where a cut to fill the Booth Fisheries ice house will be made. Access to the lake has been furnished at the Andrew Struthers farm on the Charlevoix-Petoskey highway north of Greensky hill. The output will be trucked into the city.

Whether or not the balance of the ice harvest is made at Susan lake depends upon weather conditions. Eight inches of good quality ice is now available there, but in case Lake Charlevoix provides ice of sufficient thickness, operations will be changed to that point.

MELLON LEAVES UNDER FIRE

Confronted by impeachment proceedings in the House of Representatives and facing attacks of using his position to further his personal financial interests, Andrew W. Mellon apparently is willing to resign as Secretary of the Treasury to accept his appointment from President Hoover as United States ambassador to Great Britain. Mr. Mellon is 77 years old, and it is known that ill health has prevented him from assuming the responsibility of his duties recently. He has served a longer term as Secretary of the Treasury than any other man in American history, except Albert Gallatin, who served 14 years. Mr. Mellon was sworn in on March 4, 1921, as a member of the Harding cabinet, and he is nearing the end of his 11th year in office.

Intermittently Mr. Mellon has been assailed on the grounds that his large interests in banking and commercial enterprises disqualified him for the secretaryship of the Treasury.

Ogden L. Mills, under-secretary, who succeeds Mr. Mellon, has shouldered the burden of the Treasury duties for an extended period. The change in officials at least will serve to quiet talk of Mr. Mellon and capitalism. His knowledge of world financial conditions should be of value to him in Europe.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

The home of Mrs. Charles Hamlin on Nettleton avenue, was the scene of a most enjoyable Valentine party last Saturday evening when the Misses Kraemer, DeMaio and Behling entertained the normal class and faculty. Though Dan Cupid came and went in many and various ways, all present seemed to have escaped the customary serious effects of his darts.

The normal class is having an initiation party on Wednesday of this week, when they will be allowed to attend the meeting of the Secret Order of Teachers at the county institute in Hioyne City. They have been well instructed in the application of the password of "Service."

A new teacher appeared on the normal faculty last Monday. Mr. Palmer started his class in school law, and will attempt in the next three weeks to acquaint the prospective teachers with the many intricacies in keeping child accounting records, in securing and holding positions, and in the numerous problems concerned with paying tuition, transporting pupils, distribution of primary money, etc.

The third teaching period has introduced a new class for student teaching, geography.

The story of George Washington and the cherry tree may be only fictitious—yet, it has its value—red cherries and white hatchets do much to make a blue room brightly patriotic.

Would you believe that there is so much to be learned about Michigan?

The class was pleasantly surprised last Friday on receiving a cordial invitation from the training room to attend the Valentine box party in their room.

Training Room
The art work this week was of a patriotic nature, under the direction of Mr. Coulter. The emblems and badges made make pretty room decorations.

Monday, February 22nd, the training and normal rooms are taking part in the grade assembly program to be given in the gymnasium at 8:45 o'clock. Their part consists of a play, which while it features February birthdays, is not distinctly of a patriotic nature. It will include Indian club exercises and drills and a folk dance.

Loose living does not make for hard muscles or an agile brain. Athletes must keep physically fit or fall. Brain workers don't offer any exception to the rule.

POMONA GRANGE MEET NEXT WITH ROCK ELM

Afternoon and Evening Sessions
There Saturday, February 20th

Charlevoix County Pomona Grange will hold their next meeting Saturday afternoon and evening with Rock Elm Grange near East Jordan.

Plans call for a cooperative dinner at 12 o'clock and a cooperative supper at 7 o'clock. Rock Elm is making extensive plans for entertainment and several new ideas are to be worked out for the betterment of the order.

Despite stormy weather the last Pomona meeting was well attended. The "travelling gavel" idea is proving very interesting. Deer Lake, Ironton, South Arm and Wilson Granges sent representatives to the meeting at Peninsula, and four members from Bear Creek were in attendance. Wilson Grange put on the program and presented Peninsula with the gavel. They will in turn give it to Ironton Grange on March 8th.

PYTHIAN SISTERS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS

Public Installation Followed by Fine Program Wednesday Evening

A public installation of officers by Pythian Sisters at the K. of P. hall last Wednesday evening proved to be a very pleasant event.

The tiny Misses Virginia Ranger and Helen Hammond and Miss Beth Heise acted as flower girls during the installation ceremonies, which were followed by a fine program.

Miss Freda McMillan and Miss Mildred Bodfish gave enjoyable readings, and a one-act play by a group of Pythian Sisters was excellent entertainment. The program was followed by music and dancing.

Delicious refreshment was served by a committee.

MRS. BARRETT APPOINTED POSTMASTER AT MACKINAW

Climaxing a bitterly contested race by three candidates for the position of postmaster at Mackinaw City, word was received last week from Washington that Mrs. C. O. Barrett received the appointment.

Highest grade in the civil service examinations was made by Olive Gowans, present postmaster. Lyle Wheeler, a war veteran, passed second, while Mrs. Barrett's grade was lowest.

Now the Mackinaw City residents are circulating petitions asking that the postoffice shall be left in the present location and not moved to the Barrett building on a side street.

LARGE CROWD OUT TO MENS' CLUB MEETING

Mock Trial, Conducted by Judge E. A. Rueggesser, Enjoyed

(Contributed by W. W. Hurd).

Nearly fifty came out Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Mens' Community club, held in the dining room of the Methodist church, to enjoy the fine dinner prepared by the committee and to be in attendance at the mock trial conducted by Judge Rueggesser.

This brought out the typical conditions in cases of juvenile delinquency. Mr. Bradley acted the part of the "bad boy," Rev. Hurd the neighbor who gave testimony in the case, Mr. Bird the part of the father, Mr. Belding the police officer who arrested him, one of a gang breaking into a store, and Mr. North the part of the school principal, where "Harry" had last attended school. The Judge conducted the affair as any such officer would, and then called the whole crowd to be the jury, to decide what could be done with the boy, showing that under the law, he could be sent to "vocational school" at Lansing, put back into the family, third, in his own family, but under probation, reporting regularly, to an officer, or in some other family, under the same probation.

There were many fine speeches by the men present, in consideration of the boy problem, and all considered it one of the most worth while evenings in a long time. Much was said for and against the Lansing school as a solution. The final vote of the "jury" was to put the boy back into his own family, under probation, reporting to an officer.

Mr. Bird reported for the Father and Son banquet, which will be held at 6:30, sharp, next Monday night. The tickets will be limited in sale, to avoid too much crowding. Dr. Pellos of Petoskey, will be the speaker, as previously announced. Tickets will be on sale in a few days.

In Memoriam

Kelderhouse.—In sad memory of our dear brother, Roy, who passed away one year ago, February 19th. The blow was hard, the shock severe, God alone knows how we miss him here.

And only those who have lost can tell the pain of parting with no farewell.

Days of sadness still come over me, Tears in silence often flow; For memories keep you ever near, Though you died one year ago.

Mrs. Roy Myers and Myrtle Kelderhouse.—Adv. 711.

What Advertising Does for the Purchaser

SUPPOSE for a moment that advertising didn't exist—that there were no trade-marked goods—that everything you bought had to be judged by its look, or feel or taste.

IMAGINE yourself setting out to do the morning's shopping under such conditions. You'd drive down the street, looking in windows for the articles you needed—the blouses for Johnny, the half-dozen bath towels, the toilet soap, the groceries for tomorrow's meals. You'd stop, ask questions, examine the towels, smell the soap, wonder if here was your money's worth, or if you might find something better farther on. And though you followed this procedure steps after weary steps, you could never be sure.

COMPUTED simply in terms of gasoline and tires, and shoe-leather, advertising saves you a startling sum every year. And if you add the value of your time, the amount is vastly increased.

WHEN you buy a product that is advertised you know in advance what you will get, how much it costs and where you can obtain it. That is why, in millions of modern homes, the newspaper advertising columns are a guide to purchases.

READ the newspaper advertisements, decide what you need, then buy with assurance.

LET advertising save you time and money.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Parent-Teacher Association

Last Wednesday evening a P. T. A. program of unusual interest was held. A junior high school quartette composed of Grace Belding, Barbara Withers, Charles Carey and John Block sang "Old King Cole," much to the pleasure of the grown-ups. A string trio, Lila McMillan, Albert McMillan and Mrs. Soule, accompanied by Mrs. Stelter, gave two much appreciated selections. Seven young contestants then presented declamations which are sponsored by the W. C. T. U. Miss French, Mr. Bingham and Mr. North then spoke concerning home study in the grades, junior and senior high schools.

Basketball Tournament

The basketball tournament which will be held here March 3, 4 and 5, has eight class D entrants and five class C entrants. It is believed that most of the entries are in and final preparations are being made.

Public Invited

A Washington birthday anniversary program will be held in the high school gymnasium at 2:30 Monday afternoon. This program is being presented by the fifth and sixth grades and junior and senior high.

Class Work

Mary Margaret Orlovski, Beverly Losket and Ruby Supernaw have just received certificates for excellency in typing. These were won according to the national rules. Congratulations girls!

The senior Civics class is planning a meeting of the United States senate. Norman Ance has been chosen as the Speaker of the Senate and vice president of the United States. Political parties have been formed with Bob Schwab heading the Democrats and Lila McMillan the Republicans. Who can tell but what perhaps some future statesman is in our midst.

The domestic science class students are making graphs of their weight and height. As a result of these graphs about one-third of the class will be cutting out desires for a time.

The Latin II classes are constructing large maps of Italy for the purpose of understanding the campaigns of Caesar in Italy.

Athletics

Last Friday, February 12th, our basketball team played at East Jordan. At the half our boys led by a score of 9 to 1. The first quarter after the half still found Charlevoix in the lead. The last quarter revealed a fighting spirit in East Jordan. They began shooting from the center of the floor and raised their score six points, making three long shots. The rally, however, was not begun soon enough. When the final whistle blew Charlevoix still led by a score of 21 to 10.

Next Friday we play Harbor Springs. Harbor has also lost several of its best players through graduation as has Charlevoix. As an example, to show how closely matched the two teams are, let's mention the games against Petoskey. Petoskey went to Harbor and beat them by two points. Their team came here and beat us by one point. Although our first game with Harbor was a victory for us both teams will have to fight. When the competition is strong it involves excitement and fast playing, so let's all go!

Assembly Program

Friday afternoon the sophomore English class, assisted by the boys' and girls' glee clubs, presented a program for the high school. Janet Livingston, Marjorie Partridge, Marguerite Chew, Jerrien Smith, Wilma Bellinger and Drew Young gave interesting discussions of different phases of poetry. The glee clubs sang several of the selections mentioned in the speeches. Albert McMillan announced the numbers.

Junior High

A Lincoln program was put on in the junior high assembly Friday afternoon. It was opened by Mr. Rider leading the assembly in "America" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic." A salute was given to the flag. Herman Meyers repeated the Gettysburg address. Some boy scouts gave a short demonstration. Ira Howe read "The House by the Side of the Road," following which the program was ended by Mr. Rider leading the assembly in the first verse of the "Star Spangled Banner."

Geography

The seventh grade geography classes have been very much interested in the Olympic games since they studied Greece. The seventh graders have been giving many reports on the ancient Olympic games which started in Greece and on the Olympic games that are being held in the United States this year.

Boys' Basketball

After an excellent start with three wins in basketball, the junior high team has lost two games, one to Boyne and another to East Jordan. The Jordan game, lost by a score of 16-9, was real close up to the last three minutes when three field goals carried the juniors beyond the Charlevoix team's reach.

Home Economics

This week after having started their first problem in home economy, the ninth grade girls cut costumes which will be used by 5th and 6th graders in a Washington program at a later date.

Music

We are now adding finishing touches to our cantata which will be given the latter part of March.

All the 7th grade students are singing soprano and all 8th graders are singing alto, while the 9th graders are singing both.

English

The 8th graders have added nouns and pronouns to their parts of speech this week and the 9th graders have been reading and studying old ballads.

Physical Education

The week has been spent in shooting baskets in different positions, which the girls find very interesting.

The freshmen girls were challenged by the sophomores, captained by Marguerite Chew, to play Friday night. Marie Novak, freshman captain, accepted the challenge, and the game was very exciting to spectators. The game ended with the score 5 to 6, in favor of the sophomores.

Captain Novak is not quite satisfied. She thinks her team is capable of doing more. So she has next chance of choosing the opposing team to play and made the statement that she would challenge the sophomores.

Latin

Latin I students are soon going to draw plans of a Roman house. Plans were shown to them which they may follow.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellenkamp

Cooperative Organizations of Three Counties Met in Boyne City

The third meeting of the cooperative marketing series (consisting of four different meetings) was held in Boyne City last week Thursday in the American Legion hall, with an interested attendance of 22 managers, board directors and county agents of the nearby counties. The cooperative agencies of Gaylord, Petoskey, Ellsworth, East Jordan, Charlevoix and Boyne City were represented at this meeting as was also the case in the previous two meetings.

This meeting was by far the most attractive in the series up to date, and really was of great value to those who are interested in carrying on the cooperative marketing program. At 11 o'clock H. H. Henning, sales manager of the Cadillac Exchange, gave a fine discussion on the subject, "Experiences in Selling Potatoes and Their Effect on Price."

In his discussion he very accurately brought out the newer phases of marketing potatoes and the effect of trucking potatoes to the market. C. L. Nash, economist of Michigan State college, was next on the program and spoke concerning how co-operatives can secure loans from the Federal Intermediate banks. We find in the state of Michigan no organization has yet availed themselves of the opportunity of borrowing money from any of these banks. Considerable interest was manifested in this subject by many of the local organizations, who would be interested in securing short time loans.

At 1:30 o'clock, after having enjoyed a nice meal, the group heard F. W. Dilworth, manager of the Boyne City Cooperative company, on the subject, "Problems of the Co-operative Manager in Selling His Patrons Potatoes." Mr. Dilworth was in a position to give his group a nice little history of what has happened in the thirteen years that he has been a cooperative manager. He also made several suggestions and recommendations that seemed to meet with great favor in regard to future potato growers.

The closing number on the program was a talk on "Salesmanship," by C. L. Nash. This was as good a talk on this subject as any we have been privileged to hear in many years. He spoke to some length on the many ways that can be used by organizations to maintain a high moral and incidentally make a successful showing.

The last meeting in this series will be held on March 10, again with C. L. Nash in charge, but with a different program. On the programs have appeared those men in the state who have accomplished the most along certain lines of cooperative marketing and really have presented subject matter that every farmer should be interested in.

Thirty-Four Club Leaders, Members

Attended Conference at Charlevoix

The recent 4-H club leader's training meeting, held in Charlevoix last year, and no doubt will be for the next two or three years, it cannot be over conducted in the county. A total of 34 interested 4-H club leaders were present, and not only enjoyed the discussion, but more than enjoyed a splendid banquet served in Monte's cafe.

After everyone had become acquainted with each other a recreation hour was spent with all participating in a series of ten games. These games were all original, devised by A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, who supervised the competition. The remarkable part of it all is that all these games were made without any expense, and ones that could be used in our homes.

After this part of the program the two groups were divided, those interested in the girls' program meeting with Miss Sylvia Wixson, assistant state club leader; and those in the boys' group were under the supervision of A. G. Kettunen. Beyond any doubt the club leaders and friends received more information as to how to properly carry on the program than at any past meeting. Without exception, all the groups represented, something like twenty in number, reported suitable progress in carrying out their program. This would indicate that this winter's club program will be one of the best yet, and has possibilities of even exceeding the high total of last winter. Approximately 217 boys and girls are interested in the program at the present time in 29 different clubs.

It was decided to have a big county-wide Achievement day in Charlevoix on April 29, at which time every club in the county would exhibit their work. Further, it was voted to have the 1933 Achievement day in Boyne City, and thus alternate from one year to the next between these two locations.

Dairy-Crops Conference Arranged for Charlevoix County Dairymen

Plans have been definitely made for another dairy conference, similar to the one held last year, to which 62 delegates have been appointed, representing the school districts in the county. This conference will be held in the Boyne City public library on Wednesday, March 2, beginning promptly at 10:30 eastern standard time.

This year we wish to take up in particular the crops relationship existing with efficient dairymen. In other words, a person should not have more cattle to feed than he can properly raise his own feeds for. During the course of the discussion cards will be made out, indicating the right amount of hay, grain and other feeds that should be raised according to the number of cattle you have on your farm.

There will be a little banquet at noon for all the delegates, plans for which have not definitely been made at the present time. A. C. Baltzer, in charge of dairy extension from Michigan State college, will be present and direct the discussion. Instead of having a dairy census taken of the entire school district, each delegate will bring in five reports which will largely be upon the number of acres of crops being raised on these farms and their relationship in dairymen.

While I fully realize that profits in dairymen have been slim the last year, and no doubt will be for the next two or three years, it cannot be avoided and we might just as well consider this situation as it is and were present, and not only enjoyed the discussion, but more than en-situation and will bring about a better knowledge of the various factors responsible for it.

Substitute wholesome dried fruits for rich candies in the children's diet. Prunes stuffed with peanut butter, dates, or raisins will provide minerals and fuel needed for growing children.

Many hostesses keep a sugar syrup on hand all the time to sweeten fruit drinks. Equal parts of sugar and water are boiled together for eight minutes, cooled and set aside in a glass jar. Punch, lemonade, and other drinks may easily and quickly be sweetened, without waiting for the sugar to dissolve. The syrup method is also a sugar saver.

ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. Harmless and tasteless, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts. Be sure to get the genuine.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior toothpaste that safeguards against acid-attack.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luodaka of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight — lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it." To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast — it is the safe way to lose weight safely and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen Bette's — imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

Announcement
(Political advertisement).
To the Voters of the City of Charlevoix:

As a candidate at the primary election for nomination to the office of mayor, I wish to state that my active business experience has covered a period of 35 years, during a part of this time holding prominent positions with one of the largest organizations in the state of Michigan. As to executive experience I have served two years as supervisor of Emmet county and six years as alderman for the city of Petoskey.

My fourteen years residence in the city of Charlevoix has given me ample time to consider the requirements necessary to properly conduct the honorable duties of mayor of our city, with justice to all and special privilege to none.

To claim that we have but one of us in Charlevoix capable of administering the duties of the office of mayor is pleading guilty of incompetency among our citizenry, and should we continue to elect our mayors for 11-year terms, only nine citizens may have the privilege of holding this respective office in nearly 100 years.

If elected mayor, I shall stand for a progressive government, a continuance of the sound financial program which was inaugurated in 1918 under Simon M. Rose, and which has been continued to date with a view of clearing up our bonded indebtedness. "To Stand Still May Be to Lean Backward."

I further pledge my support to the various civic organizations, consistent to good business judgment, with the city's betterment as my chief objective. I shall not involve the city in contract, great or small, without the advice and approval of the city council, its members being elected as advisory to the mayor and should function as such. I shall insist on one hundred cents worth of labor or material goods being received for every dollar expended, that the taxpayers' money may purchase the same values as I would expect in the expenditures of my private funds.

I shall favor lowering the cost of electric current to the consumer, both for light and power, at the earliest possible date, consistent with necessary protection against emergency and extension needs. We, of course, should do nothing to impair the efficiency of our plant, neither should we build an excessively large surplus out of the pockets of our citizens. The many and varied electrical appliances which have come into use the past few years have greatly enlarged the income of our electric plant and should tend to lower our rates materially.

I come before the voters of our city without political alignment and without promise or favor to any individual or group of individuals, believing I have a fair understanding of the needs of our city, many of which are peculiarly different than any others, and my determination will be the greatest good for the greatest number and consideration for the individual whether approached at various hours of the day or during sessions of the council.

With these thoughts in mind and with deep regard for your valuable and courteous judgment, I solicit your consideration.

Respectfully submitted,
Edward E. Cross.

But we hope to meet in Heaven,
Where we'll never say goodbye.

TOBACCO ADVERTISING W. C. T. U. TOPIC FRIDAY

Mrs. Louisa Hanson Led Meeting Held at the Community Room

"Tobacco Advertising" was the topic presented by Mrs. Louisa Hanson at the W. C. T. U. meeting held last Friday afternoon in the community room. The leader's remarks were professed with the showing of some recent newspaper advertisements recommending various brands of cigarettes and featuring women as part of the display.

These advertisements are misleading and untruthful for smoking is a harmful, foolish and expensive habit, especially injurious to the health of women and young people.

Educators who have taken the trouble to investigate insist that pupils who smoke almost invariably rank low in scholarship. Many states, Michigan among them, have laws intended to protect the young people from acquiring the cigarette habit by prohibiting sale to minors and use by minors, but unfortunately these laws are ignored on every hand.

Education and the example of parents and teachers are necessary factors in implanting good habits in children and these two things are indispensable in making any headway against the cigarette evil.

Mrs. Lillian Saunders and Mrs. Fred Trimble of the Frances Willard group acted as hostesses and passed delicious candy during the social hour which followed the meeting. W. C. T. U. Press Director.

COOL RECEPTION GIVEN TO W. C. T. U. BRANCH

Seven members were enrolled in a Harbor Springs chapter of the W. C. T. U., after Mrs. Mary Blackwell of Flint had canvassed the town for two days. Mrs. Floyd Hoover was chosen as secretary and Mrs. Frank Corey as treasurer of the new organization, although no one was found to accept the offices of president and vice president.

Mrs. Hoover stated that another meeting probably will be called in an attempt to fill out the membership and the slate of officers.—Emmet County Graphic.

BIBLE STUDY CLASS IS OFFERED PUBLIC

Baptist Church Sponsoring Series of More Thorough Bible Study

Through the efforts of some of the members, it has been made possible for the Baptist church to conduct a correspondence bible course from the Moody Bible Institute.

The course chosen is "Mountain Peaks of Prophecy," and it will be open to any one who may be interested in a more thorough study of the bible. Some of the topics of the course are: The "Times of the Gentiles" and the Impending Judgment; The Anti-Christ, His History and His Doom; The Day of the Lord, When It Comes and What It Means; The Millennium: When, What and Where?; The End of the Age and How to Meet It.

Those wishing to enroll as a regular student and take the examination and receive a certificate from the Institute, the complete course of 17 lessons may be taken at a small cost. Those who do not desire to enroll as a student may attend the class and take the work without cost, but no examination will be required and no certificate given.

The first class period will be next Monday night at 7:30 o'clock at the church. Mrs. Lottie Rauch, who is a graduate of the Moody Bible Institute, will teach the class.

Baptist Young People's Meeting Sunday, February 21st

Since this week is recognized throughout the state as young people's week, all Baptist young people should make a special effort to make this meeting a great success. The topic to be presented is "Desirable Qualities in National Leaders." Since their birthday anniversaries are this month this service will be in commemoration of the greatness of our two national leaders, Washington and Lincoln. Some of the qualities to be mentioned are: dependence on God; honesty, and self-control. How many of these qualities do our national leaders have today? How many of these qualities do our young people have?

Come and help us make this meeting a success.

COUPLE SURPRISED ON WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. George Shearer were very pleasantly surprised recently when a group of friends dropped in at their home on East Garfield avenue to help them celebrate their tenth wedding anniversary. A very enjoyable evening was spent listening to music and playing cards. Upon departing the guests wished Mr. and Mrs. Shearer many more such happy occasions.

MAIL PLANE DELAYED BY MOTOR TROUBLES

Series Minor Defects Make It Look Like Jinx Is Following Pilot

A jinx apparently is following "Bud" Hammond, Charlevoix-Heaver island mail pilot.

Mechanical defects have made it necessary to take the plane to St. Ignace twice for repairs during the winter. The plane was off the route a week the last time, and the gas boat Rambler pressed into service to carry mail.

Upon resumption of his schedule Sunday, Pilot Hammond experienced motor trouble again, a sticking valve causing him to make a forced landing on the golf course at Harbor Springs. The engine was repaired there and returned to Charlevoix, and Monday oil trouble developed on another trip. A round trip was made that day, however, and still another Tuesday.

We are coming to the close of the series on the "Ten Commandments." But we have one left that should arouse the interest of everyone. It is the ninth, on perjury. Every community has to take measures to insure the truthfulness of witnesses before its courts, and perjury is everywhere punished among civilized men.

One of Israel's codes contains the following enactment: "If the witness be a false witness, and have testified falsely against his brother; then shall ye do unto him as he had thought to do unto his brother; so shalt thou put away evil from the midst of thee. And those that remain shall hear, and fear, and shall henceforth commit no more any such evil in the midst of thee. And thine eye shall not pity; life shall go for life, eye for eye, tooth for tooth, hand for hand, foot for foot." Don't miss this sermon. If one cannot agree with all that is said, it will set him to thinking. The time is 10:45.

"Soul" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 14.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Ps. 84:2) "My soul longeth, yea, even fainteth for the courts of the Lord: my heart and my flesh crieth out for the living God."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 466): "Soul or Spirit signifies Deity and nothing else. There is no finite soul nor spirit. Soul or Spirit means only one Mind, and cannot be rendered in the plural."

FORD ANNOUNCES HIS NEW MODELS

To Offer Four and Eight Cylinder
Models—Start Production at Once

Henry Ford is coming out with a new eight-cylinder car to augment the present model "A" four cylinder car.

The information was given out last Thursday in an authoritative interview with Henry and Edsel Ford. Production of the new car will start some time this month and the first public showings will be made early in March, according to the information given out.

Detailed specifications of the new V-8 were not disclosed. No indication was given as to the exact prices of the new models but it was stated that both would be kept in the low price field.

In recent months Mr. Ford again—as at the time of the production of the first model "A"—has been in the engineering laboratories personally checking and aiding in the development of this newer model which takes the Ford product away from the four-cylinder field for the first time since it early abandoned the two-cylinder car in favor of the four.

The new eight will basically be an expansion of the present model "A" four-cylinder car.

The ingenuity of the present plan is the utilization of the same chassis for both types of motors and the public's choice of either the eight or four cylinder motor depending on personal preference.

BANKS TWP. BONDS TO KEEP CANNING FACTORY

Proposition Carried by Large Margin at Special Election

The proposition to bond "the township of Banks for the sum of fifteen thousand dollars to be paid in five equal annual installments at not to exceed six per cent interest per annum, for the purpose of erecting a building in the Village of Ellsworth in said township for the public use of its inhabitants in whole or in part for township purposes" was carried last Friday at a special election by a vote of 320 to 51.

The Reid, Murdoch & Co., have contracted to remain there with their canning factory providing a suitable building for their necessary expansion was provided. A part of the new structure will be used for township purposes.

Work on the erection of the building will probably start in a month or so.

TWELVE SCHOOLS ENTER CAGE MEET

DRAWING FOR DISTRICT TOURNAMENT HELD HERE SATURDAY

Local Tournament Officials Are Busy With Seating Plans and Other Necessary Details

Entries for the district basketball tournament to be held in the Charlevoix gymnasium on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 3, 4 and 5, closed Tuesday with five class C and seven class D teams entered.

In the former group are Boyne City, East Jordan, Harbor Springs, Mancelona and Charlevoix, the defending champion, and in class D are Ellsworth, Bellaire, Albia, Boyne Falls, Pellston, Mackinaw City and Central Lake, the 1931 title winner. Alanson, an expected entry, did not file.

Representatives of the competing schools and the press will meet at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the local gymnasium to make the draw for positions. One school will draw a bye in each class because of the unequal number of teams entered.

O. P. North, principal of Charlevoix high school, has been named tournament manager by the Michigan High School Athletic association. Plans are under way to make seating arrangements similar to those used three years ago, thus increasing the gym capacity.

Arrangements have been made for the Charlevoix school band to play afternoons during the tournament, and invitations have been extended to East Jordan, Boyne City and Harbor Springs bands to play during the evening.

This year it has been decided that all teams from within a radius of 30 miles of Charlevoix shall return home at night unless driving conditions forbid. There will be no consolation series and teams eliminated in play must return home or remain at their own expense. The rules allow visiting teams one meal before and one after games.

The trophies this year will be in the form of engraved certificates, to be mailed to the winning teams after the tournament closes.

The general finance plan for the 1932 tournaments is the same as that of 1931. In district tournaments, before any division of proceeds is made, the cost of officials, awards and two basketballs will be deducted from the gross. This assures the entertaining school that all tournament expenses will be met out of tournament proceeds rather than out of their own share. After deducting the costs named above, the balance is divided as follows: 20 per cent to the entertaining school; 70 per cent to the competing schools, 10 per cent to the state association. Possible surplus will be divided 25 per cent to the entertaining school and 75 per cent to the state association.

Winners at the district tournament will be eligible for the regional tournament to be held March 10, 11 and 12 at Petoskey.

Notice of Township Caucus

A township caucus for the Township of Norwood, County of Charlevoix, Michigan, will be held at the Town Hall at Norwood, on Monday, March 7th, 1932, at 2 o'clock eastern standard time, for the purpose of nominating township officers for the coming year, or for the term required by law, and for the transaction of such other business as may legally come before it. Orville Hill, Township Clerk.—Adv. 8t2.

2 WHISTLING SWANS, MISSING 5 MONTHS, BACK IN CHARLEVOIX

Two whistling swans, part of a large flock owned by James Gaskin, caretaker of the Chicago Club of Charlevoix, have returned following an absence of five months.

Each fall the swans follow their migratory instincts. They usually go to the headwaters of the south arm of Lake Charlevoix and are there rounded up by Mr. Gaskin and returned to winter quarters. This year two young swans, whose wings had not been clipped, were missing.

Reports of their being seen in Lake Michigan off Muskegon and Ludington, were never confirmed and a lengthy search was unsuccessful. Only last week the pair returned. During their absence the swans have become experts on the wing, and, although they feed with the rest of the flock in Old river, Mr. Gaskin has been unable to approach close enough to effect their capture.

SPEARING SEASON TO CLOSE FEBRUARY 29TH

Spring Season Opens March 1 With Many New Regulations

The winter spearing season closes February 29th and the spring spearing season will open the following day.

Some changes have been made in the spring spearing season and in the species that may be taken by spear from the non-trout streams. The dates of the season have been changed this year from April and May to March and April, and in the upper peninsula, to include part of May.

The spring spearing seasons in non-trout streams this year are: upper peninsula, March 1 to May 15. Lower peninsula: March 1 to April 30.

Pike may not be speared at any time during the spring season. Last year Grass (Great Northern) pike could be speared during May.

The species which may be speared in the non-trout streams are: suckers, redbreast, mullet, carp, dogfish and garpike.

Artificial lights, formerly legal, cannot now be used for spearing fish.

HIGHWAY PROJECT WILL START SOON

CONTRACTOR WILL BRING THE EQUIPMENT FROM BRUTUS

Council Removes Obstacle Barring Contract Award by Advancing City Share of Expense

Mike Baumana, head of the Remus Construction company, low bidder on the U. S. 31 relocation job south of this city, was in town Tuesday. He gave assurance that work on the project would be started next week.

Mr. Baumana stated that equipment necessary for grading, clearing, and construction of drainage would be moved down from Brutus at once. A list of 125 unemployed men was ready for the contractor, and it is said that aside from two foremen and a truck driver, all local labor would be used on the preliminary work.

While the contract has not been officially awarded by the state administrative board, the reason for delay was removed by action of the city council Tuesday evening.

Because of the fact that the state highway department had been "hurled" on a former county project in which a certain city was in participation in the expense of building a bridge, the department demanded Charlevoix's share of the expense in advance. An agreement has been reached whereby the city deposit its portion of the cost in the two local banks, subject to withdrawal by the highway department as the work progresses. This has been done, with an understanding that the contract will be awarded.

We might explain what Charlevoix's share in the expense is. The contract calls for 40-foot concrete from Carpenter avenue on South Bridge street north to the intersection of Belvedere avenue. The state will build 20 feet and share equally with the city on the other 20 feet, the storm sewer and curb and gutter. The estimate places Charlevoix's share at $10,227.

Through transfer of funds on hand, the city has advanced their portion. The cost will be spread by special assessment and local improvement bonds issued to cover it.

KIPMEN WON EASY TILT FROM HARBOR

SCORED 24 TO 11 VICTORY ON HOME COURT FRIDAY

Win Gave Kipmen Undisputed Possession of Second Place in Conference—Reserves Lose

Charlevoix high school eagles moved into second position in the Tip of Michigan class C basketball conference Friday evening by handing Harbor Springs a decisive 24 to 11 defeat on the local court.

The ease with which the Kipmen accomplished the trick was apparent throughout the contest, for they not only out-played, but also out-scored the visiting quintet in every period.

A determined defense held Harbor to a pair of gift shots in the first period, while Charlevoix's smooth working offense produced two pairs of field goals by Anee and Chew for an 8 to 2 lead. In the second canto, Chew produced three more points; McSauby a field goal and Norm Anee a free toss for 6 points. Harbor's efforts were fruitless with the exception of a single gift shot, and at the half the Kipmen enjoyed a comfortable 14 to 3 margin.

The contest was a dull one to watch in the last half. Harbor pressed play deep into their own territory whenever the Kipmen had the ball, using this method effectively to curb Charlevoix's scoring to field goals by Anee and McSauby. Francis speared a deuce and Lane a free one during the third session, and play entered the final quarter with the score Charlevoix 18, Harbor 6. In the fourth quarter Chew broke out of Harbor territory for a pair of dog shots and McSauby added another for six points. Lane and McIntosh both found the meshes with deuces for Harbor and the latter was successful on a try from the foul line. Davenport went nut with four personals in the final period.

John Ferenz of Traverse City, handled the game well. Score by quarters:

Charlevoix	8	6	4	6	24
Harbor	2	1	3	5	11

Free Throws—Charlevoix: 2 out of 7; Harbor Springs, 5 out of 10.

In a spirited preliminary contest, Harbor reserves nosed out Charlevoix reserves by a 15 to 13 count. Trailing by a heavy margin at the close of the third period, Charlevoix put on a desperate rally to even the count 13-11 near the final whistle. A goal just before the gun gave Harbor their winning points.

Tourists Travel 140 Miles Day

Michigan is not realizing profits it should from its tourist trade because vacationists are traveling too fast, a pace, Edward A. Hyer, head of the educational division of the state department of conservation believes. "Tabulations show that tourists travel at a rate of 140 miles per day in Michigan," Hyer said. "This is too fast. We must derive some method by which we can keep them in Michigan's tourist and resort sections longer, and thereby benefit by added profits."

POLAR BEARS SPLIT EVEN IN TWO TILTS

DEFEATED TRAVERSE EAGLES 18 TO 13 SATURDAY NIGHT

Lost Third Game to Alpena Here Tuesday by 35 to 32 Count—Play at Cheboygan Tonight

A fifty-fifty split rewarded Charlevoix Polar Bears for their efforts in two contests played within the past four days.

To a close game last Saturday night, the Bears nipped the powerful Traverse City Eagles 18 to 13 in a charity tilt at Traverse, Tuesday evening they bowed for the third time to the accurate gunnery of Alpena's fast-travelling independent outfit. The final count was 35 to 32.

The Bears exceeded the expectations of local fans by downing Traverse. In a contest marked by close defensive play, they led 2 and 1 at the quarter, were held even 4-4 at the half, had a 12 to 10 margin at the third intermission and then sewed the game up in the final period.

Supernaw's collection of four field goals was best for the evening. Brown and Davenport managed two each and Higman added the other. Corle led for Traverse with four points. The Eagles counted 5 of their 13 from the foul line.

The Alpena tilt Tuesday night was a hectic struggle all the way. The visitors jumped into a 10 and 1 lead early in the first period before the Bears could find the meshes at all. This margin was cut down 12 to 9 before the session closed. Charlevoix was better than Alpena in the next period. They managed 8 points to Alpena's 4 for a 17 and 16 lead at the half.

The third canto was close all the way. Alpena took the lead 18-17. A Benr goal made it 19-18 and an Alpena deuce tied the count 20-20. From then on the score was knotted 22-22, 23-23, 25-25 and finally 27-27 as the period closed.

Supernaw found the meshes to give his team a 29 to 27 lead as the fourth session opened, but from there Alpena went out to win. They tied the count at 30-30 after the Bears scored from the foul line, and in the last few minutes of play sank two field goals for a three-point margin.

Supernaw led for Charlevoix with 12 points. Brown was next with 11. For the winners, LaLonde was best with 12, followed closely by Peterson with 10. Hallett refereed.

The Bears left shortly after noon today for a return game at Cheboygan. They will be without the services of Kipke, who went out Tuesday night with a sprained ankle.

KIPMEN CLOSE COURT SEASON HERE FRIDAY

Meet East Jordan Tossers in Last Pre-Tournament Contest

The pre-tournament schedule for Charlevoix high school tossers will be brought to a close Friday night when the Kipmen entertain East Jordan in a return game on the local court.

Judging from the easy manner in which they disposed of the Jordanites in a previous encounter, the Kipmen should have little trouble. But one can tell nothing about basketball this year. Jordan forced the conference leading Boyne City quintet into an overtime period to win 14 and 12 at Boyne City last Friday night, indicating a lot of strength. Viewing these results, one cannot help but feel that what might be called an inferior complex or that the natural rivalry between two schools has much to do with the result of games. At any rate, predictions don't mean much.

Charlevoix junior high, which appears in the prelim, has a score to even with East Jordan. They lost at East Jordan in a previous encounter and will be out to even things up.

LICENSE PLATE SALES ARE LOW

PURCHASES REPORTED FAR BELOW PREVIOUS YEAR

Deadline for Old Plates Expires February 29th — State Police Expected to Patrol Highways

Unless a thousand more automobile drivers buy licenses on or before next Monday, February 29th, motor car traffic is going to be much less on Charlevoix county highways.

The deadline for 1931 license plates expires next Monday, and on March 1st, state police, sheriff's officers and town and city police officials will be patrolling streets and highways picking up drivers with old license plates.

What action will be taken against offenders is not known at this time, although in many cities they will be given tickets to appear in justice court.

Approximately 2,400 motor vehicle licenses were sold in Charlevoix county during 1931. At the close of business last Saturday evening, F. V. Tyler, manager of the local branch office of the Secretary of State, reported he had sold only 136 new plates. This number is considerably less than the total sold up to the same date a year ago.

License plates were sold for 1,061 passenger cars, 225 commercial vehicles and for 36 trailers at the local branch office during 1931. These sales brought in total collections of around $20,000. Comparing these figures with the number of licenses sold up until Saturday evening of last week, one can readily see many motorists have not purchased their new plates.

It is expected that the local office will do a land office business during the present week and up to the deadline set. Motorists will find it much to their own convenience if they get their plates as early as possible to avoid the usual last-minute rush at the branch office.

Officers have no other course to follow than to enforce the state law, and motorists will be picked up in adjoining counties for driving with old plates.

SUNDAY VESPER SERVICE A GREAT SUCCESS

Christ Episcopal Church Was Filled to Capacity for Lenten Program

The Lenten Vesper service given in Christ Episcopal church Sunday afternoon was a great success. The little church was filled to capacity and many had to leave for lack of room. It is estimated there were nearly 200 in attendance.

The music was of a very high standard, showing fine talent as well as very careful training. Rev. Doan, who is always an able speaker, was never better. He spoke with great force, yet briefly, on the life of George Washington.

Mrs. Ray O'Brien of this city, was the organist and choir director.

FATHER AND SON BANQUET MONDAY

ONE HUNDRED AND EIGHTY-THREE IN ATTENDANCE

Excellent Banquet Dinner Followed by Appropriate Program of High Character

The Mens' Community Club, sponsors of the annual Father and Son banquet given Monday evening in the dining room of the Methodist church in observance of Washington's birthday, are highly gratified with the generous patronage given the affair.

A delicious and ample banquet dinner was served by the Women's Club. The dining room presented a festive appearance. Decorations were patriotic in keeping with the occasion. A large portrait of George Washington, placed behind the speakers' table, was draped in flags and illuminated with colored lights.

Miss Marjorie Jean Carey played the opening march, to which one hundred and eighty-three fathers and sons, who had assembled in the church auditorium, marched to the dining room.

Dr. F. F. McMillan, president of the Club, opened the program with ability and a clever approach. Rev. W. H. Rauch, pastor of the Baptist church, gave a thoughtful and reverent invocation. Rev. W. W. Hurd, the Methodist pastor, introduced the toastmaster, Rev. G. R. Parker of the Congregational church, who in turn introduced each of the speakers in a witty manner.

Albert Rider, band instructor in the local schools, led singing by the assemblage, and a quartette of young high school men, gave several appreciated selections.

Rev. A. H. Peltoskey, gave the principal address of the evening. He presented a brief resume of the ancestry and career of George Washington, showing him as a successful warrior, a statesman, an organizer and a loyal churchman. Although replete with wit, Rev. Peltoskey's address was of a very high and serious nature, with fine idealism and ambitions for the boys, and very practical and timely advice to the fathers. This address was preceded by a toast to the fathers by Dr. C. J. Winder, who pressed the serious anxiety and sacrifices of a true father for his boys, and a toast for the sons by Devere Bird, who in a very creditable manner, voiced the appreciation of the sons for the work of the fathers and older men of the community in providing so much for the youth of today.

Many comments of high appreciation were expressed concerning the banquet, and unfortunately many who wished to attend at the last, could not be accommodated.

48TH YEAR IN BUSINESS

"THE OLDEST BANK IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY"

A Drag on Advancing Prosperity

Upon conservative estimate there is well over a billion dollars still being hoarded in America today—to the handicap of finance, industry and agriculture—to the detriment of all efforts to restore prosperity.

Now, however, that our government's reconstruction measures are actually under way, isn't it time to release this drag—let up on the brakes—and give prosperity a fair chance to return?

AID FOR FARMERS
Powerful Michigan industrial interests who fear they may be called upon to shoulder new tax burdens are responsible for the movement which seeks abolition of government outstate costs. Gov. Brucker told the Michigan State Association of Supervisors at its annual meeting in Lansing last week.

TALK OF WAR
We hear a lot of people talking today about the trouble between China and Japan and many have twisted minds, judging from the tenor of their conversation. They tell of the vital nature of America's material interests in the Orient and of America's responsibility for the welfare of distressed people everywhere. And a few have added an even more idiotic opinion that a good war should end the depression.

An idea so utterly void of reason as this last would hardly bear the weight of passing comment were it not that only 15 years ago an immensely influential body of opinion in the East did its bit putting this country into the World war on much the same theory. They argued that the United States was threatened with financial disaster through the inability of the Allies to pay their bank loans and munitions bills here and that the only hope for solvency was to go in and help them win.

The money involved at that time was petty as compared with the crushing burden of war costs which has been breaking down our financial and credit system ever since.

Big business grew richer and richer during the World war, but the government and the rank and file of American citizens are suffering from its awful results today.

REAPPORTIONMENT

Upper peninsula members of the Michigan state legislature are reported ready toicker with Wayne county over reapportionment. Wayne is offering a scheme all its own for reapportionment but is finding little encouragement below the Straits. At a meeting at Crystal Falls over the week end it is decided to send Rep. Martin Bradley, Menominee, and Rep. Claude Coats, Munising, to Detroit to confer with the Wayne county group.

The upper peninsula members have in mind the making of a good bargain as possible.

The question of gasoline tax also was taken up and the members pre-cut went on record as opposing any increase in the present rate of the gasoline tax. This question has strong supporters in some sections where it is said it is the easiest tax to collect, and there is the least objection to it. It is contended that thousands of persons, who own no real estate, do in this way pay a share of the state tax burden. Still others contend that Michigan should keep her gas tax low because of her tourist business. The upper peninsula hopes for an ever increasing share of this tourist business.

FIREMAN'S DANCING PARTY WAS ENJOYED

Large Group Present at Moonlight Gardens Monday Evening

A good crowd enjoyed the annual fireman's dancing party at Moonlight Gardens, Monday evening.

The affair this year was a "depression" costume event, and many original get-ups were apparent. Mrs. Charles Tuhy and S. O. Sorenson were awarded gold prizes for the best costumes.

The party was sponsored jointly by the city fire department and the American Legion, with a portion of the receipts being turned over to the Legion for the purchase of uniforms for the drum and bugle corps.

OLDER BOYS WILL MEET AT BOYNE CITY THURSDAY

The Boyne City high school boys cooking class will serve the supper for the district meeting of men from the Northern Michigan Y. M. C. A. territory, at Boyne City, Thursday evening, February 25th. At this conference plans will be made for the annual Older Boy's conference to be held in Petoskey the latter part of April or early in May. C. E. Angell, secretary for this district, will attend and assist on the program. Several men will attend from Charlevoix.

Save left-over egg yolks by covering them with cold water and keeping them in the refrigerator, or by dropping the yolks into boiling water and cooking them until hard. If cooked, when the yolk is cold, it may be pressed through a sieve and used to garnish creamed dishes or salads.

A thick-bladed Dover egg beater gives small volume and coarse texture when used to beat egg whites.

Hang your pictures so they can never be crooked on the wall. Use two parallel wires instead of a triangle above the picture.

If your sink is too low and it cannot be conveniently heightened, build a rack of hard wood to fit the sink and raise the dish pan as many inches as is necessary to save stooping, while washing dishes in it. A wood rack will not mar the sink. It should be made of slats nailed to cross ends. Hard wood is preferable to soft wood because it can be oiled with linseed oil to preserve the wood. It can then be easily cleaned.

Engage Symphony For Michigan Fair

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Victor Kolar will be heard in two concerts daily during the week of the Michigan State Fair and Exposition, Sept. 6 to 12.

Miss Muriel Magerl Kyle will be featured as vocal soloist with the orchestra and many of the first desk men also will be presented as soloists, including J. A. Schkolnik, concert master; Elden Houge, first trumpet; John Wanner, first flutist; Roy Schmidt, first clarinet; Albert Stagnani, first horn, and Fred S. Paine, chief percussionist, who will appear as xylophone soloist.

Sunday afternoon, Sept. 6, the opening day of the fair, the orchestra will give a sacred concert in the grove at the state fair grounds, to be followed in the evening by patriotic numbers in the Coliseum. For the remainder of the week there will be afternoon concerts in the grove and nightly appearances in the Coliseum in connection with the horse show.

Finance Fights Erosion

Farm terracing to stop erosion is of major importance in Noble County, Oklahoma, the county agent said, and so one of the county's national banks bought five farm levels to be loaned to farmers without charge. The machines were immediately put to use and the farmers are showing keen interest in terracing. Two terracing schools were started for adults and 431 Club boys.

Around Orchard

NEW STRAWBERRY GIVES FINE CROP

One of the most promising of the new strawberry varieties which have been tried out in New Jersey during the past few years is undoubtedly the Aberdeen.

As a matter of precaution every new variety must be thoroughly tested out in a wide range of soil and climatic conditions before it can be recommended for general planting, writes J. H. Clark, associate professor of pomology of the New Jersey experiment station. Aberdeen has been grown on the experiment station grounds at New Brunswick since 1923. It has been tested in a small way by numerous growers, and during the season of 1927 it fruited in commercial quantities on several farms in the state.

Aberdeen originated in Monmouth county and so joins a rather famous list of varieties (Haddon, Joe, Landon, Gandy, etc.), which claim New Jersey as their native state. J. E. Kuhns of Cliffwood, N. J., a man who has been raising strawberry seedlings for many years, is responsible for this new addition to the desirable fruit varieties of the state. The variety originated about 1919, but has not been pushed very rapidly, as Mr. Kuhns realized the necessity for a thorough trial before commercial planting is justified.

The two things about Aberdeen which commend themselves to the practical grower are its prolific plant-making quality and its productiveness. It is an extremely heavy bearer and should be thinned for best results. During 1927, on two farms Howard 17 and Aberdeen were compared as to yields produced on adjoining rows and in each case the latter variety yielded a decidedly larger crop.

The fruit of this variety is very attractive in appearance and quite uniform in size, shape and color. It is medium to large, narrow wedge-shaped, and a sprightly light red. The flavor is surpassed by that of some varieties, but it is decidedly above the average. The season is late.

The greatest fault of the Aberdeen and the one which may prevent its becoming one of our important commercial varieties, is the fact that it is a little soft and cannot stand rough handling or distant shipment. However, because so many New Jersey berries are sold locally or are taken into New York or Philadelphia on comparatively short hauls, it would seem that it might find an important place in our variety list. It can be recommended as an excellent variety for the home garden, fine for a local market, and worthy of careful trial for the New York or Philadelphia markets.

Why Bordeaux Is Useful as Spray During Summer

The question is often asked as to why it is necessary to use two fungicides, lime-sulphur in the spring and Bordeaux mixture in the summer, when both are effective in controlling diseases.

It has been found by experiment that Bordeaux mixture has a tendency to burn the foliage and russet the fruit when used in cool, damp, cloudy weather. As this kind of weather frequently occurs in the spring, it is necessary to use some material that will not have this effect. Lime-sulphur is an effective fungicide and may be used with safety at a time when Bordeaux would be harmful.

On the other hand, lime-sulphur used in hot, dry weather will cause injury to the fruit and foliage. Bordeaux does not affect the foliage or fruit under these conditions and is, therefore, recommended for the later sprays.

Bordeaux mixture should be thoroughly applied, as spray injury is liable to occur if the material is allowed to settle and become concentrated at the bottom of the tank.—Virginia Extension Division News.

Horticultural Notes

Poorman is an excellent new variety of gooseberry.

Trees make about 67 per cent of their growth at night, and the rest in daylight.

Much dissatisfaction is caused from the death of fruit trees and plants due to careless handling at planting time.

Keep down the weeds and do not allow the strawberry plants to become too thick in the row if the best production is to be secured.

The care we give our nursery stock often determines what success we will have with our plantings.

Too many strawberry patches are neglected all summer and allowed to grow up to weeds. Then the next spring there is some surprise when the field is somewhat disappointing.

Grapes have various troubles, both insects and diseases. These are quite well controlled by the use of standard Bordeaux mixture (4-4-50) with 1 1/2 pounds per acre of liquid arsenate added.

ICE HARVEST SHIFTED TO LAKE CHARLEVOIX

Cutting Operations Started Monday at Oyster Bay Fields

Ice harvesting operations, started last week on Susan lake by the Charlevoix Coal & Ice company, local wholesale dealers, were shifted Sunday to Oyster Bay on Lake Charlevoix.

The new field is giving a better grade of ice than that taken from the inland lake and the new location has eliminated previous loading difficulties.

Work of filling the storage house of Booth Fisheries Company was completed Wednesday morning and operations have been shifted to the Widdifield ice house on the south hill. Eight trucks and a crew of 26 men have been given employment.

Freezing weather the early part of this week has thickened the ice off the west shore of Lake Charlevoix to an extent that the harvest will likely be shifted again to that location early next week.

"Mind" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, February 21.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Titus 1:15): "Unto them that are defiled and unbelieving is nothing pure; but even their mind and conscience is defiled."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 399): "Scientifically speaking, there is no mortal mind out of which to make material beliefs, springing from illusion. This misnamed mind is not an entity. It is only a false sense of matter, since matter is not sensible. The one Mind, God, contains no mortal opinions. All that is real is included in this immortal Mind."

This year it has been decided that all teams, living within 30 miles of Charlevoix, shall return home at night unless driving conditions are such as to forbid, in the opinion of the management.

The trophies this year will be engraved certificates and will be sent to the winning teams after tournament instead of being presented here.

Charlevoix school band will play each afternoon of the tournament and the bands from East Jordan, Harbor Springs and Boyne City are being invited to play in the evenings. Tickets good for the entire tournament will be sold at a reasonable price and the gymnasium will be arranged similar to three years ago for adequate seating capacity.

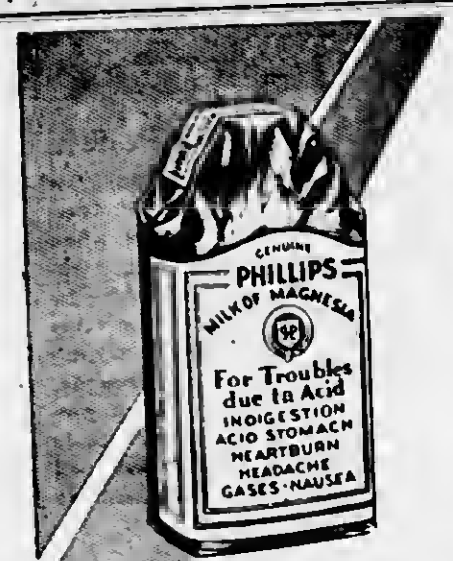

There is to be a H-Y meeting next Thursday at which there will be in attendance men and boys from Charlevoix. Plans for Northern Michigan's Older Boys' conference will be made at this meeting.

Students, teachers and many guests enjoyed the Washington birthday program presented by the 5th and 6th grades and junior and senior high schools Monday afternoon. The opening number was given by the American Legion bugle corps, after which there was group singing and several patriotic songs. Marjorie Carey and Wayne Belding, impersonating Martha and George Washington, gave a dialogue which had been written by members of the junior American History class and the program was concluded by three numbers by the high school band.

REPARATION FOR KILLING

It is no longer a valid excuse for killing a man in Pennsylvania, to plead that he was mistaken for a deer. A hunter has been convicted in Wilkes-Barre for making that mistake. The example will tend to make hunters everywhere more careful. To many people, the most interesting thing about the case is the form of punishment.

Along with a minimum term of two years to be served in the county jail, which may be modified under the jury's recommendation of mercy, there is a fine of $1,000 to be paid to the victim's widow.

We might have fewer killings, especially of the deliberate kind, if it were the general practice to make a slayer support his victim's family for a reasonable period.

TOWNS DO NOT DIE A NATURAL DEATH—THEY JUST COMMIT SUICIDE

Towns do not die, they commit suicide, said a newspaper recently. And it is true.

If grocers would handle only local bakery products the bakeries would hire another baker or two and another clerk and a couple or more vacant houses would fill up.

If the printing office could have all the work which is sent out of town and to government printing office, two more printers could have jobs and two more houses would fill up.

If the housewives did not buy from peddlers, wagon salesmen and catalogues, six more clerks would be needed in the business district and more empty houses would fill up.

If townspeople did not go to neighboring cities to trade, twelve more empty houses occupied.

If everybody who makes his money in the community would spend his money in the community the home town would double in population in a few years, and everybody in and around it would be prosperous. Why are filling stations out of proportion to every other line of business in number? Because people buy gas and oil at home.—Lonin News.

PAYING THE FIDDLER

Agriculture is being hailed as showing some of the most definite signs of returning health displayed by any industry in a long while. Perhaps agriculture is recovering sooner from the depression because it has had it longer.

Agriculture is literally the business bread and butter of our country. If the farmer isn't getting enough for his products to pay for the feed he must use, the machinery he must buy, to have anything left over to replace these things and a surplus to provide comforts and clothing for his family, who is going to support the local merchant—to say nothing of the banker, the baker, and candlestick maker?

A newer and more dangerous development of the economic situation in which we find ourselves is evidenced by such outbreaks as milk price wars which have been raging around large city markets. It is in times like these that the consumer is able to appreciate the value of a great stabilizing force, such as the Dairyman's League Cooperative Association of New York. The lower drops the price of a commodity like milk—the more imperative quality control methods, as practiced by organized dairymen, become.

No one benefits, in the long run, from profitless prices for farm products—and organized effort through strong, loyally supported cooperatives has proven to be the farmer's best economically.

RAILROADS NEED SUPPORT

(From Soo Evening News.) A picture of railroad conditions that was far from bright was painted by C. E. Urbahn, general manager of the South Shore Railroad, addressing the annual meeting of the Sault Chamber of Commerce recently. And the members of the Chamber were in general agreement that railroads are not getting a fair break in the matter of government control of the various transportation systems of today.

Trucks and airplanes and steamships do not need taxable right-of-ways for doing business. Naturally they make competition almost unbearable for the railroads. It is pointed out that of the 65 largest railroads in the United States, only 15 have sufficient net income to qualify their bonds as legal investments for savings banks in New York. Rail freight and passenger traffic volume are lower than since 1922, despite unprecedented efforts at efficiency and economy.

It would seem sensible of the American public if they should look with favor on a move toward the consolidation of the transportation forces of the nation. Today, as is pointed out by Col. Halsey Burwoody, vice-president of American Airways, Inc., a bus is a bus, a train is a train, a ship is a ship and an airplane is an airplane—each a separate unit of transportation. Why should not all these various units be operated jointly with each unit fitting into the whole transportation scheme where it belongs in order to operate most economically and beneficially for the nation.

Transportation is virtually the basis of business prosperity and the United States cannot develop properly without utilizing efficiently every proven element of transportation and communication. Under present conditions the whole transportation system may fail for lack of profit—and in this event there would be nothing left to do but national ownership. And certainly Uncle Sam would not take over the failing railroads without also taking over the other necessary units of transportation.

STATE TO TIGHTEN FUR TRAPPING LAW

DEALERS TO COME UNDER MORE STRICT REGULATIONS

Wholesale Violations in Upper Peninsula Move Conservation Department to Drastic Action

A closer check on purchases and sales made by fur dealers will be made in the future by the department of conservation, it has been announced. All monthly reports made by these dealers will be closely scrutinized to determine disposal of all furs bought or sold in Michigan. The department is now sending out new forms on which monthly reports are to be made and which facilitate checking.

Under the law all fur dealers in Michigan must on or before the tenth of each month, make a report to the department of the purchase and disposal of all furs giving names of purchasers, from whom purchased, etc., handled by them during the preceding month. A severe penalty is provided for those failing to comply.

During the year 1931, 605 fur dealers obtained licenses to operate in Michigan. Ten of these were non-residents of the state and bought $50 licenses. The fee for a resident license is $10. These licenses expired December 31 and new licenses are now being purchased.

Act 308 of the public acts of 1929 provides that all firms and corporations and their agents must secure a license to buy, sell, deal in or tan and dress raw furs, hides or pelts of beaver, otter, fisher, marten, muskrat, mink, skunk, raccoons, opossum, wolf, lynx, bobcat, weasel, fox, coyotes, badger, deer or bear. Under this law, not only firms, but each of their agents buying or selling furs must secure a license from the state. The director of conservation is authorized to cancel any license held by a person convicted of violating the fur laws.

In addition to the monthly reports submitted by fur dealers, each dealer must, within ten days after the close of the respective open trapping seasons, submit a report to the department stating the number and kinds of furs, hides or pelts in his possession on the last day of the open season.

Another provision of the law requires a permit from the department to ship furs out of the state.

BELL TELEPHONE EARNINGS SHOW A DECREASE

Failed to Earn Dividend Payments and Phones Show Decrease

The ratio of earnings of the Michigan Bell Telephone company for 1931, to the cost of plant and other assets, was 3.62 per cent. The company failed by $470,000 to earn the dividends of $4.00 per share paid on its stock during the year, according to the report of the company's operations for 1931 by President Burch Foraker at the annual meeting of the stockholders held Thursday, February 11.

The report also shows a net loss of 33,880 telephones during the year, compared with a loss of 13,218 in 1930. Total installations of telephones were 181,215 and disconnections totaled 215,095. At the end of the year the company had 634,033 telephones in service.

MANY LANDS EXCHANGE GREETINGS BY VOICE

Overseas Telephone Calls on Christmas Set New Record

Overseas telephone calls handled on Christmas day through American Telephone and Telegraph company radio stations in the United States set a record, both for volume and for the number of countries reached. A total of 342 messages sent to or received from Europe, Australia, South America, and island groups in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. This compares with a total of 207 messages for Christmas day in 1930, and 127 messages the preceding Christmas.

Of the total, 87 conversations between this country and Honolulu were handled through the new Bell System radio stations on the Pacific coast at Dixon and Point Reyes, Cal. This speech channel had been opened for public service on December 23. Messages to and from Bermuda on Christmas numbered 20, while those exchanged with Rio de Janeiro, Brazil, totaled 13. These channels had been put into service on December 21 and December 18 respectively.

Christmas traffic to Europe totaled 182 conversations, as against 165 on Christmas day last year. Of these, 84 passed between England and the United States, 38 were exchanged with France and 19 with Germany.

Of the 41 remaining calls, 15 involved Swiss cities, 12 crossed the Alps to and from Italy, three went to Sweden, one to Ireland from Toronto, and three went to Roumania, a country which was added to the transatlantic network in November.

Michigan will be represented at a meeting with gasoline tax administrators of the states of Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Pennsylvania to be held in Columbus, Ohio, February 19th.

The meeting has been arranged to discuss problems of gasoline tax evasion common to the states. One of the specific problems to be discussed is that of running gasoline across state lines for the purpose of evading taxes.

The Secretary of State has delegated George L. Clark, director of the gasoline tax division of the department, to represent Michigan at this meeting.

Portable feed and grist mills, mounted on trucks must pay a tax on the entire weight of the outfit as it is used upon highways before securing 1932 license plates, the department of state was informed in a recent opinion from the attorney general's department.

There are about 100 portable mills operating in Michigan, according to departmental records, and several owners this year sought to class the mill equipment as "load" and pay a tax only upon the truck chassis. In computing weight taxes for these vehicles, the opinion of the state's legal department is being followed.

Neither the Secretary of State nor any other state or local official has authority to extend the time for using 1931 license plates beyond February 29th. Motorists who wait until the last days of the month to secure 1932 licenses, may have to endure long waits and other inconveniences.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and can't say too much to recommend it. To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health."

LEGION PLANS ENTERTAINMENT ACTIVITIESStag Party Saturday Night and Boxing Show Next Wednesday

At a regular meeting of Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, held Tuesday evening at the Legion home on East Garfield avenue, it was voted to conduct another of the post's popular stag card parties Saturday evening, February 27th. Quite a number have volunteered to fill tables and the evening is expected to be a "large" one. On Wednesday evening of next week will occur a series of amateur boxing bouts combined with other sports features which should prove very attractive. The male public is invited to attend these events.

A rising vote of thanks was tendered by the members to A. T. Jeffery, proprietor of the Moonlight Gardens, for his many acts of kindness and helpfulness on behalf of the Legion and Comrade William Ripley, former resident of this city, now a member of a Lansing Legion post, was introduced to the assembly and assured the local Legionnaires that he was doing his best to plug for Charlevoix among the Lansing comrades as the meeting place for the 1933 state convention of the Legion and reports favorable sentiment among them.

Cymbals will also be a part of the corps equipment, and later, other appropriate instruments will be added.

COLLEGE GROWS TREES FOR FOREST PLANTINGSuitable Varieties for All Sections in Michigan Grown

Trees grown by Michigan State college at its East Lansing and Dunbar stations can be secured by residents of this state for forest, shelterbelt, windbreak, or Christmas tree plantings.

Several species of trees are grown at each station to secure stock which will be suitable to the conditions where it is to be planted. The two stations also cut down the distances which the plants have to be shipped and avoid heavy losses of seedlings which become dried out in shipment. Christmas tree plantations furnish their owner with an income from idle land within a few years after they are planted.

Complete instructions on the proper kinds of trees to select for certain purposes can be obtained from the college forestry department.

Dairy Conference Program Announced

Everything is in readiness for the second annual Charlevoix county dairy conference to be held in the Boyne City library on Wednesday, March 2nd, beginning at 10:30, eastern standard time.

A. C. Baltzer, dairy extension specialist, Michigan State college, will be present and direct the discussions. Promptly at 12:30 the delegates to the conference, representing every school district in the county, will enjoy a banquet at Louie's restaurant.

Each delegate will make a survey of six different farms in his district showing the crop acres devoted to various kinds of hay, pasture, as well as the number of livestock. These surveys will give a very definite and accurate cross-section of what the average farmer is doing in the way of raising the proper crops for efficient dairying.

The discussion will largely hinge around formulating a practical dairy program that can be used by any dairyman in the county. Watch the paper for the dairy program decided upon by these dairy delegates of Charlevoix county.

Farm Account—Records Will Be Closed Next Week

March 3, 4, and 5, are the dates selected for the farm account books being kept by some forty-five Charlevoix county farmers to be brought in for official closing. This represents the year of 1931, ending February 29th. This record covers the farm expenses and receipts from the farm itself and when properly summarized, indicates very conclusively to the farmer his labor and management wage, his interest on investment, percent of interest earned and what the various departments of his farm have made. Before his labor and management wage can be determined, 5 percent interest on his total investment is charged off, his labor bill paid, as well as labor donated by members of the family.

Charlevoix county ranks high in the number of farmers keeping records in the entire state and if forty-five books are completed, it is highly possible that no county will exceed this number.

H. A. Berg and another representative of the farm management department will be present to carefully check each book and will point out any business transactions that may have been omitted. If this is not a real job, try to check eighteen books in one day, which must be the case in order to have the work completed in the three days.

Directors of Potato Show Decide on Budget for 1932 Show

The officers and directors of the Top of Michigan Potato Show association are slated to meet at Gaylord on Tuesday, March 1, for the purpose of making definite plans for the 1932 show. From very reliable sources it has been learned that the budget will be somewhat reduced to meet the present situation and needs. While it is necessary to reduce the premiums somewhat, there will be no drastic cut as this money is returned to the farmers and it should be maintained as high as possible. Last year saw a total of 645 actual exhibits on display, which was the largest of any year, also $1,500 in premium money was awarded to some 200 different exhibitors. Any suggestions or recommendations that will no doubt be presented, will be discussed with the idea of building up the show, and not tear it down, in any single particular. There is no exhibition in Michigan that exceeds our Northern Michigan show in excellence of quality and benefits to the area.

Ten Soils Meetings Being Held in the County

During the entire week of February 22, excepting Saturday, a series of ten meetings will be held on the subject of soils and more especially the two important benefits of lime and organic matter. These meetings are held in the ten different townships and will be the first of a series of at least two meetings and probably three that will be conducted by the county agent during this winter.

These meetings will be largely informal and arranged with the objective in mind that a thorough knowledge of soils and the proper handling of soils is fundamental to successful agriculture. The second series of meetings will be on the topics of the value of barnyard manure and commercial fertilizer. In addition various questions pertaining to farm crops and dairying will be discussed if brought up.

All farmers are cordially invited to attend and bring with them any questions pertaining to this matter.

WHAT A BLADDER PHYSIC

Should do. Work on the bladder as castor oil on the bowels. Drive out impurities and excess acids that cause irritation which results in getting up nights, frequent desire, burning, leg pains or backache. BU-KETS (5 gr. tablets) is a pleasant bladder physic. Get a 25c test box from your druggist. After four days if not relieved go back and get your money. You will feel good after this cleansing and you get your regular sleep. F. J. Fossenden, druggist.

DAIRY INDUSTRY NOW IS IMMENSE

Milk Represents Fourth of Production on Farms.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

"The dairy industry is an immense industry. It holds an exceedingly important place in our national economic structure. This must be so, because the commodity it produces is a prime essential in our very existence," said O. E. Reed, chief of the bureau of dairy industry, United States Department of Agriculture, in addressing the first annual meeting of the North Carolina State Dairyman's association at Greensboro.

"The dairy industry is of such great size that it is difficult to realize how big it is," he said. "The steel industry was once called 'the billion-dollar industry.' In the year July 1, 1927, to July 1, 1928, according to estimates, the total income received by American farmers for all their farm products was about $12,500,000,000. One-fourth of this, or about three billions, was produced by our dairy cows. This was two and a half times the annual value of the cotton crop, two and a half times the value of the wheat crop, and more than twice the hog crop."

The demand for the dairy products of American farms is increasing year by year; milk, butter, cheese, ice cream, etc., are becoming a greater part of the diet of the American people, he said.

"The increase in the demand for dairy products is due to two factors. The first is the improvement that has taken place in the quality of all dairy products generally in the last few years. There is a direct relation between quality and consumption. Milk that is low in quality is always difficult to market to advantage, whereas milk of good flavor and high sanitary quality always has, under normal economic conditions, an advantageous market and is consumed in relatively large amounts. The second factor is a better understanding on the part of people generally of the value of milk and milk products in relation to nutrition and health."

In recent years a great deal of emphasis has been put upon the vitamin content of foods. Milk is rich in vitamins, these necessary food substances which are necessary for the proper functioning of the body.

"The problem of raising the general level of quality of milk and cream at the point of production, the farm, is one that must be given more consideration. The objects of quality improvement are to increase consumption and provide the consumer with clean, wholesome, and nutritious dairy products. Statistics on the per capita consumption of milk show that the southern states are low in their per capita consumption of all kinds of dairy products, as compared with other sections of the country. The producer as well as the manufacturer should make every effort to increase the consumption of milk."

ALFALFA HAY IS BEST COW FEED

Good Practice to Supply It With Silage.

(By JAMES W. LINN, Extension Dairyman, Kansas State Agricultural College)

Alfalfa plays an important part in the ration for the dairy cow. When fed with silage it should be about one-fourth of the entire ration; that is, one pound of alfalfa hay for each three pounds of silage fed. If alfalfa is fed in a combination with other roughages which are dry, then it should be about one-half of the ration consumed.

It is a good practice to feed alfalfa with silage, for silage has other beneficial effects, such as adding succulence to the ration. To a certain extent the silage takes the place of green pasture grasses.

A very well balanced dairy ration where alfalfa and silage are fed is one pound of alfalfa to three pounds of silage. This combination leaves but one reason why something else should be added to the ration, and that is the fact that not enough pounds of food nutrients can be consumed in these roughages to supply the needs of a heavy producing dairy cow. To meet this need it is necessary for the dairyman to feed grain.

When alfalfa and silage are the roughages used by a dairy cow the recommended grain ration includes: Four parts corn chop; two parts of oats chaff and one part cottonseed meal. The dairyman may substitute for his corn chop barley, kaffir, or milo seed. In the place of oats he may substitute bran, and in place of cottonseed meal, linseed meal whenever any of these products are cheaper than those named in the ration.

To Produce Clean Cream Obey Few Precautions

Dairyman can increase the demand for their dairy products and thereby benefit their industry by being careful to always produce clean cream, says State Dairy Commissioner Walter R. Freeman at the Colorado Agricultural college.

By following a few simple precautions, he says, dairyman can produce clean, well-flavored cream that will raise the score of butter. These precautions, listed in a new circular just issued by the college extension service, are as follows:

1. Daily grooming of milk cows.

2. Washed and sterilized equipment. 3. Proper cooling of cream. 4. Frequent deliveries.

"Elaborate barns and expensive equipment are not necessary to produce clean milk," the commissioner says in this circular, copies of which may be obtained on request. "As the milk comes from the cow it is clean, provided the animal is healthy. This side contamination then is the chief cause of bad flavors, rancid or yeasty conditions."

Use Production Records to Locate Best Animals

More and more we are understanding the mode of inheritance by which the chief economic function of dairy cattle is transmitted from parent to progeny. For a long time it has been known that breeding the best to the best would tend to beget that which is desired in animal breeding. Our chief problems now seem to be (1) improving our means of finding the best animals, and (2) getting dairy farmers to use the best means we have. Testing for production records is the best means we have of measuring the chief economic function of dairy cattle. It works for good in two directions. It finds the best and the poorest animals. It enables the breeder who uses it to purify the transmitting powers of his best animals by removing the influence of animals with undesirable characters.

Dairy Hints

Turn sludge does not keep well. See that the knives are sharp.

There are 12 tons of settled sludge in a silo 12 feet in diameter filled 20 feet high.

Cows that freshen in the fall produce more milk than those that freshen at any other time.

It is well to bear in mind that milk from a given cow in normal condition always has the same composition.

This year, with lower prices, is an ideal time to select a good sire and should be used to an advantage.

Don't try to see how little feed a dairy cow can get along with and still produce some milk. In the opposite—feed her all she can eat.

A good bull pen solves all their problems of handling the bull. They should never be allowed to run with the herd, especially during the fall and winter.

Ice cream can be easily and inexpensively made on the farm. Try your favorite recipes or use the following: 2½ quarts of 25 per cent cream; three-fourths pint sugar, and a tablespoonful of vanilla. Freeze quickly with a mixture of one pound coarse salt to six to eight pounds of crushed ice.

Miss Anderson, Miss Marvel Smith and Carl Beattie will be the treasurer's assistants. Harry Bingham will be official score-keeper, and Victor Smith time-keeper. Boys of the manual training class under Mr. Wiesnburger have built a scoreboard which in addition to scores of teams, registers the remaining time of each game as play progresses.

TOURIST MEETING IS CALLED AT TRAVERSE

Next summer's tourist business will be the important subject of a one-day convention at Traverse City Friday which Charlevoix business men are urged to attend.

The morning discussion will be for rooming house proprietors. Real estate men will have a meeting at 2 o'clock, hotel and resort proprietors at 3 o'clock and a general round table discussion will be held at 4 o'clock. All of the meetings will be at the Park Place hotel.

WESTERMAN GAVE INTERESTING ADDRESS

Spoke Before Commerce and Sportsman's Groups Thursday Evening

F. A. Westerman, head of the fish division of the department of conservation, addressed a joint meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce and Charlevoix Sportsman's club at the I. O. O. F. hall last Thursday evening.

Mr. Westerman substituted for Col. George R. Hogarth, conservation director, who was unable to fill his local engagement because of illness which caused him to cancel temporarily the balance of his Northern Michigan speaking tour.

Around fifty enjoyed the splendid banquet dinner prepared and served by members of the Rebekah lodge.

Mr. Westerman gave a very interesting talk. He reviewed the history of the department's fish division from its infancy, showing the progress made in the work of propagating many species of game fish. He also covered the present financial condition of the conservation department, revealing how their efforts have been necessarily curtailed through lack of funds.

SCHOOL DRAMATIC CLASS PLAN PLAY

THURSDAY, MARCH 17TH SET AS DATE OF PRODUCTION

Palace Theatre to Be Scene for Presentation of J. M. Barrie's "Quality Street."

The High School Drama club, composed of about twenty young people from the junior and senior classes, is carrying out a true Little Theatre project in the presentation of J. M. Barrie's "Quality Street," which will be given at the Palace theatre the evening of Thursday, March 17th.

This play stands high in the realm of literature. Sir James M. Barrie and George Bernard Shaw head the list of English playwrights, and the club has in mind to offer Shaw's "Pygmalion" as next year's production if "Quality Street" finds favor with Charlevoix people.

The drama is said to be very entertaining. It takes its audience back to the days of the Napoleonic wars—when men were dashing clothes and women the straight simple Grecian lines and mentioned their gallant admirers with blushing whispers, and dared only to breathe the initials of his name. Some of the most serious lines contain hidden humor which makes one smile and at other times spontaneous bursts of laughter are heard from the audience.

Another reason that this offering of the Drama club is indeed a Little Theatre project is the fact that the young people are doing practically all the work for the production, including the making of scenery and costumes. By the skillful wielding of the hammer, nails and paint brushes, the stage will be transformed into the dainty and somewhat fragile blue and white room of Susan and Phoebe Throssel, and from there the audience will be taken to a sylvan scene with dimly flickering lights where were held the stately balls in honor of the soldiers returning from the Napoleonic wars.

The cozy, intimate nature of the Palace theatre, together with the splendid acoustic equipment of the house, makes it an ideal place in which to stage a play of this type.

Charlevoix has had no lyceum course this year, and it is hoped that "Quality Street" may prove a pleasing substitute for the play which is usually one of the numbers of a lyceum program.

LOOK FORWARD TO EARLY SMELT RUN

OPEN WINTER EXPECTED TO ADVANCE DIPPING DATE

Preparations Are Under Way At East Jordan and Boyne City to Handle Crowds During "Run"

An early run of smelt up the streams along the Lake Michigan shore is expected by the local sportsmen because of the open winter. It is considered likely that the run will begin the first or second week of March.

Because of the fact that large catches of smelt have been taken through the ice and from the docks in open water during the winter, the run this spring is expected to be the largest in the history of the species in Michigan.

During the "runs" smelt may be taken with hand nets of not more than five feet in circumference or with handles not over five feet in length, from the following streams as designated by the conservation commission.

Charlevoix county: Boyne river down from Pearl street in Boyne City; Deer creek down from dam on section 25, South Arm township; Horton creek down from dam on section 6, Bay township; Monroe creek down from highway bridge; Porter creek down from dam situated 720 feet from the mouth; Stover creek down from dam situated 450 feet from mouth.

Benzie county: Cold creek down from northerly line of Clark street in village of Beulah; Crystal lake outlet above Hammond bridge; Round lake outlet; all other streams entering Crystal lake down from round around lake.

At Boyne City and East Jordan, plans are already under way to handle the "run." If happenings of a year ago, when dipping started at East Jordan on March 7th, may be taken as an indication, the "run" will start there in a week. Low water levels at the mouth of Jordan river this year should make dipping conditions ideal.

At Boyne City the smelt run will be handled entirely by the conservation department. Dipping hours have been set from 9:00 to 11:00 p. m. and from 2:00 to 6:00 a. m., eastern standard time. These hours will stand unchanged throughout the run. No advertising will be done except by the conservation department officers and no call will be made to sportsmen until there is definite assurance that the "run" is in full blast.

GIRLS' CONFERENCE AT PETOSKEY APRIL 30TH

Northern Michigan Second Annual Gathering to Be Held There

It is expected that at least two hundred and fifty girls from Cheboygan, Petoskey, Boyne City, Harbor Springs, Charlevoix, Kalkaska, East Jordan, will go to Petoskey on Saturday, April 30, for the second annual Northern Michigan Girls' conference.

The day will be crowded with events which will include group meetings, a banquet in the First Presbyterian church dining room with a program and speaker and addresses by representatives from the state department of health and from the University of Michigan.

The theme song of the lie is, "Now this is the truth."

NORTHERN "Y" BOYS MET AT BOYNE CITY

INTERESTING SESSION HELD THERE THURSDAY EVENING

Plans Started for Northern Older Boys' Conference at Petoskey On April 23rd

A company of sixty-five men and young men, mainly from Hi-Y and young men's "Y" groups of Northern Michigan met in Boyne City last Thursday evening and started plans for the 1932 Older Boys' Y. M. C. A. conference in Petoskey on Saturday, April 23rd. At that time Petoskey expects to entertain from 150 to 175 visiting young men, and from 30 to 50 or more Petoskey young men will join with the visitors in three big sessions.

Thursday night the Boyne City high school boys' cooking class served a delicious smelt supper at the high school gymnasium dining room, and Supt. Close had charge of the evening's deliberations. Speakers from the various cities and towns voiced their approval of suggestions for the program and C. F. Angell, "Y" secretary of the region, read a list of committees which had been suggested at a conference earlier in the day at Boyne City. This list was approved and members instructed to work for a very able speaker for the day.

The conference program calls for three sessions on April 23, forenoon, afternoon and evening. The guest speaker likely will give two addresses, one in the forenoon and one in the evening, with state and regional leaders being heard in the conference groups and at the afternoon session. There will be an activity period at the high school gymnasium, and at noon a visit to the homes of Petoskey school boys. The main sessions of the conference and the group sessions will be at the high school. The evening banquet and program will be at the dining room of the First Christian church.

Among the committees named were a registration group for each city and town in the district whose duty will be to register at least a week in advance of the conference, those who will make up the various town quotas, collecting the registration and banquet fee and mailing the list and money to the central district committee there.

Supt. L. L. Close of Boyne City heads the program committee with these other members, O. P. North, Charlevoix; Rev. Wesley Sidebotham, East Jordan; Supt. H. C. Spiller, Petoskey; Secretary Angell of the Y. M. C. A. Walter J. MacMillan heads the entertainment committee made up entirely of Petoskey men and young men.

Quotas for the various towns follows: Alanson 6, Bellaire 10, Alba 6, Boyne City 20, Boyne Falls 4, Charlevoix 20, Central Lake 10, Cheboygan 20, East Jordan 20, Ellsworth 6, Gaylord 15, Grayling 6, Harbor Springs 20, Kalkaska 4, Levering 3, Mackinaw City 10, Onaway 10, Mancelona 10, Petoskey 30, Pellston 5, Rogers City 10.

Ironton Man Caught Two Frogs
Henry Woodward, Ironton farmer, brought two full grown grass frogs into town early this week as proof of the near approach of spring. He caught them in a swamp near his pasture. Mr. Woodward said he might have caught more had not the frogs been too active.

MASONS TAKE BIG LEAD IN CRIBBAGE CONTEST

Are Out in Front by 692 Points With One More Night to Play

The Masons practically sewed up victory in the winter series of cribbage contests with the Odd Fellows at the I. O. O. F. hall Monday evening.

Trailing by 313 points following the contest last Tuesday evening, the Masons let loose with a barrage of near-perfect and perfect scores to win the evening engagement by a margin of 1,005 points, thus putting themselves out in front by a total of 692, with only one more contest on the schedule.

Team scores Monday night were 16,705 for the Masons and 15,700 for the Odd Fellows. Two perfect scores were turned in by the Masons, the first during the series, John Kling and Lage Geer showed cards of 968 each, while the leading Odd Fellow was John Geer with 926. Nine tables were in play.

The series comes to a close next Monday evening with the final contest at the Masonic temple. The losing side will furnish a "feed" for the winners.

POLAR BEARS BEAT CHEBOYGAN

FOLLOW VICTORY WITH DEFEAT AT HARBOR TUESDAY

Team Goes to Elk Rapids for Return Game Tonight — Play in Grand Rapids Tourney Next Week

Playing twice on out-of-town courts in the past week, the Polar Bears again broke even in the two encounters.

Last Wednesday evening they hung up their second victory of the season over Cheboygan, a feat no other Northern Michigan quintet has been able to do this winter. The count was decisive, 24 to 19.

Tuesday evening they dropped a 24 and 15 decision to the strong Harbor Springs Merchants, thus evening the season's count between the two teams.

In the Cheboygan tilt, the Bears led all the way. Ikens, Smith, Brown and Supernaw combined their efforts to pile up a 14 to 7 margin at the half. Ikens led the offense with 7 points. Cheboygan out-scored Charlevoix 7 points to 4 in the third session, but in the fourth, the Bears came back with a rally which netted 6 points to the losers' 5, to insure victory.

For Charlevoix, Ikens was high with 9 points. Brown and Smith scored 6 each, and Supernaw 3. Doe was high for Cheboygan with 6. Bracket scored 5, McCarty and Judd each 4.

Charlevoix's slow breaking offense would not click on Harbor's small court Tuesday evening and the Merchants romped off with a one-sided victory.

The first period was a defensive struggle, with Harbor netting a single goal for the only score of the session. The winners added 9 more to Charlevoix's 8 in the second period to lead at the half 11 and 8. They sewed up victory in the third with three goals while holding Charlevoix to a single gift shot, giving (Continued on page 5.)

LOCAL ICE HARVEST PROGRESSES RAPIDLY

Work Is Now Over Half Completed With Complete Harvest a Prospect

The Charlevoix Coal & Ice Co., local wholesale ice dealers, report that satisfactory progress is being made with the annual harvest.

Widdifield's storage place on the south hill was completed Sunday, and Tuesday, following a day's lay-off for road repair, work was started at the Chicago club, Belvedere hotel and Hallett's Inn. It was expected these houses would be filled today.

It is hoped that ice will have reached sufficient thickness on the west shore of Lake Charlevoix by that time, so that cutting operations may be shifted to that location to fill Widdifield's house on the lake shore and the company's own storage place in the old beet sugar factory. It is reported 7-inch ice is now available and with a couple more freezing nights it will be thick enough for storage purposes.

JORDAN WON FINAL TILT HERE FRIDAY

SPRING UPSET IN DEFEATING KIPMEN BY 14 TO 10 COUNT

Contest Closed Pre-Tournament Schedule for Both Teams—Junior High Even Count With Jordan

Charlevoix and East Jordan high school eaglers completed their pre-tournament basketball schedules on the local court last Friday evening. The visitors, whom Charlevoix had previously defeated by a 21 to 10 margin at East Jordan, romped off with the decision in a rough, hard-fought game. The score was 14 to 10.

Jordan was an easy victim for the Kipmen before, but Friday night, bolstered by the addition of their captain, Howard Sommerville, who was out of the previous game, presented a more formidable combination. This, coupled with the fact that the Kipmen were far off form, spelled defeat.

The contest was a defensive battle in the first half. The Kipmen counted on goals by Davenport and Auce in the first period. Ellis connected for Jordan, but neither found the meshes in the second session and the half closed with Charlevoix leading 4 and 2.

Jordan assumed an advantage early in the third session and remained in front to the final whistle. Sommerville, who was the pivot of the visitors' attack, accounted for three goals and a pair of free tosses during the half for 8 of his team's 14 points. Hignite and Lalonde added the other two goals. Charlevoix was limited to ducies by Chew, Auce and Davenport for a total of 6 points.

Charlevoix missed their two chances from the foul line, while East Jordan connected with two out of seven. The contest was extremely rough, and very little complimentary could be said concerning the slow, inconsistent refereeing of "Bill" Under from Traverse City.

Charlevoix junior high defeated East Jordan junior high 13 to 15 in the preliminary to even the season's count between the two teams.

Score by quarters:
Charlevoix.....4 0 2 4—10
Jordan.....2 0 5 7—14

Reviewing the result of the season's play, the score book shows Charlevoix won five out of eleven games. In conference play, their record was four out of seven for second place in the league. Boyne bends the conference standing with six won and two lost.

SPRING PRIMARY ELECTION SLATED FOR MONDAY, MAR. 7

The annual spring primary election for the city of Charlevoix will be held Monday, March 7th.

In direct contrast with a year ago, when there were but two contests on the entire city ticket, this year's line-up includes a contest for mayor in addition to scraps for supervisor and alderman, or both, in every city ward.

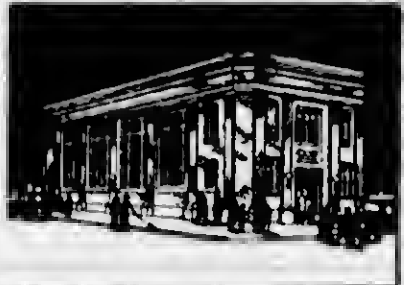

Every qualified voter in the city is duty bound to go to the polls next Monday. It is an obligation no one should shirk. And further, an intelligent, unprejudiced exercise of the voters' franchise, is a requisite of clean, responsible government.

The polls in the central voting place at the city library, will be open from 7:00 a. m. to 8:00 p. m., central standard time.

Township politics will also be revived Monday. Throughout the county township caucuses will be held for the purpose of nominating officers to be voted on at the general spring election in April.

COURAGEOUS CANTONESE

While American interest in the doings at Shanghai is that of a spectator only, the sympathy of the man in the street seems to rest with the Chinese, who are clearly the victims of aggression. While the League of Nations is in conference at Geneva trying to accomplish something it has never yet been able to do—namely, find a means of actually outlawing war—the average reader has had plenty of amazement from newspaper reports of the gallant defense put up by Chinese defenders of Woosung forts and the Chapei sector. Equipped with only machine guns and a few old-fashioned big guns, commanded by a young Chinese general who was educated in this country and who carries two books of poetry with him wherever he goes, the Cantonese at the Woosung forts showed the well-equipped Japs, backed by the big guns of their warships and bombing planes, which knocked the forts into broken heaps, how to fight. In smoking, blasted Chapei the Cantonese have shown just as much tenacity and bravery. To most of us, who have considered the Chinese a backward, slow-going race, the feats of arms of these Cantonese from the south of China is surprising and brings realization that patriotism and courage are not lacking. Poorly equipped, their crack regiments not having arms equal to those provided an American National Guard outfit, these Cantonese—many of them mere boys—have stood off thoroughly trained and equipped foemen; they have fought against invaders as magnificently as Washington's men carried on through eight bitter years.

Regardless of the outcome of the current trouble, it is apparent that China has the possibilities of a great nation of the future.—Grand Rapids Chronicle.

GROUNDED AUTOMOBILES

During the last few weeks attention of Charlevoix and Northern Michigan motorists has been called, repeatedly, to the fact that on and after March 1, all automobiles used on streets and roads must bear the 1932 license plates. Despite frequent warning the sale of license plates at the local bureau at the Chamber of Commerce, continues far below what it reasonably could be expected to be, even in these times of depression.

Not only hundreds of Charlevoix county owned automobiles, be forced into inactivity, but thousands upon thousands of cars in Michigan will be grounded because of failure of their owners to provide the 1932 license plates. The number of automobile owners who are unable to purchase license plates runs into the thousands.

Their number assumes serious proportions.

It isn't the fault of the license law, nor is it particularly the fault of the auto owner. There are no doubt a lot of cases where the owner could just as well buy his plates early as to wait until the last day, but there are others who are unable to secure the cash. It is just "one of those things" that develop from the present economic situation, and the law is not prepared to meet it. Following the weeks of warning and the sixty days of grace the law allows no further leniency. The secretary of state has no option in the matter.

There are many auto operators who could produce license fee to permit them to operate for a period of three months, or maybe for six months, but producing from $15 to $20 at once, just now, is out of the question. Here is a place where the law might be changed to meet the present situation. There might be made a rule allowing quarterly payments, or some plan on the car license plates.

HOTEL DRINKING

Hotel men, meeting in a national convention, express themselves more freely than usual about the liquor question. Before the meeting, the president of the association announced, every state hotel association had been polled and "the vote showed that in the great majority of states there is a determination among hotel men to modify or repeal the prohibition law."

This may be regarded as a natural development. "Economically determined," hotels used to have bars, and there was profit in them. But the hotel men insist that what they are interested in now is some system which would change or abolish present drinking practices, which cause them much loss and annoyance. They are tired of "alcoholic stains, burning cigarette stubs, bottles flying out of windows, torn shower curtains, ruined rugs, soiled furniture and woodwork," and so on. The hotels will probably not have their old-time bars restored, whatever happens. But the rowdy drinking they complain of, with destructive aspects of contemporary drinking, are likely to be modified when the nation is able to turn its unprejudiced attention to the matter.

RURAL LIFE GROWS POPULAR

From many states comes the word, "there is little acute distress in the rural communities." Where diversified farming is practiced, the farmers are getting along tolerably well. What of urban communities? The villages are getting along better than the small cities; the small cities are getting along better than the large ones.

Thus the fact is clear. The closer people are to the land, the safer they are in times of economic distress. This is one of the lessons of the present time, and on which is sure to have a growing effect on our national manner of life and distribution of population hereafter.

Already, even while farmers complain of ruinous prices for their products, the country is tempting the city. People who want vegetables and fruits and grain and poultry and dairy products, not to sell so much as to eat themselves, are beginning to drain away from city to country. Small farms near town are more in demand today than ever before. Millions of city families are dreaming of a little place in the country with a garden, a cow, a hen house and some fruit trees.

Many want to keep their employment in town and live in the suburbs; and anything up to 40 miles away may be suburban. Cities are probably destined to decentralize, small towns to spread out, more than has yet been realized. For economic need merely emphasizes a natural American desire for rural life.

EXPENSIVE DRIVING

Here is something on motoring which is worth thinking about, even though the average motorist probably won't believe it.

"It will prove more economical to cope with the traffic problem than to ignore it," says Dr. Miller McClintock, traffic expert of Harvard University. "For at least 75 per cent of a motorist's operating time on metropolitan streets is utterly wasted, either in parking, waiting for lights or getting out of traffic jams. And it costs 7 cents a minute to operate an automobile or truck in a city."

If it costs the average motorist $4.20 an hour to get around city streets, then he is losing $3.15 an hour, of his own money or somebody else's. If it costs half that much, in any town, the collective loss would pay for a lot of straightening and widening of streets, abolishing bottle-necks and grade crossings, and so on.

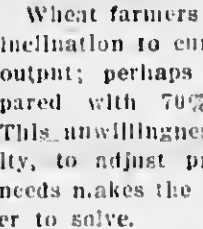

There is no man so blind as he who closes his eyes on truth.

THE MACHINE AGE SPOILS A PROPHECY

By H. L. RUSSELL

Advisory Council, Agricultural Commission, American Bankers Association.

A NOTED British scientist forecast thirty years ago that by 1931 all available wheat land in the world would be under cultivation, and if the yields per acre could not be increased beyond that which then prevailed there would be a world shortage. The average yield then was 12.7 bushels per acre. During the past seven years, the world over, it has been 14.1. On the 220,000,000 acres in cultivation this increase would amount to almost a half billion bushels more production than the world standards of thirty years ago. In place of dire distress due to shortage, we have had dire distress due to surplus.

H. L. RUSSELL

Wheat farmers have shown no great inclination to curtail materially their output; perhaps a 10% decline compared with 70% reduction in steel. This unwillingness, or perhaps inability, to adjust production to current needs makes the problem all the harder to solve.

Not only are we now growing more wheat per unit of land, but acreage has been very greatly extended. In twenty years Canada has increased acreage 250%, Australia almost as much. Another significant fact is the materially lessened use of wheat. A much more diversified diet has developed. More vegetables and fruits are used than formerly. The reduction of 1.2 bushels consumed per person per annum since the last generation necessitates nearly 150,000,000 bushels less wheat than was formerly required.

Machines Increase Supply

The factor that has exerted the most potent influence in this rising world flood of grain has been the rapid development of the machine. The old days of the cradle required from thirty to forty hours of hand labor to harvest an acre of grain. Then came the binder, which reduced the process to four or five hours per acre. Now the combine does the work in forty-five minutes per acre.

Where it used to cost ten cents a bushel merely to thresh the grain, the modern combine cuts and threshes at a cost ranging from 3 to 5 cents a bushel. With this reduced cost of production, the possibility of acreage expansion is tremendous. Lands heretofore regarded as worthless except for grazing have recently come into competition with the older wheat belts.

The Russian Effort

Within the past two or three years another disturbing element has come into the picture. Soviet Russia is attempting a comeback fraught with possibility that cannot yet be fully evaluated. Russia is eagerly utilizing the very latest of scientific knowledge to enlarge her agricultural possibilities. With feverish anxiety she is literally pouring millions into the expansion of her university research institutes, experimental stations and breeding farms. Her scientists are combing the earth for new crops and new methods. No country in Europe is manifesting more interest and activity in laying hold of the best science, wherever it may be found.

It is of more than passing interest that the wheat yields reported on the huge trust farm known as the "Glant" ran last year as much as 18 bushels to the acre. On this single farm the crop harvested is reported to have been 3,865,000 bushels. A single farm of 427,000 acres under government control and mechanized as fast as human energy can be applied is a new factor in the world's picture.

There can be but little doubt that the Russian situation may yet assume quite a different attitude from what obtained even in pre-war days.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Tournament

Thursday morning the high school students will start the first tournament day with a big mass meeting. Some new stunts will be on the program and many of the alumni yell masters will be back. C. H. S. has had no opportunity for long pep meetings this year so this one will be unusually good.

The junior and senior high schools will close both days at 2:30. The games commence at 3 o'clock.

Since C. H. S. is entertaining the tournament this year the school and community as well as the players should take the right attitude toward the games and show that Charlevoix high school is a school which endeavors to make it a successful event. No prejudice should be shown and the spectators as well as the players should show that C. H. S. is a school that enjoys good sportsmanship.

This year the ticket office will be placed outside of the gymnasium. It has been loaned to us by the Parmelee Lumber company.

The bleachers on the stage have been secured from the Petoskey high school.

The bands from East Jordan, Harbor Springs and Boyne City have been invited to furnish music in the evenings. The Charlevoix band will play in the afternoons.

The seniors have the concession of the tournament.

Thompson, state director of physical education, to serve on a committee of superintendents and physical education directors to draw up an intramural athletic program for use in high schools of the state.

Teachers' Party

Last Thursday the teachers enjoyed the evening in the gayly decorated sewing room in the junior high building. The time was spent in playing bridge and hearts. Though Mr. Bush was one of the most fluent conversationalists he was also the winner of the bridge prize. Miss Bodfish carried off the prize at hearts. It is well known that Miss Bodfish is especially accomplished at that game.

Refreshments were served by the committee, Miss Anderson, Mr. Coleman and Mr. Bingham. It is believed the gentlemen of the committee must have had previous experience in this line of work for none but the intimated could have acted with such a degree of dexterity and skill.

Forensic Contests

Next Tuesday morning at 9:30 the annual oratory and declamation contest will be held in the senior high school session room. At the present time eliminations are being held in the various English class rooms to determine those who will compete Tuesday for the honor of representing Charlevoix high school in the sub-district contest which will be held early in April, probably at Cheboygan.

Funeral services for Mrs. Arthur Johnson were held last week. She succumbed to a stroke of paralysis following an illness of several years. Recently she had been residing with her son in town. Her husband is living alone on the farm this winter. Neighbors have been very kind in caring for Mr. and Mrs. Johnson, about twenty cords of wood being cut for them recently.

Miss Fern Vanderberg is home from Bellaire school with a broken leg. Miss Bernice Kendall is filling the vacancy. Miss Vanderberg and Miss Margaret Armstrong of Alden, were coasting on the school hill and was run over by a car driven by Harold Olney of Bellaire, just as the bobsled coasted onto M-88. Each young lady had both bones of the left leg below the knee broken. At present (Monday) Miss Vanderberg is reported by Dr. Duffie to be improving nicely. Miss Armstrong has returned to her home at Alden.

We hear this week that the Ellsworth cannery factory is now an assured thing and that the new building will be put up and contracts for produce will begin about the middle of the month. Antrina county will then have two good canning factories. The Central Lake factory has been selling their products well of late and will probably can cherries again this year. We see by the dailies that the cherries of the country have all been sold and that a market for the new crop this year is now assured. County Agent Ousterout gives a pruning demonstration at the Shooks farm this week Thursday.

PHILLIPS' MILK OF MAGNESIA
For Troubles due to Acid Indigestion, Acid Stomach, Heartburn, Headache, Gases, Nausea.

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go, get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week
Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it." "I take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half tea-spoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unhealthily fat—but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health."

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

Fertilizer Dealers to Meet Next Week

Plans have been definitely made for a fertilizer dealers' meeting to be held Tuesday, March 8. It will be held in the Charlevoix county court house and will begin promptly at 1:30 p. m. eastern standard time. The object of this meeting is to thoroughly inform each of the plant food dealers in the county as to the latest information upon the use of fertilizers.

When one considers that this county used approximately 350 tons of commercial fertilizer in 1929, one realizes a large percentage of our farmers are sold to the value of additional plant food.

Now then, is it not proper that each dealer of commercial fertilizer should have the latest information on hand relative to the analysis to be used, the manner of application, and the amount of application, so that he may be in a better position to be of service to his customers? Paul Road, extension soils specialist, will be in charge. He will bring to the dealers the very latest results in the use of fertilizers and what dozens of experiments conducted throughout the state indicate. All dealers, whether large or small, are cordially invited to attend this meeting, and have the opportunity of discussing with Mr. Road, and among themselves, all the latest information on fertilizer.

Many Old Theories Unset As Result of Soils Meetings

Over 100 farmers in the county attended the ten soils meetings held last week in the ten different townships in the county. By means of a carefully prepared outline many of the newest thoughts were discussed regarding lime and acidity, and the importance of using larger quantities of organic matter in our soils.

Especially in the case of lime it is true that many old theories have been discarded resulting from several experiments carried on in the state. First, it can be emphatically stated that there are only two kinds of liming materials to consider buying. These are agricultural limestone and marl, and the person should buy the one that can be applied to his land the cheapest, providing that one and one-half to two times as many yards of marl is used as tons of limestone. It is not profitable to buy the extra fine materials as they have not given any better results than the coarser materials similar to Potoskey limestone in composition. In other words, the cheapest forms of lime materials are the best.

Value and importance of organic matter was placed on a dollar and cents basis, which indicated to the farmer how valuable it actually is. Space does not permit further details but remember you are welcome to attend the next meeting to be held on the same schedule, except being held the week of March 14. It is hoped that each farmer who attended the first meeting will urge another farmer to come with him, and in that way reach 200 instead of 100 as was the case this time.

Remove and Burn Mutilated Canes From Raspberry Beds Now

There are four raspberry pests that cause constant loss to Michigan growers. Losses caused by these insects many times are small but may assume large proportions in a short time. Observations during the last year indicate four infestations which, if not cared for, will result in a heavy loss during 1932. The species in mind are the raspberry cane borer, red-necked cane borer, raspberry cane maggot and tree crickets.

Now then, to largely eliminate losses from the above named insects, remove and burn all damaged canes, as well as all dead canes, before growth takes place in the spring. All of these pests pass the winter in these canes and this recommended treatment will destroy most of them.

The raspberry cane borer injury is indicated from the two girdled places usually about an inch apart on the canes. This will weaken the canes and ordinarily results in breaking off at the point of injury. The red-necked cane borer injury is noted by gummy galls caused by boring of the larval form of this beetle just below the bark. The raspberry cane maggot is usually indicated in summer by many wilted tips here and there in the planting. The tree cricket injury shows largely by their habit of laying their eggs closely packed in longitudinal slits, which causes weakening and death of canes above the injury.

Even if no loss has been caused by the above named insects in would be wise to practice removing all dead canes and badly damaged ones in the winter. And, most important, burn them.

Will Rogers Plays Role He Made Famous in Real Life

Will Rogers dressed in a holed shirt, as the backwoods American ambassador attached to an etiquette-ridden European court. Such is the guise in which we see the famous funster in "Ambassador Bill," his latest Fox picture, opening at the Palace theatre, Saturday as an envoy whose first diplomatic (?) act is to suggest that they call off a special presentation because the queen has "hurry feet!"

"Ambassador Bill" is a perfect "fit" for the famous reporter-actor due to the fact that it allows him to "be himself." Famous as a pungent commentator on current topics, and as an "unofficial ambassador" sent to laugh international troubles away, this film simply makes him relieve events that he must know by heart.

Laid in the timely scene of a glamorous little kingdom ruled over by a boy, it deals with the political machinations of a wily dictator to make himself the real power behind the throne. Rogers, in the role of the worldly-wise "Dollar Bill" Harper, has something to say about this, however. And says it, naturally, in a manner that would split anybody's sides.

EXPECT NEW FORDS IN NEXT FEW DAYS

PRODUCTION TO BE STARTED SOON ON NEW MODELS

Longer, Wider, Lower Bodies Are Streamlined.—Car Has V-Type Radiator and Free Wheeling

Henry Ford, pioneer in mass production of autos, is staking millions on his belief that people are ready to buy real values.

Holding his theory in this the third year of the depression, Ford is ready with his new venture, an 8-cylinder car, the pride of his career, and the marketing of a new 4-cylinder engine.

Within a few days shipping of final parts will start.

Though Ford has several finished models at the Dearborn plant, cars are not yet officially on sale. Official announcement will be made after the final parts get to the assembling plants around the country, and are set up.

The new model should be on display shortly thereafter.

Ford revealed Saturday that 83,560 advance orders with deposits were on file up to the 24th, and that three out of four of these were for the new eight.

His new 4-cylinder engine is housed in the same kind of body as the eight.

With his venture into a new field, Ford is dealing depression a body blow in the Dearborn auto area, and is spending orders that reach beyond that zone into the territory of the supply dealers.

His goal this year is 1,800,000 cars.

If he reaches it, his wages alone will amount to $198,000,000. He has 70,000 men at work now. There is no more unemployment in Dearborn. Probably 100,000 will be working by June.

Millions will be spent with the 5,200 firms that supply parts and accessories.

The only familiar sign on the new car is the trade-mark. The body is streamlined, with slanting windshield, and V-shaped radiator with rounded crown in body color.

The bodies are longer, wider and lower. The cars have free-wheeling. The ignition key has been switched to the steering post, and the gasoline tank to the rear. Wheels are larger with heavier tires and bigger hub caps.

Ford intends to stay on the five-day week.

"Our car would have been out six weeks ago if it had not been for Sunday work," he said. "Some of our men became over-zealous and worked on Sunday. The result was that we spent most of the following week correcting their mistakes. Sunday work never pays. Finally we stopped it. I never believed in it. Well, since then we have been coming along fine, and we're practically ready to start."—Potoskey Evening News.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS BULLETIN

In caring for indigents, Michigan spent $11,965,689 more for the year ending September 30, 1931, than for the same period ending September 30, 1930, according to compilation by the department of state from annual reports of superintendents of the poor of Michigan's 83 counties. This compilation is required by law annually.

Almost all of the increased cost was due to unemployment. In 1930 the total cost of temporary aid for indigents outside institutions was $10,180,046 while in 1931 the cost was $21,654,963.

The number who received assistance in 1930 was 273,763 as compared with 668,963 in 1931, an increase of 395,200.

During the year covered by the present compilation, 21,670 persons were aided in infirmaries; 2,274 in other institutions; 619,326 were given temporary aid; and 25,693 were receiving permanent aid outside institutions.

Poor farms and equipment in the state are valued at $15,043,553, the compilation shows.

Major Albert Dunham, keeper of the Great Seal of Michigan in the department of state, was guest of honor at a banquet of veteran state employees recently. Major Dunham is 87 years of age and on April 1st, will have served Michigan for 38 consecutive years. He is the oldest employee, both in age and in years of service.

HENS DO NOT BOTHER TO RAISE CHICKENS

Mechanical Methods Replace Biddy in Michigan Poultry Flocks

Michigan poultry yards now contain one of the few leisure classes left in the world, since mechanical contrivances have relieved 80 per cent of Michigan hens from the responsibility of raising their own families, according to the poultry department at Michigan State college.

Successful artificial raising of chicks is dependent upon clean range, maintenance of proper temperatures in the brooder house, and proper amounts of suitable feeds.

Clean range means ground upon which no kind of poultry has run during the preceding two years. Brooder houses must be thoroughly cleaned and disinfected before the chicks are placed in them. The brooder house should be movable and should be taken to the range after it has been cleaned.

The brooder stove should be set upon an asbestos pad or in a sandbox to eliminate fire hazards. A temperature of 90 degrees at a point one inch above the floor at the outside edge of the hover should be maintained. More chicks are injured by overheating than by chilling. The brooder house, away from the hover, should be about 70 degrees; these temperatures can be gradually reduced as the chicks become older.

The starting mash recommended by the Michigan State College poultry department is made up of 36 pounds coarse ground yellow corn meal, 20 pounds flour middlings, 20 pounds ground oat groats or ground oatmeal, 10 pounds dried milk, 5 pounds meat scrap (50 per cent protein), 2 pounds steamed bone meal, 1 pound salt and 1 pound cod liver oil. This mash can be fed until the birds enter the laying house, but it is improved as a growing mash by substituting 20 pounds of bran for the flour middlings. The dried milk can be cut to 5 pounds and the corn increased to 41 pounds.

VOTE AT PRIMARY SETS NEW RECORD

BERGEON GIVEN NOMINATION IN MAYORALTY RACE

Webster Defeated in First Ward —
Alcock and Hooker in Third — Record Vote Is Cast

Undaunted by an early spring blizzard of mid-winter proportions, Charlevoix voters cast a record primary election vote Monday.

Nine hundred and eighty-eight ballots were cast in the three wards of the city, a total far in excess of anything we can remember. One or more contests in every precinct, together with a mayoralty scrap, furnished the proper incentive.

Arthur Bergeon received the nomination for his 12th term as mayor by a majority of 109 votes over Edward Cross, first ward candidate. It was the smallest majority given Bergeon in recent years. Ray S. Hamilton, Mary A. Rife and John Zeidler were unopposed for the offices of city clerk, city treasurer and park commissioner, respectively.

In the first ward, Arthur Ranger, a new-comer in the political field, defeated Clair S. Webster by a margin of 42 votes, for alderman.

In the second ward, Frank Partridge, supervisor, and Floyd J. Fessenden, alderman, were nominated over William P. Hicken and Sam O. Sorenson, respectively.

William E. Parmelee defeated Archie Alcock, incumbent, for supervisor in the third ward, and Edward O'Neil was given a majority of 91 for alderman over Harry F. Hooker, incumbent. Following is the vote:

CHARLEVOIX AND BOYNE TWO PLACES, JORDAN ONE

Attendance Light, But Local School Nets Profit—Other Interesting Tournament Information

At the close of play in the district basketball tournament here last Saturday evening, Referees Ferez and Reimke, and Kenneth Usher, local sports writer, chose all-tournament honorary teams in class C and D.

The selections were based on the individual players' value to their team during the tournament only, cleanness of play and general defensive and offensive ability.

Boyne City and Charlevoix both placed two men on the honorary class C team. East Jordan placed the fifth man, Howard Somerville, who was generally conceded to be the tournament's outstanding class C performer. The class D selections were divided among five schools.

Following are the choices:

Class C

Forward—Sandel, Boyne City.

Forward—Anee, Charlevoix.

Center—White, Boyne City.

Guard—Smith, Charlevoix.

Guard—Somerville, East Jordan (Captain).

Class D

Forward—Anderson, Bellaire.

Forward—Mathers, Central Lake.

Center—Elzinga, Ellsworth (Captain).

Guard—Hysell, Alba.

Guard—Desy, Mackinaw City.

Other Tourney Information

Strickland, Alba forward, was high point man of class D and also of the tournament with 24. He was also high point man in a single game with 17. Sandel, Boyne City, was high in class C with 19. He scored 12 points in the Boyne-Mancelona tilt.

Mackinaw City and Pellston played in the contest in which the greatest number of fouls were called, 31. The Boyne-Falls-Ellsworth contest had the least fouls, 9.

Alba ran up the highest score in their 30 to 20 defeat of Pellston. The closest tilts were the Charlevoix-East Jordan game, won by Charlevoix 19 and 17, and the Ellsworth-Alba final, won by Ellsworth 11 to 9.

Tournament Finances O. K.

While attendance figures were below those of previous years, a curtailment of expenses more than offset the difference. Total gate receipts were approximately $1,022, and after all expenses are deducted, Charlevoix's share will be in the neighborhood of $200.

BOYNE-ELLSWORTH TOURNEY WINNERS

BOYNE CITY DEFEATED CHARLEVOIX FOR CLASS C
CROWN—ELLSWORTH TAKE ALBA IN CLASS C

Winners and Runners-Up in Both Classes Go to Regional Tournament at Petoskey This Week—District Tournament Successful Under Local Management

New champions were crowned in the finals of the annual district basketball elimination tournament at the local gymnasium last Saturday evening.

Boyne City high school defeated Charlevoix 27 to 12 to annex the class C title as a fitting climax to an otherwise successful season. Boyne had previously taken top honors in the Tip of Michigan conference of class C schools. They were the logical champions. It was Boyne's first tournament title.

In class D, Ellsworth's yellow-clad tossers returned to the championship role—one they have occupied with more or less frequency in previous years. They defeated Alba high school 11 to 9 in the final game.

Saturday night's games were played before a crowd of fans which packed every available bit of room in the large Charlevoix gymnasium.

In the feature contest for the class C title, Boyne City handed Charlevoix their third defeat in as many games between the two schools. Like in their previous encounters, the Kipmen were unable to penetrate Boyne's airtight defense. They did, however, display sufficient defensive strength to hold the winners while they bombarded the hoop from long range for enough points to give them a tie at the half.

Charlevoix led 5 to 4 at the quarter. Long shots by Chew and Smith and a free throw by McSauby was one point better than White's goal and gift shot from mid-court. Davenport connected for the only score for Charlevoix's only score in the second stanza, while White's goal and Fox's free one tied the count 7-all.

Boyne cut loose in the third. White and Deadman each scored a pair of one-handed tosses from side court, and Fox added another from center for an aggregate of 10. The Kipmen, worn by two hard games on previous nights, were simply unable to stem the attack. Smith dropped a long one and McSauby a free toss during the session and the period closed with Boyne leading 17 to 10.

Sandel, whom Joe Smith had held without a goal in previous periods, broke away for three goals in the fourth. White and Deadman each added deuces for 10 points. Smith's pair of free tosses were Charlevoix's only scores.

White, center, was high for the winners with 11. Sandel scored 7, Deadman 6 and Fox 3. Smith was high for Charlevoix with 6. Chew and Davenport scored 2 each. McSauby and Anee each one.

Ellsworth 11, Alba 9

Ellsworth and Alba opened the program, and like in their previous encounter with Boyne Falls, the winners jumped into an early lead which they never relinquished. Through the sharp-shooting of Elzinga, center, one of the tournament's outstanding class D performers, Ellsworth led at the quarter 4 and 2. Alba counted on free throws by Strickland and Peterson. The count at the half was Ellsworth 7, Alba 4. The former Charlevoix Polar Bears dropped their last out-of-town game of the season, 28 to 21, at Elk Rapids last Wednesday evening, giving the Cardinals two victories during the season.

Charlevoix assumed the lead with a free throw and a basket by Davenport, quickly followed with a side shot by Maxwell for the Cardinals. The lead saw-sawed with Elk Rapids leading at the quarter 9-7. Both teams kept a steady rain of baskets with sensational ones by Ringler and Davenport for the Cardinals and a mid court shot by Brown for the Bears. The score at the half was 15-12 for Elk Rapids.

With Ringler running wild in the second half the Cardinals drew away to a 21-16 lead at the end of the third quarter and widened the lead to seven points at the end.

High point man for the Rapids was Davenport with 14 and for the Bears Davenport made seven.

Negotiations for Lease by A. I. Creamer, Former Mgr., Reported

An unconfirmed, yet fairly substantial report that The Inn hotel will open next summer under lease by Andrew I. Creamer, former manager for a 25-year period, furnishes a bright spot in a somewhat gloomy business horizon for Charlevoix.

That negotiations as above mentioned are under way is a certainty. That they be successfully completed is a wish every Charlevoix business interest will express.

Charlevoix has a lot of confidence in Mr. Creamer, gained from a quarter-century of close, harmonious association. He will be welcomed back to this city in any role he may wish to come.

CITIZENS AND GOVERNMENT

The city manager plan of government works in some cities and fails in others. It works in Cincinnati, with results which should interest citizens in other municipalities all over the country.

In 1931, we are told, Cincinnati reduced its bonded debt by more than a million dollars and made its tax rate the lowest for any American city of 300,000 or more population. It effected large economies in the public works and water departments. It lowered water rates to consumers, which will reduce their total bill by $300,000 a year. Appropriations for other departments were reduced.

All this economy was accompanied by an expanded public works program which provided jobs for some of the city's unemployed. The city spent $770,000 on direct relief, $678,000 of which was contributed by various city departments which had saved that much out of their annual appropriations.

Politics plays no part in their city government, say proud Cincinnatians, though just how they achieve that ideal state of affairs is unexplained.

Where the manager plan has failed, or where it operates without any improvement in economy and efficiency, it is usually because of politics. Voters' indifference and laziness about civic affairs have to be eliminated before any system of government will work.

PROUD OF OUR HOBBY

Most every man has a hobby of some kind. Maybe its checkers, golf, poker, horse races or fishing. The scribe likes to fish. Now we are especially proud of our hobby — proud of it because no less an authority than Charles Heddon of Dowagiac, declares that you can't find any real fishermen in the penitentiaries. This famous maker of Dowagiac baits says that fishing and crime doesn't mix any better than gasoline and water, and he ought to know. We do know there are golf bugs in jail, that prison wardens have to constantly fight against poker playing within the walls and that a lot of race track followers spend a considerable portion of their lives making hindertwine and furniture for the state. Mr. Heddon has now raised the fishing fraternity to the highest degree of citizenship by declaring that there is not one of them wearing stripes. He says so right on the inside cover of his brand new catalogue and that settles it. From now on, if you are looking for an honest man for some job, all you have to do is find out first if he is a fisherman. That settles it. No other recommendations will be needed. Thanks, Mr. Heddon, The delegates recommended that the

IT SEEMS TO THE EDITOR—
They tell the story of a New York contractor who went into the bank to borrow money to complete a project on which he was engaged. The customer's statement was demanded and produced.

"Now, let's see," said the bank officer, picking up his pen. "Rent estate; that's no good. Government securities; we'll have to discount 10 per cent; and other securities, 20 per cent. Mortgages! We discount them 25 per cent. Cash in the bank $60,000. That's the only good item."

The contractor stopped squirming in his chair, and suddenly there was fire in his eye.

"Let me see one of the bank's statements," he demanded. It was handed to him. "Government bonds; down 10 per cent. State and city securities; down 20 per cent. And mortgages! We'll just discount them 25 per cent; and loans 25 per cent too. Banking house and other real estate. They're no good. I have you got a blank check."

"Sure," said the bank officer, and shoved one across the desk.

The contractor filled out the check for his balance in the bank.

"Cash this for me," he said. "If my statement is no good, I don't think yours is either."—Michigan Investor.

Maybe the reason we Americans do not know how to run this country is that the advice offered us by soap box orators is spoken in a language we cannot understand.

Second Series of Soils Meetings Next Week

The schedule for the second series of ten meetings held in the Grange halls has been announced for the third week in March beginning Monday, March 14th. Continuing the different phases of soil improvement, the two subjects that will be discussed will be the use, care and handling of barnyard manure and the usage of commercial fertilizer. At the first series of meetings lime and organic matter were the two important subjects.

It is especially desired that all who attended the first series be present for the second as in that way these topics will be closely tied up together. Instead of having one hundred as the attendance, certainly there should be two hundred in attendance for the second series. Following is the schedule, all forenoon meetings beginning at 9:30 E. S. T., and all p. m. meetings at 1:30.

Monday a. m., March 14, Deer Lake Grange; p. m., March 14, Boyne River Grange.

Tuesday a. m., March 15, Ironton Grange; p. m., March 15, Maple Grove Grange.

Wednesday a. m., March 16, Peninsula Grange; p. m., March 16, Rock Elm Grange.

Thursday a. m., March 17, Barnard Grange; p. m., March 17, Marion Center Grange.

Friday a. m., March 18, South Arm Grange; p. m., March 18, Wilson Grange.

Please remember the dates and be sure to attend the nearest meeting. You will enjoy the discussions and they will be helpful.

Dairy Delegates Suggest a County Wide Dairy Program—1930 Census Reveals Interesting Data

The second annual Charlevoix county dairy conference was a success from every viewpoint. While the delegates present did not equal in number the attendance of last year, they more than made up for this lack by their enthusiasm and deep interest in problems pertaining to the future dairy development in this county. First of all, some very interesting accounts were given on what the 1930 census revealed. There were 1029 farms in Charlevoix county having a total of 4505 dairy cows, two years of age and over. To feed this population, 20,333 acres of hay crops were raised. Of this total 31 per cent was timothy, which is not so hot as a dairy feed, and 43 per cent alfalfa, much better. Comparing our percent of alfalfa with that of other counties we find that Charlevoix county is very near the top. The biggest disappointment is that the average production per acre is only 1.36 tons which is much lower than the average. This being the case, probably farmers are not particular about their stands of alfalfa. It was also found that 335 acres of sweet clover was used for pasture which is a crop that cannot be duplicated in this respect. Fifty-nine farms reported as having sweet clover.

Most of the time in the discussion was spent in talking about what could be done to increase our production of alfalfa which is the hub around which dairy progress revolves. The delegates recommended that the following steps be taken to secure the best results with alfalfa:

First, well drained, clean seed bed; 2nd, test for lime and use if necessary; 3rd, prepare firm seed bed; 4th, use adapted seed; 5th, inoculate seed; 6th, seed alone on light soil or with companion crop on heavy soil; 7th, fertilize and cultivate.

This certainly is a program that would insure better results in alfalfa hay production than is now being noted in the county.

Considerable discussion hinged around the activities of the new co-operative creamery at East Jordan. Summing up this discussion the following resolution was presented by George Meggison of Charlevoix and supported by L. D. Welsheimer of Charlevoix, "that Charlevoix county dairy delegates urge all county dairymen to extend their entire support to the new co-operative creamery."

Carried.

Realizing that a good sire is half the herd, it was recommended that dairymen construct bull pens which would permit the safekeeping of aged bulls until they could be proven. Clyde Clute, Boyne City; Roy Hardy, Boyne City; Bert Lumley, Boyne City, and Oakley Saunders, Charlevoix, stated that they would erect bull pens this year.

In making plans for extension work along dairy lines for this year upon motion by Frank Wangeman, East Jordan, seconded by John Struthers, Charlevoix, it was recommended that the quality cream truck promoted by the Michigan State college be scheduled to again spend three or four days in the county and close its itinerary at a big visitors' day for the patrons of the creamery. This was carried unanimously.

Further upon motion by Roy Hardy, Boyne City, supported by John Knudsen, East Jordan, it was recommended that the county agent arrange for a series of meetings with the crops-dairy truck at seven or eight different points in the county. This would accurately inform those present the kinds of crops as well as the kinds of crops necessary to feed the dairy herd being kept on the respective farms.

Space does not permit a more extended outline of what actually was transacted at this conference but the above summary of the recent dairy conference pretty largely indicates of what a Charlevoix county dairy improvement program consists.

ARGO MILLING COMPANY COMMENCES ICE HARVEST

The Argo Milling company have started a crew in putting up their season's ice. The ice, where they are cutting, is only from 6 to 8 inches thick. The harvest on our lake will be light this winter.

While at work Monday, the cutting machine started to go through the ice, but no damage was done except in flooding the motor. However, they were delayed another day in again getting started. — Central Lake Torch.

It's Got to Be Good to Be ADVERTISED

All the king's horses — and all the king's men can't make a success out of a bad product. No amount of advertising will create a market for it. The more it's advertised, the more its defects become known.

But a good product well advertised grows as swiftly and naturally as a healthy plant. People try it and like it. They tell others. They like it. Soon that product is found everywhere — and its name, spread abroad by advertising, is on every tongue.

When you see something widely and consistently advertised, you can be pretty sure it's well worth having. If it weren't — if it didn't represent an honest and worthy value — the maker couldn't afford to advertise it.

Look over the advertisements in this paper. Some of these names you know. Others perhaps are newcomers, potential friends bringing some new comfort or convenience. But all are entitled to your trust — all are here because they have something real to contribute to your advantage — your service — your happiness.

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years it has been used with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acid.

In "The Hatchet Man," adapted by J. Grubb Alexander from the play by J. Grubb Alexander and Achmed Abdullah, Robinson portrays a feared member of a town, whose vowed duty is to carry out the edicts of the secret society by way of the hatchet, even when it is his boyhood friend who must suffer the death penalty.

ELLSWORTH BUILDING PLANS ARE STOPPED

Injunction Is Served on Banks Town Board by Dissatisfied Taxpayers

A temporary injunction was served on members of the town board of Banks township, Wednesday, restraining them from proceeding with the erection of the cannery factory buildings. Several weeks ago, an election was held to bond for $15,000 to be used to erect buildings which would be leased to Reid, Murdoch Co. The issue carried by a large majority.

The injunction hearing will come before Judge Parm C. Gilbert on Tuesday, March 22. Deputy sheriff, Verd H. Carpenter, served the injunction papers. — Central Lake Torch.

Advice would perhaps be much more acceptable if it was not offered in the form of criticism.

If the hotel men of this nation are really in earnest about stopping "rowdy drinking," and all drinking of intoxicants is rowdy no matter where indulged, all that is necessary for them to do is to unite in forbidding the use of all alcoholic beverages in their hotels, posting notices to that effect in their lobbies. That will save them the trouble of trying to repeal the 18th amendment.

"Man" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world Sunday, March 6th.

Among the Bible citations was this message (Col. 3:1): "If ye be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 519): "Human capacity is slow to discern and to grasp God's creation and the divine power and presence which go with it, demonstrating its spiritual origin. Mortals can never know the infinite, until they throw off the old man and reach the spiritual image and likeness."

A wooden spoon used in a utensil saves dark streaks on food stirred with them. It is particularly good for whipping potatoes, candy, or frosting. The spoon should be made of hard wood and shaped so that it can be easily cleaned.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Basketball

The excitement caused by the basketball tournament held at the gym last week has practically died away and the students are once more trying to engage themselves seriously in their studies.

The regional tournament will be held at Petoskey Thursday, Friday and Saturday of this week. Charlevoix as runner-up, will go to this tournament to compete for high honors. Our boys have already distinguished themselves in class C and we surely will be behind them cheering for them this week at Petoskey.

The tournament was financially successful. There was only about three-fourths of the attendance of Boyne City last year. However, due to the fine weather, the cost of the visiting teams was also reduced.

The management was much surprised to find four 1929 season tickets used. It was not known that any of that type of person dwelt in Charlevoix.

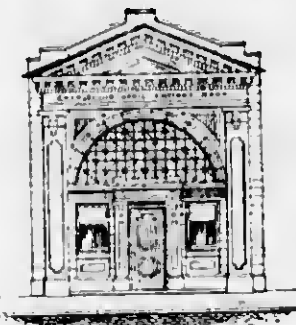

The Harbor band attended the game with Charlevoix Thursday night and conducted the music for that evening. Friday night the Charlevoix band furnished the music. Saturday night both the Boyne City and Charlevoix bands were in attendance. The red and white boys played from the middle of the basketball floor previous to the final game. Charlevoix was certainly proud of them. They also played Thursday and Friday afternoons.

"Quality Street"

A part of the basement of the senior high has been converted into a work shop for the production staff of "Quality Street." Hammering and whistling may be heard there before and after school as scenery takes shape. The workers are sure you will like their little blue and white room.

The cast is busy too. Nearly any morning at 8 o'clock you can hear

All of us have our bills to pay and all of us, being only human, are liable to mistakes.

A checking account with us will not relieve you of your obligations. It will not prevent an overcharge, nor is it a "rain check" against poor judgment.

But it is an assurance against errors and provides infallible records and receipts of your business dealings. Not only that but it emphasizes your prestige and credit by being connected with a reliable banking institution and conducting your affairs in a modern, businesslike way.

P. T. A.

The Parent Teachers' association met Wednesday night of this week. The main business was the election of officers. The speaker of the evening was Judge Rueggger, who spoke on the "Boy Problem." He held a mock trial, conducted on much the same order as the one which was presented at the Mens' club two weeks ago.

Senior High

The senior high is daily growing smaller. One row of seats has been taken out in front and still there are vacant places. During the last month several of our students have moved away from Charlevoix. This week Robert and Mary Schwab return to Petoskey.

Civics Class

Miss Fernau's civics class went over to see the voting Monday morning. Mr. Shanahan, the chairman, showed and explained to them the process of voting. Mr. Shanahan said you have to be 21 to vote. Did Miss Fernau vote?

Junior High—9th Music

Monday, only the girls went to music class for purpose of practicing their sections of the cantata. Wednesday, only the boys went, for the same purpose.

During the music class period Friday Miss Atkinson awarded us for our "faithful" attendance while practicing for this beautiful cantata, which is to be given March 17th. She took us for a walk down to the shores of Lake Michigan and through the park where we somewhat surprisingly saw that practically all signs of winter had vanished. The weather was easily called spring weather and we all enjoyed every step of the walk.

Upon our return we sang many cheerful songs which fitted our moods and the weather perfectly.

The cantata, which was to be given March 11th, has been postponed until March 23rd, on account of the tournament held at Petoskey this week end.

8th Home Economics

The eighth grade home economics class is now engaged in the problem of cooking meats which they are enjoying immensely.

Grade News

The first grade are preparing for next assembly program, "Land of Dutch," in about three weeks.

The kindergarten children have constructed a health house, very artistically made from graham crackers, for shingles; oat meal, prunes, raisins, orange peelings. It is very interesting to see. They are now making the furniture.

The harmonica band, from the 5th and 6th grades, gave several numbers at the P. T. A. meeting this week.

MOCK DISARMAMENT CONFERENCE UNIQUE AFFAIR

Methodist Epworth League Mimic Present Geneva Conference

A reproduction of the Disarmament conference now in session in Geneva, was an interesting feature of the meeting of the Methodist Epworth League last Sunday evening.

Various young men and women acted as envoys of the great powers, presenting the position of each nation much the same as has recently been done at Geneva. Harold Newman gave the actual military status of the various powers and each ambassador finished with counter proposals and arguments for his position.

On a final vote, there was almost unanimous choice of complete disarmament.

The large attendance at the funeral last Thursday was an indication of the high esteem in which Mr. VanDusen was held by a large following of friends.

Mellencamp is cooperating with the project. He has already made plans for a county 4-H club meeting at Charlevoix, and with the two events held in conjunction promises well for the success of both.

At the Thursday meeting, Mr. Mellencamp will give an address on 4-H Club work, and Supt. Gerald F. Bush of local schools will talk on Child Health.

All members and those interested are urgently requested to attend.

CHARLEVOIX CLUB COME MUSIC STUDY

MUSICAL ON MONDAY AFTERNOON THIS WEEK

Throughout Winter Have an Interesting and Profitable Time to Club Members

Day afternoon marked the beginning of a series of lessons given by the Charles Dickson. The music committee of the club having chosen "Oratorio" as the topic for music study, selected the "Messiah," Mendelssohn's "Hymn," "Creation," and "Stabat Mater" as consistent examples of this subject.

Each oratorio the life of the singer was taken up briefly, a descriptive analysis of the libretto was made and by making use of talent in the club membership, solos, duets, and choruses were given, supplemented by the few phonograph records obtainable.

"Messiah," which was given in December music meeting, was especially appropriate to the Christmas season. One of the outstanding members of this oratorio, "He Shall Lift His Pious," was beautifully sung by Mrs. A. L. Livingston, who possesses a full, resonant, soprano voice. Mrs. Livingston's solos were enjoyed in the oratorios that followed.

At the January meeting which was held at the home of Mrs. P. D. Campbell, Mendelssohn's "Elijah" was studied. Contralto and soprano solos, a treble trio, "Lift Thine Eyes," sung by a group of six voices, were enjoyed especially at this time.

Club members were enabled to gain a fairly comprehensive conception of Haydn's "Creation" at the February meeting by an unusual rendition of two choruses, "The Mysterious Work," and "Now Vanish Be the Holy Beams." The regular arrangements for four voices were made, the tenor parts being sung by Mrs. Clair Webster who has a rich, deep, contralto voice, and the bass parts being played on the cello by Mrs. Dan Soule.

Mrs. R. L. Lewis, leader for the concluding oratorio, "Stabat Mater," which was given at the Congregational church Monday afternoon, drew attention to the fact that this work is of especial significance at this time, the old Latin hymn on which Rossini based this composition being an important sequence of the Mass on the Friday following Passion Sunday.

An instrumental arrangement was used for the opening chorus, "Stabat Mater Dolorosa," and was played by a group of high school students, who kindly consented to appear on this occasion. In the group were Gwendolyn Miller, piano; Marion Tyler, flute; Lila McMillan, cello; Albert McMillan, violin; assisted by Mrs. Dan Soule, violin. This beautifully interpreted number provided an appropriate setting for the remaining musical numbers. The vocal solos, duets, and choruses which followed were all sung in the original Latin. A delightful rendition of the fourth number, "Pro Peccatis," was given by Lila McMillan playing the cello, and Gwendolyn Miller accompanying at the pipe organ.

Mrs. Carleton Dean proved herself an able accompanist on all the programs throughout the entire season, capably playing the most difficult scenes with grace and ease. Besides the vocalists mentioned, others who assisted in the choruses at various times are the Mesdames Campbell, Cooper, Craig, Fessenden, Lewis, Sloan.

The program Monday being scheduled as an open meeting, several music lovers availed themselves of the opportunity of attending.

CITY GETS IN LINE WITH TOURIST ASSN.

Vote $300 Monday Night to Make Total County Support $1250

At their regular meeting Monday evening, the Charlevoix city council voted a $300 appropriation to the Michigan Tourist & Resort Association, marking the first time in many years that this city has given individual support to this recognized promoter of Western Michigan resort interests.

The tourist association was represented at the meeting by J. J. Smith, its Ludington director, whose appearance was given support by a small group of local business men headed by Dr. C. J. Winder, head of the local commercial association. A unanimous expression of favor to the appropriation was given by the council, the mayor, city attorney and members of the visiting delegation.

Mr. Smith's booster campaign in Charlevoix county during the past week has resulted in pledges of $800 to the tourist association. East Jordan and Boyne City will give $200 each, and Capt. J. H. Gallagher has pledged $100 from Beaver Island. Added to the $400 appropriation made by the county board of supervisors, Charlevoix county's support to this tourist promotion agency during the coming year will be $1200.

TWO COMMERCE MEETINGS SET FOR MARCH

On Thursday evening, March 31st, the second annual agricultural meeting will be held, with banquet at 7 o'clock. Each member, in addition to bringing a rural friend, is this year asked to invite his wife, and the wife of his rural companion. This procedure will be somewhat of a departure from the general rule.

According to present plans, the program which will be sponsored by a later date, will be sponsored by the rural interests, with Richard K. Padock, manager of the Charlevoix Co-operative association, in charge.

MEN'S CLUB CLOSING ITS WINTER MEETINGS

Wives Guests at Final Meeting—Old Officers Re-Elected

The Community Men's Club closed their series of winter meetings at the Methodist church Monday evening with a very enjoyable session at which the wives of members were the guests.

Following a short business session, during which all present officers were re-elected for the ensuing year, President F. E. McMillan introduced the speaker, Rev. Paul Boodagh of Boyne City, whose previous talk he fore the Club was of such interest that he had been asked for a return engagement.

One of the most enjoyed features was the singing, led by Albert Rider, who has proven very helpful and always ready for the many calls for various community enterprises.

CHARLEVOIX WINS REGIONAL HONORS

COPPED CLASS C BASKETBALL TITLE AT PETOSKEY FOR SECOND CONSECUTIVE YEAR

DEFEATED GAYLORD IN FINALS SATURDAY

Petoskey Tossers Defeat Traverse City to Win Class B Crown—Dickson Easy Winners in Class D—Charlevoix to Big Rapids Thursday

Charlevoix high school's Red and White basketball team will represent Northern Michigan in the class C state finals for the second consecutive year as a result of their victory in the regional tournament at Petoskey last Saturday evening.

The Kipmea won the coveted honor of placing among the six best class C schools of Michigan after a season of only mediocre success. While they consistently revealed championship possibilities, their play was spotty at times, and the fact that they came through to win the regional was just a little more than local fans had hoped for.

Unlike a year ago, when the team made an unbroken conquest in Northern Michigan basketball circles, the 1932 champions went to Petoskey a second choice after their defeat in the district tournament here by Boyne City, the conference champions. However, Boyne fell before the powerful Gaylord tossers in the semi-final after administering a sound drubbing to Onaway in their opening game, thus removing the most potential barrier facing the local team.

In first round play, Charlevoix emerged an easy victor over St. Simon of Ludington, winner of the Mason county class C district crown. Charlevoix consistently out-played the down-state team, leading 4 and 2 at the quarter and 10 to 3 at the half. Play was even in the third period, but in the fourth, the Kipmea drew away to a 20 to 13 margin. Chew, McSauby and Anee divided the scoring honors.

Charlevoix received a "break" when Kalkaskan forfeited in the semi-finals because of illness among team members. This unexpected good fortune advanced the Kipmea to the second round without playing in the second round Friday evening, and Saturday night they were fresh for their tilt with Gaylord, whom the night before conquered Boyne in a contest decided by the point system after the regular playing period ended a tie.

Flashing brilliant play throughout, Charlevoix handed Gaylord a decisive defeat to win the championship Saturday evening. After a slow start in the first period, which ended with the score knotted 3-all, the Kipmea closed the half leading 8 and 5. They were out-scored three points to two in the third, but in the final session marked up six points on goals by Chew and Smith and Anee's pair of gift shots, while holding Gaylord to two free ones. The final count 16 to 9. Anee led the local attack with 9 points. Smith scored 4, Chew 2 and Davenport one. Krickie led the Gaylord attack.

Petoskey Wins Title
Petoskey high school, conquerors of Cheboygan, won the class B crown from Traverse City Central high, winners over Cadillac and Alpena and the tournament favorites.

in a game decided on the point system. It was Petoskey's first championship in six years.

Dickson Class D Champs
Dickson high of Brethren, runners-up in the 1931 Petoskey regional tournament, captured the class D crown by defeating Alba in the finals 25 to 16. Dickson showed class C form throughout the tournament, winning all their contests by decisive margins.

Charlevoix Plays at Big Rapids
In the draw for the state finals, Charlevoix was paired with Carson City. This preliminary tilt will be played at Big Rapids, Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The winner goes to Lansing for the semi-finals. Coach Ray Kipke will take ten players, including Chew, McSauby, Anee, Smith and Davenport, regulars, also Lyle Anee, Arvilla, Geneit, Kirby and Potter, reserves.

COUNTY WILL JOIN IN GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE

Local Observance at Baptist Church With Visiting Ministers

Charlevoix county union Good Friday services will be held on Friday, March 25th, sponsored by nearly all churches of the county. This service will be similar to the one held at the Congregational church last year. The local service will be at the Baptist church.

The observance here will be one of three held simultaneously in Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix. Nearly all county ministers will be on one or more of the programs. Last year Charlevoix had the help of Rev. James Leitch and Rev. C. W. Sidebotham of East Jordan. This year Rev. Paul Boodagh and Rev. Guy E. Smock of Boyne City, will assist, in addition to Rev. Drury Martin, Lansing, and Rev. Blain Varner, evangelists aiding at the Baptist church and Church of God, respectively.

It is hoped that business houses will close their doors between 12:00 and 3:00 o'clock, the hours Jesus was on the cross. This courtesy was granted last year, and it is hoped it will be repeated.

A detailed program for the local service, and for those in other cities of the county, will be published next week.

EASTER CHORUS WILL REHEARSE NEXT SUNDAY

There will be a full rehearsal of the East Jordan and Charlevoix choruses for the Easter cantata to be given Easter Sunday at the Congregational church, on the coming Sunday, March 20th, at 3 o'clock, central standard time, at the local Congregational church.

Drive right and more pedestrians will be left.

Mr. Carey requested that we broadcast the information through the columns of the Courier, which we gladly do by reproducing in part his letter, as follows:

"Names and addresses of some thirty families are at present on file and we will appreciate receiving the names and addresses of all who would desire to participate in this first get-together of old-timers.

MASONS GUESTS AT CRIBBAGE DINNER

Odd Fellows Put on Treat for Winning Side—Club Re-Organized

The Masons, winners in the winter series of cribbage contests with the Odd Fellows, repaid the reward for their victory Monday evening when the losing side put on an excellent "feed" for the winners at the I. O. O. F. hall.

Arthur L. Pitch of the Masons, acted as toastmaster of the evening. Members of both lodges responded to requests for short talks, which resulted in much good natured rivalry between the two contesting lodges.

William H. Cook and Percy Edwards, high point winners of the Masons and Odd Fellows, respectively, were awarded prizes, as were also Rollie Williams of the Masons, and George Shearer of the Odd Fellows, the series low scorers.

The Cribbage Club was re-organized for the ensuing year, with Leo Carey heading the Masons, and John Curtis the Odd Fellows, as captains. S. O. Sorenson was re-elected secretary.

It is with reluctance that both lodges see the winter cribbage series come to a close, for the event has been a source of great enjoyment during the winter months.

POLAR BEARS ELIMINATED TUESDAY NIGHT

Drop Game to Wealthy Florals in Grand Rapids Tournament

The Charlevoix Polar Bears met defeat Tuesday evening in the West Michigan A. A. U. basketball tournament at Grand Rapids, and are now enroute home.

After winning their first round game with the Economy Dyes by a 26 to 10 score last Saturday evening, the Bears were matched against the Wealthy Florals, one of Grand Rapids' strongest quintets, and they went down to defeat by a 27 to 19 count in a contest that was close in the early periods.

The Polar Bear management announces that they will close their season's activities with a "dancing party to raise funds to meet a slight deficit. The date and place of the party will be announced as soon as full information is available.

SUBSTANTIATE REPORT OF THE INN OPENING

Pere Marquette Makes Announcement—Order Placed for Ice

Definite word that The Inn hotel would open next summer under its former manager, Andrew I. Creamer, was received Tuesday by Station Agent B. Nickerson from the Detroit office of the Pere Marquette Railway company, owners of The Inn property.

In connection with the announcement, Mr. Nickerson was authorized to contract the hotel's ice supply for the coming summer. This very welcome news, substantiating rumors in circulation the past two weeks, will no doubt be received with enthusiasm by local business interests and townspeople alike.

MUSICAL PROGRAM WEDNESDAY NIGHT

GYMNASIUM TO BE SCENE OF SCHOOL PRESENTATION

Junior High Chorus Will Give Cantata and Second Graders to Appear in Operetta Number

One of the most interesting events of the year's musical school life is to be presented on Wednesday, March 23rd, at the high school gymnasium, when the second graders are to be featured in a brief operetta, and the junior high chorus of two hundred voices is to present a cantata.

The cantata, entitled "The Childhood of Hiawatha," is a charming musical setting of Longfellow's well known poem of "Hiawatha." The music is written by an outstanding composer of choral music, Ira B. Wilson. The junior high people do this difficult number with professional ease and the performance promises to be well worth hearing.

The high school theory class, under the supervision of Miss Atkinson, has written an operetta called "Lazy Betty Jane" and on this concert program a group of second graders will give the first performance. Each song was composed by some member of the theory class and the costuming and staging has been planned by members of this talented group.

The class is to be congratulated on this clever operetta and the audience is sure to be amazed at the merit of the songs composed by the pupils from our own high school.

The high school band, of which everyone is justly proud, will present several numbers during the evening. In order that everyone may enjoy this unusual evening's entertainment, the prices of admission have been set low enough so all may afford to attend.

DRAMA CLUB PRESENT PLAY THURSDAY NIGHT

J. M. Barrie's "Quality Street" to Be Given at Palace Theatre

Preparations by the Charlevoix High School Drama club for presentation of J. M. Barrie's "Quality Street," which will be given Thursday evening, March 17th, at the Palace theatre, have been completed.

Due to the fact that practically all the stage scenery and costumes have been made by members of the Club, the presentation takes on the aspect of a Little Theatre project.

The high school ensemble will furnish music for the production.

March 27—"Angeworms and Elephants, Or, Shall We Continue?" Easter sermon. Note dates.

Next Sunday the pastor speaks to the young people in the Epworth League hour on the topic, "Under Two Flags." Special arrangements, setting, and demonstration. A pre-Easter service. The pastor plans to hold complete Passion Week services in the sanctuary of the church each evening before Easter, with the location and teaching of Jesus for that day. By the almost unanimous vote of the congregation last Sunday, the church will hold a Good Friday service that afternoon, of which, its special plan, and aim, and method, is given in a write-up elsewhere in this issue.

The usual sunrise Easter morn service will be observed, in the hands of the young people, but of a mature character. Opportunity for joining the church will be given on Easter, as some have already asked for the name.

The Epworth League banquet is this Friday evening, given by the two defeated sides in the society. The Club meets this week Thursday with Mrs. Meyers, Antrim street. Many organizations in the church have agreed to buy Easter lilies for the Easter service.

The Age of Selection is Here

Our times are marked by one vast advantage over all past history — freedom of choice for the average person.

A young man now has a hundred interesting careers to consider. His grandfather had ten. Many paths are open to the scientist, writer, teacher, athlete, business man. When we travel, we often choose between rail and bus and car and plane. Every last thing we buy is one of many offered.

This is the Age of Selections. For advertising keeps us informed. Tells us the special benefits of this, the new features of that. Shows us how to build houses and how to make muffins. Explains why and where and when and how much.

As we read we learn how to discriminate, to recognize worth, to be sure of value received. Before we buy a car or refrigerator or a can of beans, we know what it is and what it offers. Advertising teaches us how to live by this year's rules.

Read the advertisements in this paper. They bring you up to date in this Age of Selection.

CALVARY SCENE WILL BE DRAMATIZED HERE

Unusual Presentation Has Been Planned for Good Friday Observance

For the first time in this city the Good Friday observance will be in a dramatization of the crucifixion scene, with a reproduction of the "noon day darkness," and a scenic tableau of the world's greatest tragedy, showing those who remained, and with worship of the congregation, in an "absolute silence" service.

Lessons appropriate to the spiritual teachings of the movement will be given. The music will be strictly of a devout and worshipful character, and if possible to so arrange, to have no movement or disturbance. After the dramatic scenes, the lessons, a season of silent devotion, the event will be celebrated in the one way prescribed by scripture, all communing in the dim light of the cross.

This plan is arranged for the afternoon hour at the local Methodist church, by an almost unanimous vote of the congregation last Sunday after several plans had been presented. Any attempt to make vivid this great event in the world's history will probably help in making it real. All will come at the same time and quietly retire at the same time, taking the music of the cross out into the street.

This service of worship will be preceded by Passion Week services each evening, when the movements, and the teachings of Christ on each of these days will be presented, and a spiritual preparation for the greater service on Good Friday will be the aim. There will be an attempt to cooperate with the entire city in securing the closing of the stores from twelve to three, as has become customary in many places. One fine feature of this service will be beautiful violin music by an artist secured from the city.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Quality Street Tonight

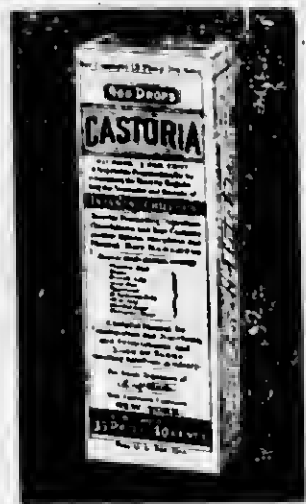

The stage of the Palace theatre is in readiness for the first production of the high school drama club at 8:15 this evening. As the curtain is drawn there will be disclosed a dainty blue and white room, with an attractively hung bay window which looks out at all the stirring happenings of Quality street. Even more pleasing to the eye is the scene in a sylvan retreat in the ball, held out of doors on the greensward, for which England is so famous. The light comes from a distant, friendly moon, and flickering gay lanterns hung about the shrubbery.

The comedy of this decidedly amusing play lies in two things: first, the quaint customs and ideas of the period which is portrayed; and, second, in a mysterious secret with which the audience is fully acquainted but concerning which the dashing hero is kept in ignorance until within a few minutes of the final curtain. Music will be furnished by the high school.

Memorial of Senior Class

The senior class of '32 made a presentation of a very appropriate memorial to the high school last week. This memorial was a bust of George Washington.

It has been customary for the graduating class to leave the school something to remember them by and inasmuch as this is Washington's bicentennial anniversary this piece of statuary is a very fitting gift.

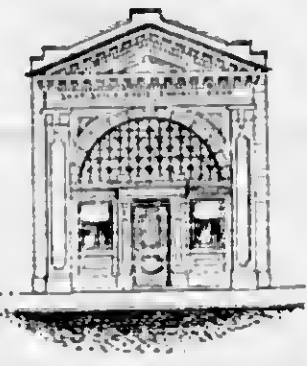

Made specially for BABIES and CHILDREN

Physicians tell us that one condition is nearly always present when a child has a digestive upset, a starting cold or other little ailment. Constipation. The first step towards relief is to rid the body of impure wastes. And for this nothing is better than genuine Castoria. Castoria is a pure vegetable preparation made specially for babies and children. This means it is mild and gentle; that it contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. Yet it always gets results! You never have to coax children to take Castoria. Real Castoria always bears the name:

Absences in School

For the past week there have been from fifty to twenty absences every day in high school, but these absences are not because of serious illness because few of the absentees are gone longer than two days. It seems like everyone shall have had a turn at this illness before long and school work may be taken up in earnest.

Declamations and Orations

The judges of our student declamation and oratorical contest decided that Albert McMillan takes first place in the declamation contest, and Lila McMillan lend the list in the oratorical contest.

Group No. 4 acted as hostess. This group was named for Mrs. Jennie Alcox, president of the local union for about twenty years. A sketch of her life was given by Mrs. Saltonstall. The evangelistic director announced a woman's prayer meeting to be held at 3 o'clock p. m. next Friday, at the Congregational parsonage with Mrs. Hurd as leader.

A pleasant feature of the meeting was the visit of a group of first grade children who gave three songs, directed by Miss Atkinson.

Arrangements were made to secure the Union's quota of signatures to a petition sponsored by the National Council of Women asking the governments of the world to send their most representative women to an International Congress of Women to be held in Chicago in 1933 in connection with the Century of Progress Exposition.

Mrs. Coulter passed some delicious apples during the social hour which followed the meeting.

SENIOR CLASS MAKES GIFT TO HIGH SCHOOL

Presented Bust of George Washington as Memorial—Program Given

A program of especial interest was given last Tuesday morning in the senior session room at the high school during the second and third hours.

Mr. Craib, formerly associated with the Redpath Lyceum Bureau and now representing the Merrill Book Co., gave three entertaining readings, after which David Dick, president of the senior class, presented to the high school a bust of George Washington placed on a pedestal. Dorothy Staley accepted the gift with words of sincere appreciation for the class of 1932 and all it has meant to Charlevoix high school.

The last part of the program consisted of the annual declamatory and oratorical contest, which is held to determine who will represent the school at the sub-district contest in April. Members of the faculty were judges and the balloting was extremely close. Lila McMillan was given the oratory award on her oration, "Andrew Jackson." Albert McMillan gave the best declamation, entitled "At the Grave of the Unknown Soldier."

Others who took part in the contests were Dorothy McCartney and Jerrieh Smith with declamations, and Dorothy Staley, Paul McCartney and Lloyd Arnold with orations.

The declamations were prepared in connection with the tenth grade English classes and the orations in the eleventh and twelfth grade English classes.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Anyone who thinks that this "winter" can kill the previous "spring" atmosphere should visit the normal rooms to be convinced to the contrary.

Miss Isabelle Becker, county normal supervisor for the state, visited school last week.

Several of the students have had an opportunity to accompany Miss Lockwood on her visits to the rural schools. Misses DeMaio and Kramer and Mr. Moran were so favored this week.

Once more a term has come to a close and the students, after laboring through final examinations, are undergoing the trying ordeal of launching forth into another group of new subjects and new classes to teach.

Have you ever wondered what was the meaning of "Intelligence Tests"? Would you like to know how to find your "I. Q."? Ask the normal students. They know. (?)

Miss Miller and Mr. Moran are doing their bit to develop in the normal class a civic consciousness and a realization of the duties of citizens. They reviewed, for the benefit of their listeners, their trip to the polls last Monday, presenting points of interest that the election board generously volunteered.

The county normal continues to reach out a helping hand to the rural teachers of the county. There is a reason: over 90 per cent of the county rural one-room teachers are previous graduates.

"Is there to be an alumnus banquet?"

Why, of course.

"When is it to be?"

The end of May.

"Who will be there?"

All loyal Normalites.

"May you come?"

We shall expect you.

Watch for announcements.

REPORT OF SCHOOL CONDITIONS GIVEN

ARTICLE BY SUPT. BUSH INDICATES EFFICIENCY

Three Departments Added Without Increasing Budget — Salaries Cut to Meet Conditions

In the past few weeks we have noticed in Charlevoix an undercurrent of dissatisfaction regarding local school management and affairs. Rumors of conflicting nature are in circulation, and in order to present to our readers what might be termed the school side of the situation, we have solicited an article explanatory of school policies and conduct from Supt. Gerald F. Bush. The article follows:

"In the belief that residents of Charlevoix are deeply interested in their public school system and feeling a responsibility for acquainting those interested with conditions as they now exist, I have prepared this report for publication and consideration of the public.

"During the current school year a number of changes have been made in the curriculum and administration of the local schools. Chief among the curriculum changes have been the addition of three new departments: manual arts, ungraded room and health education. Further, the music department has been enriched and dignified through a reorganization that places all of school music in the hands of regularly qualified and employed teachers who are full time members of the staff and who have been specifically trained for their jobs. Music, as now taught in the Charlevoix schools, whether it be vocal music in the second grade, music theory in high school or band for junior and senior high school students, is as much a part of the curriculum and requiring as much preparation and application as geography or history. The results appear to fully justify the efforts put forth.

"In opening the three new departments mentioned, it was necessary to employ three additional teachers and to purchase considerable necessary equipment. Yet in spite of this fact these new facilities have been achieved without added expense. The entire school expenditures for the current school year will not exceed the expenditures for the preceding school year when manual arts, health education and the ungraded room were not provided. This has been made possible through careful administrative economies, buying of materials on the basis of competitive bids, elimination of unnecessary services, and similar good business policies.

"The rumor is current that the school as conducted this year is far more expensive than in previous years. The contrary is true and even with added teachers, new departments, and more complete equipment, the total bill for the year will be no more than it has been in the past.

"Taxpayers are always interested in tax rates. At the present time the Charlevoix school tax rate is $15 per thousand dollars of assessed valuation. In 85 cities chosen at random in Michigan the average school tax rate is $18.67 and this average includes such cities as Lansing and Detroit, where the rate is from $6 to $8. Obviously the average tax rate for communities the size of Charlevoix is even higher than $18.67 and much higher than the $15 rate paid here.

"In fixing a salary schedule for next year the board of education has taken into consideration comparative schedules in other Michigan cities, the cost of living in Charlevoix, and the rate necessary to attract and hold competent teachers. As fixed for 1932-33 the salaries to be paid Charlevoix teachers will be no more than the average paid elsewhere in the state. In keeping with demands for economy, salaries in the upper brackets have been cut and the saving so effected may well apply toward the development of a more effective and efficient educational system.

"The purpose of this article has been to point out four things:

"1. That the Charlevoix school tax rate is much less than the average rate in villages and cities of the state.

"2. That the present school year has added new departments, teachers, and equipment without increasing school costs to the community.

"3. That teachers salaries for the ensuing year have been fixed with the demands for economy in mind and higher salaries have been reduced, but not to a point that will make it impossible to secure the competent and experienced teachers Charlevoix wants for her children.

"4. That the board of education is conducting the school on a sound business basis and keeping in mind not only present conditions but possible future emergencies and needs.

RAILROAD REPAIRMEN ARE DOING WORK HERE

Preliminary Operations for Rebuilding Belvedere Depot Started

A Pere Marquette Railway Company bridge crew, under the supervision of John Hendges of Traverse City, is doing repair work on the railroad property here this week.

Extensive repairs to the water tank were made, and other operations included removing wreckage of the Belvedere depot which burned last year. Ground where the former station stood is being levelled off.

While the time when definite work of re-building will be done is not known, it is expected operations will be started as soon as weather conditions permit. This work is the first of a general program of improvements carried out each spring by the Pere Marquette.

TOWNSHIPS SHOW ECONOMY DESIRE

REDUCTION OF SALARIES AND OTHER RELIEF IS SOUGHT

General Trend Toward Reduction of Governmental Costs to Govern Coming Elections

If expressions from taxpayers in townships of Charlevoix county may be taken as an indication, the selection of officers at the coming general election, as well as future elections, will depend to no small extent upon the various candidates' promises on matters of government economy.

This year more than any other, due, no doubt, to general business depression and the crying need for a lowering of governmental expenditures, has brought about a widespread tendency to demand of office-seekers a pledge to reduce taxes. In some townships, taxpayers have insisted office-seekers come out on such a platform, and hardly without an exception, all have expressed desire for economy in one manner or another.

An example of this action comes from Hayes township. At the recent caucus in that precinct, a resolution was drawn and adopted with but one dissenting vote, pledging office-seekers to a promise to perform their respective duties at the rate of $3.00 per day except in offices where a set fee on percentage basis was provided by law. The resolution was signed by all candidates who were present at the caucus with the exception of two and three absentees.

Eveline township taxpayers expressed a desire for tax relief from a different angle. At their caucus, a resolution asking reduction or total abolition of the automobile weight tax, was adopted by 67 voters present without a negative expression. Copies of the resolution have been forwarded to the governor, and the senator and representative of the district, asking they use their influence to the end requested.

In many townships two tickets have been placed in the field for the coming election. In many instances the split has resulted from differing opinions on economy matters. From every indication, the conservative elements, who deem economy a paramount issue in view of present conditions, will win their end. It is apparently a trend of opinion that has become too wide-spread to be denied.

CHARLEVOIX LOSES OUT IN STATE MEET

DEFEATED IN SEMI-FINALS BY ST. AUGUSTINE OF KALAMAZOO, THIRCE STATE CLASS C CHAMPIONS

Kipmen Won Quarter-Final Game from Carson City at Big Rapids Previous Night—Team Turns in Suits and Three Members Finish Athletic Careers at C. H. S.

Charlevoix's 1931-32 basketball squad, the second in successive years to invade the state finals by virtue of winning the regional class C championship, have turned in their suits, thus closing another chapter in local school athletic history.

Along with Petoskey in class B and Brethren in class D, the Kipmen were the Northern Michigan representatives in the state finals. Petoskey met defeat by Mt. Pleasant in first round play; Charlevoix went to the semi-finals by defeating Carson City at Big Rapids, but lost to St. Augustine of Kalamazoo, thrice state class C champions at Lansing, and Brethren went to the finals before having to Portage after winning two previous games.

Charlevoix 30, Carson City 22

Charlevoix showed class in their decisive defeat of Carson City at Big Rapids last Thursday evening. They tied the game up with a 15 and 5 lead at the half, and the margin was enough to offset a fierce Carson City rally in the third quarter which netted 15 points and came within four of tying the count. The Kipmen pulled away to a comfortable lead in the fourth period. Throughout the game their defense kept Carson City from scoring a close shot, most of their goals coming from far out.

McSauby scored 9, Ance 8, Smith 7, Chew 4 and Davenport 2 for Charlevoix. Garlock was high for the losers with 12.

Go to Lansing Friday

Following their victory at Big Rapids, the Kipmen went on to Lansing for the semi-finals. They were paired against the powerful St. Augustine of Kalamazoo, winner of the class C title in 1930-31 and finally the 1932 crown, and Friday night their championship hopes were snuffed out by a 23 to 5 defeat.

Fans who saw the contest did not believe St. Augustine's victory, but they did maintain the game was closer than the score indicates. Apparently struck by stage fright, the local lads were unable to locate the hoop at all in the first half, although their chances were numerous. They were able, too, to consistently break up the winner's famous revolving offense, but occasional holes in an otherwise strong defense allowed the winners to drift through for close shots. St. Augustine led at the quarter 5 to 1, 11 to 1 at the half, and 21 to 3 at the third quarter. Ance and McSauby scored Charlevoix's two deuces and Davenport connected with a gift shot. Moreland and Muth starred for the victors with 9 and 8 points, respectively.

Three of Team-Graduate

With Ance and McSauby, members of last year's championship squad as the nucleus, Coach Ray Kipke developed for the second year a team which rated among the best four class C outfits in Michigan. These two veterans, along with Davenport, will graduate this spring, leaving Lyle Ance, Chew and Smith, regulars for the next year's squad.

Charlevoix fans have nothing but praise of the excellent record made

COMMERCE ASSN. RURAL NIGHT NEXT THURSDAY

J. A. Hanna, M. S. C. Specialist, Speaker—Big Program Planned

On Thursday evening, March 31, will occur the second annual agricultural meeting of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce.

This meeting will be held at the Odd Fellow hall and will be preceded by a banquet prepared by the ladies of the Maccabees which is scheduled for 7 o'clock, E. S. T. The wives and lady friends of the rural guests are invited to accompany their men folks and members of the Association of Commerce should also plan to bring the ladies with them and give their guests a hearty welcome.

The speaker of the evening will be J. A. Hanna of the Michigan State college. Mr. Hanna was United States delegate to the world poultry contest, held abroad, and will undoubtedly have a message of vital interest to his auditors.

Following the speaker, the rural residents will give the audience an especial treat in the form of an elaborate program of entertainment which they have devised. This will be the big meeting of the year and the members and rural residents are urged to turn out in force and make the occasion one long to be remembered.

SPECIAL SERVICES FOR PASSION WEEK

COUNTY-WIDE GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE LEADING FEATURE

Churches of Charlevoix, East Jordan, Boyne City Unite—Local Observance at Baptist Church

Plans have been completed for the observance of Good Friday in Charlevoix county. Churches in this city, with the exception of the Methodist society, which will conduct its own service, have joined in this county-wide religious observance.

The local service, similar to that at the Congregational a year ago, will be held at the Baptist church between the hours of 1:00 and 2:55 o'clock. Out-of-town pastors who will assist are Rev. Paul Boodagh and Rev. Guy E. Smock, both of Boyne City. Rev. W. H. Rauch will assist at the Boyne City service, and Rev. G. R. Parker of the local Congregational church, and Rev. I. T. Mark of the Church of God, will assist at East Jordan. Services will be held simultaneously in the three cities. Out-of-town ministers who will assist local pastors in the Charlevoix service are Rev. Drury Martin, Lansing, evangelist at the Baptist church, and Rev. Blain Varner, who is conducting evangelistic Passion Week services at the Church of God.

The local service will begin with devotionals at 1:00 o'clock. They will continue until 1:10. After the devotionals, the seven last words Jesus uttered from the cross will be the subjects for discussion. In order to carry out the three county services, it was necessary to change the usual order of the Seven Words or ask some ministers to speak on three different subjects. The first plan was adopted.

Following is the suggested program:

1:00-1:10 — Devotionals, Rev. Drury Martin.

1:10-1:25 — Rev. Blain Varner: "Father, Forgive Them; They Know Not What They Do." Luke 23:24.

1:25-1:40 — Rev. Drury Martin: "Today Thou Shalt Be With Me in Paradise." Luke 23:43.

1:40-1:55 — Rev. W. H. Rauch: "Woman, Behold Thy Son, Behold Thy Mother." John 19:26-27.

1:55-2:10 — Rev. I. T. Mark: "My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me." Matthew, 27:46.

2:10-2:25 — Rev. Paul Boodagh: "I Thirst." John 19:30.

2:25-2:40 — Rev. Guy E. Smock: "It Is Finished." John 19:30.

2:40-2:55 — Rev. G. R. Parker: "Father, Into Thy Hands I Commend My Spirit." Luke 23:46.

Each speaker will speak for twelve minutes. After each address a hymn will be sung, at which time people may enter or leave the service.

Rev. Edward S. Doan of Petoskey, will conduct Good Friday services at Christ Episcopal church Friday evening at 7:30 o'clock. A special Easter Sunday service has been announced there for the same hour Sunday evening.

MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN LAUNCHED

COMMERCE BODY VOTES DRIVE TO RAISE NEEDED FUNDS

Other Summer Entertainment Activities Discussed at Special Business Session Friday

Summer activities of the Charlevoix Association of Commerce were given considerable impetus at a special business session held Friday evening at the Odd Fellow hall.

Perhaps one of the most important accomplishments was launching of an intensive membership campaign to raise necessary funds. A plan worked out by the membership committee and presented by Harry A. Craig, chairman, was adopted, calling for a set scale of dues determined by classifying various business houses, corporations, professional men and individuals according to their means. Business men who own their own businesses, such as grocery and meat, clothing and drug stores, also rooming houses and corporations would be in the $10 classification; managers of corporations $3; pool rooms, restaurants and bakery shops, $5; professional men $5; memberships to include store clerks and other individuals, $1.00. Quite a large sum was pledged at the meeting and the campaign will be carried on by others not present.

Entertainment activities such as tennis, boating, golf, etc., were discussed at length, and many plans were forwarded for future consideration.

The Association membership went on record as favoring the adoption of eastern (legal) time for the summer months at least. The proposition was given considerable discussion and the vote taken was practically unanimous in favor of the change. It is probable that officials of Charlevoix, Petoskey and Harbor Springs will reach an agreement on the matter within a short time, but regardless of the attitude of our neighboring cities, it is almost a certainty that Charlevoix will make the change.

Upon motion by Rev. W. W. Hurd, chairman of the religious activities committee, the membership went on record in favor of closing business houses between the hours of 12 and 3 o'clock p. m. on Good Friday.

Announcement of the second annual rural meeting, to be held the evening of Thursday, March 31st, was made. Each city member was instructed to invite his wife, a rural friend and the latter's wife. The rural interests, headed by Richard Paddock, will have charge of the program. A speaker of national recognition has been promised in addition to a wonderful entertainment program.

Following the business session Friday evening, a luncheon was served by the Rebekahs.

MARCH COURT TERM IS NOW IN SESSION

Calendar Arranged and Non-Jury Cases Disposed of Monday

The March term of circuit court opened here Monday morning with Judge Parm C. Gilbert of Traverse City, presiding. Monday was occupied largely with arranging the calendar and disposing of non-jury cases.

Consent judgment in sum of $6,030.64 was awarded Duluth, South Shore and Atlantic railroad in their trespass suit against W. H. White company, Boyne City. An assumption case, H. S. Bastine Co. vs. Katherine Fitch and Pauline Kolar, was awarded former. Judgment was $987.67.

Judge Parm C. Gilbert denied Rev. Eugene H. Leroy, Boyne City, right to practice in court when Leroy failed to produce a Michigan license, upon request.

The case of Miss Anna Gallagher, St. James, charged with forgery, opened Tuesday morning and is still under way at this time.

PUBLIC SCHOOL WILL CLOSE COMING FRIDAY

Charlevoix public school will be closed Friday, March 25th. In previous years the annual spring vacation period has fallen during the present week, but this year there will be no spring vacation and consequently an earlier closing of school in June. Friday's closing will allow unhampered observance of Good Friday, a custom which is being more widely adhered to in recent years.

COURAGEOUS CONVICTIONS

During and following every political campaign, individuals are bound to come in for a "panning" by one side or the other for their stand. Such an aftermath is natural, but also quite unfair. Every person has a perfect right to their own convictions.

We are not always in sympathy with Editor Clark Haire of the Boyne Citizen in the manner he handles political beliefs in his columns, but the following editorial, touching on the subject we mention above, is worthy and we quote it:

"An unusually large registration and a pre-primary campaign conducted with more than usual vigor, pre-empted a record vote at the primary election held in Boyne City, Monday. Efforts of various factions assisted in getting the votes out and undoubtedly caused many to vote this year who in the past have remained away from the polls.

"If Boyne City is to attain and maintain a level above Main Street it must depend for its leadership on citizens who are positive. We need the zeal, the crank, not the colorless half-fellow-well-met. If he has enough ability to avoid irritating clashes, of course we shall rejoice. An important part of human life consists in learning to get along with people. But he must not smooth off the edges until he has nothing left that will grip and hold great ideals and give a foothold for earnest action. If there is anyone who deserves the contempt and scorn of his fellows it is the man who never ventures an opinion for fear he may hurt someone's feelings.

"We need people who believe something earnestly enough to make a fuss about it. There is a trace of mental or moral anaemia in men and women who pursue a middle-of-the-road course on every subject. What we need in our city today is men who have made up their mind and who do not fear to act. The election Monday proves that our community is not fearful but vigorous and endowed with a sense of justice and fair-dealing that speaks well for our future.

"Why should there be peace and harmony in our fair city when a vital question is at stake? Heaven pity him who has not the courage of his convictions. Heaven pity anyone to whom ease means more than achievement."

MORE AUTO OPERATORS MUST RENEW LICENSES

Those Secured Between 1925-28
Illegal After May 1st

Between now and May 1, about 400,000 automobile drivers will be required to secure new drivers' licenses under the law adopted by the 1931 legislature. All who secured old licenses between Jan. 1, 1925, and Jan. 1, 1928, must secure new licenses before May 1. All licenses secured between Jan. 1, 1928 and Nov. 1, 1929, must be renewed by Nov. 1, 1932; and all licenses issued after Nov. 1, 1929, must be renewed three years after date of issue.

Since this new law, requiring re-registration of drivers every three years, went into effect May 1, 1931, a total of 2,414 licenses have been revoked. Of this number 2,253 licenses were revoked under the mandatory provisions of the law, which do not give judges or the secretary of state any discretion in canceling the license. Most of these revocations followed convictions for driving while intoxicated. A large percentage of the discretionary revocations were based upon physical disabilities, which prevent a motorist from having complete control of his vehicle.

SCHOOL TAX RELIEF
ASKED OF GOVERNOR

Will Be One of Requests at Special
Legislative Session

Members of the legislature, conferring with Gov. Wilbur M. Brucker prior to the opening of the special session, are exhibiting strong desire to lift the burden of school taxes from real estate.

This, together with proposals that additional state highway funds be returned to the counties to eliminate local road taxes, are most popular forms of relief, Governor Brucker indicated, but he admitted that there is little unity of opinion as yet.

"There is, however, general agreement that much needed adjustment of tax burdens can be accomplished in the coming special session," he added.

PROBE INSTALLMENT PLAN FOR LICENSES

State Department Is Investigating
Quarterly Pay Arrangement

Investigation into the feasibility of the purchase of automobile license plates on a quarterly payment plan is being made by executives of the department of state.

Due to economic conditions, thousands of motorists have been unable to pay the weight tax and therefore are unable to use their cars. It is believed that if motorists were able to pay the tax in four installments, an appreciable additional number could use their cars all year round. But there are many disadvantages that must be given careful consideration, in studying this question. The state of Arkansas has adopted a quarterly-payment plan which will be watched closely by the Michigan Department of State.

FIRST FORD V-EIGHT
OFF LINE THURSDAY

Production of Over 4,000 Units Daily
Expected in Short Time

The first Ford V-8 rolled off the assembly line at the River Rouge plant Thursday, it was reported authentically, as Henry Ford started mass production of his latest venture in the field of transportation.

Ford, it was reported, personally stamped the number "1" on the engine of the new series. The simple christening ceremony was attended by Edsel Ford, Charles E. Sorenson and a group of workmen.

With 70,000 men employed, the 69-year-old manufacturer is prepared to produce between 4,000 and 5,000 cars daily. Ford anticipates heavy production and 100,000 men at work by June 1. He plans to manufacture 1,500,000 cars during 1932.

Monday, March 28, is the date when Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix, one day only.—Adv. 1112.

OLD NORWOOD RESI-DENCE BURNED SUNDAY

Old Charles Ferguson Place Completely Destroyed by Fire

Fire caused by chimney sparks completely destroyed the old Charles Ferguson residence at Norwood, Sunday, thus removing one of the oldest landmarks of that once thriving village.

Timely arrival of the Charlevoix fire truck saved nearby barns and sheds in which were stored valuable lumber and machinery.

Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Nickerson, who occupied the place, were able to save all of their personal belongings before the house burned.

Suffering is often the making of character. Most invalids are really very enjoyable company.

ROAD TAXATION FOR TOWNSHIPS LIMITED

Only One-Half of Legal Amount Last Year May Be Voted

Township highway appropriations to be voted upon by the electors on April 4th will be limited to five mills under the provisions of the McNitt act of 1931, Attorney General Paul W. Voorhies ruled.

The holding means that the township legislative bodies will be restricted to one-half of the maximum appropriation which was legal last year. Prior to the passage of the McNitt act townships could levy five mills for road construction and five mills for repair.

The McNitt act provided for absorption of the township road systems by the counties over a five year period, the counties being reimbursed from state funds.

As a result of being relieved of one-fifth of their road burden this year the townships are limited to a five mill road budget which will decline to four mills in 1933 and continue to decline as the counties take over highways.

"While the McNitt bill does not specifically repeal existing township highway laws still it covers the whole subject of township roads and shows that the intent of the legislature was to entirely supplant township highways laws as soon as the entire township road system was taken over by the county," the ruling says.

The opinion was asked by Charles J. Stakel, Marquette county supervisor.

BEES WORK SO HARD
THEY CHEAT OWNERS

Insects Refuse to Wait for Fruit
Blossoms and Carry Bootleg Honey

Honey bees are so ambitious that their restlessness may lead them to form habits which are injurious to the owners of Michigan orchards who place bees among their fruit trees to secure pollination of the fruit blossoms.

Bees placed in the orchards before the fruit blossoms open are apt to start work on other flowers and, if these furnish a desirable source of nectar, the bees may continue to work on them and neglect the fruit blossoms when these are ready. Some varieties of fruit set very light crops unless bees are used to secure the pollination of the blossoms.

To avoid the danger of bees forming the habit of working outside the orchard the hives should be placed among the trees only a short time before the blossoms are ready.

EAST JORDAN YOUTH
STATE POTATO CHAMP

Gwendon Hott Awarded Honor for His Meritorious Accomplishments

(By B. C. Mellencamp).
Word has been received from A. G. Kettunen, state club leader, that Gwendon Hott of East Jordan, has been awarded the state championship of the potato project for the year 1931.

This news will be of interest to all those in the county who have been in contact with the 4-H club program. This honor is merited by Gwendon, as he has been one of our most loyal club members and has won many prizes not only at local shows but at the district Top O' Michigan show at Gaylord and at the National Club Congress show at Chicago.

Three years ago Gwendon joined the potato project and that year averaged over 300 bushels per acre. The next year he likewise had one of the highest yields in the county. Last year he cared for approximately seven acres and again hit the 300 bushel per acre class.

If troubled with headache, dizziness, nervousness, a pain in the back of the head or any other symptom of eyestrain, consult Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, at the Hotel Charlevoix, Monday, March 28. Difficult cases solicited.—Adv. 1112.

Dairy Crops Truck Schedule Announced—Eight Meetings Arranged

Everything is in readiness for the visit of the dairy-crops truck which makes its first appearance in Charlevoix county on March 29, 30, 31 and April 1. This truck comes as a result of the action taken by the dairy delegates at their recent conference held in Boyne City and should attract considerable attention. This truck will carry exhibit material of several kinds and grades of roughage, grains and seeds. It is the purpose of this truck to bring to the county these crops and seeds that are known to be adapted to the farms of the county. There will also be a display of home grown grain mixtures according to the quantity of roughage available for dairy cattle feeding.

Every dairyman who visits the truck will have a chance to have an individual conference with the dairy specialist of the Michigan State college and the county agricultural agent. These two men will prepare a statement of feed recommendations and the recommended varieties of seeds for seeding purposes. At the end of each meeting each individual farmer will have an outline which will inform him the number of acres of various crops to raise for the efficient production of milk.

Following is the schedule, all meetings on E. S. T.:

M. B. HOOKER & SON
Charlevoix, Mich.

CORRESPONDENCE

NORWOOD

E. R. Jones spent the week end with relatives in Charlevoix.

Mr. Peterson and son Billie, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. P. R. Buss of Charlevoix, called on Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Dice Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Lester Miles of East Jordan is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. George Light and family of Norwood. Mrs. Miles is a sister of Mr. Light.

Norwood young people enjoyed a sleigh ride to the M. E. church at Barnard last Sunday, where they played in the Barnard band and attended church services.

March is the month of moods, sends us scouting for signs of growing things one day and also scurrying for cover when the biting breezes blow our way, on another day.

Mrs. Peterson of Charlevoix, who has been on special nurse duty, caring for Mrs. George Light, who has been quite seriously ill for the past three weeks, returned to her home Sunday. Mrs. Light is greatly improved in health.

The monthly get-together meeting of the M. E. church school will be held at the town hall in Norwood on Friday evening of this week. At these meetings Rev. Kendall gives a very interesting and helpful talk on various subjects, followed by a short program by members of the church school, then comes the refreshments and social hour. Everyone welcome.

The whole community was aroused Sunday morning about 10 o'clock when fire broke out from the chimney, at the old C. H. Ferguson residence in Norwood, which has been occupied for the past year by Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Nickerson and family. The fire department was called from Charlevoix and every effort was put forth to save the building, but without success. The barn and other nearby buildings were saved, also all the household goods. Mr. and Mrs. Nickerson and family are now located in the Chase residence in Norwood.

CENTRAL LAKE

The days are of equal length again.

C. A. and O. R. Morse returned Saturday from a contracting trip.

Miss Bernice Kendall has contracted as principal of the Ellsworth high school next year.

Carl Rushton has been supplying for Welford Davis on mail route No. two the past week.

Elbert Henderson, who is now teaching at Creswell, has contracted to remain there another year.

A. L. Peacock of Onaway, was putting out windstorm insurance with farmers and school boards here last week.

Otto Mathias and Clifford Larson, normal graduates of Mancelona, were in this vicinity and Banks in quest of a school for the coming year.

Barnard had an attendance of 45 at Sunday school last Sunday. Their social hour meeting, which will have an Easter program, will be held Saturday evening.

Ellsworth Sunday school had an attendance of 46 last Sunday. Their social hour and Easter program will be held this week Thursday. Mrs. Lulu Springfield of the junior class, has charge of the program.

Rev. Guy Liskum and wife will return from Kingsley this week, where they went on account of the serious illness of her father. Her father, Mr. Bowers, died at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning. Funeral services were held Thursday at 2 o'clock. He was 92 years of age.

Orlie Johnson was kept the busiest snowplowing the roads last week of any time this winter. M88 was quite badly drifted in places and some towns report the mercury registered as low as 8 below zero last week Monday morning. We are promised a thaw and much warmer weather this week.

S. B. Anway and sister, Bertha Edwards, spent last week visiting relatives in Detroit. He drove through with his car. Mrs. Edwards, who formerly resided at Ann Arbor, is keeping house for her brother, S. B. Anway, this year. Larry Wallace of Detroit, who has been stopping with them, kept house for them during their absence.

Norwood Sunday school had an attendance of 29 last Friday evening at Sunday school. The play given by the L. A. S. the evening before was well attended and highly praised. The ladies can put on good programs as well as good things to eat. Next Sunday at one o'clock p. m., Rev. J. C. Kendall will hold baptismal services at the Norwood church.

Central Lake basketball team is congratulating itself on being winners in all games this year, that is, the girls' team. Andrew Brown of the tenth grade, has been the star player throughout the series of games. Those responsible are: Anna Bolce, Andrew Brown, Louise Davis (daughter of the mail man), Nola and Hattie VandenBerg (nieces of William Byer), Hildegard Bos.

Agatha and Lola Robinson, Helen Ruggles, Evelyn Peterson and Iris Burlew.

The death of Alva Burch, a respected young man who formerly lived here, died at his home in Charlevoix last week. It is expected to be buried in East Jordan for burial. Mr. Burch was a middle aged man and leaves a wife and one son, Kenneth. Mr. Burch formerly lived on a farm west of town. Besides his wife and child, he leaves a brother, Allic, and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vern Burch. Deceased death was caused by a cancer from which he had suffered for some time.

The death of Mrs. John Montgomery, a resident east of town, occurred at her home Thursday. She died of a stroke of paralysis and was found hanging out of bed with her head on the floor about 9 o'clock Thursday morning. She was an old resident here, 74 years of age. She was a sister of Sidney Swift who lives east of town, and mother-in-law of the former Ruth Wilcox of Banks township. The funeral was held from the M. E. church at Bellaire Sunday afternoon and burial in Lake View cemetery at Bellaire.

We understand that the Ellsworth Canning factory problem has not yet been settled and that the injunction proceedings will take place some time this week at Bellaire. It will then be decided whether the factory building will be built or not and whether the vote of the township in raising money for the building was legal or not. We hear that many are in favor of putting up the building, by individual help, but not putting the tax on the township. It is hoped that the question will finally be settled so that Ellsworth will be assured of a good canning factory. It will be of great assistance to the farmers. Central Lake's canning factory has been of great assistance to farmers as well as to the people residing in town who needed employment.

Central Lake's township caucuses have been held and the following officials have been put up for another year: Citizens ticket — supervisor, Moses King; clerk, Everett Vandenberg; treasurer, Alva James; board of review, Albert Snitsler. The Republicans put up: supervisor, Robert Watson; clerk, Fred Curtis; treasurer, Will Roberts; highway commissioner, Dick DeForest. On Citizens ticket Joe Devlin was put up for Commissioner of Highways. The supervisor and treasurer are now of the Republican ticket, and remainder of the officers of the Citizens ticket. With the exception of the treasurer, the Citizens ticket will probably be elected. We prophesied truly last week on the election of the Republican village officers, Mr. Box is again our village president.

BARNARD

Don't forget the church-community meeting on Saturday evening.

The Grangers are planning to attend Pomona Grange nt Ironton on Saturday.

About a dozen Barnard Grangers attended Marion Center Grange Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Black and children visited Mr. and Mrs. Warren Frank and family Sunday.

Lyle Beattie celebrated his birthday last Tuesday with a birthday supper, which was enjoyed by Miss Mosely and other friends.

Mr. Hayes is progressing nicely with the addition he is putting on the Ball house and expects to move soon. Junior Willis celebrated his birthday recently with a party for several of his friends. The boys had a fine time and enjoyed the fine luaucheon prepared by Mrs. Willis.

ROCK ELM

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Jensen were visitors at the home of Mrs. Jensen's sister in Petoskey Monday.

Lawrence Jensen and Jesse Frank Lawton succeeded in dipping a few small this year, in spite of the fact that there were but a few nights in which dipping was allowed, until the heaviest of the early run was over.

Mr. Simmons had the misfortune to have his truck break through the ice in about six feet of water, Thursday afternoon. He had driven out to load the truck with ice. However, he was not so far out but what a team was able to tow the truck out.

Mrs. Smatts, Mrs. L. Jensen and Mrs. Lawton attended the silver medal contest which was held at the Presbyterian church in East Jordan last Thursday evening, sponsored by the W. C. T. U. The contestants all did well. Following the contest Rev. E. P. Linnell of Petoskey gave an interesting and instructive address on the prohibition question.

How One Woman
Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and can not say too much to recommend it." To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unhealthily fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

BOYS START FOREST PLANTINGS IN STATE

4-H Ranger Stations' Enroll Groups to Plant Trees in Michigan

Groups of Michigan boys by joining 4-H Ranger stations are trying in a modest way to bring back to Michigan the forests which made the state at one time a leading producer of lumber.

Michigan uses 1,500,000,000 feet of lumber each year and 1,000,000,000 feet of this must be bought outside the state and shipped to the point where it has to be used. Freight charges and other costs must be added to the price at which this building material is sold.

The groups of boys who enroll in the forestry project may obtain four years of training in methods of tree planting, care of wood lots, and of measuring and estimating timber. Forest or Christmas tree plantings of 500 trees must be made by first-year members, and those enrolled the second year plant trees for wind-breaks or shade. Third and fourth year members are trained in woodlot management.

LARGE TUBER STOCK IS HELD BY FARMERS

Prevailing Low Prices Result in Glutted Spring Market

Prevailing low prices have forced farmers to withhold their potatoes from markets until now they have nearly twice as many bushels of tubers in stock as they did in 1931 at this time, a report issued by Vern H. Chureb, U. S. agricultural statistician, shows.

Church, cooperating with the state department of agriculture, reports that on March 1 this year 9,738,000 bushels of potatoes were in stock on Michigan farms compared with 5,005,000 bushels on the same date in 1931. Between 2,500,000 and 3,000,000 bushels will be used for seed this spring, he estimated.

The larger part of the remaining stock, except what will be saved for table use, will be fed to livestock. Church predicted, because farmers are unable to obtain satisfactory market prices.

NORTH DECRIES PLAN TO HALT ROAD WORK

Object at Cadillac to Diversion of State Highway Funds

Road commissioners of Northern Michigan counties asserted their belief at an indignation meeting in the Northwood hotel at Cadillac Wednesday, March 15, that proposed diversion of state highway funds, contrary to bringing tax relief, would seriously imperil Northern Michigan's return to prosperity. It would, they said, cost this section of the state virtually all of its promised trunk line construction — roads that are counted on to increase the flow of tourist dollars into Michigan's resort country.

Sidney Medallie, chairman of the Antrim county road commission and president of the Northern Michigan Road Commissioners association, presided at the meeting, which was attended by a number of legislators and business men in addition to the county officials.

One after another, legislators and road commissioners described the tax relief plan proposed by southern Michigan real estate interests as wasteful and as depriving this part of the state of a great portion of its livelihood. The plan would divert all of the weight tax money to the county road commissions, leaving the state highway department so little money for construction that roads needed to attract tourists into the state could not be built, the speakers said. At present the counties receive half of the weight tax. The real estate men's proposal would give relief to the downstate counties suffering from Covert road bonds but at the expense of Northern Michigan counties that have been compelled to wait for roads while the southern counties have received more roads than they needed, according to the expression at the meeting.

"I haven't seen any legislative proposal as disgusting as this shoddy plan," Senator Ben Carpenter of Harrison declared.

TOWNSHIPS HAVE ELECTION FIGHTS

FOUR NEAR CHARLEVOIX HAVE TWO TICKETS MONDAY

Norwood Only Precinct in District With Single Slate of Candidates Seeking Office

While city elections in the county will be somewhat listless affairs next Monday, the various townships adjacent to Charlevoix have voiced a difference in opinion over choice of officers.

Hayes and Marion townships have each placed two complete tickets in the field, and in Charlevoix and Eveline townships there will be opposition for one or more offices. Norwood is the only precinct with a single ticket of candidates seeking election.

Matters of governmental economy have resulted in a split of voters in some townships, while in others political alignments are being opposed. It is probable that the board of supervisors will have a far different lineup at its next session if the results of the primary are carried on through the general election.

FORMER LOCAL RESIDENT DIED THURSDAY

Mrs. George Compton Succumbed at Home in Vicksburg

Mary D. Compton, former local resident, died last Thursday, March 24th, at her home in Vicksburg, Michigan, following a lingering illness.

She leaves to mourn the loss of a kind and loving mother, two sons, five daughters and fifteen grand children. Mrs. Compton's husband, George Compton, preceded her in death by seventeen days.

Funeral services were held Sunday, March 27th, at Vicksburg.

FROST CAUSES SPUD PRICES TO INCREASE

Crop in Southern Michigan Damaged—Charlevoix Tubers Still Unsold

The first hopeful sign in the potato market appeared over the week end following the information that the early potato crop in the south was seriously injured by frost, and potatoes gained back a nickel per hundred of the price lost early in the year.

Just how much of a price flurry this will be the buyers were unable to say. It was encouraging to have some price activity, especially when it was of the upward type, after weeks of inactivity.

Word from the southern potato fields substantiates the early word of frost damage but just how great a toll the freeze took is not yet established. Some reports place the damage as high as 50 per cent. If this is true the local potato market should react strongly to the news.

Hundreds of bushels of the Charlevoix county crop still remains unsold, buyers believe, the owners waiting to see what the spring price will bring forth. It is possible that those who have held on throughout the winter may reap somewhat of a harvest by not selling, although this continues to be a gamble.

SPRING ELECTION MONDAY, APRIL 4

NOMINEES OF PRIMARY ARE UNOPPOSED FOR OFFICE

Polls at Library Building Will Be Open Election Day from 7 a. m. to 6 p. m., E. S. T.

Unless something unforeseen develops before next Monday, April 4th, the annual spring election in Charlevoix will be nothing more or less than a formality.

The full slate of officers nominated at the primary March 7th, will appear on the general election ballot without opposition, and in all likelihood a light vote will be cast. Last year's general election, with state and county issues to be decided, brought out a heavy vote, but there is nothing to indicate more than casual interest this spring.

Following is the full ticket:

City Ticket

MORE PREMIUMS FOR APPLE SHOW

LIST IS ENLARGED TO ATTRACT MORE GROWERS

Top O' Michigan Event Likely to Have Record Entry Next Autumn, Says Leader

Efforts are now about completed for so enlarging the apple division of the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple show and thus attracting in many more exhibitors to this fine Northern Michigan autumn event. The special classes have been reduced somewhat and the number of premiums to be paid in each one have been considerably increased. For each of three divisions, bushel, plate and tray, there is an open class to care for the varieties not named in the premium lists.

Douglas D. Tibbitts of Cherry Hill Farm, Boyne City, is the director of the show, devoting a large amount of time to the apple end of the premium list. He has been working with the other directors to rearrange the apple premium part of the list.

Leading varieties, in this part of Northern Michigan include the Northern Spy, Wolf River, Jonathan. These are the recognized varieties which do well in the Top O' Michigan Potato and Apple show territory. The open class takes care of the other varieties which fanciers may choose to enter in the show.

The present plan calls for offering premiums in the bushel competition to five named varieties and one open class. The named varieties being the first five named in the preceding paragraph.

For the plate and tray competition there will be eight classes, seven named and one open class, the seven being the classes which are most raised in the region.

In the bushel competition there will be twenty-eight premiums offered, instead of ten as heretofore. There will be four premiums, first, second, third, and fourth, in the named competition and eight on the open class competition.

For the plate competition there will be a total of forty-three premiums to be paid. These include five on each of the seven named varieties and eight on the open class. For tray competition there will be thirty-six premiums paid, four on each of the named kinds and eight for the open class.

Special attention is being paid this year to widening out the influence of the show, in an effort to get in new exhibitors and a constantly increasing number of these from year to year.

The total budget for apple premiums is to be about $360 for the 1932 show.—Petoskey Evening News.

HUGH PARKER GOES TO NATIONAL MEET

AMONG SIXTEEN CLARINETISTS SENT TO CLEVELAND

Miss Atkinson, Local Music Supervisor, and Albert Rider, Band Director, Other Representatives

Charlevoix high school will have three representatives at the National Music Supervisors' conference to be held April 3-8 at Cleveland, Ohio.

Miss Esther Mary Atkinson, local music supervisor, Albert Rider, band director, and Hugh Parker, who has been chosen member of the National High School orchestra, will attend.

Miss Atkinson will act as chaperon for girls who are entered in the National orchestra. Mr. Rider will attend meetings of the National High School Band and Orchestra association, and the banquet and initiation services of Phi Mu Alpha, honorary musical fraternity. He is a member of both organizations.

The national orchestra, which Hugh Parker will join, is composed of about 275 musicians, the best from the high schools of the United States and Alaska. There is considerable honor connected with a membership; it bespeaks ability of a high class. Of the 275 players, 16 are clarinetists. Hugh is the only clarinet player from Michigan. To those in a position to judge, this means that Hugh is one of the best sixteen clarinet players in the country.

The experience in this orchestra will be valuable, as the players come in contact with the best directors such as Tugler Branson, Edwin Franko Goldman and others. Registration will begin at 9 a. m. Sunday, April 3. From then on until the following Friday night, the players will be in rehearsal almost constantly, with only time to eat and sleep.

Another division of this national affair is the National High School Chorus meeting at the same time. This chorus is composed of about as many singers as the orchestra has players.

The same qualifications must be met by the singers as players. Only the best are able to attend. These two groups will practice separately until the last day, when they will unite in a final concert.

Many other program features are provided in addition to addresses by outstanding authorities in the field of music and education, and programs by many outstanding instrumental and choral groups.

Local people will have an opportunity to hear some of the programs by tuning in on radio stations NBC and CBS. The following tentative schedule of broadcast will be made:

Monday, April 4, 11:30 a. m.—Cleveland junior high school chorus of 3,000 voices. Thursday, April 7, 6:00 p. m.—National high school chorus. Friday, April 8, 6:00 p. m.—National high school orchestra. Definite programs will be available in daily newspapers.

BURGESS CLUB WOMEN MEET NEXT TUESDAY

The Burgess "Home Management" club will meet with Mrs. Gustav Jerchow on Tuesday, April 7th, to determine what subject the club will take up in the fall, to elect officers for the ensuing year, and to plan for the approaching Achievement Day program. All members are requested to be present. A pot-luck dinner will be served.

FIT FARM RECEIPTS TO FIXED CHARGES

Taxes and Other Costs Must Be Paid Whether Business Is Large or Small

An attempt to make the amount of farm products which are sold each year to fit the size of the fixed expenses of the farm is recommended in an agricultural outlook published at Michigan State college.

The fixed charges include taxes, interest on the investment, depreciation on buildings and equipment, and the labor contributed by the owner and members of his family. These expenses occur regardless of the amount of crops and livestock produced, and a certain volume of sales is necessary to meet these costs.

The farmer's profit can be secured only after the fixed charges are paid, and, unless the volume of business more than pays this overhead, there will be no profits.

Ways to increase business volume are adding units of livestock or increasing the production of those owned, increasing the acreage of cash crops or securing greater production per acre, acquiring additional good land through purchase or rental, procuring special markets which will pay better prices, or working for others when the labor can be spared from the farm.

CHARLEVOIX HAS OWN SMELT "RUN"

DIPPING AT STOVER CREEK STARTED FRIDAY NIGHT

Average Catches Have Rewarded Sportsmen—This "Run," First Since 1929, Has Only Started

Smelt, those silvery fish for which sportsmen are now invading Charlevoix county from many distant points, put in an appearance in Stover creek last week for the first time since 1929, thus giving Charlevoix the distinction along with others of boasting this unusual attraction.

The first "run" was noted last Thursday evening. Earlier in the week members of the Charlevoix Sportsman's Club had sand-bagged each side of the stream where it enters Lake Charlevoix in order to concentrate the water flow. This action is thought to have brought on the "run" because of the increased current of the stream entering the lake.

The first regulated dipping got under way last Friday evening and has continued up to the present time. Many have taken advantage of the sport afforded and, while the number of fish entering the stream each night is not large, good catches, ranging all the way from less than ten to nearly a hundred have been taken.

So far the early dip at 10 o'clock standard time, has proven the best. Dipping has been allowed again at 2 o'clock in the morning, and starting Wednesday night, time of the early dip was changed to 12 o'clock. A check has revealed that the male species has predominated nearly ten to one, indicating that the "run" will last for some time yet.

Electric light lines erected by the city in 1929 when the first run appeared in Stover creek, have been put into use and, because of the shallow water, good bank and other favorable conditions, the stream is the best suited for smelt dipping of any in the county.

Conservation Officer Henry Fike is supervising the dipping each night with the assistance of members of the Sportsman's club. It is expected the sport will continue for another week or more.

POLAR BEAR DANCING PARTY FRIDAY NIGHT

Oldham Club to Be Scene of Affair to Raise Needed Funds

The Charlevoix Polar Bears will bring their season's activities to a close Friday evening, April 1, with a dancing party.

The affair will be held at the Oldham Club on Park avenue, marking the first opening of this elaborate building in some time. This was made possible through the courtesy of Walter Baer, Chicago, the owner. Wexstaff's orchestra will furnish music and special features are planned.

The party is being held primarily to balance the team's accounts for the season and put them in the "blue" to start the next.

The March term of circuit court for Charlevoix county closed Saturday afternoon following a week's session. Judge Farn C. Gilbert of Traverse City, presided.

Joe Konoposki and Lennie Simmons, Boyne Falls, pleaded guilty to violation of the liquor law. They were placed on probation to the May term under $500 bond each. William Lake, Melrose township, who previously entered a plea of not guilty to a similar charge, changed his plea to guilty. He was placed on probation until the October court term and was released on his own recognizance.

Miss Anna McCafferty of St. James, was acquitted by a jury on a forgery charge.

Charles Schrader and Frank Shultz, former justice and highway commissioner, respectively, of Wilson township, were given jail sentences of twenty days for forgery. They must pay court costs and refund money misappropriated. At expiration of jail term, they will be placed on probation to May court term under $500 bond.

A jury judgment of $320.07 was returned in favor of Holcomb & Hoke, in their assumpsit case against Wolverine Steamship Co., and J. H. Gallagher of Boyne City.

An injunction to restrain Banks township, Antrim county, from bonding for $15,000 to build an addition to Reid Murdock & Co., canning factory at Ellsworth, was taken under advisement by Judge Gilbert. Both sides were instructed to prepare briefs to be presented at a hearing in Traverse City the evening of Tuesday, March 30. At a recent special election in Banks township, it was voted by a large majority to bond for the above amount for the addition, which was to be used for factory purposes and also furnish place for township hall. Several hundred farmers from Banks township attended the hearing.

H. S. Bastian Properties, Inc., received judgment of $987.67 and costs in re-pass case against Katherine Fitch and Pauline Kolar. In similar actions, Gaylord State Savings Bank vs. J. H. Gallagher and F. J. McDonald and First National Bank, Boyne City, vs. Frank Kayden, judgments were awarded plaintiffs in the sums of $330 and $4,199.26, respectively, plus costs.

W. J. Pearson, administrator of the Estate of Maud Mosley, was awarded judgment of $895 in a garnishment suit against the Estate of George McAfee, who is now serving a life prison term for the murder of Mrs. Mosley's husband.

DISTRICT MUSIC FESTIVAL EARLY IN MAY

Northern Michigan School Musicians Will Compete Here

School musicians of Northern Michigan counties will gather here May 6 and 7 for the annual district Music Contest-Festival.

Competing schools will be those of the 6th district, comprising the counties of Emmet, Cheboygan, Charlevoix, Antrim, Leelanau, Benzie, Grand Traverse, Kalamazoo, Manistee, Wexford and Missaukee.

For economic reasons, the state has this year been divided into ten districts, and competition will be confined within the districts. The final state contest and junior high school participation has been deferred for the year.

Events listed for the festival include boys' glee club, girls' glee club, mixed chorus, orchestra, band, string ensemble, woodwind ensemble and brass ensemble. A single judge, to be known as the adjudicator-critic will hear both the vocal and instrumental classifications unless the number of participating organizations is large enough to warrant one for vocal and one for instrumental groups.

The basis for award will be as follows: excellent, 15 points; very good, 12 points; good, 9 points; average, 6 points; below average, 3 points. Certificates will be awarded to each class winner. Another certificate will be awarded for the highest number of points won.

AUTO NEWS

New Plymouth to Challenge Lowest Priced Auto Field

Walter P. Chrysler stated that notwithstanding competitors' plans, Chrysler corporation will attempt this year to get a greater percentage than ever before of the lowest-price automobile business. The company's bid for increased sales in this, the largest automobile market, will be based on what is claimed to be "more automobile for the money" than any other manufacturer of low-priced cars is in a position to offer.

Stating that some of the ablest engineers in the automotive industry have been engaged for more than three years in developing and producing a new Plymouth motor car which is shortly to be announced, Mr. Chrysler believes that his organization has succeeded in producing a car superior to anything that has yet been effected in the lowest-price field. He also pointed out that last year, with the first Plymouth with floating power engine mountings, the corporation more than doubled its percentage of the business in this market.

"Better value in every commodity and in every useful article are obtainable today," said Mr. Chrysler. "Not only have prices been materially lowered, but values have been increased as well. The public at this time more than at any time I can recall is quick to weigh increased value and lowered cost. On this basis I am confident that Plymouth will secure a substantial portion of the lowest-price volume in 1932."

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Easter time with its bunnies, pussy willows and Easter lilies has come and gone. What will be next? Watch the normal room and see.

Among incidents of interest last week was the visit to the court house, where all present learned a valuable lesson of the validity of a written contract as compared to a verbal one.

It is hoped that the normal class will complete their study of mental tests and measurements. Even Simon Binet, Stanford, or Terman himself never struggled more valiantly in formulating the tests than did the class in wading through the results.

On Wednesday of this week the class will be represented at the dairy men's meeting at Marion Center by Mr. Coulter and Miss Behling.

A rather novel piece of observation work is being offered in the training room, in which all students are required to observe a full half day. It is hoped that result will be a more unified idea of class room procedures and class management.

If fools' caps mean anything, there must be another normal party on the way.

Training Room News

The sixth graders are making a plan of the upper floor of the grade building, drawn one-fourth inch to the yard, in connection with their arithmetic work.

The normal class entertained the pupils of the training room with a short program of Easter stories, afterwards presenting the pupils with nests of Easter eggs.

Miss Belding very graciously invited the first grade group to her room to share in the treat that room enjoyed.

Patty Ilvers has added a number of booklets containing pictures of some of our western parks, to the reading table.

SUB-DISTRICT SPEAKING CONTESTS NEARING

Will Be Held Next Friday in Charlevoix School Gymnasium

The Charlevoix school gymnasium will be the scene of the annual sub-district oratory and declamatory contests on Friday, April 7th. At this time representatives of Northern Michigan schools will compete for honors.

While complete details are not available at this time, it is understood five schools have entered representatives in both contests. Names of the schools and those who will judge the contests is not yet available.

Charlevoix high school will be represented by Miss Lila McMillan in oratory, and by Albert McMillan in declamations.

A program of musical numbers is being arranged and other entertainment features are being handled by a committee appointed for the purpose.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

During the absence of the pastor Gerald F. Bush, superintendent of our public school, will occupy the Congregational pulpit next Sunday. The pastor will be in Columbus during the week of April 3rd.

There will be a missionary service in the church school next Sunday. Mrs. G. R. Parker in charge.

Leader for junior church is Helena Isaksen. Mrs. H. A. Craig will be the adult supervisor.

Mrs. G. R. Parker will have charge of the young people's group at 7:00.

If attendance meant anything the Union Good Friday services went beyond expectation. The churches in Boyne City, East Jordan and Charlevoix were filled from 1:00 to 2:55 o'clock.

Crowds of worshippers attended all our Easter services to celebrate properly that great Christian festival. The cantata, "Christ the Victor," by Dudley Buck, was delightful.

SCHOOL MUSIC PROGRAM WAS ENJOYED

Band Music, Operetta and Cantata Featured Wednesday Night

Those who appreciate musical programs were given a treat at the school gymnasium last Wednesday evening when the school band, pupils of the second grade and the junior high chorus combined their efforts to create a very enjoyable program.

Albert Rider, band instructor, directed three opening numbers. An operetta, "Lazy Betty Jane," by a group of second grade children, was the next enjoyable feature. The high school theory class, supervised by Miss Atkinson, composed the songs and planned the costuming and staging of this number.

During the intermission the school band gave three more appreciated numbers and the program closed with the cantata, "The Childhood of Ilia-watha," given by the junior high chorus of two hundred voices under the direction of Miss Atkinson. This beautiful number was given in a near professional manner.

EASTER CANTATA WAS AN IMPRESSIVE EVENT

Auditorium of Congregational Church Filled for Program

The auditorium of the Congregational church was filled to capacity at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the cantata, "Christ the Victor," by Dudley Buck, presented by a mixed chorus of forty-five voices from Charlevoix and East Jordan. Those attending were lavish in their praise of the program.

Assisting the choir were Mrs. Gladys Dean, pianist; Miss Gwendolyn Miller, organist; Mrs. Ruth Soule, violinist; Hugh Parker, clarinet soloist; and Mrs. Marjorie Livingston. Mrs. Sylvia Miles, Dr. Frank H. Wilkinson, John Nordrum, Albert Rider and Fred Tyler, soloists. Mrs. Florine Stelter directed the cantata.

The same program will be repeated next Sunday, April 3rd, at the Presbyterian church in East Jordan, with the same personnel.

FRESHMEN GIRLS WIN INTER-CLASS CONTEST

Play Opened Monday in Annual Tournament for Class Honors

Play in the annual inter-class girls' basketball tournament opened Monday afternoon at the high school gymnasium. The freshmen girls were victorious in first round play, defeating the juniors by a 6 to 5 score in a close contest.

The senior and sophomore class teams will meet Wednesday afternoon, and Friday the winners of the first round contests will meet in the finals.

Plans are also under way for an inter-class tournament for boys. Play in this division will probably start next week, and its completion will mark the close of indoor athletics for the 1931-32 school year.

METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

April 3—"Why the Atonement? Does Blood Save Anybody?" This will involve a statement in the Union service last year.

The Club meets this week Thursday with Mrs. McMillan, Park avenue. Important meeting of official board next Monday evening, at 7:30. This meeting will be held at the parsonage. The mass of lilies that made the altar of the church so beautiful on Easter found their places in the homes of the sick and shut-ins, and were much appreciated by those thus remembered. The large crowd out for the sunrise service, was much appreciated by those in charge, the auditorium being fairly well filled at so early an hour. At 10:30 the church was crowded, with a program of music which showed much thought and ability, the solo by Miss French, and the violin of Miss Germond being features much enjoyed. Three adults were received into the membership of the church.

Spending to save - through ADVERTISING

Not many of us, these days, are troubled with so much money that we cannot spend it. But we are interested in spending the money we have, to get the most out of it.

One way—and not a new way, either—is to make a budget. Put down, week by week, the money that comes in. Put down beside it, week by week, the money that goes out. So much for food, so much for clothing, so much for rent. So much for giving, and for luxuries.

It won't always be easy, of course, to stay within the budget. That's where advertising helps you. Advertisements in this newspaper tell you how much rugs, butter, breakfast foods, dishes, homes, automobiles will cost, before you go shopping! They point out ways to save money. They show you how to cut a little here, a little there. And each day, they tell about new inventions, new products, new ways of doing things, that help make this life of ours very much worth living!

METHODIST GOOD FRIDAY SERVICE SUCCESS

Impressive and Beautifully Rendered Program Was Given

The very beautiful and unusual celebration of Good Friday at the local Methodist church was carried out exactly according to the schedule and plan as advertised.

It proved as was hoped, a very worshipful and spiritually impressive service. Great pains had been taken to artificially darken the room to dramatize the "noon day darkness" of Calvary. Absolute silence was observed, all came at one time, and all left at one time, singing the famous "In the Cross of Christ I Glory," as a recessional for the entire audience until the music was carried onto the street and the church was entirely empty, allowing of no conversation or lightness to detract from the spiritual impressions of the service.

One feature was a striking tableau, "The Three Marys at the Cross," taken by Mrs. Belding, as Mary the Mother; Mrs. Shapton, and Miss McMillan. This was very beautiful in the total darkness, except for the changing lights from the balcony, while a portion of "The Old Rugged Cross," was beautifully sung by Miss French in the shadows behind the pine and fir trees that skirted the Calvary area. On the violin, Miss Germond of Petoskey, gave a very beautiful "Nocturne," from Chopin. Her tonal effects were beautiful and the nocturne was very appropriate to the darkness.

The audience sang a number of the old and familiar crucifixion hymns, in the shadows, without books. The pastor gave a sermon on the significance of the sacrifice of Christ. At the last the illuminated cross, which had been installed on the tall cross, was lighted, and, in this dim light only, the audience partook of the bread and wine symbols, which the Master directed should be used in commemoration of this great Good Friday event. The large audience room was filled to capacity with many guests from the Episcopal church, with some others. The Methodists are unanimous in pronouncing it one of the most impressive and religiously profitable services they ever conducted.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Oratory and Declamatory Contests
This year the oratory and declamatory contest will be held at the Charlevoix gymnasium, Thursday evening, April 7th.

Five schools have entered representatives in both contests. Charlevoix's representatives are Albert McMillan in the declamatory contest, and Lila McMillan in the oratory contest.

There will be a few musical numbers.

Three years ago the contest was held in Charlevoix and was very pleasing to all. A large attendance is hoped for again this year.

Music

Hugh Parker has won great honors in the field of music. He is one of the few clarinet players picked from throughout the entire United States for the National High School orchestra and is the only one from Michigan. The meeting is held at Cleveland. In connection with this Miss Atkinson and Mr. Rider will attend the Music Supervisors conference which is also held at Cleveland. We wish them a good time and a pleasant journey.

J-Hop Committees

The officers of the junior class met recently and chose the committees for this year's annual J-Hop to be held May 20th.

The following are the members of the committees:

First Grade

The following children belong to the first grade attendance honor roll: Wanda Adams, Louis Edwards, Gerald Hull, Donald Louiselle, Donald Russell, Charles Smith, Marjorie Smith, Sylvia Stinson, and Marilyn Withers. We hope the attendance honor roll for the other grades in the elementary building was as large as that of the first grade. They set a good example for us all to follow.

Here and There

The Civil Government class are making preparation for a trial. No news, as to whom the prisoner at the bar is going to be, has leaked out. Perhaps Miss Ferneau will occupy that "high" office—who can tell?

The marble bust of Washington, which, together with a four-foot marble stand, was presented to the high school this year's senior class, has been securely fastened to the floor. There is no longer any danger it will be carried away to grace the home of some dishonest man. Also if some dreaming sophomore should stumble on its noble base, it will be safe to say that it will not seek the floor with a crash which would shake the foundations of our rack of education.

The girls basketball tournament will take place this week. Monday the juniors will play the freshmen, Wednesday the seniors, the sophomores, and Friday, the winners of each game will play to determine the champion.

The following teachers spent Easter out of town: Mrs. Dowd, Miss Atkinson, Miss Fargo, Miss Button, Mr. Bush.

The Hi-Y breakfast last Tuesday was cooked by Wayne Belding and David Livingston. Breakfast was prepared for fourteen, but only six were present. About twenty of the boys plan to attend the Hi-Y conference at Petoskey next month.

Mr. Bush attended the Representative Assembly of the Michigan Education association last Friday and Saturday, at Lansing.

Tuesday, March 21, the junior and senior high enjoyed a program. Miss Atkinson led the group in singing and Mr. Bush gave a very interesting talk.

A very enjoyable evening was spent by those who attended the concert Wednesday evening in the gym. The grades presented a short operetta, "Lazy Betty Jane," written by the music theory class. A beautiful cantata called "Childhood of Hiawatha," was sung by the junior high chorus and music was furnished by the band.

About a dozen Sunday school pupils received a prize Sunday for attendance during the whole quarter. Mrs. Warren Frank was the donor of these books.

A young people's Bible study club is being organized with Mrs. Warren Frank as leader. They meet on Wednesday evenings at her home at present. All are welcome.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Morning service, 10:45.
Subject, "Unreality."

Wednesday evening at 7:45 first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Reality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, March 27th.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Rev. 21:1): "And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 573): "This testimony of Holy Writ sustains the fact in Science, that the heavens and earth to one human consciousness, that consciousness which God bestows, are spiritual, while to another, the unilluminated human mind, the vision is material."

ACID STOMACH

EXCESS acid is the common cause of indigestion. It results in pain and sourness about two hours after eating. The quick corrective is an alkali which neutralizes acid. The best corrective is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained standard with physicians in the 50 years since its invention.

One spoonful of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia neutralizes instantly many times its volume in acid. Harmless, and tasteless, and yet its action is quick. You will never rely on crude methods, once you learn how quickly this method acts. Be sure to get the genuine.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior tooth-paste that safeguards against acid-mouth.

BABY FRETFUL, RESTLESS?

Look to this cause

When your baby fusses, tosses and seems unable to sleep restfully, look for one common cause, doctors say. Constipation. To get rid quickly of the accumulated wastes which cause restlessness and discomfort, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Castoria, you know, is made specially for children's delicate needs. It is a pure vegetable preparation; contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics. It is so mild and gentle you can give it to a young infant to relieve colic. Yet it is as effective for older children. Castoria's regulative help will bring relaxed comfort and restful sleep to your baby. Keep a bottle on hand. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

CASTORIA
CHILDREN CRY FOR IT

He thinks now that he will not have to have them amputated.

Central Lake has a candidate for sheriff in the person of Carl Rushton, son of Roy Rushton, former supervisor, and grandson of Milton Rushton, at one time township clerk, and for many years supervisor of Central Lake township. With Bellaire putting up Robert Dunham for county prosecutor, there will be two young men up for office this year.

The death of Mrs. John Stevens, the mother of Harry Stevens, an old and respected resident of this place, occurred here last week, the funeral being held on Wednesday. Mrs. Stevens had been ill for some time. Mr. Isaac Pickard's death occurred also last week. He had been an old resident here. His daughter, Marion, came from Canada to attend the funeral.

Central Lake's M. E. circuit was an eventful one the past week. Wednesday evening the pastor filled the pulpit for Rev. Alexander at Bellaire, then came on to the Jolliffe home. Thursday evening a large crowd assembled at the M. E. church at Ellsworth for Easter services, which were very well rendered. Messrs. Yettaw and Klooster each gave instrumental selections, besides the fine parts taken in the program by the young people. Friday evening came the excellent Easter exercises at Norwood, and Saturday evening the Easter observances at Barnard, where a reading given by Mrs. Frank was highly commended as well as other fine parts in the program by the young people. On Sunday came the baptismal services, given by the pastor. A baby was baptised at Atwood in the morning, parents of family and their children at Ellsworth; fifteen, mostly young people, were baptised at Norwood; two babies at Barnard, and three taken into church membership at Barnard. Certainly the pastor could go back to Central Lake with the satisfaction of having accomplished a great work during the eventful week.

Last Friday evening will long be looked back to by Atwood people as an especially eventful occasion. On that evening occurred the wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Jolliffe and wife, as well as social church gathering. It was especially fitting that it should be so for Mr. Jolliffe has been identified with Methodist church affairs at Atwood since his arrival 66 years ago. He has scarcely ever missed being present at church in that time and has always gone ahead, helping in its affairs, both physically and financially. Rev. C. J. Kendall reunited them in the holy bonds of matrimony by the impressive ring service, after a wedded life of forty years. Fifty years ago they had been married at the home of the bride, the parson's residence, and Harry Marshall and Mr. Jolliffe's sister, Lora, had acted as groom and bridesmaid, respectively. After the ceremony Mr. Jolliffe gave a nice little talk on their wedded life and read a fine selection. Many were the wishes of a yet longer state of married life. The ladies had prepared an excellent oyster supper and other good things to eat and not the least of these was a fine wedding cake, prepared by Mrs. Morris Henry. Again we extend hearty congratulations and wish of a long and peaceful life to Mr. and Mrs. Jolliffe.

ATWOOD

It is reported there is to be a double wedding very soon.

A very memorable occasion sponsored by the Ladies' Aid society of the M. E. church, occurred at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ethan Jolliffe last Wednesday evening, March 23rd, it being their 40th wedding anniversary. Rev. J. C. Kendall performed the marriage ceremony, using the ring service. An oyster supper was served with plenty of other good things. There were forty-one present.

Give everyone the benefit of a doubt hoping they may be as charitable with you sometime.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it." To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts a weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen. Salt—imitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

STATE SALARIES ARE UNDER FIRE

ISSUE IMPORTANT AT SPECIAL
LEGISLATIVE SESSION

Legislature Members Out To Force Reduction of Higher Up Pay

Declaring that Governor Brucker's economy program as submitted to the legislature is but scratching the surface, members of the legislature are preparing for an assault upon the state payroll that may return salaries of state officials and higher-ups to the same place they were ten or twelve years ago. Department heads who are now drawing $6,000, $7,000, $8,000 and even higher amounts are in danger of having these sums cut almost in half.

It became known early in the present week that Representative Vern Brown of Mason, has for weeks past been making a study of the pay-rolls of the various departments. He is now having his information prepared for dissemination among members of the legislature.

Not only has Representative Brown been active in seeking a worthwhile saving in state payrolls, but Senator Chester Howell of Saginaw, has already started a movement in the legislature to fix a maximum salary of $5,000 per year for all state officials. Hundreds of thousands of dollars, it is pointed out, would be saved by the adoption of Senator Howell's suggestion.

Representative Dana Hinkley, another newspaper man from Petoskey, has introduced a bill to cut the pay of the members of the legislature $500 per year.

There are now something like 11,308 paid employees of the state. This does not include the educational institutions and concerns only departmental workers. Last year the taxpayers raised $17,500,000 to pay these employees. Representative Brown believes that this amount can be reduced considerably under $10,000,000. Senator Howell has indicated that the greatest saving that the state can make will be in the general reduction of salaries.

Governor Brucker has already indicated his willingness to accept a cut in his own pay, which is fixed by the constitution. This follows the step taken several months ago by Secretary of State Frank Fitzgerald who announced a reduction of his own pay and that of all the higher paid employees in his department.

Next in importance to the proposal of the legislature to go way beyond the recommendations of the Governor for salary reductions, comes the diversion of highway funds.

Already the administration bill introduced into the legislature apportioning the weight tax monies among the counties, cities and villages, has been recalled.

It was discovered that it provided for little of the relief that rural sections and cities had anticipated, and that over $10,000,000 was retained in the measure for new highway construction each year, an amount sufficient to build 400 miles of new roads. Some members of the legislature believe that there should be a holiday declared on road construction and from sentiment expressed it is pretty sure that the law makers will not approve any measure providing for a considerable amount of road building during the present year.

VICTORS SPOILED THE SPOILS WITH TOO MUCH REVELRY

Monday's election wound up in the wee hours of the following morning with an over-enthusiastic celebration by a group of supporters of the winning faction.

It was an amusing, as well as disgusting display of exuberance. It is hard to believe that grown men, married and heads of families would make such a show of themselves. A few members of the Legion's drum and bugle corp, partially financed through city appropriation of taxpayers' money, with Legion equipment, took part in the revelry.

There was utter disregard for the peace of mind of the city at large. The celebrants, some none too sober, apparently did not stop to think of the annoyance they caused the sick, the children and peace-abiding citizens they aroused in the middle of the night.

If the type of citizenry taking part in that unnecessary display is a sample of the supporters aligned with the winning political faction, they lent their cause no credit.

WELL KNOWN CITY EMPLOYEE DIED THURSDAY

James Davis Succumbed Following Brief Illness—Funeral Monday

Charlevoix residents were shocked Thursday by the death at 2:30 that morning, at Charlevoix hospital, of James Davis, for many years an employee of the city electric light department. Mr. Davis had been ill about three weeks.

A native of Bohemia, where he was born May 23, 1889, Mr. Davis came to this country as a small boy. He resided with relatives near Bellaire during his youth and had been a resident of Charlevoix eight years.

Mr. Davis was a World war veteran and member of Charlevoix lodge No. 282, F. & A. M., under whose auspices funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Monday from the Baptist church with Rev. W. H. Rauch officiating. Interment was at Brookside.

COUNTY NAMES TEN NEW SUPERVISORS

MANY OLD CAMPAIGNERS ELIMINATED THIS SPRING

Boyer City Places Four New Names
On List—Charlevoix One and Various Townships Five

In one of the most sweeping changes in recent years, Charlevoix county voters elected ten new officers to the board of supervisors at the general election Monday.

The most complete change was at Boyer City, where four new supervisors were named. Agnes Lorch defeated Henry Fitzpatrick for the office held by Sadie McNeal, and at the primary Wm. F. Tindall defeated Sabin Hooper, John Parker replaced Floyd Newville and Roy Scott was nominated in place of C. C. Schaub.

Howard Stephens, for several years chairman of the supervisors' finance committee, was defeated by A. G. Tillotson in Hayes township. Bert Woodward replaced Lewis Magge in Hudson; Carl Goodwin fills the berth resigned by Mrs. John Golden in Melrose; Earl Boyle, a slip candidate, defeated John Gallagher, victor over John W. Green in the caucus, by a margin of 4 votes in Peaine township. This issue has not been settled, however, for petition has been filed for a recount. It is alleged that five absent ballots were cast by Chicagoans who had not been residents of the island in 10 years, and another by a non-citizen. The other new supervisor is William E. Parmelee, Charlevoix third ward, victor over Archie Alcock in the primary.

Those supervisors re-elected to office include Harry A. Craig and Frank Partridge, Charlevoix first and second wards; Wm. F. Bashaw, John Porter and Wm. R. Barnett, East Jordan; Orton VanDusen, Norwood; George Meggison, Marion; W. J. Pearson, Boyer Valley; Lilly Gardner, Evangeline; Wm. Sanderson, Eveline; Wm. H. Cook, Charlevoix; James H. Gallagher, St. James; Elmer Hott, South Arm; Charles N. Smith, Bay and Marion Wood, Chandler township.

Another recount of ballots has been called for in Charlevoix township. Monday's returns gave Lucy Molet a margin of one vote of Geo. W. Dennis for justice. Those requesting the recount claim three illegal ballots were cast.

An important feature of the business session will be the annual election of officers for the ensuing year. All members and those interested are urged to be present.

COMMERCE MEETING ING BIG SUCCESS

MANY OUT FOR SECOND RURAL GATHERING THURSDAY

Prof. A. J. Hannah Principal Speaker
On a Program of More Than Usual Interest

Charlevoix business and rural people joined at the Odd Fellow hall last Thursday evening for one of the most successful meetings ever held by the Association of Commerce. It was the second annual agricultural meeting and an estimated group of one hundred, including members, visitors and their wives, were in attendance.

Following an excellent banquet dinner served by ladies of the Maenees, Dr. C. J. Winder opened the session by welcoming the visitors before turning the meeting over to Richard Paddock, program chairman, who in turn chose County Agent B. C. Mellemcamp to introduce Prof. A. J. Hannah, poultry extension specialist from Michigan State college, who gave the address of the evening.

Mr. Hannah based his address on personal experiences during a tour of Europe last summer. He told in a very interesting manner of post-war conditions in England, Ireland, Scotland and all of the principal countries of the European mainland, including France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and Spain. It was the most vivid and interesting talk on the old country hear here in a long time.

Other interesting features of the program were a monologue entitled "The Farmer Comes to Town," by Charles Shepherd of East Jordan. Mr. Shepherd dressed the part and brought the house down. He favored with an encore. Clarence Meggison, local postmaster, favored with a reading.

Guest awards were given at the meeting, with Mrs. B. C. Mellemcamp, Boyer City, winning that for rural women, and Mrs. C. J. Winder of this city, the prize for city women.

The meeting was declared a very successful one and will go a long way toward more solidly cementing the relationship between city and rural interests.

CARPENTERS CUT WAGE RATE HERE

Twenty-Five Per Cent Reduction
Made by Local Union Effective

To stimulate building activities in and around Charlevoix, the local Carpenters' Union voted at a recent meeting to cut the union wage scale from $1 to 75 cents an hour, according to William E. Black, recording secretary of the local union.

The new wage scale is already in effect. Building authorities have estimated that labor charges constitute 40 per cent of the total cost of building. With the 25 per cent cut in carpenters' wages, those intending to build will be able to realize a large saving from now on. It is generally felt that the recent action taken by the carpenters will lend an impetus to new building and repair work.

The local union was formed in May, 1900. The present officers are: president, Frank Chvatal; vice-president, John Zeidler; recording secretary, William E. Black; financial secretary, Judd Hardy; treasurer, Amos Webster.

Throughout County

Arthur Bergeon was returned mayor of Charlevoix in Monday's election by a majority of 176 votes over Edward E. Cross, first ward candidate.

There were 922 ballots cast, a record spring election vote, and in view of the fact that the defeated candidate's name was voted on slips without a pre-election campaign, his showing was a remarkable one.

The balance of the list of candidates, which gives Charlevoix a new city treasurer, two new aldermen and one new supervisor, were elected without opposition.

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER BANQUET FINE AFFAIR

Appropriate Observance at Cong. Church Wednesday Evening

The Mother and Daughter banquet sponsored by the South Side Circle of First Congregational church, on Wednesday evening of last week, has been unanimously voted the best they have given to date. The banquet was delicious and was served in a most efficient manner.

Mrs. James Krulik, president of the South Side Circle, acted as toastmistress and introduced those taking part on the program. Mrs. A. J. Stelter, Mrs. Ruth Soule and Mrs. Archie Livingston, delighted all with their music. Miss Esther Case gave a beautiful toast, "Our Mothers," and Mrs. Ruby Case-Staley responded with a toast to daughters.

Mrs. E. L. Dawson, Mrs. G. R. Barker, Mrs. Engle VanAllsburg, Mrs. Nickerson and Mrs. Chas. Heise gave three-minute talks on outstanding women in government, social service, education, arts and home. Miss Rose O'Neil concluded the program with a reading, "The Stick-Together Family."

Mrs. W. H. Miller, as chairman of the program committee, deserves much credit for the success of the evening's entertainment.

NEW FORD CAR IS ON DISPLAY HERE

NORTHERN AUTO COMPANY
SHOWING NEW "EIGHT"

Prices for This Newest Machine
Close to Those for Old Four—Offer Many Models

The new Ford eight cylinder automobile went on display at the Northern Auto company sales room here today, priced as low as $460 f.o.b. Detroit, the first car in its class to enter the low priced field, and selling at only $50 more than the new Ford four.

It was Ford's bid for "the end of the depression" forecast several weeks ago when he indicated he was going to stake millions on his belief the public would buy if offered value at the right price.

And the price was calculated to create a sensation in the auto-manufacturing industry, because it places the eight cylinder automobile in a market where it undersells almost every other four, six or eight cylinder car produced.

The majority of the eight-cylinder models are only $10 to $25 higher in price than the corresponding models in the now retired model "A" four-cylinder line.

The prices of representative models in the eight-cylinder line compared with the new four-cylinder and the model "A" are as follows:

	New Eight	New Four	Old Model
Roadster	$460	$410	$430
Coupe	490	440	490
Tudor Sedan	500	450	490
Fordor Sedan	590	540	590
Sport Coupe	535	485	500
Phaeton	495	445	435
DeLuxe Roadster	500	450	475
DeLuxe Phaeton	545	495	580
DeLuxe Tudor
Sedan	550	500	525
DeLuxe Coupe	575	525	525

For purposes of stock classification, the eight has been termed Model 18 and the new four, Model "B."

STANLEY WIDFIELD DEAD FROM ACCIDENT

Fatally Burned When He Fell in Vat of Boiling Fluid at Chicago

The shocking news of the death of Stanley Widdfield, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Widdfield, prominent local citizens, was received from Chicago Tuesday morning.

According to the meager information available, Stanley died Tuesday morning from burns received late Monday afternoon when he fell into a vat of boiling fluid at the Armour & Co. plant, where he was an office employee. It is thought the accident happened when he was making a checking trip at the plant.

Mrs. Widdfield left for Chicago late Monday night, but arrived there too late to see her son alive. The remains will be brought to Charlevoix and funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock that forenoon from the residence.

Two other brothers, Kenneth and Albert, both of Chicago, survive in addition to the parents.

TAX PAYMENTS NEAR AVERAGE

REPORT SHOWS CHARLEVOIX MADE GOOD SHOWING.

Charlevoix and East Jordan Lead
Cities by Paying Four-fifths of Total Assessments.

Charlevoix county has made what might be termed a good showing in payment of state and county taxes this year, according to a report from County Treasurer Joseph William Flanders, who has now practically completed the work of settling with city and township treasurers.

With Boyne City and St. James and Peaine townships still to be accounted for, Charlevoix county has paid in $94,476.10 out of a total assessed tax of $166,711.15. Settlements with treasurers from St. James and Peaine townships will likely not be made until navigation opens, and the settlement with Boyne City will be completed this week. According to an estimate, Boyne City will likely pay only about 25 per cent of their total tax, while the other two townships above mentioned will make the average showing.

Payments this year are considerably lower than a year ago, but considering business conditions and general drop in income throughout the county, the condition is satisfactory.

Charlevoix with an assessed total of $52,788.16, has paid $43,488.15, nearly four-fifths. East Jordan made a good showing also, paying in $12,045.44 out of a total tax of $15,627.29.

Charlevoix, Melrose, Eveline and Boyne Valley townships paid over half of their total tax, while the poorest showings were made in Hudson and Chandler townships, where only a small per cent was collected.

Following is a table of townships, showing the total taxes assessed and the amount paid:

	Tax	Paid
Boyer Valley	$1,392.05	$1,750.83
Boyer Valley	6,181.58	3,961.87
Chandler	1,049.54	295.79
Charlevoix	4,994.56	3,840.70

INT. HARVESTER CO. OFFERS FARMERS AID

Offer High Price for Wheat, Corn to Purchasers of Machinery

Higher prices for wheat, corn and cotton are guaranteed by the International Harvester company in an offer to this year's purchasers of certain important crop-producing and harvesting machines. The higher prices guaranteed are 70 cents a bushel, Chicago, for wheat, 50 cents a bushel, Chicago, for corn, and 8 1/2 cents a pound, New Orleans, for cotton.

The list of machines to which this offer applies includes farm tractors, harvester-threshers or combines, windrow-harvesters and stationary threshers. The higher prices which these new terms guarantee are 70 cents a bushel, Chicago, for No. 2 hard wheat, 50 cents a bushel, Chicago, for No. 2 yellow corn, and 8 1/2 cents a pound, New Orleans, for middling cotton.

On notes maturing in 1932, given hereafter in payment for the machines listed and representing not more than 40 per cent of the purchase price, there will be endorsed the equivalent number of bushels of wheat or corn or pounds of cotton computed at the prices named. If the average market quotation for the 5-day period prior to and including the maturity date of the note is less than the price named, the purchaser will be credited with an amount representing the price differential multiplied by the number of bushels or pounds endorsed on the note.

For example, if the note due in 1932 amounts to $420, it will require 600 bushels of wheat at 70 cents, Chicago, to meet the obligation. Should the price of wheat at maturity be less than 70 cents, say 60 cents per bushel, Chicago, the purchaser's note will be accordingly reduced $60.

REDUCE CONSERVATION COSTS AGAIN

CUT QUARTER MILLION TO KEEP WITHIN BUDGET

Every Department Must Curtail Expenditures—Eliminate License Buttons to Save Money

Elimination of all expansion plans and curtailment of departmental activities for the next sixteen months was ordered Friday by the state conservation commission to avoid an impending deficit of $250,000 on July 1, 1933.

The reductions, it is claimed, will not cripple the work of any department, but will result in some loss of public service. The new program is in addition to the blanket 10 per cent salary reduction imposed upon department employees early this year.

Although all departments are affected in the new financial program, the fish and game divisions contribute heaviest. Proposed game division expenditures of $200,000 for the next fiscal year are cut to $142,500, and fish division funds are slashed from $287,500 to $218,000. The law enforcement budget was reduced from $350,000 to $312,000, but despite this action Hogarth said that a full force of 126 men will be on full time schedules on March 15.

At the same time the commission approved the action of the director in asking the state administrative board to permit transfer of funds within the department to distribute a portion of the salary reduction benefits to the game protection fund. This fund receives license fee revenues and has suffered from the decline in sales.

In addition to this falling off of revenue, the last legislature provided that game protection fund monies should be used for forest fire prevention work and otherwise imposed new burdens upon it.

The depression has claimed the license buttons which Michigan hunters and fishermen wore in recent years.

The conservation commission's economy program approved Friday provides that sportsmen's licenses shall consist of only the paper permit.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Morning service, 10:45. Subject, "Are Sin, Disease and Death Real?"

Wednesday evening at 7:45 first Wednesday of month only.

Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Unreality" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 3.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (1 Cor. 6:6): "But to us there is but one God, the Father, of whom are all things, and we in him."

Correlative passage read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 474): "Despite the halloving influence of Truth in the destruction of error, must error still be immortal? Truth spares all that is true. If evil is real, Truth must make it so; but error, not Truth, is the author of the unreal, and the unreal vanishes, while all that is real is eternal."

CORRESPONDENCE

CENTRAL LAKE.

Good attendance at election Monday.

Mrs. Henry Syers has been quite ill this week with the grippe.

Lloyd Morse left Monday for a business trip to Detroit and other points.

Quite a crowd from here attended the Bergsma sale north of Ellsworth last week.

Arthur Russell is visiting his father, Thomas Russell, at Elk Rapids this week.

School begins this week after a week's vacation, and most students who haven't the flu are returning.

Norton Pearl and Bert Maris returned last week to Detroit after spending their vacation at Eastport.

O. R. and G. A. Morse left for a business trip to Lansing this week. O. R. will also visit relatives while there.

About forty attended the church social hour at the M. E. church last week. The young people's play was quite well attended.

The Congregational Aid society at Eastport gave a big dinner at the Gleaner hall last Wednesday and took in a nice little sum for the church.

Mrs. Carrie Mudge returned Monday to Detroit after a week's visit here and at Torch Lake. She has charge of the cafeteria at one of the high schools there.

We wish to correct the slight mistake in our account of the Atwood wedding anniversary, which should have said "forty" instead of fifty, and spelled Parsons with a capital.

The Misses Frances Kendal, Iris Burlew, and another young lady took a hike to Bay View and back last Friday afternoon. They said they walked four miles an hour, which isn't so bad for amateurs.

Glen Cornett is so far recovered as to be able to get out to his appointments at Pleasant Valley to preach again. He has again started to work at the Argo mill. He did not have to get his fingers amputated.

The big sale by Mrs. Miles Klooster is taking place at her farm in Holland and neighborhood this week Thursday. Garrett Essenberg and family have been living on the farm since Mrs. Klooster left a few years ago.

The election last Monday went just as we had foreseen. The whole Citizen's ticket, with the exception of William F. Roberts for township treasurer, was elected. Supervisor, Moses King; clerk, Everett Vandenberg; treasurer, W. F. Roberts; highway commissioner, Joseph Devlin; board of review, Albert Snitsler. One-fourth of one per cent was voted for highway improvement, $150 for Southern cemetery, and $25 for Northern cemetery.

Little Alice Meggison, daughter of Carleto Meggison of this place and granddaughter of Attorney Meggison of Traverse City, last week Wednesday stumbled and fell onto a rock, breaking her collar bone. A physician was called and put the bone in splints, and she appears to be getting along nicely. Though but five years of age, she has had several interesting experiences. A few years ago she broke the bone of her upper arm. It is said that she at one time swallowed 27 buttons, and on another occasion swallowed several pins including a safety pin, opened. It appears as though she might qualify for an apt artist at doing stunts in some circus.

Thirty-six people attended Sunday school at Norwood Friday evening. Several young people are again doing booklet work. The pastor and the writer were pleasantly entertained at the school commissioner's home before the Sunday school hour, enjoying a bountiful repast prepared by Mrs. Palmer at Charlevoix. We were attracted by the Star list that Mr. Palmer has prepared for the teachers making perfect reports. Many of the list of about forty teachers had stars after their names for each month of the year. We call this an excellent incentive for doing good work. Commissioner Palmer also believes in visiting the town and city schools, and says he gains many things of value in his observations of their work.

NORWOOD

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Richardson and son, Cecil, spent Sunday with relatives in Traverse City.

Miss Alice Worth returned to her school work at Cadillac after spending her Easter vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Worth.

Rev. William Petoskey, a long resident of Bay Shore and Petoskey, passed away at his home March 31st, following a short attack of pneumonia. He was loved by all who knew him for his kindness and smile for everyone. He leaves a wife and daughter and many friends to mourn their loss.

BARNARD

One of the largest crowds ever, attended Mrs. Burns' auction sale on Thursday.

Pearl Stark of Lansing, is visiting his cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Frank and family.

Sub-District Forensic Contest Here

Thursday evening of this week the sub-district oratorical and declamation contest will be held in the local gymnasium. Harbor Springs, Boyne City, Cheboygan, Boyne Falls and Gaylord are sending representatives. Charlevoix is represented in oratory by Lila McMillan, with her oration, "Andrew Jackson," and in the declamations by Albert McMillan with his selection, "At the Grave of the Unknown Soldier," by Bruce Barton.

The sub-district contest is usually held in Cheboygan where we always find a filled house. Our delegation, being a little late last year, had some difficulty in getting seats. Let's show these visiting schools that Charlevoix is interested in forensics too!

Senior Honors Announced

This week the valedictorian and salutatorian, together with those seniors who have maintained a high average have been announced.

Valedictorian—Lila McMillan. Salutatorian—Carl Beattie. Honorable mention for being close to second place: Margaret Smith and Ruby Supernaw.

The following may be admitted to the University without examination: Norman Ance, Marian Smith, Kathleen McCall, David Dick, Hugh Parker, Edna Knudsen, Dan Geniet, Winifred Martin, Mary Margaret Orlovski, John Pesik, Dorothy Griffin, Stanley Cartier.

Senior Play Chosen

Friday, May 13th, is the date for the senior play and it will indeed be an unlucky day for those who do not attend. "Two Girls Wanted" is one of the most lively, up-to-the-minute, amusing and interesting comedy-dramas that could be chosen. It has only recently been released for amateur production and the seniors feel sure that the gym will be filled with friends looking for an evening of genuine fun and entertainment.

Watch for announcement of cast and staff and further details about this distinctly unusual comedy.

Basketball Tournaments

Monday night, March 28th, the junior girls played the freshmen. Predictions for they had been undefeated by the freshmen up to this time. However, the juniors were a little off their play, and the freshmen had improved considerably, so the game ended with a score of 5 to 4 in favor of the freshmen.

Wednesday night, March 30th, the sophomores played the seniors. The results of the game were almost known before the game. The seniors had not organized a team until a few days before the tournament, while the sophomores have a very strong team and the teamwork was splendid. The score was 2 to 40 in favor of the sophomores.

Friday night the finals were played. The freshmen were good but the sophomores were able to win with a 3 to 10 score. The sophomore team will undoubtedly receive basketball letters. The members of that team are: Margaret Chew, Marjorie Partidge, Jerline Smith, Janet Livingston, Marion Tuhy, Moady Scott, Alice Usher, Dorothy McCartney and Doris Chvati.

The boys' games started Monday of this week. There are six teams in the tournament and they have been practicing strenuously for weeks. The doors of the gym have been locked against spies, while secret plays were being perfected, so a hard-fought tournament was expected.

The list of the teams follows: 7th grade—Leslie Shapton, Louis Orlovski, Robert Livingston, John Martin, Edward Hansen, Harold Chew, Bruce Withers, Edward Radley; 8th grade—Robert Pearl, Steve Searno, Emerald LaBlanc, James Shaw, Bill Hansen, Emil Olack, Thad Pearl, Jack McGary; 9th grade—Bill Bergman, Charles Carey, Jack Foster, Bill Chambers, Harold Mayhew, Grover Geniet; 10th grade—George Richardson, Drew Young, Marquis Roen, Christian Hansen, George Smith, John Krehak, Burr Blanchard, Bernard Foster; 11th grade—Homer Struthers, Herbert Campbell, Edward McCann, Gordon Bartlett, David Livingston, Crawford Norton, John Winder, Junior Supernaw; 12th grade—Carl Beattie, Bob Cummings, David Dick, Devere Bird, Lloyd Arnold, Dan Geniet.

Editorial

We would like to bring to the attention of the students of the high school and the citizens of the town the opportunities that are being offered through the music and speech departments of the school. We regret that there was not a larger attendance at the splendid program presented by the junior high school chorus, for its merit was as great or perhaps superior to that of presentations by much larger schools. Such an exhibition of talent and fine training by the young people of our city can not but be an inspiration to all who hear.

The crowd at the Drama club production of "Quality Street" was not all that might be desired. Of course these organizations feel that though only a few enjoy their efforts the time has not been spent in vain, but what encouragement they would receive from more whole-hearted support.

However, there are several interesting events yet to come. Thursday evening there is the sub-district oratorical and declamation contest which with the many entrants from neighboring schools, should insure an exciting evening. May 6th and 7th finds Charlevoix the host of District Music Meet at which time we will have the privilege of hearing real musicians from our town as well as from neighboring cities. Those who have attended similar programs know that one does not have to have achieved great years to be a musician, and some of our high school students can out-do people twice their ages. Three or four years ago at the meeting of the High School All-State orchestra in Ann Arbor, a little sophomore girl pianist caused an audience filling Hill auditorium to its doors, to rise to its feet in honor of her skill.

Then on May 13th the senior class will present the annual play which has been chosen for its appeal and interest as well as its fine quality. Plan for these dates. We are sure you will enjoy yourselves.

Charlevoix County Republican Convention

The Charlevoix County Republican convention will be held at East Jordan high school, Wednesday, April 13, at 10 o'clock, E. S. T. Delegates shall be the same persons who were chosen as delegates to the county convention held at Boyne City by the Republican party in the spring of 1931. Report to your committee chairman of your ward or township if you cannot attend.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Mellencamp

How to Raise Baby Chicks

At this time of the year nearly all farmers are interested in the raising of baby chicks. To be of assistance to you in the many problems that you will be confronted with, a series of four broader meetings will be held on April 12 and 13 with Mr. Shearer, poultry specialist from Michigan State college, present to lead the discussion.

Following is the schedule, all meetings on E. S. T.:

Tuesday, April 12, 10:30 a. m.: farm of Arthur Guild, Charlevoix, about three miles south.

Tuesday, April 12, 2:00 p. m.: Cherryvale hatchery, Al Warda, manager, East Jordan.

Wednesday, April 13, 10:00 a. m.: farm of Frank Fox, Boyne City, three miles north of Horton Bay.

Wednesday, April 13, 2:00 p. m.: Newkirk's hatchery, Boyne City, south limits of city.

All poultry raisers are somewhat uncertain as to what feed to use, how to handle the chicks, what diseases might be expected, remedies, and dozens of others, so take advantage of this opportunity and be present at your nearest meeting place. Remember the dates and places.

Use Home Grown Feeds for Your Dairy Cows

At the recent series of dairy-crops truck meetings held in the county a most encouraging statement made by Mr. Nelson, dairy specialist, was that it is not necessary to buy protein supplements if you have good quality alfalfa hay and feed stemmed, bone meal.

During the last two years as a result of much experimental effort it is found that where good alfalfa hay is fed, only an eighth by weight of the grains needs to be a concentrate. In the case of clover roughage, one should feed one-fifth by weight of cotton seed or some other similar feed and in the case of timothy, one-third by weight must be a concentrate.

Cows should be taught to consume large quantities of roughage and especially alfalfa hay. Alfalfa hay will furnish plenty of protein to make a cow produce considerably more than 400 pounds of butterfat if she will eat a sufficient quantity of it. Therefore, if your cows will consume 20 to 25 pounds per day, you can use nothing but home grown feeds. Practically any combination will secure wonderful results. If they do not care for it, it usually is a sign of depraved appetite and a low phosphorus content is the reason. Use two per cent steamed bone meal in your grain ration or else two parts of steamed bone meal to one part of salt and let the cows have free access to it. Your cows will now consume more alfalfa hay which is desirable.

In regard to crops, considerable attention was devoted to the use of soy beans as an emergency hay crop and the use of sudan grass as an emergency pasture. Mr. Nelson suggested that people short of pasture could well afford to use a combination of 1 1/2 bushels of oats and 1 1/2 bushels of rye seeded the last week in August. This will give the dairyman good fall pasture, fine pasture in the spring with the rye that comes rapidly and still permits a person the opportunity of plowing before the first of June and planting soy beans for emergency hay or seedling to sudan grass for emergency pasture.

AT THE MOVIES

Janet Gaynor in New Role as Scotch Immigrant.

Kilts, a flaming red tam o' shanter, a little Scotch terrier, and a delightful Scotch brogue are the chief properties of Janet Gaynor for her new role in "Delicious." Fox melody romance coming Saturday and Sunday at the Palace Theatre.

As a Scotch orphan lassie, Miss Gaynor is first seen amid a gay and colorful peasantry in the steerage of a large ocean liner headed for America. Her wistful charm and bubbling sense of humor immediately endear her to everyone, including a troupe of talented Russian entertainers who adopt her as one of their own.

Charles Farrell, co-star in the picture, also becomes acquainted with her on the boat, as does El Brendel, who is seen as Farrell's valet. The romance which springs up between Janet and Charlie on their first meeting is the motivating theme of the picture.

"The Silent Witness" Based on Sensational Broadway Hit

Like many of the most recent screen successes, "The Silent Witness," the new Fox mystery drama, which opens Wednesday and Thursday at the Palace Theatre, is based upon a stage play, a production that was tried and proven before it was purchased for the films. And to insure the same quality of acting that made the stage play a success on Broadway the Fox Film Corporation signed several members of the original cast to appear in the talking picture version, namely, the international star, Lionel Atwill, Bramwell Fletcher and Wyndham Standing.

"The Silent Witness" tells a vivid story of romance and father's love for his vacillating son with a mysterious murder for a background.

TROUT LICENSES SUPPLIED TO ALL AGENTS

Cost of Resident License is $1.75—Non-Resident Now $4.00

All license agents of the conservation department were expected to be supplied with resident trout fishing licenses and non-resident anglers licenses this week.

The licenses are now being mailed out from the Lansing office to approximately 400 dealers who represent practically every city and village in Michigan.

Because of necessary economies the use of the license button has been discontinued temporarily at least, and the fishing license button is the last one which will be furnished for some time.

Michigan trout fishermen and non-resident anglers will pay for the first time this spring the new license fee set by the 1931 session of the state legislature. The cost of the trout license will be $1.75 and the non-resident anglers fee $4.00.

How One Woman
Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it."

To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back.

But be sure and get Kruschen Salts—imitations are numerous and you must regard your health.

ABOUT two hours' after eating many people suffer from sour stomachs. They call it indigestion. It means that the stomach nerves have been over-stimulated. There is excess acid. The way to correct it is with an alkali, which neutralizes many times its volume in acid.

The right way is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—just a teaspoonful dose in water. It is pleasant, efficient and harmless. Results come almost instantly. It is the approved method. You will never use another when you know.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia—prescribed by physicians for correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

COUNTY DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE AT CONVENTION

Over One Hundred Attended Meeting at Court House Thursday.

Charlevoix county Democrats, over one hundred strong, held their convention at the Charlevoix court house last Thursday evening. It was the largest Democratic meeting held in this county in many years.

J. N. Foster, this city, was re-elected county chairman. Other officers chosen were: vice-presidents, Henry Fuday, Boyne City; F. F. Pearce, Boyne Falls; Frank Crowell, East Jordan; secretary, Leo W. Powers, Charlevoix.

Delegates chosen to attend the state convention at Saginaw, April 13 and 14, were: Henry Fuday, Boyne City; F. F. Pearce, Boyne Falls. Alternates selected were Leo W. Powers and R. F. Slonn, this city.

The convention delegates thoroughly chastized the Republican party and its principles, went on record favoring Mayor Frank Murphy of Detroit for governor at the September primary, and adopted a wet platform, favoring light wines and beer. The delegates, however, will go to the state convention uninstructed.

She will be the local school's representative in oratory at the sub-district contest here Thursday.

STOVER CREEK SMELT "RUN" APPEARS ENDED

Few Fish Taken Late Last Week — Plans Made to Improve Stream

Charlevoix's smelt "run" at Stover creek has apparently ended. Only a few smelt have been taken the past few nights, according to reports from sportsmen visiting the stream.

Wednesday evening the hour of the early dip was changed from 10 o'clock to 12. Standard time, in the hope that more fish would enter the stream. This change, however, failed to make any difference in the number. Plans are already under way by the Sportsman's club for next spring. It is proposed to sheet-pile the lower end of the stream to a narrow width to confine the water flow into the lake.

Among the principal features of the program are revamping of city salaries; reduction in both taxes and electric rates; reorganization of the street department; and an earnest plea for a program of utmost economy in all departments of city government.

Mayor Bergeon appointed the following committees for the year, the named as chairman:

Streets, Lights and Public Health—Aldermen Kibbe, O'Neil and Ranger.

Police, Fire and License—Aldermen O'Neil, Fessenden and Foster.

The council adopted unanimously a resolution adopting eastern standard (legal time) starting at midnight on Saturday, April 16th, until further notice.

Following a suggestion unanimously approved, each committee will meet during the coming week to formulate plans for whatever reduction in city wages they deem advisable. A report of their findings and further action will be taken next Monday night.

Charles Stanley Widowfield Victim of Accident at Armour and Company Plant Last Monday

Funeral services for Charles Stanley Widowfield, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Widowfield, were held at the Widowfield residence on Upright avenue Thursday, April 7, one day before his 35th birthday. The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Rauch.

Stanley died on Tuesday, April 6, at 7:20 a. m. at the Mercy hospital in Chicago, the result of injuries sustained in an accident at the packing plant of Armour & Company, where he had been a member of their industrial engineering department for the past eight years. The accident occurred at 1:30 a. m. Monday, while he was showing a new time-keeper through the plant. At his bedside at the time of his death were his brothers, B. Kenneth and Albert E. TOURIST INQUIRIES INDICATE BIG SEASON

Tourist and Resort Office Already Flooded With Inquiries

Inquiries from the first national advertising of the Michigan Tourist and Resort association are beginning to flood the Grand Rapids office according to Hugh Gray, secretary, of the association. Many of these inquiries are for information on fishing, many more are for cottages, resorts, hotels and other vacation features; a few are for resort property.

Miss Mildred G. Howe, manager of the Chicago office of the Association, reports the heaviest run of personal inquiries of any year since the office was opened.

The desire of Chicago people seems to be to get out of Chicago for the summer and the appeal of West Michigan has been so well advertised by the Association that eyes of Chicago people are turned across the lake.

Close co-operation of communities in West Michigan with the Tourist Association this year should result in one of the best tourist years we have had.

TALK ON "YOUTH'S IDEALS OF CITIZENSHIP" INTERESTS

Vocal Selections and Other Interesting Numbers of Program Held Last Friday

"Youth's Ideals of Citizenship" was the subject of an address by Harry Bingham before the Woman's Christian Temperance Union last Friday.

The speaker explained in some detail a plan inaugurated in Milwaukee under which the Woman's clubs and various other organizations co-operate to provide movies, social centers, playgrounds, etc., to occupy the leisure time of young people and undertake somewhat similar projects and more and more character education is a feature of public school training, all in an endeavor to develop ideals which will result in good citizenship.

Miss Erma Corey entertained with two choice vocal selections. Mrs. Burns conducted devotionals and also read a short sketch of the life of Mary T. Lathrop, an early president of the Michigan W. C. T. U. Mrs. Hart reported on the peace conference and the China-Japan situation.

There was a discussion of the vote in the House of Representatives at Washington on March 14th in connection with the Beck-Lithium resolution. This was an attempt to discharge the judiciary committee from further consideration of the resolution and so bring it to vote in the House, and was lost 227 to 187.

The resolution referred to proposes an amendment to take the place of the 18th, and which would empower congress to either regulate or prohibit the manufacture, transportation, sale of intoxicating liquors with and without the provision that any state could reject the plan adopted by congress and prohibit the manufacture, sale and transportation of intoxicants within its own borders.

If this, or any other repeal amendment is passed by congress the people themselves will have no chance to vote on it. It will become a law when ratified by the legislatures of three-fourths the states or by convention three-fourths thereof as decided by congress.

The only way the people can vote for a continuance of prohibition is to elect congressmen who are out and in favor of retaining the 18th amendment.

HIGHWAY PROJECT HAS BEEN STARTED

GRADING ON U.S.31 RE-ROUTING PROGRESSING NICELY

M. Baumann, Head of Remus Construction Co., Here Supervising Work—Many Employed

Work on the relocation of U.S.31 entering Charlevoix from the south has been started by the Remus Construction Co., low bidders on the project, and is now progressing satisfactorily.

M. Baumann, head of the Remus Construction Co., is here personally supervising the work. Oscar Johnson and Frank Deyo are the foremen in charge, and Edward Griffith of Lansing, is the state highway department project engineer on the job.

Work now in progress consist of grading and grubbing where the new right-of-way swings north from the cross-road between the cemetery and the "Four Corners" on U.S.31. A crew of twelve men and ten teams are being employed at present.

Mr. Baumann stated Wednesday morning that he expected grading would take about fourteen days. He expressed the hope that the sewer project on South Bridge street could be started within two weeks. It is the desire to start the job with a large force of workmen and rush it through to completion as quickly as possible to avoid inconvenience to the public on account of the street being torn up. He estimated that between thirty and forty men would be needed for this job.

The contract calls for the paving to be completed by July 15th, and the entire project to be finished by August 15th.

Workmen on the job are being furnished by the County Unemployment committee from a list of 250 men who have registered for work. At a meeting Tuesday afternoon, the committee, composed of Harry A. Craig, county chairman; Arthur Bergeon, local chairman; W. E. Byers, county road commissioner; Clarence Meggison, Legion welfare officer; T. Jeffery and Oscar Nelson, the list seeking employment was classified in order to select those most in need of work first. The "stagger" system, by which the workmen are alternated, one week on and one week off, is being employed to give the greatest number possible work.

PUT HOARDED 'AD' DOLLAR TO WORK FIRST, BANKER'S ADVICE

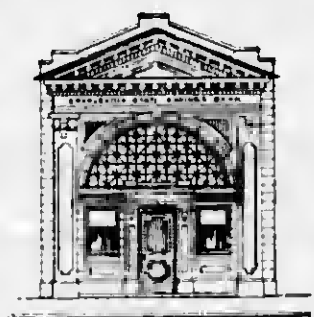

The hoarded advertising dollar should be the first to be put back to work, Melvin L. Straus, vice president of the Straus National bank, stated.

Straus stated firms doing business with the bank would be urged to maintain advertising appropriations at normal levels. Daily newspaper advertising was recommended by Straus as the best medium with which to stimulate buying.

"Hoarding of advertising money is one of the most disturbing factors in business today," Straus stated. If business lacks confidence in itself, how can the public be expected to have any? What business needs is self-confidence and public confidence, and advertising by the printed word can bring it."

Straus stated that more than 100 national concerns made sales and profits gains in 1931 by increased advertising, while many other firms helped to establish losses for themselves in the same year by reducing advertising appropriations.

The controversy was over the office of justice. The original vote gave Lucy Molet 34, and G. W. Dennis 33. Mr. Dennis asked for a recount, the result of which took away from the petitioner two votes, so that Mrs. Molet still remains the winner by a count of 34 to 31.

GET BEST POTATOES WHEN PLANTED EARLY

Field Frost, Poor Cooking Quality, Roughened Skin in Immature Stock

Larger yields of better potatoes were obtained on 39 plots in Michigan last year when the potatoes were planted during the early part of the proper planting period than when planting was delayed in tests made by the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

Correct dates for planting in Michigan, of course, vary in different sections of the state and potatoes should be planted 20 days later in the southern part of the state than in the northern part, but the importance of putting the seed in the ground relatively early holds good for all areas.

The past two years had unusual weather conditions during the growing season and early potatoes had an extended period in which the growth was dormant but the tubers in only one plot showed a greater degree of brown spot than those planted later, and all other factors which improve potato quality were present to a greater degree in the early plantings.

Frost injury and immature stock upon which the skin becomes roughened in handling are apt to be present in stock from late plantings. Immature potatoes also cook poorly and discourage consumers from purchasing similar potatoes.

Seed in the southern part of the state should be planted early in June, a period ten days earlier should be selected for that part of the state up to the Cadillac area, and from there north plantings should be 20 days earlier than in the southern three tiers of counties.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

The Department of State has recommended that the special session of the legislature be allowed to make minor changes in laws governing non-profit corporations.

The corporation act of 1921 made it mandatory that non-profit corporations lose their charters if they did not report every three years and the department now is unable to reinstate these charters when past errors have been rectified.

Under the present laws, all organizations, incorporated for non-profit purposes, must make annual reports starting in 1933 with the payment of a $2 filing fee. The new law also requires that educational and ecclesiastical corporations, which were exempted previously, make annual reports.

Under the new law, the state in 1933 for the first time, will have a complete and accurate list of all corporations.

A manual of instructions for all election officials in the state is being prepared by the Department of State and will be ready for distribution within a few weeks. The instruction book is intended to contain information on all points that may be raised regarding the state's new election laws. The book will be furnished to election officials free of charge.

All persons who secured their motor vehicle drivers' licenses between January 1, 1925, and January 1, 1928, have only about two weeks in which to secure new licenses. Applications should be made to local police or sheriff's departments. About 1,000 applications are being received daily by the Department of State.

AT THE MOVIES

Paramount Spares No Effort in Making Jekyll-Hyde Film

When Paramount decided to make a new picturization of Robert Louis Stevenson's story of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," the Hollywood Paramount studios were told to spare no resources in making the new "talkie" version an artistic triumph.

Frederic March, handsome Paramount star, who has duplicated his former stage success in many excellent pictures, some of the recent ones being "Ladies Love Brutes," "Paramount on Parade," "Manslaughter," "Laughter," and "My Sin," portrays the dual characters of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is Paramount's demonstration of the remarkable scope and excellence of the modern art of motion picture production. It will be shown as the feature at the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday.

Charles Farrell Made Own Way in Hollywood

No roses lined the path chosen by Charles Farrell to reach motion picture stardom. Neither the mayor nor a brass band was on hand to meet the screen favorite, who plays the leading role in Frank Borzage's production, "After Tomorrow," opening Wednesday at the Palace theatre, when he first arrived in Los Angeles, some years ago. He carried no letters to influential executives or directors. He just dropped off a train, with a huge bankroll of eighteen dollars in his pocket and asked the station master, "Where's Hollywood?"

When PAIN Comes

WHAT many people call indigestion very often means excess acid in the stomach. The stomach nerves have been over-stimulated, and food sours. The corrective is an alkali, which neutralizes the acids instantly. And the best alkali known to medical science is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

One spoonful of this harmless, tasteless alkali in water neutralizes instantly many times that much acid, and the symptoms disappear at once. You will never use crude methods when once you learn the efficiency of this. Go, get a small bottle to try.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

A plan to encourage part-time and furloughed employees to maintain "subsistence" gardens has been devised by officials of the Pere Marquette railroad. A belief that smelt will gradually migrate into streams of southern Michigan has been expressed by fish culturists who have discovered the fish in the Muskegon river at Newaygo. While the southward advance may be slow, they intimated that within a few years smelt would be taken in the southern part of the state in the same proportions as they are now dipped in Northern Michigan.

After being checked by the cold weather, the wall-eyed pike run seems to have resumed in Cheboygan river. Conservation Officer C. S. Weber aided by his son, Jack, transplanted 727 wall-eyes from nets near the mouth of the river to a point in the river over the paper mill dam by the James Shields store. Transplanting is to enable fish to enter inland waters of the county to spawn and to keep these popular fishing waters well stocked.—Cheboygan Tribune.

For the first time in history, Michigan combatted forest fires in every month of 1931, the state department of conservation has announced. The prevalence of the blazes during all 12 months last year was largely due to the extremely dry weather which permitted fires to gain an early start before fighting units could be transported to the scene, the department said. As early as April in 1931, fires were numerous and continued drought during the summer made the situation more hazardous. In the fall and winter months little snow fell, and some wooded portions of the state, in some instances were bare.

Road conditions in Northern Michigan and the upper peninsula are the worst in years, Grover C. Dillman, state highway commissioner, has announced. In the upper peninsula, he said, between ten and twelve gravel roads are almost impassable. Cars are being towed at the state's expense to keep traffic moving. Highways M-35 and M-69 are closed. The situation in the northern part of the lower peninsula is somewhat better, Dillman said, although traffic is experiencing difficulty. Highway M-32 between Hillman and Racine is reported to be in the worst condition. Heavy rains throughout the winter was blamed by Dillman for the condition. He said that roads in the northern section of the lower peninsula will probably become worse.

Seniors Win Inter-Class Tourney
In a hot battle last Thursday night the senior five defeated the juniors, 6 to 5. Both teams displayed a good brand of basketball.

This victory gave the seniors the class tournament title for the fourth consecutive time. They won the title in their freshman year and held it throughout their four years in high school. This is quite an accomplishment and has not been done before in a good many years by any class.

The members of the winning team are: Carl Beattie, Dan Gencit, David Dick, Devere Bird, Lloyd Arnold and Robert Cummings.

Last Thursday night the junior class served a lunch of sandwiches, cocoa and cake, to those taking part in the declamatory and oratory contest and the officials. The contest was a hard one so the lunch was welcomed and appreciated. Incidentally the juniors made some money. Keep it up, juniors, "an affair always brings returns."

Last week was a well filled one for visitors at the National Music Supervisors conference, Cleveland, Ohio. Mr. Rider and Hugh Parker attended from Charlevoix, Hugh as a musician and Mr. Rider to enter the conference. Miss Atkinson was one of the girl counsellors at the event.

The favored three who went to Cleveland, have a lot, which is of great interest, to tell the band and glee clubs.

Many folios and pictures and other material are now circulating among high school musicians who devour eagerly all printed matter, even advertisements.

The seventh grade had a delightful party last Friday night in the gymnasium. They spent the evening in playing games and eating a "depression" lunch. Mr. Bingham, Miss Miller and Miss Dasef were their chaperons.

48TH YEAR IN BUSINESS

"THE OLDEST BANK IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY"

That "Weight-lifter"

Those payers of sizable taxes who feel no extra financial burden during "tax time" are, for the most part, the ones who have discovered a powerful tax "weight-lifter" in a Savings Account — a Savings Account that is annually built up, dollar by dollar, to serve as a TAX PAYMENT FUND.

Why not begin now to prepare for your next year's taxes?

LEGION IN FAVOR BONUS ENACTMENT

NEARLY UNANIMOUS VOTE FOR PAYMENT TUESDAY NIGHT

Two New Officers Elected — Plans Made for Poppy Sales and for Future Meetings

Forty-two members were present Tuesday evening at a regular meeting of Leslie T. Shapton post No. 226, American Legion, held at their hall on East Garfield avenue.

Preceding this meeting a special call to the membership to be present was sent out at the direction of the state department of the Legion for the purpose of balloting on the question of whether or not the government bonus should be paid. At the national convention at Detroit, a majority of Michigan delegates went on record as in favor of having the bonus paid and considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed in Legion circles throughout the country with the recent statement of National Commander Stevens to the effect that the American Legion did not want to receive the bonus at this time. Hence, the balloting instructed to be held by state headquarters to determine definitely just what Michigan Legionnaires do want. Forty-two votes were cast by members of the local post—forty-one in favor of immediate payment of the bonus and one vote against, and the state adjutant will be duly informed of this result. Charlevoix county ex-service-men's share of this money will approximate $311,000, of which Charlevoix city and surrounding community should receive at least $100,000.

Two new officers were elected by unanimous vote at this meeting. J. Sidorowicz became post service officer and Dr. Frank H. Wilkinson, Americanization officer. The former has charge of all claims for disability allowance, hospitalization, etc., coming under the jurisdiction of the post, and the latter is in charge of Americanization work, programs, etc., the combating of the growing menace of Communism, and traffic safety campaigns.

District committeeman, Otto C. Scott, has appointed F. V. Tyler, adjutant of the local post, as chairman of the poppy sales committee of the lower eleventh district, and the latter will proceed at once to contact the twelve other posts of the district in preparation for the sale which is to take place during the week preceding Memorial day. An effort will be made through the courtesy of the local superintendent of schools, to engage the interest of the students in a poppy poster contest, the winner of the local contest to send his or her poster to the eleventh district committeeman, to be in his hands not later than May 1st, for entry in the district contest, the winner of which will enter the state-wide competition. A fifteen-year-old Muskegon high school lad won last year's contest and his poster is being used this year to advertise the poppy sales drive of 1932 and will be issued in quantity to Legion and Auxiliary units for display in local stores and public places.

Among other projects taken up Tuesday evening was the plan to have State Commander Kefgen visit a tri-post county meeting of the Legion at Charlevoix, on the evening of Saturday, May 14th. If he can be present an effort will be made to secure a hall large enough to admit the public to hear Commander Kefgen on that evening. Other prominent Legion speakers may also be present. A traffic safety campaign in Charlevoix, conducted by the local post in co-operation with the city officials, is another of the plans for this summer's activities.

The next meeting of the lower eleventh district will be held at Cheboygan on Sunday, May 15, 1932. In the meantime, county legionnaires should not forget the tri-post meeting April 18th, at East Jordan.

* CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH *

* * * * *

Attention is called to the change in our church schedule. Owing to the adoption of fast time for our city it is necessary to materially change our church calendar. During the past year our schedule was based upon fast time at Ironton and slow time in Charlevoix. For that reason we were able to maintain morning services at both places. With the adoption of fast time for Charlevoix we experience quite a shake-up. For the present it was decided at a joint meeting of the board of trustees, deacons and religious education committee to try the following schedule:

Charlevoix
Church school, 10:00.
Morning worship, 11:15.
Junior church, 6:00.
Young people's forum, 7:00.
Mid-week service Thursday, 7:30.
Ironton
Morning worship, 10:15.
Church school, 11:00.
Young people's service, 5:00.
Please bear in mind that the church school will meet before the morning service and at 10 o'clock.

Morning service, 10:45.
Subject, "Doctrine of Atonement."
Wednesday evening at 7:45 first Wednesday of month only.
Reading room Tuesday and Saturday, 3:00 to 5:00 p. m.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Are Sin, Disease, and Death Real?" was the subject of the lesson-lesson in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 10.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (1 Peter 5:10): "But the God of all grace, who hath called us into his eternal glory by Christ Jesus, after that ye have suffered a while, make you perfect, stablish, strengthen, settle you."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 253): "Do not believe in any supposed necessity for sin, disease, or death, knowing (as you ought to know) that God never requires obedience to a so-called material law, for no such law exists."

Many young men who are hard up, have blown up, and given up, are down because they tried to fly too high.

LOCAL MUSICIANS RE-TURN FROM NAT. MEET

Hugh Parker Honored As Second
Clarinetist in National Orchestra

Albert Rider, director of bands and orchestras of the local high school, and Hugh Parker, returned home Saturday from Cleveland, O., where they attended the Music Supervisors' National conference.

Mr. Rider was interested in the Music Supervisors' meet, but Hugh was a member of the National High School orchestra, an organization made up of the best musicians of the United States. The National High School chorus also meets at the same time. These two organizations closed the conference with a concert on the last day. At this concert fully 5,000 music lovers gathered to hear these two groups of artists render this final program. Some have understood that this meet was a contest. This is not the case. The only contest feature is the try-outs that take place at the first to indicate what chair or place each player should occupy. The ones in charge of course choose what place the players occupy, according to ability. Hugh was given second chair which speaks well of his ability. There were seventeen clarinets. Of this number four are chosen as soloists and Hugh was picked as one of the four. When one considers this is a national affair, to be one of four is no small honor. Parker was the only clarinetist from Michigan. Both Mr. Rider and Hugh Parker report a splendid time.

Miss Esther Mary Atkinson, supervisor of vocal music for our local school, also attended the conference and was one of the counselors for girls while in Cleveland.

REDUCTION OF WAGE

Cut from $1.25 to $1.00 Per Hour
Became Effective April 1st

Following a precedent set by almost every line of business in Northern Michigan and the recent action of the carpenters' and joiners' union, Charlevoix plumbing establishments have announced a substantial reduction in wage scale.

Taking effect April 1st, but just announced this week, local plumbers have cut the labor charge from $1.25 to $1.00 per hour. Those aligned behind the move are Heise & Schantz, Robert Bonthron and Alonzo Powers, the local licensed plumbers.

LOCAL SCHOOL ON ACCREDITED LIST

STANDING EXTENDED YEAR BY NORTH CENTRAL ASSN.

Local Graduates Will Continue to Be Accepted in Colleges Without Entrance Examination

Gerald F. Bush, superintendent of the Charlevoix high school, has just been notified that this school has been accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools for the period ending March 17, 1933. In explanation of the term of accrediting the local school authorities have been advised that it is the established policy of the Association to prepare each year a new list of the approved secondary schools accorded this honor and that no school is accredited by the North Central association for a period longer than one year.

Before any school can be considered for accrediting by the North Central association it must be on the highest list of schools approved and accredited by the school authorities of this state. In addition it must meet the high standards which the Association maintains with respect to the school building and its equipment, the school library, laboratories and instructional equipment and apparatus, school records, the requirements for graduation, instruction and spirit, salaries of teachers, the training and preparation of teachers, the teaching load, pupil loads, and the school's program with reference to physical education and to its athletic relationship with other high schools as determined by the State Athletic association.

The North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is an accrediting agency comprising twenty states and is the largest regional accrediting agency in the United States. The object of the Association is to establish closer relations between the secondary schools and the institutions of higher education within the North Central states and in such other territory as the North Central association may recognize. All decisions of the Association bearing on the policies and management of secondary schools and institutions of higher education are understood to be advisory in their character. The accrediting of schools by the North Central association is a co-operative undertaking. Membership in this Association is purely voluntary. It must be the desire of the local authorities of a high school to have the school accredited by the Association.

Advantages that high schools realize as a result of being accredited by the North Central association can be summarized as follows:

1. The graduates of an accredited high school are privileged to enter institutions of higher education within the North Central States without entrance examinations, provided that they have credits in the high school subjects required by the college or university for admission. Since other accrediting agencies recognize schools accredited by the North Central association, this privilege of entering institutions of higher education without examination is extended practically throughout the United States.

2. The graduates of accredited high schools have the assurance that their high school diplomas will be acceptable to state boards having to do with the granting of certificates for the various professions of medicine, dentistry, law, etc. In states requiring graduation from approved high schools as a prerequisite to the obtaining of a teaching certificate, the graduates of schools accredited by the North Central association meet the requirements of such a law.

3. A high school approved by the North Central association must maintain high standards and consequently the community is assured of a program of modern high school education.

4. The examination of the school at regular intervals by inspectors and supervisors serves to stimulate progress and to prevent the development of questionable practices and tendencies.

5. A high school accredited by the North Central association enjoys a greater prestige in the surrounding country and therefore finds it easier to attract non-resident pupils.

6. The patrons have more confidence in, and are generally more willing to support, an accredited high school.

It should be a matter for considerable local pride, that the Charlevoix high school has been accorded this mark of educational distinction.

CHARLEVOIX OIL CO. IMPROVING SERVICE

Conduct One-Stop Station — Much New Equipment Is Added

An advertisement elsewhere in this issue announces the one-stop service now being offered by the Charlevoix Oil company at their station at the corner of River street and Michigan avenue.

Since their opening a year ago, Messrs. Fochtman and Cook, the owners, have added constantly to their equipment until they now have one of the most complete service stations in Charlevoix. A complete line of Firestone tires, batteries and accessories is offered in addition to other service features.

A gradual program of improvement is also being carried out on the grounds. Many hundred yards of dirt has been used to fill in along side the station this spring and these improvements will continue until completed.

EMPLOYMENT SITUATION IS BETTER

ROAD PROJECTS HAVE ABSORBED MANY JOBLESS MEN

Belvedere Club, Chicago Club and Two Golf Grounds Put Crews to Work This Week

A general betterment of employment conditions in Charlevoix has been noted in the past week with commencement of road operations and spring work at the several resorts and golf grounds.

The re-routing project on U.S.31 has absorbed a good many jobless men in the past two weeks and will take more as work advances. It is expected the storm sewer job on South Bridge street will be started within a few days and this will require additional men.

The county road commission has crews of men working throughout the county. The spring break-up left county, state and township highways in the worst condition in years, thus requiring more than an ordinary amount of maintenance work. A crew is at work removing the Addis hill on the East Jordan-Ellsworth road; another is being employed taking down and storing snow fence; and others have been put at work patching and repairing roads in almost every direction in the county. Perhaps the worst damage by frost was caused in the Marion Center and Peninsula roads, which for a time, were almost impassable. W. E. Byers, Charlevoix commissioner, estimated around thirty men were being employed on county road work.

E. J. Edwards, warden at the Belvedere Club, put seven men at work early this week on the regular spring clean-up, and James Gaskin, warden at the Chicago Club, placed a crew of five at similar operations. The same is true at the Charlevoix Golf Club and Belvedere Golf Club, where Charles Hamlin and Frank Supernaw are greenkeepers, respectively.

General repair, painting and clean-up work about the city appears to be much more brisk during the past week.

LOCAL GROCER OFFERS NOVEL SALES FEATURES

Free Cake and Premiums at Milton Block's "Quality Food Store."

Along with an array of bargains in foods and meats for Friday and Saturday of this week, Milton Block, owner of the Quality Food Store, is giving away premiums with purchases of certain items.

Another feature at the store is a huge cake, claimed to be large enough to feed everyone in Charlevoix. Samples will be given to visitors at the store Saturday afternoon from 3 o'clock until the cake is gone. Ingredients which went in making of the cake include 50 pounds of flour, one pound baking powder, 50 pounds butter, 75 pounds sugar, 400 eggs and 10 quarts of milk.

Hot biscuits and maple syrup will be served at Marion Center Grange hall, Thursday evening, April 21, beginning 6:30 until all are served. Entertainment following.—Adv. 16t1

STATE AIR TOUR DATE IS FIXED

CHARLEVOIX LISTED IN TENTATIVE ITINERARY

Annual Event to Be Held Early in July, Date 10 to 16—Limited to Forty Planes

Dates for this year's Michigan Air Tour have been set for July 10-16 inclusive, the pathfinder trip to run from May 1 to 7. The proposed itinerary for the tour includes a start from Detroit, thence to Bay City, Alpena, St. Ignace, Sault Ste. Marie, Newberry, Munising, Marquette, Ontonagon, Calumet, Crystal Falls, Iron Mountain, Escanaba, Manistique, Charlevoix, Houghton Lake and Lansing.

Final plans were made at a meeting in Lansing last week which was attended by representatives of the aviation industry from all parts of the state. At the meeting of the American Legion Aviation committee a permanent non-profit organization was formed to handle the tours.

Abrams Is President
Talbert Abrams, president of the Abrams Aerial Survey Corp., was elected president. Leslie Kefauver, of the American Legion, and E. A. Forner, head of the Becker-Forner Flying Service, Jackson, and C. V. Burnett, vice-president of the Curtiss-Wright Flying Service and manager of the Grrosse Ile airport, were elected vice-presidents to handle the tour in their sections.

The three previous tours have had approximately fifty ships entered, but in the interests of economy to the cities which will entertain the tour it has been deemed advisable to limit the number of entries to forty ships this year. This will eliminate duplication of the kinds of ships entered and will at the same time give a good cross section of the industry.

In the further interests of economy, and to make the tour attractive to passengers, the fare for the tour has been reduced from $200 to $99. This will cover all expenses of the passengers for the seven-day trip.

The price of entry for each ship also has been reduced from $50 to $25.

Special features, arrangements for which have not been completed, will be announced soon. It is planned to have representatives of the Army and Navy, the Department of Commerce and several nationally known fliers participating.

The American Legion always has taken a keen interest in aviation, according to Mr. Abrams, and members of the new Michigan Air Tours association believe that with the Legion's sponsorship this year's tour should be the finest yet held.

HARBOR SPRINGS CUTS ELECTRIC LIGHT RATES

Reduction of Between 20 and 25 Per Cent Passed Last Week

All local light and power consumers of Harbor Springs and the surrounding community will save from 20 to 25 per cent on rates, depending upon the amount of current they use, as a result of a new rate schedule adopted by the board of public works.

The new rates will become effective May 1, and will lower the gross receipts of the board of public works 21 per cent on the anticipated current to be used this year, according to William H. Maeser, clerk of the board.

JUDGE GILBERT IS AHEAD OF LAWYERS

SO SAYS DETROIT NEWS IN RECENT WRITE-UP

Served Charlevoix Court District Since 1922 When He Replaced Judge Frederick W. Mayne

(From Detroit Sunday News)

For many years there was little important litigation in the northern part of the lower peninsula with which Parm C. Gilbert was not connected as attorney. He mounted the circuit bench in 1922 with the reputation of being an excellent lawyer, gained in his extensive and intensive practice over a long period of years.

The bench finds him as intensive as did the bar. He has a keen mind, is a good judge of evidence, works hard and makes his decisions quickly and positively. One of his colleagues says that Judge Gilbert "always is about two jumps ahead of the attorneys out in front."

Not only does he work hard; he is ready to work at any time. He has a summer home on the shore of a lake in a wild tract near Traverse City, where he spends much of his leisure in the summer months. Many attorneys have had the experience of taking their cases to him there, arguing them on the broad porch of the summer home in the cooling forest breeze in their shirt sleeves and solid comfort.

Judge Gilbert was born in Cassopolis, Mich., May 24, 1865. He was graduated from the Traverse City high school, and the law department of the University of Michigan in the class of 1891. He returned to Traverse City to begin the practice of law the same year. For ten years he served there as city attorney. He was elected to the circuit bench in 1922, defeating Judge Frederick W. Mayne.

Judge Gilbert and Miss R. Emma Thomas of Henry county, Ind., were married November 30, 1892. They have four daughters, Mrs. Esther G. Johnson of Ann Arbor, Miss Miriam Gilbert of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Grace Cartwright of Detroit, and Miss Elizabeth Gilbert, who is attending school in East Lansing.

Judge Gilbert is active in the Masonic lodge and also is a member of the Elks, Knights of Pythias and the Odd Fellows.

CHARLEVOIX BASEBALL TEAM BEING ORGANIZED

Glenn Rose Has Taken Over Management of Indians Again

Charlevoix will be represented again this season in the Northern Michigan baseball circuit, according to an announcement by Glenn Rose, who has again assumed the management of the Charlevoix Indians.

Practice sessions were started at the north side ball park this week and will be continued each evening until the season opens. The local team, which won 17 out of 22 games last season, will be augmented this year by several new players of high caliber, promising a stronger organization than the previous one.

Manager Rose announced that a practice game between the Indians and a team of local talent would be held next Sunday afternoon.

VOTE FOR DRY REFERENDUM AT CONVENTION

District Delegates at Sault Ste. Marie Cast Unanimous Vote

More than 100 delegates to the 11th congressional district Republican convention held at Sault Ste. Marie, Monday, voted without dissent favoring a referendum on repeal of the national prohibition laws. They also adopted a resolution calling on congress for a protective tariff on copper and all foreign products; protested against diversion of state highway funds from state highway purposes and urged completion of the paving of U.S.-2 during 1932.

The administrations of President Hoover and Governor Brucker were praised. J. R. Merrifield of Sault Ste. Marie was nominated as the district's presidential elector. Senator Rushton of Munising, and Al Weber, editor of the Cheboygan Observer, were named delegates to the national Republican convention. Alternates were W. A. Monroe, Munising, and Mrs. Maud Armstrong, this city.

Attending from Charlevoix were Mrs. Maud Armstrong, Mrs. Hazel McMillan and Clarence B. Meggison.

STANDARD OIL CO. ASK STATION SITE

WANT TO BUILD CORNER MICHIGAN AND DIXON AVENUE

Council Set May 9th for Hearing of Property Owners and Summer Visitors on Proposition

L. J. Thompson, Grand Rapids, representative of the Standard Oil Co. (Indiana), made verbal request for permit to construct a super-service filling station on the Merriam property, corner Michigan and Dixon avenues, at the meeting of the common council Monday evening.

Interested property owners from the north side district were present in addition to the Standard Oil Co. representative, and the council heard the arguments of both sides, one against and one for the proposition. A petition bearing names of many north-siders protesting the move, was presented by Frank A. Kenyon, who was spokesman for the district. Mr. Thompson exhibited plans of the proposed station and gave other information pertaining to the project.

Inasmuch as the site desired by the Standard Oil Co. is inside a zoned district prohibiting construction of filling stations and garages, the council must rescind the former ordinance in order to grant the permit. The matter was left open. A public hearing has been set for Monday evening, May 9th, at which time all interested persons will be heard. In the meantime, letters will be written to non-resident property owners and other summer renters asking their opinion on the question. Mr. Thompson was requested to present written request for building permit.

The appointment by Mary A. Rife, city treasurer-elect, of Robert E. Rife as deputy city treasurer, was confirmed by the council, who also authorized purchase of the city treasurer's bond of $15,000.00.

Matters pertaining to general city projects were taken under discussion, as was also the proposed cut in city employee wages. The council met Tuesday evening to go over the latter proposition. A report and action is expected next Monday evening.

HERMAN MEYER AFTER L. ANDERSON'S BERTH

Announces Candidacy for Charlevoix-Leelanau Representative Seat

Another hat flew into the political ring of the Leelanau-Charlevoix district last Wednesday when Herman C. Meyer, well known Boyne Falls business man, announced at the Charlevoix county Republican convention that he would be a candidate for state representative.

Douglas R. Tibbitts, residing near Boyne City, has already declared his candidacy for this post. Louis Anderson, present representative from the two-county district, has announced his candidacy for the senate from this district and is thus automatically out of the race.

Mr. Meyer is a well known business man of Boyne Falls and is chairman of the Charlevoix county Republican county committee. For the past 30 years he has conducted a mercantile business in that city and has been actively engaged in Republican politics for many years.

ALREADY TALK OF ADJOURNING

SPECIAL LEGISLATIVE SESSION APPEARS NEAR END

Taxpayers Hoping Beneficial Action May Be Forthcoming During Final Days

By the end of another week, possibly before, Michigan taxpayers will know whether the special session of the legislature called by Governor Brucker is going to provide them the taxation relief so badly needed. Up to the present time the only measures that have been passed and placed before the governor for his signature providing for reduction in state expenses are the bills that cut the appropriations provided for Michigan's two great educational institutions, the Michigan State college and the University of Michigan. So far there has been no effort made to curtail in any form the expenses of other state educational institutions.

The greatest difficulty, and a problem that a leaderless state legislature is trying to solve, is the division of the weight tax money. Six times Governor Brucker has receded his measure dealing with this subject in an effort to have it meet some of the demands that are coming from many of the hard-pressed counties. The measure at the last end of last week came out of the senate committee without recommendations of any kind, and amended in many important provisions.

One of the amendments provides that Covert and other mandatory county obligations be met first by the counties out of the money that may possibly be returned to the counties from that portion of the weight tax that this new legislation proposes to return to the counties.

Underneath the entire consideration of this question lies the demand of road builders for no interruption of the road building program in Michigan. A determined effort is being made to retain as much money as possible in both state and county funds for highway construction purposes. Talk of a recess in road building is unpopular among most of the legislative group from the northern part of the state.

The legislature defeated a measure which had for its object a slight reduction in the pay of the members, but it is giving consideration to another bill which provides a very substantial reduction. Any change in the pay of the legislature must come from a direct vote of the people on a constitutional amendment.

With many amendments attached which materially change it, the administration bill providing for the creation of a commission to fix salaries of state employees in the various governmental branches is on its way for legislative approval. The bill as it appeared in the house provided for the creation of one or two new jobs for secretaries and clerks. Representative Vern Brown of Ingham county, saw to it that the bill did not provide the new jobs it intended. He had the measure amended so that the clerk of the house or the senate shall do the secretarial work of this commission without additional compensation. This one amendment will save the taxpayers the salaries of two or three persons, possibly more.

It has been nearly one month since the legislature was called into session. There is talk of adjournment next week or the week after. Some members say it will be much longer than that before they can hope to get any really beneficial legislation enacted. The taxpayers will not know until the work of the legislature is entirely finished whether there is to be any substantial benefit coming from it. Meanwhile there seems to be a general tendency not to pass judgment upon the question of whether the special legislative session has been a success or a failure.

Boyer Cut Teachers' Wage
With a due regard for the diminishing source of income in Boyne City, an approximate 10 per cent reduction has been made in teachers' salaries for the next year, saving more than $4,000 in the school budget, as a result of the action taken by the board of education at its regular meeting last week. This should make a reduction of from three to four mills in the school tax.

Hot biscuits and maple syrup will be served at Marion Center Grange hall, Thursday evening, April 21, beginning 6:30 until all are served. Entertainment following.—Adv. 16t1.

"A TAXPAYER" WRITES THE TAX COLLECTOR

Dear Mr. Tax Collector:
 I beg leave to inform you that the present shattered condition of my bank account makes it impossible for me to send you a check in response to your request for a remittance.

The state of my present financial condition is due to the effects of federal laws, state laws, county laws, brother-in-laws, mother-in-laws, out-laws, that have been foisted upon an unsuspecting public. Through these various laws, I have been held up, walked on, set on, sandbagged, battered and squeezed until I do not know what I am, where I am, or why I am.

These laws compel me to pay a merchant tax, capital tax, excess profit tax, income tax, state tax, auto tax, cigarette tax, street tax, real estate tax, gas tax, sur-tax, syntax, and carpet taxes.

In addition to paying these taxes I am requested and required to contribute to every society and organization that the inventive mind can organize. To the society of John the Baptist, Women's Relief, the Navy League, the Children's Home Fund, the Policemen's Benefit, the Dorcas Society, the Y. M. C. A., the Boy Scouts, the Jewish Relief, the Gold Digger's Home. Also every dog, cat and human hospital, and every charitable organization, the Red Cross, Black Cross and the Double Cross.

The government has so governed my farm that I do not know who owns it, or why. I am so suspected, expected, disrespected, examined, re-examined, informed, required, commanded, expelled and compelled until all I know is that I am supposed to prove an inexhaustible supply of money for every human need, desire or hope of the human race, and because I refuse to donate all I have and go out and beg, borrow and steal more money to give away, I am cussed, discussed, boycotted, talked to, talked about, lied to, lied about, held up, held down, knocked down and robbed until I am nearly ruined. So the only reason I am clinging on to life now is to see what in— is coming next.

Yours sincerely, A Taxpayer.
 P. S.—I have one dollar left but that goes to the bank to pay for the privilege of letting them keep my money for me until it was all gone.

THE GAS TAX

The average American motorist last year paid $20 in gasoline taxes, used 565 gallons of gasoline and traveled 6,800 miles, according to the American Motorists association. There were approximately 25,000,000 such motorists in the United States.

States and their total gasoline tax bill has grown into a mammoth institution which dips into virtually every home in the land. The average tax on gasoline was 3.44 cents a gallon, which amounted to more than $500,000,000.

Most of the taxes go for road building or maintenance and as such are not begrudged by the motorists. But alert politicians have persistently tried to divert such funds to other purposes, not so much because they are not needed on the highways but because they are relatively large and constant. These raids have been successfully blocked in most instances but they will recur with monotonous regularity as other government revenue tightens up.

CONDITION OF WINTER WHEAT BEST SINCE '27

Michigan and Total Acreage for U. S. Falls Below

The condition of the Michigan winter wheat crop on April 1, was the best for that date since 1927 according to the figures released by Irvin Holmes, assistant agricultural statistician, and Herbert E. Powell, commissioner of agriculture.

The mild winter with ample but not excessive precipitation has resulted in excellent growth, and the loss of acreage from winter-killing and heaving promises to be no greater than last spring or about one-half the average abandonment during the last ten years.

The condition figure of 86 per cent indicates a probable production of approximately 13,800,000 bushels, but as the crop is still in the early stages of growth, the final production may vary considerably from this estimate. Such a crop would be 10 per cent below average due to the decline in acreage since 1922.

The United States winter wheat crop has been estimated at 457,970,000 bushels by the department at Washington. This is 42 per cent less than the amount harvested last year. The acreage sown last fall showed a reduction of 10 per cent, and the condition of the crop on the first of April was 13 points below a year ago.

EMMET SUPERVISORS VOTE CUT IN WAGES

Twenty Per Cent Reduction and Mileage—Boys Teachers Cut

Keeping in tune with economy measures being adopted everywhere in Michigan the Emmet county board of supervisors voted unanimously last Tuesday afternoon to cut its own rate of pay twenty per cent. The old rate was $5 per day while the new rate is $4 per day. Mileage will be allowed for one trip for each session of the board, but no mileage will be allowed to committee meetings outside the regular board sessions. Board members figured the reduction in pay will mean a saving to the county taxpayers of about $500 per year.

ASK NEW HEARING ON B. C. G. & A. R. R. SALE

The New York Central railroad has asked the interstate commerce commission to reconsider its decision requiring the Central to acquire the Boyne City, Gaylord and Alpena railroad.

Acquisition of the short line, which extends 92 miles from Boyne City to Alpena, Mich., was one of the conditions the commission prescribed in the New York Central unification case. Since that decision, the road contends, the physical and financial conditions of the Boyne City have so "disastrously changed" as to warrant re-opening of the case.

DR. DEAN GIVES DISTRICT HEALTH SURVEY

Reports 598 Deaths in District During the Past Year

There were 598 deaths during 1931 in the Children's Fund, District No. 3, composed of Emmet, Charlevoix, Antrim and Otsego counties, according to a recent survey made by Dr. Carlton Dean, Charlevoix, Children's Fund director. The four counties have a total population of 42,623 persons.

The most common cause of death was found to be diseases of the circulatory system with a total of 142 deaths and of these 130 deaths were due to diseases of the heart. The second most common cause of death was the diseases of the nervous system with 79, and of these cerebral hemorrhage, apoplexy, was the cause of 53. Cancer held third place with 58 deaths.

Other causes of death were: Non-venereal diseases of the genitourinary system, 52; (nephritis 43).

Diseases of the respiratory system, 48; (pneumonia 46).

Of the communicable diseases tuberculosis tops the list with 13 deaths and influenza is second with eight. The following table shows the death rate of these diseases.

Tuberculosis, 13; influenza, 8; measles, 5; typhoid fever, 4; meningococcus meningitis, 3; diphtheria, 2; whooping cough, 1; polio, 1; scarlet fever, none; smallpox, none.

It is interesting to note that there were more deaths from measles than from smallpox, scarlet fever, whooping cough, diphtheria, and infantile paralysis combined.

While this figure probably somewhat exaggerates the importance of measles, due to the small number in this district, one can readily see that we need better control of measles throughout the district and that they are not as harmless as a great many people are inclined to believe, said Dr. Dean.

ERNEST SMITH LAUNCHED NEW FISHING CRAFT

Forty Foot Tug Recently Completed Placed in Commission

The first of several new boats under construction here during the winter months has been placed in commission.

A 40-foot fishing craft, designed and built by Ulysses McCann for Ernest G. Smith, made her maiden trip Sunday. The new boat is forty foot long, with 10 foot 6 inch beam. The hull is built of 1 1/2-inch white oak with sawed frames, making it one of the most strongly constructed craft of its size in this harbor.

The boat was launched last Wednesday. Necessary machinery for commercial fishing operations is now being installed.

Hot biscuits and maple syrup will be served at Marion Center Grange hall, Thursday evening, April 21, beginning 6:30 until all are served. Entertainment following.—Adv. 1611

MARCH HOLDS RECORD SNOW FALL OF WINTER

Total of 19 Inches or More Than During All Rest of Year

More snow fell during March this year than during the entire winter, the U. S. weather bureau at Lansing reported. Temperatures were also below normal for the month.

Nineteen inches of snow were recorded, the report says, and the average temperature was six degrees below normal. The lowest reading was two degrees on the ninth and the highest, 55 degrees, on March 30.

On March 21 and 22, 11.8 inches of snow fell, but warm weather melted most of the fall by March 26.

Monday, May 2nd, is the date when Dr. Leahy, the Optometrist, will be at the Hotel Charlevoix. Difficult cases solicited.—Adv. 1612.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

Assembly Programs

On April 12th the senior high had an assembly program at which several songs were sung appropriate for the George Washington bi-centennial and Elizabeth Dhaseler gave the poem written by Edwin Markham in commemoration of this year.

The latter part of the program consisted of a speech by Mr. Kipke and the awarding of basketball letters. Norman Ance, Joe Smith, Lyle Ance, Victor McSauby, Joe Arvilla and Emerald Chew received the much coveted "C."

On the same day the 7th and 8th grade history classes worked out an assembly program which proved to be quite instructive and entertaining for the junior high.

Under the direction of Ernestine Nickerson and Helena Bogart, the eighth grade presented a play, "The Soldier's Angel," in two scenes.

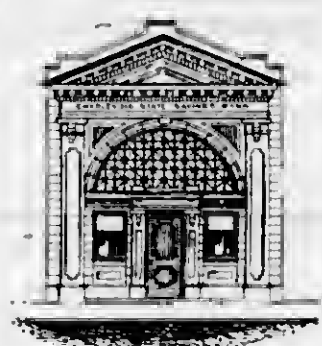

A famous Civil war nurse, Clara Barton, through the medium of kindness and helpfulness overcame ridicule and division so that her work near the front lines became indispensable. Those who took part were Gloria Dickie, Bill Hansen, Thad Pearl, Bob Pearl, Ben Yettaw, Jim Shaw, Maurice Foster, Bob Heise, John Clark, Charles Hebert and Steve Serno.

Under the direction of Marjorie Miller and Marguerite Young, the seventh grade presented a play, "The Boston Tea Party," which in four scenes depicted a critical period in the era just before the Revolutionary war.

Famous characters and ordinary citizens mingled together and worked together to establish their rights as permanent and not a temporary pedestal to be toppled over by a stubborn king. Ernestine Chew played a patriotic instrumental selection, "Under the Double Eagle."

On Friday the high school assembly was honored by a brief but very enlightening talk by Jackson Sherman.

Mr. Sherman is connected with the physical education department at the University of Michigan and his talk dealt with athletics.

We also enjoyed a very unusual and interesting speech Monday afternoon. This speech was given by a doctor who is a native of India. He gave an account of the rural life in India, of the methods of farming, the public schools and the wild animals that are common in India. He also answered any questions which anyone in the audience cared to ask. This doctor, accompanied by another Indian doctor have been travelling in the United States, making a study of rural sanitation and public health.

Thirteen Charlevoix boys have already signed up for the Hi-Y conference. Twenty is the expected number from Charlevoix.

A P. T. A. meeting took place last Thursday evening in the high school building. Their guest speaker was Jackson Sherman from the University of Michigan.

The annual J-Hop will take place May 20th in the Belvedere casino. Committees have been appointed and are now at work planning for the decorations and entertainment.

A general plot for a tennis tournament is under process of development and it is hoped that there will be approximately 35 or 40 boys entered in both singles and doubles.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

Book reviews were the order of the day in history last week. The class became somewhat acquainted with various notables of ancient as well as modern times. One of the most interesting reviews was "Microbe Hunters."

The delegates chosen to attend the poultry meeting were quite disappointed that illness and bad weather prevented them from attending.

Through the courtesy of the Charlevoix Co-operative association the normal class had a first hand lesson on farm machinery. A hearty vote of thanks is hereby extended to any and all who were instrumental in making the necessary plans.

The sand table sugar bush project carried out by the Misses Manley and Case was decidedly interesting. In some magic way hot maple sugar was provided for the class Friday afternoon by Miss Bigge.

On Monday of this week the class had the pleasure of meeting and listening to Miss Anna Evans from W. S. T. C. Her topic, "Agencies Aiding Rural Education," proved interesting.

Tuesday was rural visiting day. The schools on the list for the students are: Advance, Horton Bay, Undine, Hopyard, Phelps, and Marion Center. The list for Mrs. Dick and Miss Bigge included McGee, Norwood, Hilton, Burgess, Bay Shore and Murray. This day's program is always looked forward to by both students and teachers as one of the most beneficial of the entire year.

Misses Miller and DeMaio conducted a most interesting unit of morning exercises in which were shown and explained each of the flags that had at any time been used by any of the states of the United States. This material was secured through the consideration of Miss Payton.

Anyone doubting that spring is here are invited to peek into the normal room, where they will be convinced by the display of trilliums, daffodils and tulips.

Some of the members of the class are completing their penmanship requirements to secure Palmer teachers' certificates.

The past week was partially devoted to a short course in library methods during which study the county normal library and extension library of over 1,100 books, were re-catalogued and checked. This course, though it is required in all state normals, is offered in only a very few of the county normals of the state. The class is exceedingly fortunate in having this opportunity afforded to them.

AT THE MOVIES

"Charlie Chan's Chance" Shows Police "Line-Up"

An interesting sidelight on one angle of police methods is afforded in the "line-up" scenes of "Charlie Chan's Chance," the new Fox picture, coming to the Palace theatre Saturday and Sunday, with Warner Oland in the title role.

The "line up" is a parade of criminals and suspects across a brilliantly lighted stage at police headquarters. The lighting is so arranged that the hundred or more detectives can plainly see the prisoners, but the prisoners cannot see the officers who scrutinize them as the men and women criminals are, one at a time, halted in the center of the stage for questioning and for inspection.

A rare combination of the successful actor who is also a successful business man, is that held by Ricardo Cortez, who will appear as the principal conquest of Carol Lombard, the insatiable "Nep" in the Paramount screening of Rupert Hughes' novel, "No One Man," which begins a two-day engagement Wednesday at the Palace theatre.

The public is cordially invited to all services.

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 17.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Phil. 2:4): "Look not every man on his own things, but every man also on the things of others."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 23): "Wisdom and Love may require many sacrifices of self to save us from sin. One sacrifice, however great, is insufficient to pay the debt of sin. The atonement requires constant self-immolation on the sinner's part."

STATE IS ASKED TO CUT FISH, GAME LICENSE

Substantial reduction of hunting and fishing license fees to rescue Michigan's tourist trade and relieve the financial embarrassment of their department was proposed to state treasurer Howard C. Lawrence last week by commissioners Harry H. Whitely of Dowagiac, and Harold H. Titus of Traverse City.

Commissioner Whitely advocated replacement of the trout license with a general rod license to cost $1; reduction of the small game fee back to $1 and reduction of the non-resident fish license from $4 to $3.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS

By B. C. Melencamp

Canning Factory Crops to Be Discussed

Plans have been definitely made to hold a meeting at East Jordan in the basement of the public library on Thursday, April 28, to discuss the problems pertaining to successful production of canning factory crops such as red beets and string beans.

During the last three or four years many farmers have been highly pleased with the income received from the above mentioned crops and are desirous of continuing along the same program, but on the other hand, many have not had sufficient income to compensate them for their time and effort.

There is a proper way to raise red beets and string beans for the canning factory and the main discussion at this meeting will present the factors that will bring this about. C. H. Mahoney, specialist from Michigan State college, will be the speaker and will be very glad to answer any questions that you care to present pertaining to the raising of canning crops.

Sheep Meetings

Of interest to all owners of sheep is the announcement that Delmer H. LaVoi, specialist from Michigan State college, will conduct two meetings in the county on Friday, April 22nd.

The first meeting will be at the farm of Mrs. Alfred Williams, located one-half mile south and one mile west of Ironton, Friday forenoon, April 22, beginning at 10 o'clock, eastern standard time. The second meeting will be at the Orchard Bay farm located about one mile east and one-half mile north of Charlevoix, on Friday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, eastern standard time.

The discussion will largely hinge around the proper care and management of lambs, castration and docking of lambs and the elimination of internal parasites. Every year upon slaughtering, many lambs are found to be so badly infested with worms that they do not have the proper weight, which means a loss to the owner.

At the Orchard Bay farm you will see the largest flock of sheep in the county and you will see them handled with the best of care and attention. This flock has been entered in our Michigan production contest and I am sure you will be interested in seeing the most approved manner of keeping sheep.

Don't forget the dates and be present at the nearest meeting as this activity will probably be the last until much later in the summer and if timely suggestions are in order, now is the time.

His speech on the "Modern Trend of Education" reviewed the evolution of the farming system from 60 years back, as well as the educational system. He said education had not kept pace everywhere with the farming system. Some were still using the little old school house.

His plea for less tax for the farmer was a good one. He said a man having a real estate property of $300 valuation must pay his tax by May 1st or lose the property. A man with $50,000 in cash pays nothing if his income isn't high enough, and still keeps his money. He says this condition is decidedly unfair to the property owners.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it." "I take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose weight safely and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back." Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years its standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go, prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acids.

Grand Rapids Herald Sports Editors Says Charlevoix Given Tourney

In the golf section of last Sunday's Grand Rapids Herald, Heinie Martin, sports editor, announced that Charlevoix had been designated for the 1932 State Amateur golf tournament.

While local interested parties have received no official announcement to this effect, Martin's report is generally conceded as being reliable, and the news is being taken locally with no small amount of enthusiasm.

This tournament, which has been held the past two years at the Belvedere Golf Club course, is one of Michigan's outstanding golf events and one of the leading sports events of the local summer season. It brings in a large contingent of Michigan's best amateur golfers and from a commercial standpoint is of great benefit to Charlevoix.

An effort is being made to substantiate the report and further announcements will be made when other information is available.

LEGION PLANS FOR ANNUAL POPPY SALE

Schools to Participate in Poster Contest in Connection

The sixth tri-post county meeting of the American Legion of Charlevoix county occurred at East Jordan on the evening of Monday, April 18. An excellent attendance, with a fair quota from this city, was reported, and a fine supper and program was enjoyed by the members. At this meeting, Comrade Rollie L. Lewis was announced as having been appointed chairman of the lower eleventh district baseball committee.

Comrade J. Sidorowicz, recently appointed by Commander Lee C. Allard of the local post as post service officer, wishes to announce that he will be on the job at his farm home on route number one, box number 80, phone 7004F21, Charlevoix, to receive the claims of disabled veterans — whether Legionnaires or not — for hospitalization, disability benefits, etc., and, backed by their credentials, medical certificates and affidavits, to take such cases up with the state service officer of the Legion, who will in his turn present them vigorously to the proper United States officials.

The poppy sales poster contest is shortly to start in the local schools, so Supt. Gerald F. Bush has announced, and these posters will be used for advertising purposes in the windows of the local stores by the courtesy of the merchants. Further particulars will be announced in the schools. Actual sales of the poppies this year will be in the hands of a joint committee of the local Legion and Auxiliary units.

TROUT LICENSE AGENTS PREPARED FOR SALES

Season Opens May 1—New Fee Set at $1.75 for Resident Permits

All license agents of the conservation department were supplied with resident fishing licenses and non-resident anglers licenses last week.

The licenses were mailed out from the Lansing office to approximately 400 dealers who represent practically every city and village in Michigan.

To Discontinue Button
Because of necessary economies the use of the license button has been discontinued temporarily at least, and the fishing license button is the last one which will be furnished for some time.

Michigan trout fishermen and non-resident anglers will pay for the first time this spring the new license fee set by the 1931 session of the state legislature. The cost of the trout license will be $1.75 and the non-resident angler's fee $4.

Accompanying the fishing licenses are copies of the 1932-33 edition of the Digest of Fishing Laws, containing not only changes made in the laws by the last legislature but new orders of the conservation commission and the latest designations of trout and gunsi-trout streams, bass, pike and trout lakes.

New Digest Next Year
The designations of lakes and streams will be effective for the next two years and it is expected that no new Digest of Fishing laws will be necessary for next year.

The "quasi-trout" streams listed for the first time in the new digest are "certain trout streams, or portions of such streams, in which other species of game fish and non-game fish occur" and which are open to hook and line fishing at all seasons of the year for the taking of such fish on which there is an open season."

THREE COUNTY FOREST FIRES UNDER CONTROL

Home Burned Near Bay Shore Tuesday—Two Other Fires Menace

Three brush fires at scattered points in Charlevoix county were under control Tuesday evening after an all-day fight by recruited fire-fighters under Conservation Officer Jack LaLonde of East Jordan.

Thirty-five acres of second growth and brush was burned over on state-owned land three miles south of Charlevoix between U.S.31 and Lake Michigan.

Near Bay Shore, the house and barns of James Corwin were destroyed in the path of a grass and brush fire which started suddenly and burned over ten acres before being stopped. Mr. Corwin's wife and five children lost most of their personal belongings with the home.

Another brush fire on section 18 in Bay township, burned over a 20-acre tract. The fires were brought under control by the use of wet sacks. Men were recruited wherever they could be found to fight the fires, which were thought to be under control Tuesday night.

The lack of rain in past weeks has created a menacing forest fire, danger throughout the state.

LEGION WILL DISTRI- BUTE FLOUR TO NEEDY

Distribution will be made through the Legion welfare committee.

MARY BREWSTERS SPON- SORED QUILT DISPLAY

Forty-Two Exhibits Seen at Congregational Church Friday Afternoon

Mrs. A. L. Fitch, Mrs. R. N. Faulkner, Mrs. Carlton Dean, Mrs. Carl Kohler, Mrs. D. F. Wood and Mrs. Bert Beaudoin were a committee of six of the Mary Brewster Circle of the Congregational church, sponsoring a tea and quilt exhibit at the church parlors last Friday afternoon.

Forty-two quilts were placed on exhibit, including heirlooms as old as 75 years. Votes were cast for the coverlet most pleasing in design. Mrs. L. B. Bartlett won honors in this group with her "Washington Rose" pattern. Mrs. R. N. Faulkner won the award for the neatest in design with an heirloom in the snail pattern, but passed the award on to Miss Hilbert of St. Mary parish, who had a conventional design in her own handwork.

The Mary Brewster Circle wishes to take this opportunity to thank the exhibitors for their kindness in making this affair a success.

PEAINE TWP. BALLOT DISPUTE IS SETTLED

John Gallagher Drew Lucky Slip for Office When Recount Tied Vote

Peaine township on Beaver Island has settled its election dispute over the office of supervisor.

When a recount conducted last Friday by Prosecuting Attorney Rollie L. Lewis resulted in a tie, John Gallagher and Earl Boyle, the contesting candidates, drew slips for the office. Gallagher, whom Boyle defeated on slips at the spring election, was the winner.

The original count gave Boyle 68 votes to Gallagher's 63. It was found that one non-citizen voted, one voter had registered before reaching the age of 21 years, two non-resident ballots were thrown out and one ballot was improperly counted.

Two Gallaghers represent Beaver Island now—John from Peaine, and James H. from St. James.

COUNCIL DRAFTS CITY WAGE CUTS

SLASH WILL SAVE TAXPAYERS NEARLY $2,000.00

Ordinance Taking in Elective and Appointed Officers Up Next Monday Night—Cut Effective May 1

With but very few exceptions, wages of all city employees from the mayor down to the day laborer, were clipped by the axe of economy through action of the Charlevoix common council Monday evening. The reduction, agreed upon after two weeks of careful study, will mean a savings to local taxpayers of approximately $2,000.00.

In the case of all but elective and appointed officers, whose salaries are set by ordinance and cannot be changed only by ordinance during their term of office, Monday night's action was final, and next Monday night the entire wage reduction will be passed, for by mutual agreement elective and appointed officers have accepted the cut and City Attorney Lisle Shanahan has been instructed to draft an ordinance which will be voted next Monday night, making the entire reduction effective May 1.

The reduction, worked out on a scale by which higher salaried employees received the largest cut, will be felt in every department with the exception of the police, health, and office help. All elective and appointive officers are included and the scale for day labor is set at $3.15 per day for 9 hours.

Rev. W. W. Hurd, representing the several religious societies of the city, appeared before the council Monday evening with a request for free electric current to churches. This matter was referred, after discussion, to the electric light committee for report next Monday evening, as was also a request from Glenn Rose for financial support of the city baseball team, which matter was referred to the advertising committee with similar instructions.

Mayor Bergeon brought before the council a request from Mrs. Lota Coulter, owner of the property used as a city airport, for a change in location of the roadway entering the field. The proposal is to build a roadway into the airport from the Charlevoix-Ellsworth road beyond Stover creek, thus removing the necessity of those visiting the field from passing through the Coulter farm yard. Recommendations for needed improvements at the airport made recently by Major Floyd Evens of the State board of aeronautics, were also told by Mayor Bergeon. Major Evans' suggestions to bring the airport up to State approved standards included the removal of several trees and fences and marking of a landing circle. The council will make a trip of inspection to the airport some time this week, and action on the suggested improvements will be taken next Monday night.

PURCHASE STEAMER FOR BEAVER ISLAND MAIL-PASSENGER RUN

The following Detroit Associated Press dispatch was taken from Wednesday's issue of the Grand Rapids Press:

"The steamer Bedell, a 60-passenger vessel which has been operating for several years between Buffalo and Erie, Pa., has been purchased by Harry H. Bingham, Detroit coal dealer, and Capt. James H. Gallagher of Boyne City.

"Capt. Gallagher brought the boat to Detroit Tuesday. It is to be taken to Charlevoix, where it will be placed in service as a passenger and mail between Charlevoix and Beaver Island."

ALL MUST REREGISTER BEFORE FALL ELECTION

August 24th Is Time Limit Set By New Legislative Ruling

Notice is being given by the city that a complete re-registration of all voters must take place this year and that those who fail to register before August 24th will not be eligible to vote in the primary election next fall.

Each presidential year this registration takes place but this year, through a recently enacted state law, it will be necessary for the city to maintain a permanent registration system, thus doing away, after this year, with a new registration.

Incidentally the equipment for this permanent record will cost several hundred dollars. An attempt was to have been made to have the special session of the legislature rescind this law.

The new registration will start on May 2 and all persons, regardless of how many times they have been registered, must again register their names if they are to remain qualified electors.

PLEA TO PREVENT FIRES IS URGENT

DRY SEASON HERE AND MANY BAD BLAZES REPORTED

Curtailment in Conservation Department Funds Will Hamper Work—Co-operation Needed

With the forest fire season at hand, and with numerous fires reported adjacent to the Charlevoix region this week, the following communication from the forest fire division of the state conservation department regarding co-operation in preventing forest fires is considered timely:

"We are lamenting the lack of game and yet every year we are burning over our game cover. We are complaining of the lack of work and yet we have destroyed the timber that would have furnished us employment. We regret the lack of better farm lands in our country and yet we have destroyed the fertility of our soil by forest fires. We are trying to build up a tourist business and yet we have permitted fires to destroy many places of scenic beauty that would have attracted visitors from other places.

"For one year we are going to try to prevent 'useless' forest and grass fires, that is, fires having a known preventable origin, such as: a cigarette or match carelessly thrown from a car or truck window; a campfire left unquenched; a brush burning or clearing fire left unattended or started on a dry windy day and others which cause large losses to property and timber. It can be done and your conservation officer is ready to spend all his time in helping to do it. Here are some of his suggestions:

"Farmers, contractors and woodsmen wishing to clear land must get a permit from the fire warden or townwarden before starting brush or grass fires. Such a permit is required by state law. The permit is free and if you are in a hurry call the nearest town or fire warden by telephone and tell him where, what and when you are going to burn.

"Smokers should install ash receivers in their car and get in the habit of using them.

"Campers should build their campfires on bare ground free from grass or brush. The campfire should be surrounded by a trench of earth to prevent its breaking out.

"Fishermen, hunters and berry-pickers should be extremely careful with fire in the woods. Carelessly tossed matches, cigars, cigarette butts and pipe heels caused 39 per cent of all our forest fires last year.

"Your conservation officer is not asking you to spend either time or money. He is only asking that you give him your co-operation by being careful with fire in the woods. If we all do this our days of forest fires are gone."

BOYNE WOMAN HONORED FOR HISTORICAL WORK

TROUT SEASON TO OPEN NEXT SUNDAY

THOUSANDS OF ANGLERS WILL INITIATE 1932 SEASON

Low Water Conditions Are Expected—All Streams Emptying Into Lake Charlevoix Open This Year

Michigan's trout fishing army is mobilized. Rods are ready, reels are oiled, flies are sorted and even the choicest of barnyard hackles has been secured for the great offensive.

Next Sunday, at daybreak, a great army of anglers will advance on hundreds of miles of trout stream frontage and tens of thousands of fishermen will initiate the 1932 fishing season. Armed with bamboo rods and other equipment, they will go into action against the wily brooks, the big rainbows and the crafty browns. Others will try their luck for mackinaw trout in the big lakes or invade the inland lakes which come under the "pike" classification.

All members of the trout fishing army must be equipped with a trout fishing license, issued by the State of Michigan at a cost of $1.75 to residents. While trout licenses have not been selling quite as rapidly as in former years, it is expected that this week will see a last-minute rush at the sporting goods stores and other authorized places. Both men and women over 18 years must purchase trout licenses, if they are going to fish for brook, brown and rainbow trout, but no license is required for taking mackinaw trout, nor is any license required for taking any species of trout on enclosed lands on which they permanently reside. Non-residents, over 18 years old, however, must purchase a non-resident fishing license (cost $4) to fish in the waters of this state for all species of fish, including the Great Lakes.

Local and visiting sportsmen will be greeted by mid-season water levels in Charlevoix county streams unless heavy rains develop before next Sunday. With light winter snowfall throughout the entire region, which melted early, and with subsequent precipitation negligible, trout streams have reached normal level earlier than usual. Heavy fall plantings were made throughout the county and trout should be plentiful.

Trout anglers have been given several new streams to fish in Charlevoix county this year. By recent order of the conservation department, all streams emptying into Lake Charlevoix have been opened. In addition to those named in the new 1932 directory of game laws, the new streams include Stover, Loeb, Miller, Bull, Poor Farm and Wood's creeks. These streams have all been closed for several years and are considered good trout water early in the season.

ELLSWORTH BOND ISSUE IS DENIED

JUDGE GILBERT GRANTS INJUNCTION IN CASE

Cites Plan to Aid Individual Corporation Directly Against Provisions of Michigan Laws

In a recent decision, Judge Farn C. Gilbert of Traverse City, granted a permanent injunction to plaintiff, Hyler H. Whitney, in his suit to restrain Banks township from bonding for $15,000 to build an addition to the Reid, Murdock & Co. cannery factory.

The decision is termed a masterpiece by many qualified to know. It contains in a very clear form the rights of townships and other governmental bodies in the expenditure of public money as well as defining the intent of Michigan laws governing the same. The decision will apply anywhere, and for this reason we are publishing it in full for the information of our readers:

"By stipulation of counsel and upon order of the Court, public hearing was had in this cause at Charlevoix on the 25th day of March, 1932. Certain testimony was taken and an agreed statement covering most of the facts in the case was filed and the proofs were thereupon closed.

"Briefs were filed on later dates and by subsequent request of the attorneys for each party the cause was continued from time to time until Thursday, April 7, 1932. Nothing further having been submitted to the Court, it now becomes proper to enter a further order.

"The controlling facts are not in dispute, and only such facts as were presented in open court can be considered. Some parties have made an effort to pass their private opinions on to the Court and have indicated very strongly their individual desires as to the outcome of this cause. All such conduct is to be regretted, and every suggestion of that sort must be disregarded.

"The Township of Banks is one of the best occupied portions of Antrim county. Its citizens are industrious, honorable and well-meaning people. In their desire to provide a market for vegetables and other products of their community, many of them thought best to give some aid to a private corporation, Reid, Murdock and Company, so as to induce that corporation to continue and possibly enlarge its cannery business at Ellsworth, Michigan, this being the chief settlement in Banks township.

"The plan thus far followed to carry out this purpose is indicated in a form of contract, which was attempted to be executed between the Township of Banks and the above named company, under date of February 25, 1932. This paper was signed by the supervisor and clerk of Banks township and was signed by the company through its president.

"Prior to the signing of this paper certain resolutions were passed by the township, the general import of which would indicate that the township desired and intended to build a township hall, and these resolutions prepared the way for raising $15,000.00 by bonding the township for that sum, the proceeds of which, according to the resolutions, should be used for the erection of a building in said township in the Village of Ellsworth required for the public use of such inhabitants in whole or in part for township purposes." The resolution also recited 'there is need in said township of a building for the use of said township for township purposes and the balance of said building to be used by said township for such legitimate purposes as may be deemed proper.' The notice of special election, referring to the same matter, contained the following: 'The proceeds from the sale of said bonds to be used as the township board of said township shall direct for the erection of a building for the public use of the inhabitants of said township in whole or in part for township purposes.'

"The so called contract of February 25, 1932, contained among other things these provisions to be performed by the township: To purchase from the company real estate described therein, which is located immediately adjacent to the present factory of the company and along the Pere Marquette tracks, to let and lease the land and appurtenance, after the building shall be completed, for a period of ninety-nine years to the company, to contract with the company for the erection of a building and necessary appurtenances making the same suitable for the

PREPARE FOR DISTRICT MUSIC MEET

CHARLEVOIX TO ENTERTAIN COMPETING SCHOOLS MAY 6

Entries So Far Include Gaylord, East Jordan, Traverse, Onkema, Kingsley and Alpena

The district music contest and festival for high schools in Northern Michigan this year will be held in Charlevoix on May 6. Glee clubs, mixed choruses, bands, orchestras and ensembles will appear in competition and in the late afternoon or evening will present a massed performance of a festival nature.

Definite enrollments have been received from Gaylord, East Jordan, Traverse City, Onkema, Kingsley and Alpena, in addition to the local music organizations that will participate. It is likely too that Petoskey will be represented in the festival portion of the program.

The general public is invited to all portions of the contest festival and it is certain that lovers of music will find the day an unusually enjoyable one. Probably more than 300 high school students will participate in this musical event and it is certain that many parents and school patrons will accompany these organizations to Charlevoix.

The festival numbers include such famous instrumental compositions as Cadman's "Festival March," Roberts' "Urbana Overture," selections from Tannhauser, and portions of Grieg's "Peer Gynt Suite." Beautiful vocal arrangements by celebrated composers will be presented by the glee clubs and choruses.

Schools taking part will not be ranked as in previous years but instead of first, second, third place rankings the adjudicators will rate the groups on their performance as excellent, good, average, etc. The judges will be King Stacy and W. R. McIntire, prominent music directors from southern Michigan cities.

Further arrangements for the day and more definite publicity will be announced through the student body of the local public schools.

NOVEL WINDOW DISPLAY IS ATTRACTION

Miniature Woodland Scene at Wood Brothers is Original Creation

What is judged the most novel and original window display shown in Charlevoix in recent years is attracting considerable attention at Wood Brothers' store.

The creation, depicting a woodland scene, is the work of Clarence Wood. Set against a background of forest, with trees, ferns, moss, etc., in marked likeness, is an old-fashioned mill. One small stream, flowing from a hillside, operates a small water wheel; another tumbles down a slope into a pond in the foreground. In the pond are several gold fish. The setting is very realistic with a cabin set back in the trees, and a wily deer peering nertly from the forest.

The stream is created with an electrically-driven rotary pump. The cabin and mill of imitation logs, as well as the rest of the layout, is hand-made.

My idea of a fine job is that of a judge in a traffic court.

In case all contests are not completed at that time, they will be continued again at 3:30 following the style show. LET'S GO FISHING IN 1932!

"When in doubt, go fishing!" Here is an axiom which has weathered the storms and vagaries of centuries. When we go fishing, we usually stop thinking long enough to begin thinking sanely again. The environment of lakes and streams is such that it rests and recuperates our turbulent minds almost simultaneously.

There are bigger fish in fishing than the fish we catch. They are . . . health and happiness. Health and happiness yield confidence, enthusiasm, serenity and appreciation.

occupancy of the company under the terms of the proposed lease. The company to have sole supervision of the erection and to furnish its own plans and specifications free of cost; to turn over and pay to the company the sum of $15,000.00; to erect the building in a good and workmanlike manner and to secure the erection thereof and installation of appurtenances. Any surplus after the building is completed to be returned to the township. On the part of the company it is agreed it shall pay $250.00 rental per year to the township for the use of the building in question. That the company agrees to erect the proposed building on the land which the company deeded to the township and to allow the township to reserve a small room on the third story (understood now to be the second story) twelve feet by fifteen feet for township clerk's office or other township purposes; and at the termination of the lease to surrender the entire property to the township.

"This contract contained, among other things, the following: 'The intent of this agreement, anything appearing herein to the contrary notwithstanding, shall be that the company shall occupy the above described land and building as long as they shall continue their canning operations in the Village of Ellsworth, at a rental of $250.00 per year and other valuable considerations, and that the township shall bear all expenses of the erecting of said building and the appurtenances necessary to the proper occupancy of the portions thereof to be rented, with no expense to the township for supervision and plans and specifications. That the company shall have sole supervision of the erecting of said building and shall disburse to the contractors and material men the money in its hands for that purpose, that the work shall be done as cheaply as possible, consistent with good workmanship and material.'

"The proposition thus outlined was presented to the voters of the township at the time the bonds were voted, and this plan was approved by a large majority of the persons voting at such election. Certain taxpayers opposed to this arrangement and this method of expending the township funds seek to permanently restrain the issue of the bonds in question.

"It is necessary to determine whether the township has the right to make this use of its funds. The Constitution of this state, Article 10, Section 12, provides: 'The credit of the state shall not be granted to nor in aid of any person, association or corporation, public or private.' Article 8, Section 16 provides: 'Each organized township shall be a body corporate, with such powers and immunities as shall be prescribed by law.' Section 17 reads: 'The legislature may by general law confer upon organized townships such powers of a local legislative and administrative character, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Constitution, as it may deem proper.'

"Turning now to the legislative authority, Volume 1, Compiled Laws of 1929, Section 2366, is an Act which authorizes a township to use its funds, as stated in the title of the Act, 'For the purpose of erecting town halls or other buildings for the public use of the inhabitants thereof.' In the body of the Act the purpose is stated in the following language: 'For the purpose of erecting a town hall or other building or buildings required for public use of such inhabitants in whole or in part for township purposes.'

"The Statute authorizing the borrowing of money by the township by issue of bonds is Section 2368 Compiled Laws of 1929. The purpose for which such money may be borrowed is set up in the following language: 'The money so borrowed to be used for the purpose of acquiring a site for and erecting and furnishing a town hall, or for the purpose of making additions and improvements to such sites and town halls whether now existing or hereafter acquired, or for the purpose of purchasing a building or site to be used for a town hall.'

The title of the Act of which this Section is a part, is couched in much the same language, except that it does include the words: '—or other building or buildings required for public use of such inhabitants in whole or in part for township purposes.'

"Under these provisions of law, what may the township do, or rather, is the Township of Banks lawfully authorized to devote the funds of the township in carrying out the contract and plan above mentioned?

"During the argument some suggestion was made that the real estate which was to be conveyed by the company to the township, and the building that was to be erected thereon, under the above plan, really amounted to the acquiring and construction of township property to an extent sufficient to justify the expenditure of township funds; it is being specially urged that the words in the Statute or in the title of the Act mentioned, 'to be used for township purposes in whole or in part,' made it lawful to enter into the transaction in question, because a very small part of the entire structure was to be retained in the possession of the township and was proposed to be used for township clerk's office and ordinary township board meetings, and so forth. It was also very strenuously urged that the entire plan constituted the acquiring, building and equipping of a property for the township and not for a private corporation.

"It appears to the Court that such a construction of the facts appearing in this case can only result from either ignoring some of the facts or in distorting the real force and effect of what was proposed to be done. In other words, the real purpose of the whole plan was to aid Reid, Murdock and Company, and by reason of such aid to induce that company to carry on its canning factory operations; and the suggestion that the fifteen thousand dollars proposed to be turned over to Reid, Murdock and Company was being used or would be used for township purposes is entirely a pretense and a myth.

"The entire arrangement carried out in numerous resolutions, motions and provisions of a lengthy contract attempted to be entered into between the company and the township, might well have been reduced to one single statement, viz., the township will pay the company fifteen thousand dollars if it will continue its canning operations at Ellsworth. Stripped of all subterfuge and pretense, that is exactly what the proposition means.

"The Court is not overlooking the fact that a small room on the second story, twelve feet by fifteen feet, to be finished in rough lumber, with a board floor, was arranged to be kept and used by the township. In fact, the size, location and specifications of this room, including the material put into it or surrounding it, only tend to emphasize the fact that there is no good faith township benefit involved anywhere in the transaction.

"It is plain to be seen that the setting up of this small room and reserving it for township purposes was with the very object in mind of seeking to satisfy some of the words of the statute relative to expenditure of township moneys without in fact reaching or supplying anything of material value to the township, and especially provided nothing that can be fairly treated as a town hall, town site or any other property authorized to be paid for by the township.

"In a rather strained effort to comply with the words: 'to be used for township purposes in whole or in part,' all the other provisions of law seem to have been overlooked.

"At the very outset an examination of the state constitution and of the legislation relative to the right of townships to borrow and expend money, we discover such moneys can only be raised and expended for public purposes. There is nowhere any suggestion that the township has any right whatsoever to raise or expend any money for private purposes or to aid any private enterprise.

"Let's refer to the sections of the statute pertaining to the erection of town halls and requiring of property to be used for township offices and purposes. Act 150, Public Acts of 1923; Compiled Laws of 1929, Section 2362, is entitled: 'To authorize and empower counties, cities or villages, and townships to jointly acquire, construct, erect and maintain public buildings for the purpose of housing the city, county or village, and township offices within the same building.'

"Sections 2362 to 2365 outline what may be done, and the language indicates the purpose of the Act was to permit two or more of these municipal subdivisions to join in the erection and occupation of a building, if desired. That is, a city and county might join or a city and county and village and township or any two or more of these might join in the obtaining, erection and maintaining of such building.

"The noteworthy language in these sections as related to the present case is this, as indicated in section 2362, in the closing sentence: '—are hereby authorized and empowered to contract to and with each other through their proper representatives for the joint acquiring and maintaining of a building or the acquiring of a site or sites and the erection, construction and maintenance of a building erected for and dedicated to public use.'

"Section 2363 contains similar language authorizing the acquiring and maintaining of a building or the acquiring of a site or sites and the erection, construction and maintenance either jointly or severally in any manner which may be necessary. 'For the purpose of establishing and maintaining a joint ownership, operation and maintenance of a building or buildings to be used for public purposes to the extent and in the manner now provided by law.

"Section 2364 again contains similar language as follows: 'It being the intent and purpose of this Act that counties and cities may enter into joint adventures in the erection of buildings for public purposes to the same extent and with the same authority and power that is granted to counties and cities for the purpose of maintaining separate public buildings.'

"Passing now to Act 157 of the Public Acts of 1867, Compiled Laws of 1929, section 2366, we find the township authorized to raise certain money as stated in the title of the Act, 'For the purpose of erecting town halls or other buildings for the public use of the inhabitants thereof.' In the section itself similar language is employed as follows: 'For the purpose of erecting a town hall or other building or buildings required for the public use of such inhabitants in whole or in part for township purposes.'

"It is worth while to note this last quoted language, in view of the provisions first above cited, viz., in section 2362 to 2365. It must clearly appear that when the term '—or other building or buildings required for the public use of such inhabitants in whole or in part for township purposes,' is used, it has reference to the joint use with other municipalities such as a city or village or county, and in any event, the only use that the statute refers to is, 'For the public use of such inhabitants,' and that use must always and forever dominate whatever use is made of buildings paid for with public money.

"Coming now to the section under which the bonds in this instance were voted, which is Act 381 of the Public Acts of 1927, section 2368 of the Compiled Laws of 1929, the title of this Act provides for the bonding of a township as follows: 'To provide sites for and for the erection thereon of town halls or other buildings required for the public use in whole or in part for township purposes, or for the purpose of acquiring a site with buildings thereon and furnishing a town hall or other building or buildings required for the public use of such inhabitants in whole or in part for township purposes, for additions, etc.'

BY TELEPHONE

In other words, thousands of persons in Michigan annually find their telephones PRICELESS PROTECTION when fire endangers property and the lives of loved ones.

In small Michigan communities, having no fire-box alarm system, the telephone is especially valuable as a means of summoning aid immediately in case of fire.

Few things offer so much convenience and protection at such low cost as the telephone.

TOP O' MICHIGAN SPUD SHOW MAY BE CHANGED

Failure of Otsego County to Provide Funds May Mean Move

Because the Otsego county board of supervisors failed to make the usual appropriation for the Top O'
Michigan Potato show, held annually by northern Michigan counties at Gaylord, residents of that city fear the show will be moved to Cheboygan or Emmet counties and are up in arms over the omission.

Should Emmet county be considered, it will likely offer the use of its splendid agricultural fairground, county owned and managed, as a site for the show. The fairground buildings would provide ample space for the show which annually attracts hundreds of visitors to Gaylord.
Cheboygan Boosters club also will invite the show there, offering the use of the big gymnasium in Cheboygan.
Charlevoix county supervisors at their October session appropriated $125 for support of the show. This county will probably make a bid for the show.

PROMINENT SPEAKER HERE NEXT THURSDAY

F. E. McIntire Speaks at Congregational Church Following Supper

Four men travelled over to Boyne
City last Monday evening to hear F.
E. McIntire of that city, speak before the Rotary Club. Mr. McIntire has just recently returned from a two-year stay in Russia and because of his contacts is in a position to give some very important information concerning that much misunderstood country.

These four men took the responsibility of inviting Mr. McIntire to our city one week from Thursday. A supper will be served at the Congregational church at a nominal charge.
If you can possibly attend this address it is not only to your advantage from the point of entertainment, but of good information.

High school students should attend because of the glowing reports from Russia of the "youth movement" that has attracted our youth. Hear Mr.
McIntire's opinion. Make plans to hear this address. It is for father, mother, brother, sister, Uncle Bob and Aunt Mary.

SHOW GOOD METHODS ON POULTRY TRUCK

Models of Buildings and Equipment
Carried to Many Counties

A truck equipped by the poultry department of Michigan State college to show some of the methods which should be used to grow healthy chickens will visit 25 counties in the state between April 25 and June 9.

Michigan flock owners see some prospects for better prices due to a decrease in eggs held in storage, smaller numbers of laying hens kept on farms, and fewer numbers of baby chicks bought this spring to be grown for layers, according to the poultry department at the college.

Willie: "Say, pop, did you go to Sunday school when you were a boy?"

Father: "Yes, son, regularly. Never missed a Sunday."

Willie: "Well, I'll bet it won't do me any good either."

ing a game of golf. Goldberg had a paralytic stroke and McTavish wanted to count it.

REBEKAHS OBSERVED ORDER'S ANNIVERSARY

Program and Banquet Held on 113th
Year of Oddfellowship

Tuesday evening, April 19, Charlevoix Rebekah Lodge No. 293 celebrated the 113th anniversary of Odd-fellowship with a 6 o'clock dinner.
They had as their guests the senior members of the order. Forty-five Rebekahs were present to partake of the bountiful dinner, many others coming in later for the regular lodge meeting.

After the evening session a delightful program was given. Sister Lizzie Burns was the only charter member present. She told in a very interesting manner of the early organization of our local lodge and its activities. Sister Libbie Clark had been a member over 30 years. She told of early experiences and doings in the lodge work, before the time of automobile and radio. These early reminiscences were much enjoyed by everyone. A poem written by a charter member, Sister Chamberlain, now deceased, was read by Sister
May Bugbee.

The exceptional ability of Loren and Dale Brechisen of Bay Shore, was displayed by their music and singing, which was much enjoyed and helped to make a very pleasant evening.

Their trip occupied about two months.

The Northern District convention of the state Y. M. C. A. work, held in Petoskey last Saturday, was the largest by far of all such meetings previously held. Over 200 boys and their group leaders, sat down to the banquet at 5:30, in the Disciples' church. The other meetings were in the high school. The program, as previously announced in detail in our local press, was carried out about as planned. The addresses were of a high order. The president of Hillsdale college, Dr. W. G. Spencer, addressed the boys in the afternoon and at the banquet, and also a group of clergymen, otherwise invited, at the noon hour in the Disciples' church. He was very able and well worth going far to hear. Of the Charlevoix group, Parker, Bird, Winder, Livingston, McCann, Smith, McCarty, with leader, Rev. W. W. Hurd; and Greenman, Levinson, Roen, Goldstick, Hansen, with leader, Pat Moran, from the Hi-Y's, were in attendance, with Rev. Parker, Rev. Rauch, and Mr. North of the high school, in attendance either all, or part of the day. Young Bill White of Boyne City, was elected district president for the ensuing year.

Mr. and Mrs. Jone Durance, who have been away on an extended southern trip, have returned to their residence on West Hurlbut avenue. Friday and Saturday Cash Sale

GROCERY DEPARTMENT

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES

An older girls' conference is being held at Petoskey on Saturday, April 30. A large number of the high school girls will attend.

Mr. Bush spent Friday and Saturday in Kalamazoo, Ann Arbor and Detroit interviewing candidates for the 6th grade and home economics department.

All day Friday, April 29, will be spent as county health day and handicraft club achievements. In the evening a musical concert will take place by the band and the two glee clubs. School will be closed to the great joy of the students. Many of the neighboring schools are also closing.

The junior high school is planning a vocational program to take place at a later date. Work done in the manual training and domestic science departments will be on exhibit and a program will follow. Mr. Bingham is in charge.

The seniors are planning a trip for Thursday, June 2. The place is not yet decided upon.

Mr. Jennings of Hillsdale college, spoke to the seniors last week.

Mr. Hurd has been asked to give the baccalaureate address Sunday, May 29.

The attendance is now back to normal after a period of measles, colds and flu. Last week there was only one day with only three absences.

Junior Hi-Y members are planning a dance for Friday.

The Hi-Y conference last Saturday was attended by about 200 boys from the 17 places that sent members. Charlevoix had 15 present. After registration the different groups discussed questions. Mr. Freeman led the discussion. The banquet at 5:30 was followed by a speech of Dr. Spencer.

Freshman Party

Friday evening the freshmen spent a very enjoyable evening at the gym. Games were played and light refreshments served. The committee in charge was Marie Novak, Charles Carey, Jean Graves and Jack Foster. Faculty guests were Mr. Bingham and Mr. Rider.

"Two Girls Wanted"

The senior play, "Two Girls Wanted," which is to be presented on Friday, May 13th, is proving to be a most enjoyable comedy. Norman Anee is becoming exceedingly impatient to begin rehearsing his "big scene" with Marion Smith in the last act, and Dan Genet has already developed an amazingly heart-stirring voice in his pleading with Dorothy Griffin. Joe Arevlla and Kathleen McCall seem as surprised as the audience will be to find themselves in love; and we want to watch out for David Dick—for we have learned he can take money and actually make us feel sorry for him and hope he won't be discovered.

Now who would imagine Esther Brady as a real "domestic" girl with a deep affection for the kitchen range—or Mary Margaret Orlovski a sophisticated society matron—or Charles Novotny as the chauffeur who saves Dan's life—or Winifred Martin as a boarding-house keeper? However, it must be admitted that Leo Yettaw is a typical office boy. You can readily see this is something you cannot afford to miss.

Work on the sets is to begin immediately with Stan-Carter in charge.

Poppy Poster Contest

Seven students of the local school have entered the national poppy poster contest. George Smith, George LaBlanc, Marian Tyler, Byrnes Lamphear, Lillian Novotny, Dorothy Partridge and Gladys Megelson are busily working for the posters must be completed by May 1st, when the best one from the local group will be sent to the national committee, the remaining six being put on display in business places here.

Band Concert

There will be a band concert at the gym next Friday evening, April 29. Everyone is invited, free of charge. The mixed chorus will also sing a few selections. Let's have a good crowd.

Next week is the music contest to which everyone is eagerly looking forward.

Ladies' Achievement Day Next Week

Great plans are being formulated for the annual Achievement day sponsored by the ladies in the county who have participated in the home furnishing project. It will be held in the Presbyterian church in Boyne City on Friday, May 6. Thirteen organized groups have received the four lessons under the supervision of Miss Gertrude Reis, specialist from Michigan State college. A total of 23 leaders have received the instructions and carried them back to their own group.

The big feature of this event will be the display of over 200 rugs made by the ladies interested in this project. When one stops to consider the fact that these rugs have been made from burlap, overalls and other worn-out material, then one will appreciate the wonderful work being done in this project. A most pleasing program is being developed including music, humorous number, short plays and many other features.

The public is invited and cordially urged to attend this Achievement day. The complete program will be announced in next week's issue. Watch for it and make your plans now for this big event.

"Prohibition After Death" was the subject of the lesson-sermon in all

Christian Science churches throughout the world on Sunday, April 24.

Among the Bible citations was this passage (Ps. 23:4): "Yea, though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil: for thou art with me; thy rod and thy staff

they comfort me."

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p. 454): "The understanding, even in a degree, of the divine All-power destroys fear, and plants the feet in the true path,

—the path which leads to the house built without hands 'eternal in the heavens."

MORE FIRES ARE REPORTED BY TELEPHONE

This Fact Proved by Statistics Provided by Chief Henry Marshall

More fires are reported by telephone to the Charlevoix fire department than by any other means, according to Fire Chief H. D. Marshall. That serves to reduce the fire loss that otherwise would be sustained, by many thousands of dollars, he says, declaring that the time saved in telephoning an alarm results in quicker arrival of the fire fighting apparatus and crews. Generally the arrival of the department at the scene of a conflagration is a matter of only a very few moments after the telephoned report is received, which may mean the difference between slight damage and almost total loss of the property.

Urging that the person reporting a fire by telephone do so in a calm, clear voice, giving the street address, cross streets, and other essential information as quickly as possible, Chief H. D. Marshall says that the Michigan Bell Telephone company co-operates with the department closely.

The telephone operators, for instance, are instructed to give precedence to fire and other emergency calls, and pay full and speedy attention to such a call the instant it flashes through the central office switchboards. The operator handling a fire call also remains on the line until full or sufficient information concerning the blaze is supplied by the department, and frequently gives valuable assistance in relaying the facts.

There are many instances on record of persons excitedly reporting fires merely by shouting into the telephone, "My house is on fire," and giving no other information. In such case, the operator or her supervisor ascertains the origin of the call by consulting the central office records and gives the information and address to the fire department.

The Michigan Bell company shows on the front of the telephone directory instructions for reporting fires by telephone.

COLD WEATHER CHECK-ING ORCHARD PROGRESS

Bud Development Is About a Week Late Despite Warm Season

Despite the open winter and unseasonable warm weather and the fact that the buds did not freeze over, cherry buds are almost a week behind the average season in development, orchardists report. Thursday was the first time they have showed their green lining.

It is traditional in the region that ice on the buds is necessary to retard the early growth of the orchards and prevent danger from the late frosts. Yet, this season, with the buds open all winter, the buds are a week late. Cherry growers say that the lack of warm days during March and April are responsible for the slow growth. The orchard conditions are being hailed with joy by the growers. The later the buds develop the less danger from freezing and the smaller the expense for smudging. It will probably mean that the orchard bloom on the peninsula will be a week later than usual, but this is only a possibility, as a succession of warm days may hurry the thing along.

COUNTY NORMAL NEWS

True it is that rural teachers need to know more than how to teach reading, writing, and arithmetic. A delegation of normal students attended the sheep meeting at the Waller farm. Perhaps they think it may be wise to have a second choice in practice.

Through the efforts of Miss Behling and Mr. Moran the class observed a very well planned fruit tree grafting project.

Under the direction of the Misses Miller and DeMaio an interesting and appropriate observance of Arbor day was planned.

The class was fortunate in having the county agricultural agent, Mr. Mellencamp, present in person Tuesday to review the 4-H Club work of the county, and to outline for them the teachers' part in making a club program a success in rural schools.

The sand table project under skillful management of Miss Kraemer and Mr. Coulter, for the week portrays types of transportation. Though all the necessary vehicles are in evidence, so far not one of the anxious normalites has been invited to "get aboard."

The county normal library, and the county normal extension library have received a generous donation of about fifty books from Miss Bigge. The normal class is attempting to leave both libraries, as well as the picture library, completely and accurately catalogued.

"GET THIS RIGHT, CASEY"—103,500 MILES

An Interview by ROBERT J. CASEY
Chicago Daily News Reporter

Carroll Edgren, insurance man of 230 East St., St. Paul—tells Casey how to drive 103,500 miles with minor repair bills.

CARROLL EDGREN, insurance man, stood beside his Pontiac parked in front of his St. Paul home, to add 40,500 and 63,000 and note that they totaled 103,500.

"That's not the census of the Twin Cities," he said as he displayed the result to the inquiring reporter. "It's my mileage on Iso-Vis Motor Oil. . . . And I'll bet the cars in last year's road tests never came anywhere near that figure."

"It's all Iso-Vis mileage," demanded the reporter.

Mr. Edgren nodded. "All of it," he stated with some emphasis. "The 40,500 miles is on the speedometer of the Pontiac right here. The other 63,000 was the total on my other Pontiac when I turned it in. I figure I've covered the entire 103,500 miles in a little more than four years."

"And what was the performance of the cars in all that driving?"

"I'd tell you in a minute if it wasn't A-1. But my upkeep bills have been so low that I'm almost ashamed to tell insurance to a mechanic."

"I started to use Iso-Vis the first day it was put on the market in St. Paul. My friend at the filling station gave me a sales talk on it and I took it for what it was worth. Then my repair bills began to give me a sales talk and I've stuck to it ever since. You can quote me on that if you want to. And get the total right—103,500 miles."

Mr. Edgren's 103,500 trouble-free miles prove again what Iso-Vis has demonstrated in laboratory tests and in A.A.A. tests on the Indianapolis Speedway—Positive Lubrication Protection. Iso-Vis (a Standard Oil product) will not thin out from dilution. See the Ball and Bottle Test at Standard Oil stations and dealers.

"It will thus be seen that when we revert to the authority of a township, the state constitution says: 'A township may exercise such powers as the legislature shall provide,' and the legislature has provided just the provisions above quoted, and nothing else. "Referring to section 2368 itself and reading the body of it, we find the following language: 'The township board of any organized township in the State of Michigan is hereby authorized and empowered, upon application being first filed with such township board, signed by at least twelve freeholders of such township, to borrow a sum of money not exceeding two and one-half per centum of the assessed valuation of such township, according to the assessed valuation of all the real and personal property of said township for the preceding year on the faith and credit of such township and to issue the bonds of such township therefor. CHARLEVOIX, MICHIGAN

NEW CABLE BETWEEN CHARLEVOIX-BEAVERS

Plans Made to Lay New Telephone Cable With Duplicate Wires

W. R. Ronning and H. V. Rand of Green Bay, Wis., are in Charlevoix at the present time making preliminary arrangements to replace the 33-mile government telephone cable laid 25 years ago between Beaver Island and the mainland.

The new installation will be heavier and contain duplicate wires. The old one was a single wire cable. Plans call for the cable to be laid to the north head of Beaver Island instead of directly from Charlevoix to St. James, to connect with the lighthouse there. A pole line will carry the wiring from the point to St. James, making the new cable 20 miles longer.

The lake work and cable stringing will be done with the United States lighthouse tender Hyacinth after that craft has completed its work of setting out buoys. It is planned to take up the old cable, salvage the best parts for use to complete a circuit of upper Lake Michigan with terminal connections at Sault Ste. Marie.

Those in charge of preparations stated that plans call for later extension of the new cable from St. James to Garden Island, from there to Lansing shoals lighthouse, and then eight miles across to Blaney, which will be the northern lake terminus from where connections can be made with the Newberry exchange for other northern points.

POULTRY SHOULD GET PLENTY OF ALFALFA

Should Have Feed From First Feeding Through Entire Laying Period

One of the virtues of alfalfa which is not commonly stressed is its value as a poultry feed, according to the poultry department at Michigan State college, which recommends this feed for poultry from the time birds are hatched until they have completed their usefulness as layers.

The Spartan chick starter, which is recommended by the poultry specialists, contains five pounds of alfalfa meal in each 100 pounds of mash. The ingredients of the mash are 36 pounds yellow corn meal, 20 pounds flour middlings, 20 pounds ground oatmeal, 10 pounds dried milk, 5 pounds meat scrap, 5 pounds alfalfa meal, 2 pounds steamed bone meal, 1 pound salt, and 1 pound cod liver oil.

This same mash may be used as a growing ration but it may be improved by substituting 20 pounds of bran for the flour middlings. The growing mash should be used after the chicks are six or eight weeks old, and a scratch feed of equal parts of cracked yellow corn and wheat should be given.

The laying mash, supplied when the pullets are placed in the laying house should contain 150 pounds yellow corn meal, 100 pounds fine-ground oats, 100 pounds standard bran, 100 pounds flour middlings, 100 pounds meat scrap, 50 pounds alfalfa meal, 15 pounds steamed bone meal, and 5 pounds salt. This ration can be improved by substituting 50 pounds of milk for one-half the meat scrap.

Alfalfa fields provide ideal range for growing and laying birds and chopped green alfalfa makes a satisfactory green feed for chickens which are confined.

AT THE MOVIES

Sally Eilers Makes Record Rise to Fame in Pictures

Sally Eilers is the bad girl of the Fox Film organization. But in being bad she has won national renown for being exceptionally good.

As half of that well known Dunn-Eilers combination, she leaped to fame in that popular screen drama, "Bad Girl." In co-starring the James Dunn-Sally Eilers duo, producers have discovered the greatest film team since the ascension of Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell.

She is considered one of the most consistent and dependable actresses in Hollywood.

Sally Eilers has appeared in "The Holy Terror," "Over The Hill" and "Dance Team," in addition to other pictures under the Fox Films banner. The latest contribution to her screen fame is the leading role in "Disorderly Conduct," opening at the Palace theatre on Saturday and Sunday.

Beauty Reigns in French Art Ball Sequence

Daringly costumed players, including 250 of Hollywood's most beautiful girls, were engaged in the Quat's Arts Ball scenes of "She Wanted A Millionaire," Fox film co-featuring Joan Bennett and Spencer Tracy which is at the Palace theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Named for four arts—painting, sculpture, literature and music it represents, the Quat's Arts Ball is the annual festival of the gay Latin quarter of Paris. It is the crowning event of the season, and the girl who is chosen as Queen is generally looked upon as the world's foremost beauty, since the judges are invariably chosen among the leading artists.

To reproduce this setting for "She Wanted A Millionaire," a huge ballroom was constructed for one of the outstanding events of the picture.

WARDENS ARREST SIX FOR SPEARING TROUT

Five Given Jail Terms at Bellaire—Other Assessed Fine and Costs

Conservation officers Henry Fike, Charlevoix, and Ed. Deuel and Thomas Koboska of Boyne City, done a "land office" business apprehending game law violators in the eastern end of the county last Thursday.

In all, six men were arrested for spearing rainbow trout on Jordan river. The violators were Kenneth Touchstone, George Sweet, his son, Archie, and an Indian, William Strong, all of Chestonia township, also John Goodwill and Louis Shannon of Alba.

George Sweet and his son, Strong, Touchstone and Shannon were given ten-day jail sentences at Bellaire by Justice George Tobias of Alba. Goodwill paid fine and costs totalling $10.50 rather than go to jail.

Upon searching the elder Sweet's home, beaver and muskrat pelt were found. Sweet will be sentenced for illegal possession when his present term expires.

Smith-Hughes Pupils Will Visit Michigan State College

Plans are completed for junior farmers week, May 5 and 6, which will bring to Michigan State college 1,800 pupils from the Smith-Hughes high schools of the state and will give these pupils a chance to settle the argument of who is best junior judge of grains, dairy cattle, and beef cattle, according to the department of education at the college.

Members of winning teams will be awarded trophies, the winning dairy judging team will be sent to the National dairy show at St. Louis, and the best livestock judging team will be given a trip to the Royal livestock show at Kansas City. The Michigan teams at the national shows compete against Smith-Hughes school teams from other states.

The two books of Bruce Barton, "The Book Nobody Knows," and "The Man Nobody Knows," are real commentaries on modern religious knowledge. Preachers have ceased to preach The Book, and the people have ceased to read The Book, consequently our state of restlessness. A complete list of the subjects will be issued soon. TO REPLACE CABLE TO BEAVER ISLAND

Present Wires from Mainland Were Laid 25 Years Ago

Preliminary work was started last week by the federal government to replace the 33-mile single wire telephone cable laid 25 years ago between Beaver Island with the mainland.

The new installation will be a heavier cable and contain duplicate wires. Instead of going direct from Charlevoix to St. James as the present cable, it will be laid across the 20 miles to the head of the island and connect with the lighthouse there. A pole line will carry the wiring the length of the island to St. James.

The cable laying and lake work will be done by the United States lighthouse tender Hyacinth. When completed the old cable will be taken up, the best parts salvaged and used to complete a circuit hookup of upper Lake Michigan with terminal connections at Sault Ste. Marie.

Plans call for extending the cable from St. James across to Garden Island and from there to the Lansing shoal lighthouse, which stands on a concrete crib in the western passage. From there it is eight miles across to Blaney which will be the northern lake terminus from where connections can be made with the Newberry exchange and northern points.

The work here is in charge of W. R. Ronning and H. V. Rand of Green Bay, Wis.

Announcement

At the solicitation of my friends, I announce my candidacy for State Representative for the Charlevoix-Leelanau District at the September Primary. I have always supported the Republican principles of Government and for the past four years served as Chairman of the Charlevoix County Republican Committee.

I stand for drastic reduction on Real Estate taxes and the equalization of our school taxes.

Having conducted a successful mercantile industry in Boyne Falls for the past thirty years and serving as President of the State Bank of Boyne Falls for the past twelve years, together with my knowledge of farm needs, I have had a varied experience which my friends state should qualify me as your Representative at Lansing.

EMMET JUSTICE GUILTY OF EMBEZZLING CHARGE

William H. Harris, former justice of the peace of Petoskey, was convicted late last week by an Emmet county circuit court jury of embezzling funds collected as fines in his court. The case required but a few hours time to present and the jury took but about 30 minutes in which to reach its verdict of "guilty."

ACHIEVEMENT DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

THOUSANDS TOOK PART IN PROGRAM HERE FRIDAY

Remarkable Displays in Handicraft and Sewing Made—Awards Made by State Club Leader

One of the outstanding events of the year for rural school students and patrons of Charlevoix county was brought to a close late Friday afternoon with the final number of the combined Child Health and 4-H Club Achievement Day program held here.

The day's activities were many and varied. An athletic program in charge of Coach Brotherton of Boyne City, kept the younger folks busy most of the morning and a part of the afternoon at the tourist park.

For the adults, a fine program, with interesting talks by prominent county school and health authorities was provided at the gymnasium. The big parade at noon contained many hundreds of children and occupied five blocks along the course of march.

The Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City school bands took part in the parade. All the visitors, numbering a couple of thousand, gathered at the gymnasium during the early part of the afternoon for the handicraft demonstrations, style show, and awards.

The morning program at the gymnasium opened with a concert by the Boyne City school band. Judge of Probate E. A. Rucsegger gave an interesting talk, reviewing the child health program in Charlevoix county, and Mrs. Roby Stueck told the benefits of serving hot lunches in the rural schools. The pupils of Undine school followed with a short health play, which feature preceded the parade in charge of Supt. Gerald F. Bush.

In the afternoon, the East Jordan school band favored with a concert. William C. Palmer, county school commissioner, spoke on "Benefit of Special Activities," and Dr. J. D. Brenner of East Jordan, gave an instructive talk on "Immunization."

Robert Tainter and Melvin Somerville of East Jordan gave a handicraft demonstration. This feature was followed with a talk by State Club Leader A. G. Kettunen, who cited cases of boys elsewhere in the state who had carried out 4-H Club projects for five years with great success financially and in education. He urged the youth present to continue their own work for the benefit they would derive from it. Miss Sylvia Wixson, assistant state club leader, gave similar instructions to girls.

The handicraft and sewing exhibits were the largest and of the highest quality ever shown in Charlevoix county, marking the wonderful results the boys and girls have obtained from this very worthy work. In the former group, twelve clubs exhibited. Of 92 members who started the year's work, 87 completed. There were thirteen girls' clubs exhibiting. Ninety-seven of the original enrollment of 106 completed the work. The average for the county is approximately 93 per cent, a very remarkable record. All of twenty-eight members of three hot lunch clubs completed their projects.

A. G. Kettunen made the awards to the handicraft members, naming the following delegates to the state honor roll: Fifth year, Homer Emmons, East Jordan; fourth year, Clare Beattie, Barnard; Donald Geyer, Clarion; third year, Ole Griffith, Everett Griffin, Boyne City; Kurt Kobernik, East Jordan; second year, Wayne Gokee, Clarion; Douglass Ross, Bay Shore; Levi Balch, Marion; first year, Raymond Willis, Barnard, Joe Speigl, Bay Shore, Lyle Anthony, Boyne City, Walter Wyant, Clarion, Clare McGhan, Marion.

Miss Ruby Stueck, who displayed the best set of posters in hot lunch club exhibits, was named county champion in this class.

The style show was a remarkable feature, winning hearty commendation by the huge throng that witnessed the event. Each sewing club in the county was represented by its entire membership. Each girl walked across the stage wearing a dress she had made herself. It was a remarkable showing. Great credit is due the club headed by Mrs. Charles Withers of Marion township. This group had fifteen members, the largest represented.

While the list of individual winners in each athletic event is not available, it is understood Charlevoix won the meet on a point basis. Horton Bay finished in second position.

ANNUAL RURAL SCHOOL EXAM HELD NEXT WEEK

Seventh and Eighth Graders Write at Charlevoix, Boyne, St. James

The annual seventh and eighth grade examinations for Charlevoix county rural students will be held next Thursday and Friday at three points in the county.

The seventh graders will write their exams on Thursday and the eighth graders the following day. Examinations will be held at Boyne City under the direction of Supt. Close; at Charlevoix, under the direction of Supt. Duncanson of East Jordan, and at St. James under the direction of Wm. C. Palmer. It is expected approximately 225 students will write the exam.

Preparations are being made for an eighth grade commencement program to be held at the Charlevoix gymnasium on Friday, June 3rd. Further announcements concerning this feature will be made when more detailed information is available.

LIGHT AND WATER USERS MUST PAY

COUNCIL VOTES TO CUT SERVICE TO DELINQUENTS

April Accounts Must Be Met Promptly—Five Months Given to Pay Prior Back Accounts

Due to the large number of delinquencies in payment of electric light and water accounts, the Charlevoix city council has adopted measures to enforce payment.

At a recent special session, the council voted to discontinue service without notice to patrons who do not pay their April bill on or before May 20th, the time limit allowed for settlement.

Commencing with the month of June, all accounts in arrears prior to April billing may be paid over a period of five months on the following basis: 15% on or before June 20; 20% on or before July 20; 25% on or before August 20th; 25% on or before September 20, and the balance, 15% on or before October 20th.

The above schedule was adopted to conform with the best wage-earning period for Charlevoix residents. It has been stipulated that service will be discontinued without notice upon failure to pay any installments or current monthly bills.

It appears that many local citizens who are well able to keep their obligations taken care of are making the city the "goat" on the electric light and water proposition, thus the drastic action taken. Revenues of the city utilities must be kept up in order to keep these departments from going into the "red," a condition Charlevoix has not had in many years.

Starting May 1st, the cut in all city employee's wages went into effect. Action had been taken by the council at a previous meeting on the reduction of other than elective and appointed officers, and through mutual agreement, the latter have agreed to the reduction so that the entire cut, which will mean a savings of several thousand dollars to local taxpayers, went into effect simultaneously from mayor down to the day laborer.

Many citizens have expressed the hope that school board officials and county supervisors will keep in line with the city by making reductions in governmental costs.

HARBOR POINT LIGHT IS WHITE BEACON THIS YEAR

Little Traverse lighthouse on Harbor Point is showing a white light this year instead of a red one, as has been the custom since the lighthouse was built. A recent ruling of the lighthouse department requires that the harbor be entered at the right of a white light and at the left of a red one, hence the change.

ELLSWORTH MOVES TO HOLD CANNERY

HOLDING ASSOCIATION FORMED TO RAISE MONEY

Farmers in Both Antrim and Charlevoix Counties Get Behind Move to Keep Industry

Prospects are bright for Ellsworth to keep their canning factory, according to Richard DeYoung, president of the Antrim-Charlevoix Holding association, which has been formed to raise needed money.

Progress is being made in financing the proposition of raising the $15,000 to erect buildings to be leased to Reid, Murdoch and Company of Chicago. A mass meeting was held last Friday afternoon at the canning factory in Ellsworth, attended by about two hundred growers and those who are interested in the project.

H. E. Wellman, prosecuting attorney of Antrim county, presented a plan in which everyone seemed interested. Attorney Arthur Fitch of Charlevoix, also gave figures in which this proposition could be worked out. A committee of five was chosen to work out the plan. Richard DeYoung, John Bos, Tony Shooks, G. P. Vanderark and H. S. Peebles were named as the committee.

At another meeting Monday evening, Wellman went over the articles of agreement which were drawn up, and Mr. Fitch also explained the proposition in detail. The organization, which was formed at this meeting, will be known as the Antrim-Charlevoix Holding association. An organization of this nature had to take place in order to provide good security in order to borrow money. Five directors and officers were elected, viz: president, Richard DeYoung; secretary, John Bos; treasurer, Tony Shooks; and directors, G. P. Vanderark and H. S. Peebles.

Elmer Rood, manager of the canning concern, stated that Reid and Murdoch, owners, would operate the coming season providing the proposition went through successfully. He said they would contract 350 acres of produce this season, and more next year. If the canning factory continues to operate in the future, they will add raspberries to the several commodities which they now can.

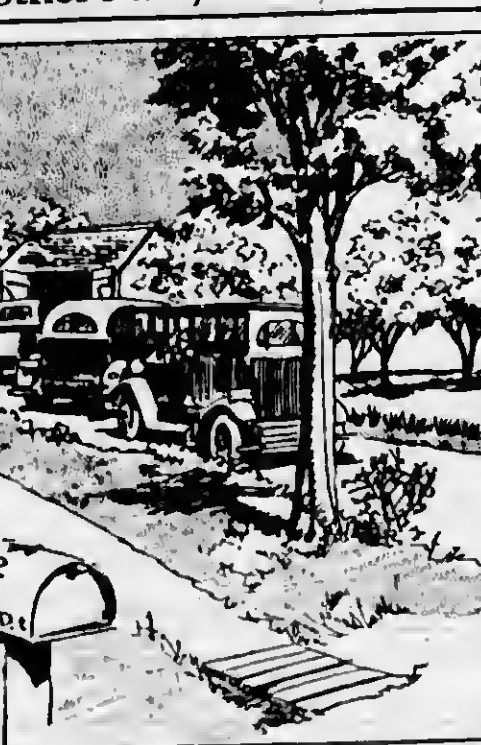

This year they expect to contract string beans, carrots and beets. The average price of beets will be nine dollars per ton; six dollars for carrots, and an average price of three dollars and fifteen cents per hundred pounds for string beans. It will cost Reid and Murdoch in the neighborhood of $20,000 to equip the new factory with machinery, and this is no small item in these times.

Two hundred growers had signed the agreement last Wednesday noon, with probably one hundred and fifty more to sign before Saturday, it was believed. Laborers also have signed the workers' agreement. Five per cent of their wages will be deducted from their pay check. The growers will charge $5.00 per acre or fraction of an acre. This is for a five year period. The growers will contribute in the neighborhood of $1750 per year, the workers about $1,000 and the volunteer subscription list will also be approximately $1,000. Of course the acreage is expected to be increased from year to year.

MRS. LOIS COOK, PIONEER RESIDENT, DEAD

Succumbed Friday Following Long Illness—Lived Here 60 Years

Charlevoix lost a much beloved and highly respected pioneer resident by the death at 5:10 o'clock last Friday morning of Mrs. George W. Cook. Mrs. Cook had been in ill health for several years and confined to her bed about two weeks prior to her death.

Lois V. Ferguson was born May 3, 1864, in Hamilton county, N. Y. She came with her parents to Charlevoix at the age of eight years, and on April 6, 1886, was united in marriage to George W. Cook, who preceded her in death in 1921. She had resided in this city 60 years.

Surviving are two daughters and a son, viz: Mrs. Sybil Bergman, this city; Mrs. Cora Howard, Muskegon; and George, Charlevoix; also three sisters, Mrs. J. M. Clark, Charlevoix; Mrs. E. Franks, Bancroft, and Mrs. L. Pepper, Lansing. There are also fourteen grandchildren.

Mrs. Cook was a charter member of Charlevoix Rebekah lodge, a life-long member of Baxter W. R. C., and had always attended the Congregational church.

Funeral services were held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon from the residence on Nichols street, Rev. G. R. Parker of the Congregational church, officiating. Interment was at Brookside.

PLANS READY FOR OLD-TIMERS' MEET

CHARLEVOIX - DETROIT CLUB PARTY, FRIDAY, MAY 13TH

Invitations Have Been Issued and Attendance of Three Hundred Expected at Initial "Get-Together"

Final plans for the big "get-together" meeting of the Charlevoix-Detroit club have been announced by William A. Carey, chairman.

The date has been set for Friday, May 13th, and place at the Y. W. C. A. branch at 2431 East Grand Blvd., Detroit. Those planning to attend are requested to watch for the "Charlevoix Club" sign.

Plans call for a self-serve dinner between the hours of 6:00 and 7:30 p. m. The invitation requests all to make their reservations in advance, and to bring cards, pedro, finch, checkers, dominoes, card tables; also musical instruments for the dance and any available snapshots of school days. Following the dinner, cards, dancing, visiting and other entertainment features are planned.

The committee in charge of the affair are still seeking former Charlevoix residents and request that they make their reservations at once. Replies to invitations are to be sent to P. E. Vandermark, 517 Dime Bank Bldg., Detroit. An attendance of at least three hundred is expected at this initial "get-together."

At this meeting an expression regarding a picnic at Belle Isle this summer will be solicited; also whether or not there is a desire to continue the Club, elect officers, etc. A cordial invitation is extended to Charlevoix residents to join their former neighbors at this meeting.

The "get-together" has prospect of being one of the best affairs of its kind ever held for former Charlevoix residents who are now located in southern Michigan. Every effort has been put forth to get in touch with every person formerly a resident of this city or nearby territory. The meeting will be similar to that held annually by the Charlevoix-Flint club, and the Charlevoix "get-together" meetings in Florida and California, which have always proven delightful events. If plans of forming a permanent organization are successful, meetings at intervals throughout each year are assured and the relationship between former Charlevoixians cemented more firmly.

MRS. HARRINGTON ENTER-TAINED PILGRIM CIRCLE

The Pilgrim Circle of the Congregational church was entertained last Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. R. L. Harrington. A delightful program was presented, including readings by Mrs. Harry Craig and Mrs. H. S. Harsha; recitations by Mrs. George Swinton; a piano duet by Martha and Bobby Craig, and a recitation by the latter. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

NEW BEAVER ISLAND BOAT IN OPERATION

INITIAL TRIP MADE ON MONDAY OF THIS WEEK

Beaver Island Steamship & Development Co. Formed to Operate Boat and Promote Resort Growth

The steamer "Ossian Bedell," purchased recently by Capt. J. H. Gallagher, Boyne City, and Harry Bingham, Detroit coal dealer, for the Charlevoix-Beaver island mail and passenger run, made its maiden trip Monday.

The new vessel, built in 1901 at Buffalo, N. Y., by the Buffalo Drydock Co., formerly operated as an excursion boat between that port and Erie, Pa. She is 116 ft. long, has a beam of 28 ft. and draft of 12 ft. Formerly licensed to carry 600 passengers, the vessel has excellent cabin accommodations in addition to sufficient deck space for several automobiles and freight.

Capt. Gallagher arrived here with the boat Friday morning. Before leaving Buffalo, repairs were made in dry dock. The boilers, hull and machinery was put in first class condition and the boat passed A-1 inspection there. Before making the initial trip, a new stairway to the upper deck was built to allow greater deck room, and cleaning operations and other necessary repairs were carried out.

The vessel will carry a crew of six. Mr. Gallagher will be captain; George LaBlanc, engineer; Alton Smith, assistant engineer; F. J. McGrath, Buffalo, A. S., Andrew Gallagher, St. James, and James F. Gallagher, Jr., seamen. The early season schedule calls for lay-over at St. James harbor. The boat leaves here each afternoon at 2 o'clock, stays over night at St. James and returns here at 11:15 o'clock the following morning. Daily schedule will be inaugurated early in June.

The boat is being operated by the Beaver Island Steamship & Development Co., a corporation formed recently for acquisition of the boat and for development of resort property on Beaver island. The corporation is capitalized at $25,000, with Capt. J. H. Gallagher and Harry H. Bingham, owner of the Bingham Coal Co., Detroit, the principal stockholders. It is planned to sell a small portion of the company's stock on a partial payment plan at ten dollars per share, with a limit of ten shares to each purchaser.

Other plans call for an extensive development campaign to sell Beaver island resort property. Connections have been made with automobile clubs in Detroit and Chicago in addition to other sources for development purposes. In view of the rapid resort growth on Beaver island in the past two or three years with only a mild promotion, sponsors of the present project look with optimism upon success of the venture.

Beaver island has many attractions to offer vacation seekers. Promotion of wild game propagation has given the island abundant deer, pheasants, muskrat, etc., and the lakes and streams offer splendid fishing. Many cottages have been built in recent years and summer visitors to the island have increased in large numbers.

It is reported that Dr. Duffie has subscribed a good substantial sum towards the erection of Ellsworth's canning factory. In calling up Richard DeYoung this (Monday) morning he appears quite optimistic that the amount of money, $15,000, will be secured from banks and that the proposition will be a success. He says they will know this Monday evening. Over 300 farmers, it is understood, have signed up for aiding the proposition. It will be a decided success if gone through with and will greatly help the farmers, who are badly in need of financial aid since not being able to get money yet from J. B. Rice Seed company. Taxes are held back and school funds will be cut short if aid is not given. Later, (Tuesday) Mr. DeYoung sends word that the deal has gone through all right and the canning factory will stay. Mr. DeYoung, chairman, with the remainder of the board, held a meeting Monday night and everything is OK.

Correlative passages read from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, included the following (p.5): "Sorrow for wrong-doing is but one step towards reform and the very easiest step. The next and great step required by wisdom is the test of our sincerity,—namely, reformation."

CHILD HYGIENE

Public health officials and private physicians are directing their efforts to the prevention of disease and physical defects. They know that disease prevention is a fundamental step in raising the health standard of the country. With this thought in mind child hygiene is becoming an ever more important factor in the health crusade. The Children's Fund is carrying on a state-wide health program that is reaching into thousands of homes where prevention of sickness has not received proper attention.

Some highly worth while facts on child hygiene are given by Dr. Carlton Dean, director of the Children's Fund in this district. The information contained in Dr. Dean's statements is worthy of careful consideration of parents of young children.

His views on child hygiene follow: Child hygiene begins one generation ahead of disease. It attacks the cause of bad health and tries to remedy these factors rather than the effects of bad health. As an example, babies do not during the first two months of life develop the disease known as scurvy which is caused by a lack of Vitamin C. However, if we go on feeding babies without giving them the proper amount of Vitamin C which is found in orange juice, the baby will develop this condition. By starting babies with orange juice during the first month of life, we prevent the disease—we treat the cause rather than wait until the baby has scurvy and then provide a treatment for same. We have supplied a sufficient amount of Vitamin C and have prevented the disease.

These methods of prevention offer the most certain way of assuring a healthy adult generation. Child hygiene, therefore, is a great entering wedge for the entire public health program, and as a means of assuring a generation free from disease, it occupies a peculiar position in the public health field.

To properly consider child hygiene, the child's life should be grouped into different periods depending upon the relationship of child life such as prenatal and maternal care, infant hygiene, health protection and health promotion of pre-school children, supervision of the health of the school child, protection of children from the health hazards of industry, and other numerous groups.

It is interesting to note that one-tenth of all the deaths yearly in the United States takes place in one-fiftieth of all the population namely, infants under one year of age. Also that one-sixth of all deaths in the United States occur in approximately one-eighth of the population or group of children under five years old. This data is important as indicating the population groups among which more intensive protective measures are needed, namely the children under five years of age.

As an example, bad hearts, lungs, kidneys, ears, eyes and so forth, may be caused by diseases such as scarlet fever, measles, pneumonia and diphtheria. If we can prevent these diseases from reaching children we are going to save numerous lives and prevent the forming of these conditions which in themselves tend to produce poor health.

AN UNFAIR TAX

Non-resident nimmers will be charged an exorbitant fee for a fishing license this year. They will be obliged to pay $4 and that is not fair.

It is simply another way of killing the goose that lays the golden egg. Statistics or a check up or whatever you call it credits the tourist and resort business as the second best "industry" our state boasts. Those out of state visitors help us build our roads with their gas tax. They buy summer homes and pay heavy taxes, to township authorities that use them as the goat. They help a lot toward keeping northern Michigan out of the "dole" class, and then after generously paying for this and that we soak them another four bucks if they take a notion to wet a line. In the face of that kind of treatment for our summer visitors we haven't the "guts" to charge a dollar rod license to hundreds of our fellows that don't pay a cent's tax that the county must keep through the winter months if not at other times. We cloak conservation under a pretty guise and we stress it in our lures held out to attract new money to our state, but what has it come to be in the minds of our illustrious legislators, simply a political football. Conservation Director Hogarth ventured out into the state to acquaint people with real conservation, but illness called him back home, and the message he might have spread was checked in its beginning.

A CRYING NEED!

Another tourist season is just around the corner, and with this thought in mind, it occurs to us that now is a pretty good time to make plans for changes and improvements in preparation for the summer instead of waiting until the vacation-seekers are with us again, asking for those services and conveniences which they have a natural right to expect.

We of Charlevoix have for many years boasted our little city as the leading resort center of Northern Michigan—and rightly so. Nature endowed us generously with natural advantages other resort communities do not have.

It is well that we boost our resort attractions, too, for when one considers seriously, he finds that it is just exactly all Charlevoix has to boost—plainly speaking it is our very bread and butter.

In the line of necessary improvements we call attention to Charlevoix's lack of public bathing facilities. We boast of our sandy Lake Michigan beaches, our beautiful Lake Charlevoix and our splendid, sheltered harbor. Did anyone ever stop to consider that when the tourist arrived here dusty and tired, sees our wonderful lakes and inquires for a place to change so he might enjoy a swim, that we have none to offer? Such is the case. We must tell him we have none, direct him to Youngs State Park, Walloon lake or some other nearby resort where they have such facilities. Instead of stopping with us a while, the tourist gets into his car and leaves our city, in all likelihood pretty much disgusted.

To our knowledge, this deficiency has been brought to attention in the annual report of the commercial association secretary for several years. So far no move has been made to remedy the condition. We have bathing beaches both on Lake Michigan and Lake Charlevoix where public bath houses might be erected.

No person, or group of persons, having the best interests of Charlevoix at heart would block such a necessary move. Local improvements are necessary and proper, but improvements which will make Charlevoix more attractive to the tourist are imperative. If we make no effort to attract and hold the vacation-seeker, we are killing the one and only source of revenue we have.

WASHINGTON DOESN'T HEED

When the Grand Rapids Herald nearly two months ago placed at the masthead of its editorial column the demand "Taxes must come down!" it was not speaking only of local or for its readers only. Nor was it speaking only of local taxes or state taxes. It was voicing a national demand which since has become articulate in numerous ways. If Congress is in any degree cognizant of its functions as a representative body, the demand will be heeded nationally as it already is being acted upon locally.

Up to date there is, however, little evidence that Congress has heard, or, hearing, proposes to heed the demand. Certainly the efforts of the House of Representatives to raise the highest tax in history are not in harmony with public sentiment. And certainly there never has been in all of our legislative history a stranger picture than that of the present Congress piling extravagance upon extravagance, with the federal treasury empty.

The House promises now, in response to the pleadings of the leadership of both parties and Speaker Garner, that it will provide additional revenue to balance the budget, overcoming the present deficit and meeting the operating costs of government, plus appropriations for special projects. So far as this pledge applies to balancing the budget no sane American can disapprove. The budget must be balanced; but Congress seems to be suffering from the misapprehension that the deficit can be wiped out only by increasing income. That outgo may be decreased apparently hasn't penetrated to the sacred chambers of our national legislature.

There is nothing in the House pledge and very little in Congressional activities, aside from the earnest efforts of a minority bipartisan group, that gives promise of a reduction in the costs of federal government. Gentlemen whom the taxpayers have sent to represent them in Congress are living in a segregated atmosphere of plenty. The 1,200,000 federal employees haven't felt the bitter effects of depression. They, along with other holders of public office, are alone in enjoyment of a "normalcy" that has become an "abnormalcy."

Appeals for economy are out of harmony with this opulent contentment of Washington, where the boom standards of 1929 endure at the expense of the American taxpayer.

Something in the Washington spectacle is ominously reminiscent of Nero fiddling while Rome burned.—Grand Rapids Herald.

THE "MORNING AFTER"

Anyone who has indulged in strenuous exercise knows what "getting the second wind" means. There are a lot of people and a lot of industries getting their "second wind" in a business and financial way today.

Those industries and individuals with constitutions strong enough to stand the "reducing process" of the past two years have sweated off their overload of fat, secured "their second wind" and are ready for real work.

Their "morning after" was inevitable. But it was so severe that many of them are still frightened of all nourishment—good as well as bad.

Retrenchment, economy and starvation diets, now being practiced in the extreme, do as much harm as the reign of gluttony and extravagance that preceded them.

The nation now depends on the men and industries that have their "second wind" and are ready to proceed on a normal diet of production and earnings.

More fires occur in the winter than in the summer months, and it is estimated by fire chiefs that there are a third more fires at night than during the daylight hours.

Required Yearly Statement of Children's Fund of Michigan

Complying with the deed of trust by which James Couzens created the Children's Fund of Michigan three years ago with a gift of $10,000,000, a public report recounting the activities and achievements of the Fund during the preceding twelve months has been issued by Wm. J. Norton, executive vice-president.

For District No. 3, comprising Charlevoix, Antrim, Emmet and Otsego counties, the program was continued under the direction of Dr. Carleton Denn of this city. The following report of activities has been made:

13,324 health examinations and inspections were given to the children of the district; 2,832 children were protected against diphtheria and smallpox; 1,954 defects were corrected and 2,196 visits to homes were made; 5,619 dental examinations were made; 2,002 fillings were inserted and 1,040 extractions made; 1,642 sanitary inspections were made by the sanitary officer; 69 mothers' classes were given by Dr. Hennessy; 45 demonstrations in health practices were given by the staff.

Only those who have taken sufficient interest to acquaint themselves, and those who have come in direct contact with the work of the District Health Unit through accommodations to themselves, can possibly appreciate the full benefit of this humanitarian project, Charlevoix county, as well as all other districts coming under its influence, are indeed fortunate.

SPRING MUSICAL CON-CERT HIGHLY ENJOYED

School Band, Girls' Glee Club and Mixed Chorus in Program Friday

The annual spring concert of the Charlevoix school band, Albert W. Rider, conductor, took place in the school gymnasium Friday evening, April 29th.

The opening number, Kloeher's "Men of Valor" march, was conducted by Hugh Parker, student director for Mr. Rider. The second and third numbers were "Urbana Overture" and Beethoven's "German Dances." Both of these numbers will be heard Friday evening when they are to be performed by the massed bands which will be entertained for the district music festival here in Charlevoix.

Another contest number on the program was a selection from the well known Wagner opera "Tannhauser." This number is the one which will be used in grading the class C bands. Mr. Rider's interpretation of this number seemed superb in every respect. The fullness of tone in the "Pilgrim's Chorus" was well executed as well as the "Evening Star" (original solo for baritone in the opera) was appealing and attractive as played by Carl Beattie on the trombone.

Two novelty numbers lent much interest to the program. A group of Southern melodies and an unusual arrangement of Harold Bennett's march "Military Escort."

The girls' glee club and the mixed chorus, under the direction of Esther Mary Atkinson, contributed two delightful numbers. The former group sang "Come Lively May" by Clement Jannequin, and the latter sang "In These Delightful Pleasant Graves" by Purcell.

BEAVER PLANTED NEAR LOWER MCGEAGH CREEKFirst in This Portion of County in Memory of Old Residents

The first wild beaver to roam the woods of the western portion of Charlevoix county in the memory of old local residents, was liberated on state-owned property on McGeagh creek recently by Conservation Officer Ed. Deuel of Boyne City.

There was originally a pair of beaver, taken in state live-trapping operations on Minnie creek in Emmet county, but the female died. A mate for the male beaver will be taken to McGeagh creek as soon as procured.

The McGeagh creek location should make an excellent place for beaver habitat. There is sufficient feed and water for dam site along the stream on land owned by the state and dedicated as game preserve.

It is understood that live trapping of nuisance beaver will be carried on by the conservation department on Moyer creek, and Jordan and Boyne rivers within the next few weeks. Legal trapping last winter caused only a small decrease in the number of beaver, according to reports, and they are now sufficiently numerous to cause considerable damage to farm and woods lands. Plantings on other streams where beaver do not exist at the present time, will be made.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY AT BOYNE CITY FRIDAYParticipants in "Home Furnishing" Projects Display Work

Great plans have been made for the annual Achievement Day sponsored by the ladies in the county who have participated in the home furnishing project.

It will be held in the Presbyterian church in Boyne City on Friday, May 6. Thirteen organized groups have received the four lessons under the supervision of Miss Gertrude Reis, specialist from the Michigan State college. A total of 23 leaders have received the instructions and carried them back to their own group.

The big feature of this event will be the display of over 200 rugs made by the ladies interested in this project. When one stops to consider the fact that these rugs have been made from hurlan overalls and other worn-out materials, then one will appreciate the wonderful work being done in this project. A most pleasing program is being developed including music, humorous numbers, short playlets and many other features.

The public is invited and cordially urged to attend this Achievement Day.

Teachers' Banquet

Tuesday evening, May 3, Miss Edith Seckell of West State Teachers college, spoke to the Charlevoix faculty at a dinner held at the Hotel Charlevoix, Teachers from Petoskey, East Jordan and Boyne City, were guests at the meeting. The subject of Miss Seckell's talk was "Curriculum Articulation." This is the beginning of a definite attempt on the part of the local faculty to formulate a more coherent and practical course of study for use in the Charlevoix schools. A group study of curriculum problems will be made throughout the school during 1932-33.

The faculty of the Charlevoix school is planning and making arrangements to take a trip to Beaver Island sometime before the end of this school year. They have not, as yet, found an available boat which will accommodate them all.

Third Grade Spring Play

A play entitled "A Gift in the Garden," was given by the third grade last Thursday morning for the elementary children. The stage was the garden full of boys and girls, representing flowers. Freda Willis did some good acting with the part of the little girl who had been chosen to be Queen of the May, and felt that she couldn't be the queen because she didn't have the pretty clothes she would need. Eleanor Harrington was the Fairy of the Flowers, who helped to make the children happy. Marjorie Wood took the part of the little rich girl and Phyllis VanAlsbury, the little poor girl. All of the children took their parts well and produced a pretty spring program.

Next week the first grade will present the play, "Johnny Appleseed."

The fifth and sixth graders are painting vases for Mother's day.

Doris Howe and Dorothy Olszewski were recently awarded Palmer Method Progress pins.

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 25c and 50c a bottle—any drug store.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia tooth-paste.

Each student might use his own individual ideas. They ranged all the way from art work and poetry to programs and refreshments. Upon the suggestion of Mr. Coulter, Rev. Parker was invited to meet with the class Thursday morning. His talk was greatly appreciated, and his valuable hints on poster work were gratefully received.

Miss LuCount and Miss Crump of Harbor Springs and Alanson, respectively, made a business trip to the normal here.

Miss Bigge is addressing a P. T. A. meeting at the Knop school Friday evening.

Schedules are arranged for the last teaching period. Whole day teaching is still on the program.

THE HOMEMAKERS' CORNER

By Home Economics Specialists

The dinner menu should be built around one hot dish, a protein, to continue the general outline for planning meals for the average family of five, which was begun last week by nutrition specialists at Michigan State college. This dish may consist of meat, eggs, beans, or peas, or cereal and cheese. The accompanying articles are practically the same in all cases.

A meat stew with vegetables and dumplings would be an excellent choice on a low cost menu. The adults and older boy will be given generous servings, the girl of 6-8 will have a small amount of meat, a large serving of vegetables, and bread or potato in place of the dumplings as they are rather difficult to digest. The youngest member of the family will be given some of the vegetables, mashed with a fork, no meat, and no dumplings.

Though from a nutritional viewpoint it would not be necessary to add another vegetable, a salad or a cooked vegetable might be included for variety. Bread and butter should be provided in ample quantities. A dessert, such as baked apple, cornstarch pudding, junket, or custard could be served to all the family. The dessert should be only slightly sweetened for the smallest child, but may be made more palatable by the addition of raisins, more sugar, or a very few nut meats for the older persons.

The menu for lunch or supper will be discussed next week, which will suggest the general outline of an inexpensive meal for a family of five including a man, a woman, a boy of 14-18, a girl of 6-8, and a boy or girl of 1-2 years of age.

MICHIGAN DEPARTMENT OF STATE WEEKLY NEWS

Many persons, who apply to the department of state for information regarding ownership of automobiles, do not know that complete motor vehicle registration lists are furnished to all sheriffs and to police departments in cities of over 10,000 population.

Lists furnished the various law enforcing agencies are accurate for all ordinary purposes and those seeking information, often will be able to obtain it from their local officials immediately. But where the information is to be used for legal purposes or where it is necessary to verify the local lists for possible transfers of ownership of vehicles, requests should be sent to the department. At the present time more than 200 requests are received daily.

Michigan's revenue from collection of the weight tax on trucks will be increased more than $100,000 in 1932 because of the use of official weight receipts, records of the department of state show, according to Orville E. Atwood, chief of the motor vehicle division.

Records show that the new change in issuing truck license plates only upon presentation of an official weight receipt, has resulted in an increase in the registered weights of many trucks this year as compared with the 1931 weight for the same vehicle.

The Public Acts of the Extra Session of 1932 will be ready for distribution by the department of state three or four weeks after the legislature adjourns. As rapidly as new laws are added to the state's statutes, they are being sent to the state printer. Every act so far passed by the special session has become effective immediately.

Five questions at least are certain to be submitted to the voters of Michigan at the November election. Forms of petitions for four other proposed constitutional changes have been approved by the department of state, but sufficient signatures have not been filed with the department as yet, to insure places on the ballot.

Three of the questions will be placed on the ballot by mandate of the 1931 legislature. Two of the questions involve changes in election laws and the third is on the subject of pardons for those convicted of first degree murder.

The oleomargarine bill, adopted in 1931 and prohibiting the use of colored oleo, has been held in abeyance by the filing of referendum petitions and will be on the ballot for approval or disapproval of the voters.

The first proposal to change the constitution, instituted by petitions, calls for changes in the prohibition statutes.

New Jersey is the latest state to be willing to extend complete reciprocity to other states in laws for passenger and commercial automobiles. A bill authorizing full reciprocity has just been adopted by that state. Twenty-four other states have power to extend either complete or partial reciprocity.

All states interested in this subject are to attend a conference in Washington May 5. Michigan Department of State takes part in these conferences under authorization of a resolution adopted by the 1931 legislature, and a report is to be made to the 1933 legislature suggesting several changes whereby Michigan reciprocity to other states in laws for securing uniform motor vehicle registration and traffic laws.

Unnecessary withdrawals by shareholders of Michigan building and loan associations, seriously hamper business, Coleman C. Vaughan, director of the building and loan division of the department of state, declared recently.

"The effect of large numbers of withdrawals," he said, "is to stop needed loans in order to pay withdrawals; and when withdrawals cannot be paid as fast as presented, it causes others to withhold investments, the withdrawing shareholders themselves preventing new loans and new investors putting in money and seriously affecting the earnings of their corporation.

"If every application for withdrawal of shares in Michigan building and loan associations were canceled at once, new money would soon come in to loan, earnings would increase and shareholders would be benefited thereby. It seems probable, based on past experience, that if this were done the associations would, in a reasonable time, be able to resume paying off applications for withdrawal on demand, as they did generally for many years. It is hoped that all shareholders will try this plan of canceling applications and will say to themselves:

"This is my association, I am a shareholder and a part of it; it is my business and I will stand by and help to make it stronger and a blessing to the community in the future, as it has been in the past."

"Not a building and loan association in Michigan was closed in 1931."

With only a little more than one week remaining before May 1, department of state records show that there are between 300,000 and 400,000 motorists whose old licenses expire on that date and who have not secured new automobile operators' licenses.

Banker-Farmer Plan

An editorial in Southern Cultivator says: "Favorable comment is being made upon the wisdom and promised results of the farmer-banker agricultural program in Georgia. Industrial leaders and publicists, noting that 115 of the 161 counties in the state have pledged prosecution of the 'live-at-home' farm reform, are regarding the working out of the plan this year as of more interest to American farmers than any developments of the Soviet five-year plan in Russia. Agricultural actuaries are of the opinion that if Georgia farmers, backed by our co-operating bankers and supply men, demonstrate the expected economies and profits of this home-support plan, it will quickly become a contagious custom all over the agricultural areas of the nation. It will be the writing of a new declaration of independence for the individualist farmers of the south, putting them upon solid terms of credit and prosperity without need of recourse to federal or state financial relief measures. The man of the soil who lives year in and year out on his own will stand up in his community as an economic freeman, making his own terms with the world of finance and trade."

A meeting of farmers, bankers, and newspaper men of St. Croix County, Wisconsin, recently organized a drive to promote the growing of alfalfa in such quantity as to save the dairyman the expense of commercial feed, and insure greater dairy profits. It is planned in this campaign to have, within the next three years, at least one acre of alfalfa produced for each dairy cow in the county, or a total of about 40,000 acres.

Appreciation for the cooperation received from local bankers was recently expressed by County Agent H. E. Bodley of Gallatin County, Montana, who said: "My personal experience has been that the average banker will go more than half way with the county agent, providing the latter has demonstrated that his work is constructive and conservative, that he is a man capable of handling confidential information and treating it as such, and one who can 'keep his feet on the ground.'"

How One Woman

Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight. I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it." To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen. Pointers for Shrub and Tree Planters

By GODFREY J. McDONALD.

Never allow the roots of shrubs or trees which are being transplanted to be exposed to the sun, to drying winds or to frost. Keep them wrapped in damp moss, or heel them in the ground.

Whenever you cut or prune wood, make a sharp, clean cut; leave no ragged or jagged ends on roots or top.

Be sure that holes dug to receive plants are large enough to receive all roots without cramping.

Spread out the roots in a natural position and work fine loam among them. Be sure that no air holes remain, but that all roots are in contact with earth, which is firmed and compacted.

Never allow any undecayed manure to come in contact with the roots; nor undecayed leaves, or wood, in any quantity.

Be careful not to plant too deeply, but always set the plant about an inch lower than it grew in the nursery row. The mark of the surface will usually be plainly be seen.

Remove all broken branches in the top, and cut back at least one-half of the previous year's growth of wood.

In cutting back dormant stock, as in pruning, be careful to cut just above a bud and close it and let this be an outside bud, that is, one which grows from it away from the center of the plant. This keeps the center open, to let in air and light, and lessens the likelihood of crossed stems.

Shrubs and trees should be allowed to grow naturally, unless they are to be shaped to conform to a set pattern; and it is important to place them in their new location, in the same position relative to the sunlight to which they have been accustomed. They will usually incline a trifle toward the sun. Set them so this inclination need not be changed, as it will take energy to change it. In the open, plants will incline slightly toward the south; but in sheltered and partly shaded places, they will bend in the direction from which the sun shines upon them.

PUBLIC PROVIDES MATTER FOR NEW TYPE ADVERTISING

Interviews Written by Experienced Reporters Featured in Standard Oil 1932 Campaign

As one answer to the problem of building business in spite of adverse conditions in 1932, Standard Oil is now putting on an extensive and unique campaign of advertising its motor oil.

The campaign is attracting much attention because of its novelty in using the newspaper interview as the means of carrying a message to the public.

This year's advertising story regarding the motor oils completes a three-year program. In 1930 the company's production of a new kind of oil was featured with stress on the laboratory proof of its qualities. In 1931 the advertising reported proof of the quality of the oil by practical engineering tests made on the Indianapolis speedway and in zero cold rooms, under the eagle eye of the contest hoard of the American Automobile association, and by a road test that lasted for several months.

For this year's proof the company decided to turn to the acid test of public opinion. To make this test a novel plan was adopted. Robert J. Casey, veteran Chicago reporter, and Miss Margaret Lane, daughter of the editor of the Northcliffe newspapers in England, and herself a newspaper writer of note, were enlisted to go out and ask long-time users what they thought of Iso-Vis oils. A photographer went along to take snapshots of the actual interviews and cars involved. And now from week to week the company's ads are presenting the stories these reporters brought back of what Mr. and Mrs. Public had to say about their experience with the oils. No money was paid in any instance to the persons interviewed.

ORCHARD GLEANINGS

GRAFTED GRAPES PROVE SUPERIOR

Greatly improved quality and increased yields of fruit are the chief advantages to be gained by grafting desirable varieties of grapes on hardy root stocks, says E. E. Gladwin, grape specialist of the Geneva (N. Y.) experiment station, who has been conducting experiments with grafted grapes for the past several years.

Such well-known varieties of American grapes as Delaware, Campbell, Niagara, Concord, Iona, Catawba, etc., have certain defects which detract from their value as commercial possibilities, says Mr. Gladwin. Some of them set more fruit than they can mature; some are erratic in their bearing habits and are over-sensitive to soil conditions; while some have the "off-year" habit to a marked extent or tend to "run-out" or deteriorate in yield and quality. Although grafting is not a cure-all, many of these defects have been overcome by grafting these varieties on hardy root stocks, says this authority.

Clinton, Elzaphan, Glorie, and Hupar-tris St. George were used as root stocks in the station experiments, and several standard varieties were bench-grafted on them by the ship-and-tongue method. Records have now been obtained for a sufficiently long time to show that American grapes can be materially improved in quality, that yields can be increased, and that more vigorous vines can be obtained by bench-grafting desirable varieties on suitable root stocks.

The cost of grafting is still a serious handicap to the method coming into practical use until more economical processes can be perfected. It is said. Indications are, however, that cheaper methods will soon follow and in the meantime grape owners are urged to give the method a trial on a small scale. Certainly, in small vineyards for home use grafted vines are to be preferred to those propagated by cuttings.

Rye and Vetch Combined Favored as Cover Crop

Replying to the query as to what combination of rye and vetch would be good for a cover crop, the American Farm Grower Magazine makes the following reply:

A combination of a bushel of rye to 20 pounds of vetch will make an excellent cover crop. The rye and vetch should be sown as soon as the hot weather of summer is past. This will usually be about August 15. At about that time the dry weather, if any, is usually broken by a rain, and cooler weather begins to come, particularly at night. It is advisable to get the vetch sown fairly early, for the plants are rather slow to become well established. However, the seed should not be sown while the ground is still dry and the weather hot. Be sure to use winter vetch.

If you use good seed, sow it at the right time, and are lucky enough to have good weather, you will easily get a good stand and obtain a good cover crop. The best distribution of seed is usually obtained with a seed drill. This method also gets all the seed into the ground and prevents the wastage that always follows broadcast sowing.

Time of Picking Apples Important for Storage

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture)

September and October are the principal apple-picking months. Picking apples at the right time to catch the qualities most desired in the markets and to avoid injuries in storage is important to growers. The picking maturity varies with the different varieties and with the conditions of storage which they will undergo. Department bulletin, 1448-D, which may be obtained by application to the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C., includes the tests to be applied to the principal varieties. Color, firmness, and the tenacity with which the fruit adheres to the tree, are the principal points to be observed. In several varieties, otherwise similar, a few days' difference in picking may produce wide differences in keeping qualities and dessert values. The use of pressure test apparatus for determining the firmness of the fruit is advised. This apparatus measures the pressure required to force a plunger of stated size into the pared fruit for a given distance. At this distance an electric contact is made and a flashlight indicates the point at which the reading should be made. The Arkansas Black apple usually tests 25 pounds when in picking condition, while the McIntosh is ready for storage when it registers not less than 14 or 15 pounds.

TRELLISES HELP ALL CANE FRUITS

Artificial support for some cane fruits is desirable. There are some kinds that have weak and drooping canes and others make very long growth in a single season. When they grow downward and get matted into the soil, it is hard to pick berries and difficult to bundle them.

There are three main types of trellis used. These are the single wire, the two-wire horizontal, and the two-wire vertical. In all cases the posts should be set from 25 to 30 feet apart. The height of the posts above the ground is from three to five feet for the single wire trellis, and as a rule four feet is about right.

In the single wire system a No. 10 wire is stapled to the posts and the canes are then tied to it. They may be tied loosely in groups or in single canes. Use soft cord or raffia. Do not use sharp wire in tying them.

The two-wire horizontal trellis costs more to make, but it cuts out tying. In this case a 15 to 18-inch cross-piece is fastened to the posts at the desired height and a wire is fastened along the ends of the crosspieces.

Use twenty-four material for cross pieces. The wires are kept from spreading too much between the posts by loosely stapling pieces of one-by-one-inch stuff to them. These can be spaced at any desired distance. Where one wants to lay down the canes for winter protection, the center posts can be replaced by a support such as shown. The wires may be held by staples driven in part way or by a nail bent down over the wire.

The two-wire vertical trellis is not used much except for tall growing red raspberries. It requires longer posts and more care in tying up the canes.

Essential Factors for Producing Quality Milk

It is not difficult to find dairy farms with beautiful buildings and the latest types of equipment that are not producing high grade milk, or to find dairymen of education who, for one reason or another, are not doing so. Proper equipment and good education are valuable and helpful, but back of it all the dairymen himself is the most important factor. There are many dairymen who produce high quality milk uniformly although they have simple equipment. It is the will to do the necessary things well and in the proper time that counts.

The essential factors that underlie the production of high quality milk may be summarized as follows: (1) Clean barns, clean milkhouses, clean milker, and clean and healthy cows. (2) Proper washing and effective sterilization of all utensils. (3) Prompt cooling of the milk to 60 degrees Fahrenheit or lower and keeping it at that temperature until delivered.

Macaroni Gains Favor

The general use of macaroni in this country has developed largely in the past forty or fifty years, before that time it was confined chiefly to the Italian immigrants. As the name implies it is an Italian invention and was formerly a distinctive produce of Italy. When containing a large percentage of gluten is required. This macaroni when or durum is now being raised in the United States, particularly in the Northwest. In the process of manufacture the wheat is ground into a coarse meal, from which the bran is removed; then it is worked into a dough with hot water and this dough is squeezed through cylinders perforated with holes of the required size, and dried. A large amount of macaroni and similar products is imported by the United States annually from Italy.

"No corn—no credit" was a slogan adopted by bankers of Saluda, South Carolina, last year. "The proposition was kept before our people by a display advertisement in the county paper, several weeks prior to corn planting time. As a result we have more corn raised in the county this year than ever previously, regardless of the need of rain in many sections," said one of the bankers in reviewing the results. Home gardens was another project advocated with like results.

DELINQUENT TAX LAW EXPLAINED

REP. HINKLEY TELLS OF MOVE TO AID DELINQUENTS

Penalty Is Reduced Appreciably and Time Limit for Payment of Back Taxes Is Extended

(From Petoskey Evening News.)
Special session legislature now pending at Lansing in regard to extensions of time on delinquent taxes was explained by Representative D.
H. Hinkley in an interview which follows:

"House Bill No. 2 makes the following changes in the law:

"(1.) It gives the extra year in which to redeem from the 1932 tax sales. The present law allows one year in which to redeem. This bill allows two years. (The senate proposes to attach an amendment to this bill providing that the second year's extension of time will be granted only if the taxpayer pays 40 per cent on the amount of the tax sale before May 1, 1933.)

"(2.) The bill also provides that in paying delinquent taxes, they can be paid one year at a time. The present law requires after a tax sale, that if you wish to redeem, you have to pay all delinquent taxes.

"(3.) The bill provides that if a tax shark buys a title, he is only entitled to a penalty of 50 per cent instead of 100 per cent as is now allowed by law. Of course, he would not be entitled to any penalty if the sale is redeemed within the two years allowed by this act.

"House Bill No. 8 relates to delinquent taxes of 1930 and 1931 and provides that if 25 per cent of the taxes for either of these years is paid by October 1, 1932, the date of sale of the land for delinquent taxes will be postponed one year and on the amount paid, the interest will be reduced from three-fourths of one per cent per month to one-half of one per cent per month.

"House Bill No. 2 has passed the house and senate and will become a law immediately if signed by Gov.
Brueker, who has expressed a desire for such relief legislation. House Bill
No. 8 is still in the senate with indications it will shortly be passed and become a law."

"Fireman, Save My Child," Joe E.
Brown's latest comedy for First National pictures, which comes to the Palace theatre next Wednesday and Thursday, has one of the most important casts ever seen in a Brown picture. Supporting Brown in the leading feminine roles are Evalyn
Knapp, as the home town girl, and Lillian Bond, as the blonde adventu-ress. This is Miss Knapp's second role since the severe injury which confined her to Hollywood hospital for several months.

The acting roster and the parts played by the cast read as follows:
"Smoky" Joe Grant, assistant fire chief and local baseball hero, Joe E.
Brown; Sally, Evalyn Knapp; June,
Lillian Bond; Pop, Guy Kibbee; Mascot, George Ernest; fire chief, George MacFarlane; Larkin, Ben Hendricks,
Jr.; Dan Toby, Richard Carle; Mr.
Platt, Walter Walker; baseball players, George Meeker, Andy Devine, Frank Shallenbach.

Broadway Smash by Philip Barry
Now On Screen

"Tomorrow and Tomorrow," Philip Barry's play of a courageous, unconventional wife to whom marriage is not sufficiently soul-satisfying, is the latest starring film vehicle for Ruth Chatterton, recently completed at Paramount's west coast studios.

This philosophical, yet clearly understandable emotional drama is the Palace theatre's feature for two days, beginning Saturday of this week. Paul Lukas supports Miss Chatterton in the featured male lead.

The play, the latest by the author of more than ten recent Broadway successes, enjoyed a long run in New York and is now playing in numerous large cities throughout the nation.

PLANS READY TO TAKE COUNTY SCHOOL CENSUS

Work Started Next Week Under Direction School Commissioner

The annual school census for Charlevoix county will be started next week, according to School Commissioner Wm. C. Palmer.

Conforming with the new state law, the enumerators will be hired this year by the county school commissioner. Mr. Palmer stated that almost in every instance, those who handled the work satisfactorily in the past have been given preference.

The plan carried out is to hire a director from each school district, thus spreading the work and pay over a wider territory.

BROOK TROUT PLANT IN STREAMS MONDAY

Twenty-Five Thousand from Northville Hatchery Distributed

Twenty-five thousand fingerling brook trout, received Monday afternoon from the Northville hatchery, were planted in Charlevoix county streams by members of the Charlevoix Sportsman's club.

The consignment was divided between Stover, Monroe and Horton creeks. Several donated their cars and time to transfer the trout to the streams. This is the first of several consignments of trout to be received and planted in local waters within the next few weeks.

FIELD SERVICE OFFI- CER GAVE INSTRUCTION

Legionnaires from Charlevoix, Antrim, Kalkaska Counties Attended

Leslie T. Shapton Post, American Legion, had an honored guest Tuesday evening, in the person of Horace
C. Parrish, field service officer of the state department of the Legion, who is holding schools of instruction for post officers in various centrally located communities for groups of counties throughout the state. Mr.
Parrish held private interviews at the local Legion hall during the afternoon, with veterans from the counties of Charlevoix, Antrim and Kalkaska having disability and compensation claims to present and, in the evening, following a pot-luck supper, addressed an assemblage of some forty Legionnaires and ex-service men giving an intensely interesting description of his work and explaining the duties of post service officers.

Among the various activities of the local post, the treasure hunt scheduled for 9 o'clock p. m. Thursday evening, May 5th, is in the foreground. Junior baseball is progressing satisfactorily and considerable new equipment has been ordered.
Spring grading on the Legion home grounds was pressed to near-completion by a volunteer detail of the members Tuesday evening, who worked up remarkable appetites for the supper. The post bugle and drum corps will drill Thursday evening, preceding the treasure hunt. Members should come early so as to get in as much drill as possible by daylight.

The last week in this month is the Legion's poppy sales week. The poppies sold are manufactured solely by the inmates of U. S. Veterans' hospital No. 100 at Battle Creek, who receive a portion of the revenue therefrom, the balance going into general relief work. This is a worthy end and should be liberally supported by the public for whom these shut-in veterans offered all they had and suffered much.

All members of the local post are requested to be present at the regular meeting next Tuesday evening and, especially, the members of the bugle and drum corps, as the important matter of uniforms for the corps will be taken up and settled one way or the other at this meeting.

LAKE TROUT PLANT- ING STARTED MONDAY

Over Sixteen Million Fry Available from U. S. Hatchery Here

The work of planting approximately seventeen million lake trout fry from the government hatchery at Charlevoix was started Monday by Capt. Charles C. Allers with Michigan patrol boat No. 1.

The first planting was made in northern lake Michigan waters near the Beaver islands. Others will be taken to Duhia Shoals, the Fox islands and other famous trout grounds. It is also understood that in answer to requests from local sportsmen, a consignment of fry will be planted in Lake Charlevoix.

Planting operations bring to a close a successful winter of lake trout propagation at the local hatchery. A very large percentage of spawna taken by commercial fishermen last fall have been propagated to the fry stage, and in many instances the percentage of good spawn was more than usually large.

The patrol boat will be occupied here for quite a period before planting is completed. Members of the hatchery crew are assisting with the work.

DELINQUENT TAX LIST IS LARGEST ON RECORD

Treasurer J. W. Flanders announces the tax delinquent list for this est in Charlevoix history. There were only 1,006 in 1926 and 1,374 in the lowest prices ever known.

Firestone do not manufacture tires under special brand names for

You take no chances on Firestone tires. They are silent, safe, long-satisfactory service.

Firestone's greater

Extra Values GUM-DIPPED CORDS

The Firestone patented Gum-Dipping process transforms the cotton cords into a strong, tough, silvery unit. Liquid rubber penetrates every cord and coats every fiber, guarding against internal friction and heat, greatly increasing the strength of the cord body, and giving longer tire life.

TWO EXTRA CORD PLIES UNDER THE TREAD

This is a patented construction, and the two extra cord plies are so placed that you get 56% stronger bond between tread and cord body, and tests show 56% greater protection against punctures and blowouts.
It sets a new standard for tire performance on high speed cars.

NON-SKID TREAD

Tough, live rubber specially compounded for long, slow wear. Scientifically designed non-skid gives greater traction and safe, quiet performance.

ACHIEVEMENT DAY A GREAT SUCCESS

"HOME FURNISHING" GROUPS EXHIBIT YEAR'S WORK

Over Two Hundred Rugs Displayed—Officers Elected and Program for Next Year Outlined at Meeting

(By B. C. Mellenkamp).

The Boyne City Presbyterian church was the gathering place last Friday for the most successful achievement day ever held in the six years that Charlevoix county women have participated in the "extension" program.

More words are inadequate to describe the splendid display of crocheted, braided and hooked rugs that were actually made from old overalls, discarded burlap sacks and other similar materials. Each rug was a masterpiece in itself, careful consideration having been given to color schemes, choice of colors and workmanship. Of special interest was a crocheted rug, 9x9, made by Mrs. Kellogg of Boyne City; a rug 75 years old exhibited by Mrs. Whitfield of Walloon Lake, and a Persian rug shown by Rev. Paul Boodagh of Boyne City.

The forenoon session was presided over by Mrs. Maude Kightlinger in her usual capable manner and opened with community singing led by Mrs. Robert Russell of Boyne Falls, followed by the roll call of the 13 groups in the county. Next on the program was a report of last year's work and the new project plans by Miss Gertrude Reis, extension specialist in "home furnishing." Indenting to a certain degree the summary of last year's program, Miss Reis gave some very interesting data. She reported that there was a total of 174 women enrolled in the 13 groups with 135 who finished. Two hundred and fifteen rugs were made, 2,113 useless articles eliminated, 322 rooms rearranged, 78 rooms with walls refinished, and 768 suggestions and recommendations were passed along to outside persons not enrolled.

Miss Reis stated that next year's project would include five lessons as follows:

- No. 1. Selection of slip covers and upholstery material.
- No. 2. Making slip covers for old chairs.
- No. 3. Refinishing furniture.
- No. 4. Selecting, making and altering curtains.
- No. 5. Pictures in the home.

One of the most pleasing features of the program was a vocal solo given by Mrs. Robert Russell of Boyne Falls. The election of officers resulted in the selection of Mrs. Verna Hartnell, Boyne City, as chairman, and Mrs. Bertha Staley, East Jordan, as secretary.

A most enjoyable dinner was served by the ladies of the bible class to 135 guests.

The afternoon program was most pleasing from start to finish. In order to put everyone in a happy mood, community singing was again enjoyed followed by a very fine number from a group of boys in the Boyne City high school glee club. Rev. Guy Smock, pastor of the Presbyterian church, extended a most cordial welcome to the visitors and kept the audience in good humor with his spritely wit. Mrs. Maude Kightlinger gave the response. The main address of the afternoon was given by Rev. Paul Boodagh, pastor of the Methodist church, and was one that will long be remembered. His topic was "The Work of Women in Persia," and in his discussion he contrasted the habits of the women in Persia with our own accepted standards. He brought out forcibly the fact that women are looked down upon and have no rights there, while here, women have equal suffrage and are exalted.

Motherhood holds the destiny of the nation in her hands. Rev. Boodagh.

SATURDAY, MAY 28TH, WILL BE "POPPY DAY" THROUGHOUT NATION

Saturday, May 28, will be "poppy day" in Charlevoix. On that day every person in the city will be asked to wear a bright red poppy in honor of the men who gave their lives in the World War. Mrs. George Kelderhouse, president of the local unit of the American Legion Auxiliary, has announced. The poppies will be sold throughout the city by Auxiliary women and the entire proceeds will go to the relief and rehabilitation funds of the Auxiliary and Legion.

dagh put this question fairly and squarely up to those present, "What are you going to do about it?" Do you neglect your home and its wonderful influence for character building or are you developing real home environment, right thinking, and clean living." There is no place on earth where women have the opportunities and freedom that are enjoyed in America, for where there is a Christianity we find a woman is exalted and has freedom and privileges not enjoyed in non-Christian countries.

This most enjoyable program closed with two vocal solos by Mrs. Boodagh and a delightful poem by Mrs. T. J. Smith. This achievement day will long be remembered and be a source of inspiration to all who attended.

COMMENCEMENT PLANS ANNOUNCED

BACCALAUREATE TO BE HELD SUNDAY, MAY 29TH

Joint Commencement Exercises for High School and County Normal
Wednesday Evening, June 1

All arrangements with the exception of program details have been made for the Charlevoix high school and county normal commencement week exercises.

The senior play, "Two Girls Wanted," to be staged Friday evening of this week, will be the opening event in the final activities for the senior class. The play is under the direction of Ruth Ann Dowd, English instructor.

The baccalaureate will be held 8 o'clock Sunday evening, May 29th, at the high school gymnasium, with Rev. W. W. Hurd, pastor of the First Methodist church, as speaker.

Commencement exercises for the high school and county normal will be held jointly in the gymnasium at 8 o'clock the evening of Wednesday, June 1. The program calls for musical numbers by the school band, girls' glee club and mixed chorus; salutatory by Carl Beattie; valedictory by Miss Lila McMillan; and address by Dr. Fred B. Fisher, pastor of the First Methodist church, Ann Arbor.

Dr. Fisher was for twenty years a bishop of the Methodist church in India. He is a man of international prominence and one of the most dynamic and convincing speakers appearing before American audiences today. His church is packed to the doors every Sunday by residents of Ann Arbor and hundreds who come from miles around to hear him. It is possible that he may give his celebrated lecture on Mahatma Gandhi for the Charlevoix commencement.

Other details of the commencement week program are being worked out and will be announced at a near future date. The senior class numbers forty-one members, one of the largest classes in recent years, and county normal graduates will number ten who will receive diplomas and teachers' certificates.

Big Fish Inn to Open This Summer
Under New Management

August VanderArk of Ellsworth last week sold Big Fish Inn, one of Northern Michigan's leading resort hotels, to Robert Rosenbloom of Detroit.

Big Fish Inn was erected by Louis VanSiver several years ago, and later sold to J. H. Allgire of Ohio. After the death of Mr. Allgire the hotel failed and was purchased by Mr. VanderArk. It did a thriving business under the proprietorship of Mr. Allgire.

CHARLEVOIX HIGH WIN VOCAL HONOR

TRAVERSE CITY BAND RATED
HIGH IN CLASS B

East Jordan Band, Orchestra and Boys' Glee Club Given Excellent
Rating by Judges

With Charlevoix turning in outstanding vocal presentations and Traverse City giving the most outstanding instrumental numbers the annual Northern Michigan music contests for high schools were run off here Friday, closing with a great crowd hearing the fine concert that evening. The high school gymnasium was packed for the evening concert and there were good crowds all day for the contest numbers. East Jordan stood high with her band, orchestra and boys' glee club.

W. R. McIntyre, director of music at the Lansing Eastern high school, had charge of the vocal part of the fine evening program, directing the singing of the choruses, King Stacy, director of music of the vocational school at Lansing, handled the band and orchestra numbers.

Because of changed conditions and changed systems of operation in various schools of the region and also because of financial conditions in some cities and districts the number of schools entered was smaller than had at first anticipated. Enthusiasm, however, was unusually high and a fine school spirit was displayed.

Rating in the various classes were as follows:

Band, Class C Schools—East Jordan, excellent; Charlevoix, very good; Onkema, good.

Band, Class B—Traverse City, excellent.

Orchestra, Class C—East Jordan, excellent; Kingsley, very good. Woodwind Assemble, Class C—East Jordan, excellent.

Brass Ensemble, Class C—Onkema, excellent; Kingsley, very good. String Ensemble, Class B—Traverse City, excellent.

Brass Ensemble, Class B—Traverse City, excellent.

Boys' and Girls' Glee Club—Class B—Traverse City, excellent.

Mixed Chorus, Class B—Traverse City, excellent.

Girls' Glee Club, Class C—Charlevoix, excellent; East Jordan, very good; Gaylord, good.

Boys' Glee Club, Class C—East Jordan, excellent.

Mixed Chorus, Class C—Charlevoix, excellent.

LEGISLATURE ENDS SPECIAL SESSION

HURRIED BILLS TO END PAR-LEYS SATURDAY NIGHT

Provide Means for Lowering of County and State Taxes for 1933
and Following Years

With a substantial portion of the emergency program recommended by the governor written into law, the legislature has closed its special session.

The closing hours were quiet, in contrast to the stormy sessions of last Thursday. The senate without debate accepted compromise amendments on the budget reduction bill which had been agreed upon last Thursday night and the house concurred without objections.

Similarly, there was no discussion of the troublesome highway diversion bill which returns the entire $20,000,000 automobile weight tax to the counties to lower local road taxes. The house had amended this measure from the form the senate had passed it, but these changes were accepted by the senior chamber.

Generally, the session can be re-counted as having enacted the more important suggestions made by the governor when the session opened six weeks ago. His 15 per cent appropriation reduction program was closely followed, although a senate minority succeeded in cutting the budgets of the state police and Marquette and Jackson prison even below the governor's figures.

Governor Brucker's proposal that the whole weight tax be returned to the counties was accepted by the legislature, but the measure finally approved bears little semblance to that originally suggested by the executive.

The first Horton bill proposed that the weight tax be returned to the counties after $2,500,000 had been deducted to finance absorption by the counties of the township road systems. The measure finally approved forces the state highway department to take this cost from its construction revenues—a proposal which the governor battled until it was seen the result was inevitable.

The net result of this legislation will be that the counties will receive, beginning next year, about $10,000,000 more than previously. But where the original administration bill gave the state administrative board wide powers in governing expenditure of the money, the final draft leaves this matter largely up to local authorities.

No portion of the economy program, however, will lend immediate relief to the taxpayer. Those who have found it impossible to meet taxes already levied are given some measure of assistance through reduction of penalties and wider chance to recover property they have lost, but no reduction in levies resulting from the special session will appear until next year.

The combined economy program will mean a reduction of about $3,500,000 in the state tax paid in 1933.

Statutes were enacted which will permit owners of lands which were sold this month for unpaid taxes to recover by payment of 40 per cent of the delinquent levy within one year and the remaining 60 per cent within two years. Redemption costs are cut from 100 to 50 per cent.

All units of government were provided with new authority to refund bonds which they have been unable to meet and cities were given permission by the legislature to increase their "enclivity bond" issues from 1-4 to 3-8 of one per cent of their assessed valuation.

Important banking legislation was enacted. Receivers of both state and private banks are brought under closer supervision of the state banking department; receivers are permitted to borrow from the federal reconstruction finance corporation to affect reorganization of financial institutions; 85 per cent instead of 100 per cent of depositors can force moratorium agreements necessary to reopen closed banks; and surety bond requirements on banks receiving deposits of public funds are removed.

PETOSKEY AUTOMOBILE DEALER ASSESSED FINE

Under False Pretenses

John Leigl, Petoskey automobile dealer, pledged guilty to obtaining money under false pretenses before Justice Robert Withers here Monday afternoon.

Leigl was assessed court costs of twenty dollars and the case was dismissed after he made arrangements to repay money obtained by mortgaging an automobile previously sold and not owned by himself. The complaint was made by W. S. Richardson of the Charlevoix State Savings bank.

ANNOUNCE CLOSING EVENTS FOR BANDS

DECORATION DAY CONCERTS ARE COMING TREATS

Contest for Individual Members and Recital Later in Month Are Also Listed Attractions

(From School Notes)

The school year is drawing to a close and Charlevoix high school may look back on the activities of its band with the knowledge that they have done splendid work. However, much is yet to come, and several very interesting events still are listed on the calendar.

A concert will be given by both the city and school bands on Decoration day. It is to be one of the outstanding musical events of the year. Other events that will climax the year's work will be a free band concert to be held at the gymnasium on the evening of Decoration day; an individual contest between members of the band, and later in the month an instrumental recital in which the junior band will also participate.

Five of Charlevoix's band members will graduate this year, and the record for all is excellent. They are Hugh Parker, Carl Beattie, Ralph Lemieux, Ruby Supernaw and Edna Knudson. Carl Beattie was amply rewarded for his excellent playing on the trombone when King Stacey, one of the judges in the band contest last week, commended him for his solo in "Taunhauser." Hugh Parker is considered one of the best clarinet players among high school students in the United States. He was one of sixteen clarinet players chosen a member of the National high school orchestra. His local record is also good. He leads the clarinet section and has done wonderfully as student director of the band. The Misses Supernaw and Knudson have served the band well. The former has played one and a half years, and the latter for two years. Ralph Lemieux has played the bass drum the past year.

Mr. Rider, band director, has expressed the hope that many will join the band next year. He is planning to develop a marching band of about forty pieces and would be glad to see any who are interested in trying out for the much coveted position of drum major. The fine work which has been done this year in instrumental music will surely make many more students eager to join this splendid organization.

STANDARD OIL STA- TION BID REJECTED

REQUEST TURNED DOWN BY UNANIMOUS VOTE TUESDAY

Protests of Local and Summer Residents Expressed at Public Hearing Held Monday Evening

At an adjourned session Tuesday afternoon, the Charlevoix common council rejected by unanimous vote request of the Standard Oil company to build a drive-in service station at corner of Michigan and Dixon avenues.

The proposition was given a thorough airing at a public hearing called for the purpose at the regular council meeting the previous evening. Arguments by Standard Oil company representatives that the move would not decrease property valuations nor create a public safety hazard, were met with vigorous arguments by north side property owners protesting the station project. Among those voicing their disapproval were R. W. Paddock, A. L. Fitch, Harry A. Craig, Mrs. Mary Cooper, Frank Kenyon, Frank Glassford, Grant Crndall and others.

Perhaps the most convincing sentiment against the oil station was expressed in letters from about forty north side summer residents, both property owners and renters. Their objections were united with but a single exception, and that group represented property valued in the neighborhood of $350,000.00. The expression was very conclusive.

There was apparently no unfavorable sentiment towards the Standard Oil company as an organization, but rather a fear that a dangerous precedent would be set for future councils in case the permit was granted. The site desired, the Merriam property, is within a district restricted by ordinance prohibiting oil stations, garages, etc., and it would have been necessary to rescind the action of a former council in order to grant the permit.

Other business transacted included authorization to the street committee to obtain estimates and prices for the repair and necessary replacements of street intersection signs which have become badly in need of repair. The committee will report on this matter at the next meeting, and at the same time a report of the electric light committee on the matter of furnishing free electric light service to local religious societies will be made.

In the proceedings of the council printed elsewhere in these columns will be found the new scale of wages now being received by city officers and employees since the recent reduction.

MOVE TO HOLD LEVEL OF PROPERTY VALUES

City and Township Officials Agree
Cut at Present Time Unwise

Taxation and property valuation was the subject of discussion at a meeting of city officials and assessors, supervisors and township officers of nearly every Charlevoix county precinct at the court house last Thursday evening.

A unanimous opinion was expressed in favor of holding assessments in the various cities and townships of the county for 1932 on a par with those of the previous year. It was pointed out economies would have to come through a cut in overhead and tax rate rather than a decrease in property valuation. The latter move would make necessary an increase in tax rate rather than a reduction, to provide necessary revenue.

The action was taken to stem, if possible, the tendency toward a gradual decrease in property valuation which has been apparent during the past few years.

HAYES OCTOGENARIAN —PLOTS ON HIS 82ND BIRTH ANNIVERSARY

William S. Gregory, well known Hayes township farmer, came in from a day plowing on his farm last Wednesday to join in a party in celebration of his 82nd birthday anniversary.

The day's labor was just an ordinary one for Mr. Gregory, who is unusually active for a man of such advanced years.

A pot-luck supper, attended by twenty-two members of his family—children and grandchildren, was an enjoyable feature of the evening.

ELLSWORTH CANNING FACTORY IS ASSURED

Association Formed to Raise Necessary Money—Building Started

Final doubts about the future of the canning industry in Ellsworth came to a happy ending the past week when Reid, Murdoch & Co., accepted the proposition of the Antrim-Charlevoix Holding Co.

Work on the new building necessary for the expansion of the Reid, Murdoch & Co. canning factory was started last week Tuesday by Contractor Kit Carson of East Jordan, and will be ready for occupancy in a month or so. Considerable canning machinery and equipment will have to be installed before the season's run is started.

The new building is to be of concrete, 60x225 feet, and two stories. Since the set-back received by the granting of injunction restraining Banks township from selling bonds voted for constructing of a factory building, the citizens of Banks township

CHARLEVOIX INDIANS WIN OPENING CONTEST

Defeated Bellaire 16 to 5 Here Sunday — Ellsworth Comes Next

The Charlevoix Indians opened their summer baseball schedule here Sunday afternoon with an overwhelming 16 to 5 win over Bellaire.

Playing in mid-season form, Charlevoix scored practically in every inning. The first four men up to bat for the Indians poked out a two-bagger and three triples for four runs in the first inning. They gathered hits almost at will off two Bellaire hurlers, while Amos John held the visitors to a few scattered hits.

The team gave an excellent showing for the first game and Manager Glenn Rose predicts a more successful season than last, when the Indians won 17 out of 22 contests.

The next game will be played here at 2:30 next Sunday afternoon with the Ellsworth Packers.

AMATEUR GOLF TOURNEY GOES TO GRAND RAPIDS

Plans to Hold Event Here Third Year Chanced for Economic Reasons

A bit of disconcerting news to local residents, is the recent announcement by Charles D. Bennett, Detroit, president of the Michigan Golf League, that the annual state amateur golf championships would be played this year at the Blythfield Country Club course, Grand Rapids.

It is understood the Belvedere Golf Club was to have been given the tournament for the third successive year, but evidently early plans have been changed. Economic conditions, making it difficult for many to come as far north as Charlevoix, has been given as a reason for making the change.

When TEETHING makes HIM FUSSY

One of the most important things you can do to make a teething baby comfortable is to see that little bowels do their work of carrying off waste matter promptly and regularly. For this nothing is better than Castoria, a pure vegetable preparation specially made for babies and children. Castoria acts so gently you can give it to young infants to relieve colic. Yet it is always effective, for older children, too. Remember, Castoria contains no harsh drugs, no narcotics—it is absolutely harmless. When your baby is fretful with teething or a food upset, give a cleansing dose of Castoria. Be sure you get genuine Castoria with the name: Charles H. Fletcher year. Sidney Swift from east of town was on hand to contract again, and when the representative said, "Oh, now I know you." Sidney replied, "Well, yes, if you see my face once, you'll never forget it." The Charlevoix company has always given excellent satisfaction in their dealings with the farmers here.

Judge Gilbert gave a fine temperance address at the Methodist church here last Sunday evening. His advice on law enforcement and his reasoning of the wets was something that only an honest judge could give. The Kendall sisters and Mr. Berry of the Congregational church, sang. If the advice given in these several temperance programs Sunday is followed out, the silly amendment that is to be voted on next November will be drowned out by a big majority. The people do not seem to realize that they are voting on a law that annuls enforcement of the Constitution of the great United States, an unpatriotic, if not traitorous thing to do.

Colt Breaking and Multiple Hitch Demonstrations

Many farmers dread colt-breaking more than anything else connected with farming. Often colts are not properly trained and cause much trouble thereafter. Yet it is rather a simple job if a regular colt-breaking system is employed.

If you are interested in seeing a colt broken in a very few minutes, and actually pulling a wagon, come to one of the following demonstrations and see H. F. Maley, specialist of Michigan State college, show you his system.

The first colt breaking demonstration will be conducted at the William Shapton farm, located on the Barnard road about three miles south of Charlevoix, on Friday forenoon, April 13, at 9:30 fast time. The second demonstration will be on the Albert Bathke farm located about three miles north of Horton Bay on Friday afternoon, April 13, 1:30 fast time.

Also, at the above places several multiple hitch demonstrations will be shown, using four, five and six horses. On many farms that are not adapted to the use of tractors, horse power can be used to better advantage by these combinations. Come to your nearest meeting and see the multiple hitch demonstrations and the unbroken colts subdued.

From the Federal census our horse population has been steadily decreasing from year to year. Very soon there will be a severe shortage of good farm horses to be found. Why not raise one or two colts to replace your older horses? Don't worry about how to break colts, just come to one of the demonstrations and see a system that works and one that you can employ.

How One Woman Lost 10 Lbs. in a Week

Mrs. Betty Luedke of Dayton writes: "I am using Kruschen to reduce weight—I lost 10 pounds in one week and cannot say too much to recommend it." To take off fat easily, SAFELY and HARMLESSLY—take one half teaspoonful of Kruschen in a glass of hot water in the morning before breakfast—it is the safe way to lose unsightly fat and one bottle lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle. Get it at any drugstore in America. If this first bottle fails to convince you this is the safest way to lose fat—money back. But be sure and get Kruschen. Sales limitations are numerous and you must safeguard your health.

HIGHWAY PROJECT IS PROGRESSING NICELY

Grading Finished and Storm Sewer Practically Completed

Work on the rerouting of U.S. 31 entering Charlevoix from the south, started several weeks ago by the Remus Construction Co., is progressing rapidly.

Grading has been completed to the intersection of Bridge street and Belvedere avenue, and the storm sewer has been completed with exception of the section from the foot of Bridge street hill to Round lake at the foot of Antrim street. It is understood laying of concrete will be started within a short time.

By making use of dirt removed in grading, the city has improved many south side streets. Shoulders were widened and fills made on South State, West Lincoln, West Huribut, May street and Carpenter avenue. The dirt was obtained without cost in case hauls were one thousand feet or less.

SCHOLARSHIP AWARDED THREE CHARLEVOIXIANS

Northwestern "U" Honors Ruth Ann Dowd, Dorothy Staley, John Winder

Mrs. Ruth Ann Dowd, Dorothy Staley and John Winder have been notified by Northwestern University that Charlevoix is one of twelve high schools out of a large number of applicants to receive scholarships to the summer session of the School of Speech.

The judges based their decisions upon questionnaires sent to the competing schools. These questionnaires were based upon information concerning the experience in speech work of the dramatic instructor, and a girl and a boy chosen to represent the school.

Dorothy Staley was a member of both debate teams last year whose victories won Charlevoix a place in the elimination series of debates. She has been active in the local declamatory and oratorical contests, besides taking part in several one-act plays presented in open meetings of the Drama Club. She also played the difficult role of "Pauli" in "The Enemy," given by the junior class.

John Winder won second place in the local declamation contest last year. He also has been active in the Drama Club and has played two major roles—Bruce Barton in "The Enemy" and Valentine Brown in "Quality Street."

A committee from the Drama Club is endeavoring to raise money to help in the expense of the two students. They will hold bake sales, and it is expected a program of one-act plays will be given by the sophomore English classes.

The subject for next Sunday can be stated in two different ways to lend significance to the series of sermons we are about to begin. We will state the two subjects and you may choose the one you wish. (1) "The Sayings of Mine (Jesus)." (2) "The Value of His Teachings." This address will be the introduction to the series, "The Teachings of Jesus." It will form a good foundation for what is to follow. We suggest that you hear this introduction especially. We place stress upon this subject because of so much uncertainty of authority and the question, "What is the true religion?"

For several years we have been giving appropriate gifts to the eldest and youngest mothers of the Mother's day congregation. But last Sunday was the first time two of each age were present. It was a delightful experience. Those who received the gifts were Mrs. George Swinton, Mrs. Mary Rhinehart, Mrs. Vane Smith and Mrs. Edward Behrens. Our state conference meets at Traverse City next week.

TOWN BAND GAINING RECOGNITION

ERA AS PINCH-HITTING ORGANIZATION IS PAST

Cities and Villages Now Recognize Band as Community Asset and Cash In on Value

(By A. W. Rider.)

The town band has come into its own. For two score years and ten it has been the pinch-hitting musical organization of every village and hamlet. True, it functioned at intervals but when the proletariat began to mobilize for the observance of Memorial day, Independence day and Labor day the town band with one or two rehearsals to its credit was usually there at the head of the parade. Otherwise it enjoyed calm and peaceful somnolence.

Within a decade the town band has shaken off the lethargy, indifference and self-satisfied air that always characterized its efforts. Today it is listed among the active, up-and-coming organizations of most every community. It has passed from the class regarded as liabilities and now tops the list of community assets.

Years ago the town band was called the Silver Cornet band or Star Concert band, but now it's Eureka Municipal band or the Bloomington Concert band. The town band has suddenly taken a new hold on life; it is a potential force for civic pride and growth and paramount, it is carrying to the farms, the shop, factory and wherever men toil, a finer and deeper sense of appreciation for good music. It is doing more than all of these—it is stripping from our life some of the sordidness and commercialism that has held us down to hard pan—it is making America musical.

Interest in hand work in the small town has been heightened by state hand organizations, the sponsoring of contests for all amateur bands and the fact that public schools are enlarging as well as emphasizing the study of music so that it includes band and orchestra training.

The town band today functions on a year around basis. There are summer concerts in the parks or city squares and winter programs at socials and entertainments. One town uses its town band for advertising purposes and has sent the musicians out into the rural districts where concerts were given before an audience of several thousand men and women in denims and gingham. A truck loaded with ice cream went with the band to build up good-will.

Instead of accepting any musical effort at its face value and allowing it to pursue a narrow path, the tendency is to foster and encourage anything of a musical character. It is this thought that has stirred the town band into action. Another is the pride and satisfaction that musicians have in being identified with a band that is well organized and properly financed.

Today, the merchants in the town realize that the town band is a valuable adjunct to the life of the village. The weekly concerts bring hundreds of men, women and children to the city park or square and from it all there is a corresponding reaction in business. The town band has become just as much an integral to the life of the city as good roads, a library, town hall or any institution maintained by public funds. And, why not? If these and others are provided to develop and continue the social, civic, commercial or literary side of the town why not the proper moral and financial support to build up and keep alive the musical side?

The answer has been given in the United States by the formation of countless bands where no such organizations functioned and the re-birth of musical units that once flourished. Music is in the air; it is stirring and stimulating American life as it has never done before. Men, women, and children have caught the spirit of this new idea which, briefly, is more music and better music.

It is difficult to place an estimate on the part the town band is having in this great musical wave that has caught public fancy. With ever increasing force it is sweeping on and on from coast to coast and from palm to pine. The thickly populated centers have had music plus, which is to say they have long entertained the masses. The municipal swindling however, if it has lacked the musical advantages and opportunities of the city has possessed a musical conscience and with its town band it has been a musical outpost all these years. It has thrived on that intangible quality that some men call "the love of the thing."

The town band has been a great factor in making America musical. When historians record such factors they will write high the name of that sturdy and indomitable pioneer—the town band.

WALTER VOSBURG DIED AT HOSPITAL SUNDAY

Leaves Wife and Five Small Children—Funeral Wednesday

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. W. Hurd at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon from the residence on Antrim street for Walter Vosburg, 37, life-long resident of this city, who died at 4 o'clock Sunday at Charlevoix hospital. Death was caused from anemia.

Deceased, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vosburg, was born April 10, 1895, in Marion township. He attended the local schools and for many years was employed by the Argo Milling Company.

Surviving are his wife and five children, his parents, three brothers, Guy, Frank and Bill, and a sister, Mrs. Rose Ager.

CITY WILL LOWER TAXES AND LIGHTS

CONTEMPLATED REDUCTIONS WILL BE VOTED SOON

Savings to Charlevoix Taxpayers and Utility Patrons of Around $20,000 Is Anticipated

Continuing a program of retrenchment started early this spring to reduce governmental costs, the city council, at their last regular meeting, paved the way for a lowering of mill tax and electric rates.

While the reduction has not been officially voted upon by the council, Mayor Bergeon has announced that necessary steps will be taken to put the cut into effect June 1st.

The contemplated new tax rate will be 10 mills, a cut of two mills, and will mean a savings to Charlevoix taxpayers of approximately $7,000.

Illumination rates for the months of June, July, August and September will be reduced from the former flat charge of 12c per k.w. to a sliding scale of 10c, 8c and 5c, the charge based on amount of current used. The minimum of $1 remains. The balance of the year, the new schedule is 8c, 6c and 5c instead of the former flat rate of 8c per k.w., with same minimum. Power rate will be reduced from 3c to 2½c the year around, with minimum charge of $1.50.

It is estimated the rate reduction will take around $13,000 from revenue of the electric light department while passing the saving on to patrons. Both reductions will aggregate a savings of $20,000, which, added to the amount saved by the cut in wages of employees May 1st, will mean a lot to taxpayers in these hectic times.

Was Former Supt. of Mackinac Island State Park—Held Many County Offices—Funeral Monday

Frank A. Kenyon, prominent in Northern Michigan political circles for over thirty years, died at his residence, corner Michigan and Dixon avenues, at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon. Stricken by paralysis while working in his garage, the end came shortly after he was removed to his home.

Deceased was born at Mansville, Jefferson county, New York, December 28, 1869. At the age of 17 he came to East Jordan, where he was employed by the East Jordan Lumber Co. Entering county politics, Mr. Kenyon served as county clerk from 1896 to 1900, and as register of deeds from 1900 to 1904. In addition to his interests at Mackinac Island, Mr. Kenyon was largely responsible for the development and growth of Michilimackinac state park at Mackinaw City, which was also under his supervision. This park, located on the Straits of Mackinac, has had a rapid growth and enjoys a patronage in excess of many other state parks.

POOR POTATOES GROW FROM DISEASED SEED

Several Common Disorders of Tubers Controlled by Simple Treatments

The selection of high grade seed potatoes and an inexpensive treatment of this seed will control several of the most important of Michigan potato diseases and will aid farmers in this state to produce the grade of table stock which consumers demand and for which they are willing to pay top market prices, according to the farm crops department at Michigan State college.

Potato scab, black scurf, and black leg can be controlled by treating seed potatoes with a solution of formaldehyde or corrosive sublimate. Fusarium wilt can be reduced to a minimum by discarding the seed piece cut from the butt end of the potato. Tubers which show brown stains in the flesh should be discarded unless the grower is certain this discoloration is not caused by the wilt or other disease.

SHIAWASSEE FARMER

WOULD BE GOVERNOR

Orla Bailey, 50, who owns a 300-acre farm in Shiawassee county, has announced himself a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. He is a graduate of Michigan State college.

"In any other year I wouldn't have a chance," Bailey said, "but with people feeling the way they do I think I can win in spite of machine politicians."

Bailey stands for elimination of property taxes, a referendum on the prohibition question, immediate payment of the soldiers' bonus and a reduction in unnecessary offices and commissions.

"HIGHEST TEST"

at the price of ordinary gasoline

You get more for your money—more power, pep, and snap—more miles per gallon—more pleasure out of driving, when you use Phillips 66... the greater gasoline.

The great Phillips organization would not make claims as broad as these, if its gasoline did not deliver 100% on them. And we could not make these claims if Phillips 66 were not higher test than other motor fuels. How much "higher test" it is, you can see from the definite gravity figures above.

That is why every mile you drive is a gratifying demonstration of the premium performance which you get without paying a penny premium in price—because Phillips is the world's largest producer of natural high gravity gasoline. Phill-up with Phillips, tomorrow, at the Orange and Black 66 shield.

INDIANS WIN SECOND GAME FROM ELLSWORTH

Scored 14 to 11 Victory at North Side Park Last Sunday

Charlevoix Indians walloped the offerings of three pitchers to beat the Ellsworth Packers 14 to 11 for their second consecutive win at the north side ball park Sunday afternoon.

It was a free scoring tilt throughout, with Charlevoix bunching their hits at opportune times to produce winning runs. Ellsworth's three hurlers struck out a total of six batters, while Amos John, who went the entire game for the Indians, struck out thirteen. John was hit freely at times, but good support pulled him out of the bad spots.

The Indians go away from home for their next two games. They play at Albion next Sunday, the 22nd, and a week later take on East Jordan on Jordan's diamond.

TWO CITIES ESTABLISH TRUCKING ORDINANCE

Cadillac and Traverse City Protect Home Merchants and Producers

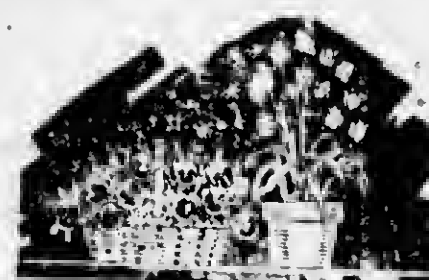

Considerable comment has been occasioned by the new trucking ordinance which became effective last Tuesday. By the terms of this ordinance any firm sending merchandise in for sale from a truck shall pay a license fee ranging from $5 for one day to $100 a year.

The new regulation hits bakery and fruit firms particularly. The license fee may be avoided by opening headquarters in Cadillac. Farmers are exempt.

Vegetable and fruit truckers who sell their merchandise either wholesale or retail in Traverse City, but who do not raise their own product, must pay a license of $50 a year, $15 a week or $5 a day, according to the provisions of a new ordinance passed by the city commission.

Citizens protested, saying that "the consumer pays for the extra charge anyway," but arguments of grocers who have been competing with foodstuffs trucked in decided the action.

FROST DAMAGE CHERRY ORCHARDS EXTENSIVELY

Grand Traverse District Loss Is 40 Per Cent—Light in This County

Frost damage to sour cherries, although spotty in distribution, is appearing in the Grand Traverse orchards, fruit growers stated after examining their orchards. It is estimated that the damage may reach 40 per cent.

Both sour and sweet cherries in lower spots were undeniably damaged. The inside of the fruit buds shows where the frozen pistil has turned black and this, orchardists state, is all the evidence needed to show a killing frost.

The orchards on higher ground and with good air drainage seemed to have escaped the freeze of last Sunday night. Both sweet and sour buds look healthy and strong. In other sections the fruit spurs on the lower branches of trees were killed while those at the top of the trees escaped injury.

Orchards in Charlevoix county suffered loss by frost only in a few isolated instances, according to information gathered in the past week.

Spoke on Eighteenth Amendment Before W. C. T. U. Friday

Mrs. James Simmons had charge of the program at the meeting of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union held last Friday afternoon at the community room and substituted a very interesting round table discussion on prohibition in place of the assigned topic and leader. Many of the arguments in favor of modification and repeal were presented and convincingly refuted.

Mrs. R. B. Armstrong gave an account of the district Republican convention recently held at the Soo. She urged that women attend caucuses and conventions in larger numbers, interest themselves generally in poli-

MANY FARMERS OBTAIN FEDERAL CROP LOANS

Total of $2,830 Borrowed by County Farmers in Past Six Weeks

(By B. C. Mellenkamp.)
During the last six weeks a total of 37 farmers have applied to the secretary of agriculture for a seed loan to help them carry on their crop production this year. This is known as the "crop production loan" and has become available to the farmers in this county through its agricultural extension department.

This money is to be used for the purpose of buying seed, fertilizer for crops, fuel and gas for a tractor, feed for work horses and spraying materials to properly protect crops against diseases and insects. This money can be used for no other purpose and it is strictly a temporary loan to be repaid on or before November 30th.

The summary shows that on May 14, which was the closing date for applying for loans, that 37 farmers had borrowed a total of $2,830.00, which averages $76.49 per borrower. All applications had to be carefully analyzed and approved by the county loan committee consisting of W. G. Cornell, East Jordan, chairman; Wm. Sanderson, Ironton, and R. K. Paddock, Charlevoix. They deserve much credit for the time and attention that they have devoted to this activity. They have all served without pay and had to meet many times in carrying out this program. It is sincerely hoped that this small loan will make it possible for many farmers to carry out their regular farm program which would have been impossible without this assistance.

Many others besides members of the Club are contributing to this sale and it is hoped there will be a large patronage. Though tuition is taken care of through the scholarships, room and board is quite an item. Should there be any organizations in the city that wish to contribute toward this fund they may communicate with Dorothy Partridge, chairman of the finance committee.

Boys' Tennis Tourney

CUTWORMS ARE READY FOR YEARLY BANQUET

Gardeners Can Protect Plants on Small Plots or Can Kill Insects

The gardener who has toiled in the sun and rain and who has watched the first green sprouts push their way through the soil often visits the garden some morning and finds the plants wilted and ruined by cutworms which should have been fed poison bait instead of good, green stuff, according to the entomology department at Michigan State college.

In kitchen gardens or on other small planted areas, the plants can be protected from the worms by using a collar of stiff paper placed around the plants and pushed into the ground for half an inch. For large gardens, poison bait to kill the worms is more practical.

The bait is made by mixing thoroughly one bushel of bran, one-half gallon cheap molasses, a little water, and one pound of white arsenic or one pound of paris green. After mixing, stir in two ounces of kerosene oil. Arsenate of lead or calcium arsenate can not be used successfully in this bait. The quantities named make bait enough for a large area; smaller proportionate amounts can be mixed.

PELLSTON BUILDS NEW CONSOLIDATED SCHOOL

Work Started Last Week to Replace Structure Destroyed by Fire

Work is now under way on the new public school building at Pellston, to replace the structure burned last winter.

The election to decide whether or not Pellston wanted a unit consolidation of schools was carried by a vote of 85 to 0. By this move Pellston would combine with Van in the operation of her public schools. Pellston soon will reorganize her school board.

It is believed that at least two other districts will join with Pellston and Van in the unit school, thus providing a well organized school for the rural pupils, and also, provide a high school, with all high school advantages.

LOCAL BUSINESS CONCERNS CHANGE STORES

Dahlquist and Blake Shift Locations—Former to Enlarge Stock

Alterations are in progress at the Hinkrant building, corner Bridge street and Park avenue, for a shift in location of the Dahlquist 5c to $1 Store and the Sully Gift Shop, which establishments will change store spaces within the present week.

When the shift is completed, the Dahlquist business will be located in the north portion, and the Blake concern in the south portion of the building.

For the former concern, the change will mean an acquirement of needed floor space for enlargement of stock. Harold Dahlquist, manager, announces that when the move is completed, the stock of ladies' ready-to-wear garments will be enlarged, a stock of inexpensive children's shoes added, gradual increase of stock in all lines, and eventually addition of a complete line of dry goods.

The Dahlquist brothers, who opened their Charlevoix store a year ago April 2nd, have opened establishments in Mancelona and Rogers City since that time. Their new set-up here will be modern, as are those in the other locations, which are run as individual stores and not as the average chain establishment.

The opening date has been set for Saturday, May 21st, and a number of special buying inducements are to be offered the public. The Blake store will open at its new location on the same day.

MAY MUSIC CONCERT NEXT THURSDAY NIGHT

Also, Mrs. Bush will give one of her delightful readings.

All music lovers should avail themselves of this opportunity which these Charlevoix singers are to give to the public. No admission charge asked, and only a free will offering will be taken to pay for the cost of the music scores, the surplus being placed in an organ fund for tuning, etc.

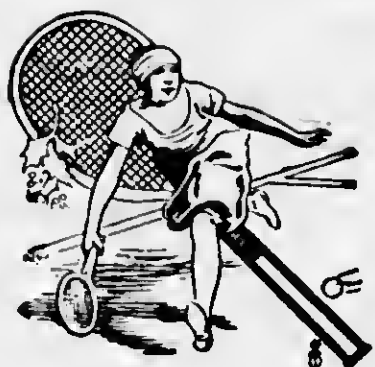

Remember the date, May 26th, for this musical treat, and make your plans to attend.

GOVERNOR BRUCKER COMMENDED LEGION

Praised Local Post for Welfare Activities at Cheboygan Meeting

Leslie T. Shapton Post No. 226, American Legion, held a regular meeting Tuesday evening, and among other matters on which action was taken was that of the purchase of uniforms for the post bugle and drum corps. In view of the extraordinary demands likely to be made upon the post this year for relief work and the necessity of meeting current expenses promptly, it was decided to postpone purchase of the uniforms until economic conditions are better.

At the lower eleventh district meeting at Cheboygan, Sunday, Commander Lee C. Allard urged Charlevoix's claim to hold the 1933 state Legion convention, and representatives of district posts voted unanimously to support Charlevoix in its endeavor.

At the banquet Governor Brucker lauded Leslie T. Shapton Post and its commander, Lee C. Allard, for the splendid relief work accomplished during the past winter. Charlevoix's bugle and drum corps were commended generally to have made an excellent showing in the parade.

District junior baseball committee chairman, Rollie L. Lewis, stirred up much enthusiasm in the meeting about this fine work among the boys of the district. He will visit each post during the next two weeks to line up schedules and co-ordinate the work.

Leslie P. Kefron of Bay City, state commander of the Legion, was the guest of honor at the tri-post meeting and banquet held at the Charlevoix post's headquarters Saturday evening. He was met at the Hotel Charlevoix, on his arrival, by members of the post's 1933 convention committee who escorted him on a comprehensive tour of the city and pointed out the exceptional facilities we have for taking care of the convention. Other guests at this meeting were Dr. Gray, Petoskey postmaster, who is chairman of the Legion's state budget committee, Otto C. Scott and Judge Joseph Murphy, district committeeman and district adjutant of the lower eleventh district.

GRAND TRAVERSE COUNTY BORROWS NEEDED FUNDS

Within a few days Grand Traverse county will have $10,000 on which to operate until the regular June term of the county board of supervisors, a special meeting of the board having provided the machinery for borrowing this amount of money.

Charlevoix Maccabee lodge will be host to the annual convention of the Tri-County Maccabee association of Northern Michigan at the I. O. O. F. hall on Tuesday, May 24th.

Delegates from Maccabee lodges from at least twelve Northern Michigan cities will be present, and an extensive program is being planned for their entertainment. The district comprises Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties.

Mrs. Myrtle Rutherford, Detroit, assistant Grand Commander of Maccabees, was here only this week helping the local organization make preparations for the convention. All local business places will be decorated with the lodge colors for the occasion.
